AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA. Councilman Henry Mies in Trouble Started

by His Old Friend, Van Wie. Councilman Henry Mies was placed under arrest yesterday on a warrant issued from Justice. Levy's court charging him selling liquor without a license on Labor day at Syndicate park. Mr. Mies is agent for the South Omaha browery. John Van Wie swore out the complaint. Van Wie has been after the brewery for some time. He and Mies fell out over the payment of the license for a saloon that Van Wie was running. Van Wie was finally closed up and since that time he has been making it hot for the brewery management.

Mies says that the whole proceeding is a case of blackmail; that he had nothing to do with the saloon stand at the park and that was run by the labor organizations. Several cases are now pending in the same court against men who handle the South Omaha beer.

BACK FROM PITTSBURG.

Major Clarkson Describes Several Features of the Great Encampment. Major Clarkson returned yesterday from he grand encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Pittsburg as full of enthu slasm and praise for everybody and every thing he saw as it is possible for a man to

"Pittsburg," said the major, "Is a most delightful town and the citizens fairly turned themselves loose, and such magnificent hospitality as was extended us on every hand was something not met with many times in a lifetime.

"It was an occasion when a man was especially proud of having been a soldier. The whole city was most gorgeously decorated, for as you know, it is one of the most loyal towns in the country. Courtesles were show ered upon us from the time we landed unti the last moment before departure. "The reception last Wednesday evening was the grandest, most elaborate affair ever attended. The Westinghouse electric light buildings were where the princely affair was held. These buildings are among the argest in the world, being 900 feet long by 500 wide. All the delegates to the encamp nent and their ladies were there, making a throng of something like 8 000 or 10 000 me ple, and everything was as iridescent as a sun-kissed glacier, with sublime music, dancing and a banquet for the gods. Friday the delegates and their ladies were given a trip down the river on three gaily bedecked steamers. We went to Homestead and went over the famous Carnegie iron works. It was most enjoyable and profitable trip. the parade Tuesday-that was incomparable indescribable. The streets were one jam of eager, excited and joyous people—a wonder-ful sight, but marching was extremely laborious indeed; the jam was fairly concrete There is a monotony, of course, about these parades. Of the old soldiers, but there is something touchingly beautiful about them, something that plays on one's strings in spite of everything. Probably i is the unquenchable fires of patriotism re-awakened in one's breast. Think of steing those grizzled old heroes, some on crutches some armiess, others hobbling along in the last stages of decrepitude, but bound to march all the same—bound to one; more get in line. Yes, the encampment was a glorious thing, and Pittsburg is a glorious city." Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache. Trial size, 25 cents. All druggists.

Blames the Beer. Frank Williamson has instituted a $10,000 damage suit against the Pabst Brewing comnany and for a cause of action he alleges that he was at the Farnam street saloon on the night of August 22 last drinking wine, beer and other liquors. While doing so he became intoxicated and upon going onto the street he alleges that he had a row with a member of the police force. The row resulted in the officer firing a shot, which took effect in Frank's heel. He now alleges that the brewing sompany should pay him the amount for which he sues and in addition thereto he alleges that the company was responsible for the row with the officer on account of its agents having sold the liquor which produced the intoxication.

While George Howell, 16 years old, 1715 Leavenworth street, was riding a horse at noon yesterday on North Seventeenth street the animal slipped and fell on him. His left leg was broken. The Third ward branch of the Swedish American Garfield club has elected Fred W Flodman president, C. Lyons vice president and P. Rosendahl secretary. The club meets Monday evening. The Swedish-American Republican club will meet Monday evening at 1514 Capitol avenue. All members are requested to be present, as some action will then be taken in regard to the coming caucuses. S. Donovitch, a grocer at Seventeenth and St. Mary's avenue, gave $9.90 and two packages of cigarettes to a stranger last night for a $1 bil. The man simply changed bills on the grocer, giving him $1 after showing him $10. While making an excavation for a sidewalk near Seventeenth and Clark Streets, work-men found the grave of a former old settler, who was buried there about 1868. This part of the city was once a part of the old Mills farm, and was at one time occupied by squatters. Dick Marnell, who was then a resident of Omaha, says that one of these squatters died and was buried where the body was found yesterday. The grave was covered by a slab of stone. The workmen concluded to build the pavement over the slab and leave the remains undisturbed.

He Cannot Now Run for County Commissioner in the First Di trict.

BOARD DOES SOME BOUNDARY CHANGING

Action Was Taken in Order to Make Distriets Conform to the New City Map-Other Business at Yesterday's Meeting.

