CITIZENS TURN OUT TO SEE THE PARADE

Absence of Congressman Hager Disappointed Many of His Friends-Arrangements to Care for the Poor of the City Being Made.

The celebration of Labor day yesterday was even more of a success than its promoters. the Central Labor union and other labor unions of the city which joined in the plan. dared to believe. From the parade in the morning until the last fantastic toe had made its last trip last night, everything passed off happily. The worst disappointment probably was in the fact that Congressman A. L. Hager was unable to be present and make the address for which he was down on the program. He has been ill with malarial fever ever since his return from Washington, and his physician gave him strict instructions not to leave the house at the risk of being taken much worse. This, however, the committee on arrangements could hardly be held responsible for, and so the members of the committee have the satisfaction that hey carried out their plans without a

Early in the morning the citizens began to turn out in large numbers to see the parade. It was nearly 11 o'clock before the procession formed and was ready to start. It was headed by a detachment of police, all dressed in their Sunday clothes, with Chief Scanlan at the head. Then came the city officials in carriages, all but Alderman Grahl, who preferred to walk while his rich comrades rode in chaises. He was a mem-ber of the Veteran Firemen's association, and took his place in line with them. The association made a very fine appearance in their dark uniforms. The members of the fire department were followed by the control of the control o followed by Daibey's band. Then came the Danish Brotherhood and the Danebo so-ciety, both of which turned out en masse and made perhaps the best showing of any organization in line. The Cigarmakers union was followed by the Brotherhood of Railway Yardmen of Omaha and Council Bluffs. Then came the Barbers union and the Typographical union, the latter presenting a very neat appearance in black hats, linen dusters and other articles of apparel. A martial band preceded the United Labor Protective association, which was followed by the Knights of Labor of Glenwood and Council Bluffs, the American Railway union, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Loyal Industrial union. The unorgan-ized workingmen of the city and the trades and merchants' display brought the proces-

Among the firms who did take part were C. O. D. Brown, P. C. Devol, Oscar Younkerman M. Since my return from Washington I have been kept on the go night and day, nearly, and as a result now find myself hardly able to leave my room, and am therefore forced to give up the pleasure of meeting the laboring men of your city. this will be the plan adopted.

There was so much dissatisfaction expressed over the way the Associated Charities was managed last year that it is hardly likely the plan will be tried again, at least in just the way it was. There was a continual pulling and hauling between those who were in charge and those who wanted to be, and the consequence was that many bitter feelings were engendered. When the The congress was called to order by National President W. E. Smythe, who delivered his annual address. He said: bitter feelings were engendered. For nearly 30 years humanity has sought to realize on this continent its long dream of independence and equality to realize by the continent its long dream of independence and equality to realize the purity to the sword in a seven-years war, we inherit from the revolutionary patriot. And yet, with two such precious legacies—freedom of conscience and popular sovereignty—the closing hours of the nineteenth centery records the startling fact that only 5 per cent of the American people own the land on which they dwell.

Periods of depression inevitably rucceed periods of presperity. Is it any wonder that with the ebb of industrial the men grow sullen and women heart si b? Is it any wonder that a great employer of labor, who holds dividends more precious than humanity, can starve his workmen into submission?

The pence and prosperity of this nation depends upon whether there is sufficient wisdom and patriotism in this body, and in the public life of the United States to add to the legacy of purity and patriot the realization of industrial independence. For, after all, the quality of independence that comes nearest to each man's hearthstore is independence in the ability to protect those whom he loves.

comes nearest to each man's hearthstone is independence in the ability to protect those whom he loves.

Estimates differ concerning the precise capability of western America, but the most critical economist among all our students of water and land concedes that we can sustain, under a proper system of irrigation, as many people as now live within the boundaries of the 1 hited States. Founding our faith on this conservative authority, we send to the people of this troubled nation the message: "We are coming, Father Abraham, with homes for 70,000,000 more—homes where irrigation shall guarantee industrial independence and the small farm unite the quality of men."

Another message we send to our countrymen: "That we assemble here, not as citizens of western states, in a spirit of narrow sectionalism. We assemble as citizens of a continental republic, whose past and whose future, whose traditions and whose aspirations, we proudly share. We seek to organize prosperity for our common country and to give new juster to our American name."

10WA SALOON MEN UNEASY.

Proceedings Will Be Instituted Against Des Moines Proprietors Today.

DES MOINES, Sept. 3 .- (Special Telegram The Bee.)-The saloon men here have been for two days in agony over the fear that they would be closed out just now, when the state fair crowds make business profitable. County Attorney Davis, who is leading the attack, backed by many prohibitionists, stated this evening that tomorrow morning he will have every saloon ke per in the city served with a notice that he will contest the legality of the petition by virtue of which they are doing business. The sa-loons cannot add names to the old petition, but if upset a wholly new list would be made necessary.

In an interview Mr. Davis said: "I have examined the names on the lists on the petition filed with Auditor Brandt, and while it is a fact that there are about 6,000 names ap-pended, I am confident from the examination made there are hundreds of the names not those of legal voters. loosely gathered up, and to my mind there will be no difficulty in overthrowing it in court. The claim of the saloon men that the burden of proof rests with the state to show that each name is not a legal voter is, I think, erroneous, for the reason that in certifying the petition to the city authorities Auditor Brandt did not certify that they were voters, but merely that such a of names were appended to the petition. I shall begin injunction proceedings against some one of the liquor dealers soon and urge the case to a speedy conclusion. In my opinion it will result in the closing of all the saloons in the city."

Charged with a Double Murder. DECORAH, Ia., Sept. 3 .- John H. Cater was lodged in jall today strongly suspected of the double murder of his wife, Mary Cater, and George Wemett at Burrak, a village twelve miles north of Decorah. The body of Mrs. Cator was found Sunday in the barn under a pile of hay, her throat cut in two informed that he was also wanted at the school house, some distance away, where a man had been found dead with a bullet hole back of one of his cars and a revolver lying at his side. The man was George Wemett, who had been until recently employed in Cater's butcher shop. Cater has for some time been keeping company with a Mrs. Heth. This was known to Mrs. Cater, who resented it. Wemett was on quite friendly terms with her and was paying some attention to her eldest daughter. Around the school house were found foot tracks which were compared with the shoes worn by the murdered man and by Cater, and were found to be identical in each case. Cater claims to think that Wemett killed his

B. B.-Barley Beer-B. B.

The most wholesome and the pleasantest summer drink made. Guaranteed to meet the requirements of the Iowa and Nebraska liquor laws. It is not a new drink, but has stood the test of years and has steadily grown in popularity. Read the analysis and testimonial of a well known chemist:

Office of Prof. Neil Johnson, Lincoln, Neb., April 8th, 1885. Having made an analysis of a compound known as B. B. or Barley Beer, I found it to contain 0.014 per cent. of absolute alcohol, which is a much less per cent, than found in any temperance beverage on the market. There is no more alcohol than is necessary to preserve the vegetable matter. It is perfectly harmless as a drink, and is no sense an alcoholic beverage.
