At 1 o'clock yesterday morning C. R. Matt-Son was arrested in the cellar of Teet-zel's store at 1270 North Seven-teenth street and taken to the sta-tion, charged with burglary. He claims that he went into the cellar to get out of the storm but the police doubt the store of the storm, but the police doubt the story as Mattson resides on South Tenth street and can give no reason for being in the north end of the city.

A few days ago Paul Jennette hired a team from a livery stable at Papillion and came to Omaha, where he sold the horses. Yes-terday he was arrested by Officers Hayes and Hudson and taken back to answer to the charge of horse stealing.

Dick Kelley, who is wanted in this city on the charge of burglary, is reported to be under arrest at Council Bluffs. He will re-turn as soon as requisition papers can be

Tenth Street Structure.

The council committee on viaducts and railways, to whom was referred Councilman Back's resolution to appropriate $1,000 for the repaying of the Tenth street viaduct, will probably recommend that the resolution be not adopted. Some of the committee made an inspection of the viaduct yesterday and declared that there was no immediate necessity for repaying. Some of the blocks are loose and some may have to be replaced, but in their opinion a little tar and sand is all that is needed to put the pavement into con dition to last for another year at least. They calculate that $100 will be amply sufficient for that purpose.

Home from Europe.

Rev. D. D O'Dell, pastor of the Beth-Eden Baptist church, and Howard, son of A. M. Clarke, returned Thursday from a three months' tour through Europe, they three months tour through Europe, they having gone through the British Isles, France, Germany and Switzerland on buycles. Both of the gentlemen are en-thusiastic in their accounts of the trip and declare that the way to see and do Europe is to go on wheels. Mr. O'Dell will resume his duties at Beth-Eden at once.

Death of E. L. Reed of Weeping Water. A telegram from Central City, Colo., in the Evening edition of The Bee of the 16th inst. gave the news of the death of E. L. Reed, but it was so indefinite that many who knew and respected Mr. Reed did not know that it was a Nebraska man. Mr. Reed met his death in falling down the shaft of the Bobtail mine at Central City on a trip of inspection with some friends. His death was a horrible one, falling as he did over 500 feet. Mr. Reed was well known in Omaha, both in commercial and political circles. Early in the '59's he came to Weeping Water, settling there at a time when the Indian tepees dotted all the hills around that nearly values Engaging in farming pretty valley. Engaging in farming the mercantile business, he soon built that and up a reputation for energy, integrity and temperance that has had a profound in-fluence on the little town of Weeping Water. He lived there until 1893, when he re-moved to Colorado. Mr. Reed was a good man, a good soldier in the rebellion, a good citizen at home, and one whose life characterized by the best virtues. was

His remains arrived yesterday afternoon over the Union Pacific, and were taken to Weeping Water at 5 o'clock on the Missouri Pacific. The funeral services were held immediately after the arrival of the train at Weeping Water.

from Cassopolis, Mich.

ELKHART, Ind., Sept. 7 .- This section is worked up over the disappearance of Dr. W. A. Conkling of Cassopolis, a village just over the Michigan line, north of this city. All the indications are that he has been "Croninizad." Tuesday night near midhight, Dr. Conkling, whose wife is an in-valid, was called to his door by two men who said they desired his services at his office, which is some distance from his residence. A few minutes after his departure with the men Mrs. Conkling heard a wagon pass the house at a breakneck speed. Two hours passed, and the physician did not re-turn. Unable to hear the suspense longer Mrs. Conkling caused a man to be sent to the doctor's office, where everything was found in the greatest confusion, the furniture overturned and smashed, and the evi dence of a fearful struggle on every hand, The doctor was nowhere to be found. The village was aroused and search made in every direction, but to no purpose. Stone lake was visited, but nothing could be discovered that tended to clear up the tery. The lake has been dragged, but with no success, nearly evvybody in that part of the country giving aid. Dr. Conkling's brother from Manchester, Mich., has arrived at Cassopolis and is doing everything possible to ferret out the mystery. He says his brother was a prominent witness in a mur-der case that is to be tried in the castern Barker Bros. have filed attachment propart of Michigan, and he ascribes his dis-appearance to that fact. For several days previous to the mysterious disappearance

'A special meeting of the Omaha Women' Christian Temperance union is called for Tuesday, the 11th inst., to take the place of it. It rocks in any direction-sideways, cor ner-wise, forward and back, in a circle, or in the long arc of an eclipse. Tuesday, the fifth inst. to take the place of the regular meeting, with which the district convention conflicts. The meeting will be held, as usual, at the Commercial club rooms at 3 p. m. and every member is urged to be present, as this is the last meeting aginable, and every house should contain one. Many are the adjectives it calls forth-"crazy," "fascinating," "bewildering," "de-lightful," "weird," etc. It is certainly the before the state convention. Robert Aaron, a soldier from Fort Omaha most remarkable piece of furniture that the last decade has produced, and there is every got beastly drunk last night and created a disturbance on Sixteenth street near Capitol avenue. Officir Leary came along just as the fellow was relieving himself of a torrent of vulgarity in the presence of a large number of people and placed him under arrest. Aaron's conduct was so disgusting that a number of citizens volunteered to appear appear against him in the police court today.