When the county commission is convened yesterday afternoon, Thomas J. Lowry was a resident of the First commissioner district, and at the same time he was a candidate for the shoes which Chairman Stenberg of the county board is now wearing. When the board adjourned, Mr. Lowry was still a candidate, but he was a resident of the Fourth commissioner district, a district from which no commissioner is to be elected this fall. He was in the district with Major Paddock, who will still hang for a couple of years before stepping down and out.

As soon as the board was called to order Mr. Jenkins moved a suspension of the rules in order to consider resolutions. This went through without any visible opposition, and then Mr. Jenkins passed a resolution up to the clerk's desk. The document provided for the changing of the boundaries of the five commissioner districts. As soon as it was read, Mr. Jenkins moved its adoption, which was seconded by Mr. Williams The roll was called, Messrs. Livesey and Paddock voting against adoption. Under Paddock voting against adoption. Under the new order of things the districts are as follows

First District-Second, Fourth and Seventh wards of the city of Omaha. Second District-Third, Eighth and Ninth wards of the city of Omaha. Third District-Chicago, East Omaha Elkhorn, Florence, Jefferson, Union, Valley, Waterleo and West Omaha.

Fourth District Cioniari, Douglas, Millard, McArdle, South Omaha and the First ward of the city of Omaha.

Fifth District-Fifth and Sixth wards of the city of Omaha. Heratofore the districts have included the following territory: First District-First, Second and Seventh wards of the city of Omaha. Second District-Third, Fourth and Ninth wards of the city of Omaha.

Third District-Chicago, East Omaha, Elkhorn, Florence, Jefferson, Union, Valley, Waterloo and West Omaha. Fourth District-Clontarf, Douglas, Millard, McArdle and South Omaha. Fifth District-Fifth, Sixth and Eighth

wards of the city of Omaha. The redistricting is done in order to have the boundaries of the districts in the city confirm with the ward boundaries and voting precincts, as established by the city council Mesers. Paddock and Williams participated in a vigorous tilt over the appointment of some inspectors for bridge work on a road out in the Fourth district. Mr. Williams was of the opinion that there should be two men employed, while Mr. Paddock insisted one inspector could do all the work Mr. Williams won in a canter, and two men will be hired if it is found that their servces are needed. The clerk was instructed to invite bids for soft coal for the county hospital and hard coal for the court house. Surveyor House reported the completion of the stone pavement on the Military road, his report showing the laying of 12,550 lineal feet of pavement, at a cost of $48,378.

By the adoption of a resolution it was agreed to meet the county commissioners Sarpy county at the court house in this city at 2 o'clock p. m. September 20, to consider the extension of the South Thirteenth street road to a point in the vicinity of Fort Crook. Reporting upon the water in the Elkhorn and Platte rivers, Surveyor House presented figures to show that the flow, using Kutter formula to obtain the measurements, was as ond; north channel of the Platte, 254.99 cubic feet per second: south channel of the Platte. 1.086.50 cubic feet per second; total flow 1504.06 cubic feet per second.

The report was placed on file. A resolution providing for the grading of 15,000 cubic yards of earth on the Millard road, beyond the end of the proposed pavement on Center street, was defeated. W. B. Musser, and old soldier and resident of the city, was ordered to the Soldiers' home at Grand Island. Victim of Electricity.

After waiting four years the administrator of the estate of Thomas Lewis, deceased, has sued the New Omaha Thomson-Houston Electric Light company for $5,000 damages. On September 24, 1890, Lewis was a lineman in the employ of the lighting company and during the afternoon of the day heretofore mentioned he was repairing a line at Sixteenth and Douglas streets, He had climbed the pole, which then stood at the northeast corner of the Young Men's Christian association building, and was working away at the wires. Large crowds of people were passing at the time, when suddenly they were horrified to see the man looser his hold upon the pole and drop into the net-work of wires a few feet below. There was a struggle, a drawing up of the limbs and almost instantly young Lewis breathed his last, while little wreaths of blue smoke curled up from the burning flesh which was in contact with the live wires. The man remained in the tangle of wires for a few moments, after which he was lowered to the earth and taken away.

Objects to His Assessment.

William A. Paxton has sued the county of Douglas in an action to compel the commissioners to reduce the assessment on his block at the corner of Sixteenth and Farnam streets. He alleges that the assessor of the Fourth ward listed the property at $65,000 for assessment purposes for the year 1894, and that on July 6, without due notice and contrary to the provisions of the statutes, the valuation was increased to $68,000. plaintiff asks that the county be restrained from collecting the tax until such time as the difficulty can be adjusted by the courts
