ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 22.—(Special Telegram.)-Rock Island gained a lead at the very start that won the game. While the Omahas played hard to overtake the leaders and really put up a better game so far as sharp fielding and batting is concerned, they failed through errors in the most inopportune times. Ulrich was ordered off the field early the game for abusive language, and the visiting team at once revolted, but President Rowe, who was present, went upon the grounds and his presence had a quieting ffect, and play was resumed with Clausen in right field, Rourke going to third. The feature was the fielding of McVey, Hutchison and Sweeney and the batting of McVey and Moran. Score:

NEW PLAN IN HORSE RACING

Syracuse Review Track Company Makes Move in Advance of Others.

WILL SHARE PROFITS WITH NON-WINNERS

Horse Owners Who Do Not Get in on the Money on the Track Are Sure of It on the Gate-Starters Have a Cinch.

The Syracuse Review Track company has issued the program for a four days' harness race meeting on October 9, 10, 11 and 12. This meeting promises to be of unusual interest, as it is to be managed on a new principle. Ten entries are required to fill each class and no more accepted. In case any class should fail to be filled, the number received will be allowed to start for the amount paid in, and the nonwinners of money in such class will receive their share of 50 per cent of the gate receipts, the same as they would had the class been filled. One hundred and fifty box stalls will be furnished free to horsemen. Secretary D. T. Hill has made arrangements for special trains from Lincoln and Nebraska City on each day of the meeting. The kite track never was in a better condition, and with never was in a better condition, and with classes from 2:12 up, and purses from $100 to $1,000, the meeting promises to be a success. There are three events on the program for each day, as follows:

October 9-2:11 pace, $1,000 purse; 2:33 trot, $200; foals of 1892, trotting, $200; October 10-2:00 trot, $200; 2:25 trot, $300; 2:38 trot, $250; October 11-2:29 trot, $250; 2:30 pace, $250; yearling trot, half mile heats, $100. October 12-2:20 pace, $300; 2:12 trot, $1,000; 2:45 trot, $200.

Nancy Hanks is no longer queen of the turf, nor has she any part in the honors. Alix, "Sweet Little Alix," now enjoys the undisputed championship by reason of trotting a mile in 2:05%, lowering Hanks' record of 2:04. The record which has been held by eastern men and horses for so many years, has come to the west, and will probably remain here for some time. Alix belongs to a western stable, which has a list of such champions as Directly, 2-year-old champion pacer, Expressive, 3-year-old champion pacer, and Flying Jib, ex-champion pacer, and she is the pride of them all. The beautiful daughter of Patronage has made several attempts to reduce the record mark, but she could not until she was sent on the Galesburg track. The time by quarters shows that she could have gone nearly a second faster if she had not been rested in the third quarter in order to make a strong finish. Pa Hamin says that next year he will go after the new record with his wonderful +year-old, Fantasy, 2:07.

with his wonderful 4-year-old. Fantasy, 2:07.

Robert J is now reeling off miles in dangerous proximity to the 2:00 mark, and during the last month he has made wonderful progress in time. He commenced his record breaking career by pacing a mile in 2:03%, and it was considered a grand performance. Then he got into a race with Joe Patchen and had to go the mile in 2:02½ in order to win it. And to cap the whole he went against that swift old "hoss." Father Time, and chased him under the wire at Terre Haute in 2:01½. Now the great little gelding and the stop watch are fighting to see which can cross under the wire first in the 2:00 class.

The rivalry between the owners of Joe

The rivalry between the owners of Joe Patchen and John R. Gentry will undoubtedly result in a matched race before the close of the season, and under ordinary circumstances such a race would be worth a day's journey in a balloon to see. Joe Patchen has traveled a mile in a race in 2:02%, and Gentry in 2:02%, Both are pacing stallions and world beaters of their kind, while a gelding holds the record. Patchen was sent a mile against the clock recently, but the best he could do was 2:24, and this mark has to stand as his record. Gentry's mile goes on record, but Patchen's fast time in his race with Robert J does not count, officially. The managers of several westero tracks are trying to secure the match between these great horses, and big money is offered for their appearance. The Bee has poblished a biegraphy of Joe Patchen, and here, is a sketch of Gentry's He is a bright bay stallion, very handsome in conformation and attractive in style, though of but medium size. He is 5 years old, and was breed by H. G. Toler of Wichtigs, and his late trainer, Ramey, after he had achieved a 3-year-old record of 2:2. He was sold in August to the Alamance Stock company of North Carolina for 11:000, and put in MeHenry's stable. His dam, Dame evis, made a mark on Charley Williams' new Galesburg track one day this week a mark on Charley Williams' new Galesburg track one day this week that made the people dizzy to look at it. It was 2:07%, within a half second of the world's eyear-old record, and he paced some of the quarters at a clip as fast as the world beaters can make. Only once this mark to 2:19. Directly was sent against the clock and the best he could do was to equal 2:10. The same day Carbonate went the mile in the unprecedented time of 2:07%. Here is a little sketch of the 2-year-old California pacer, was bred by I. D. Cunningham of Haywards. Cal. a small town about fifteen miles from Pleasanton. The story of how Mr. Cunningham was employed on the fruit farm of Mile Knox that he possessor of a brood mare named Mabel, a da

A race that has been exciting great interest is the $15,000 stallion stake booked for September 25 at Mystic Park during the New England Breeders' meeting. It now looks as if it would be drawn down to a race between Directum, 2:054, and Arion, 2:073, Moquette, 2:10, and Nelson, 2:00, were entered, and the latter may be a starter, but it is certain that neither Moquette nor Kremlin will. The former has been sent home, as his preparatory work was not satisfactory to McHenry or to his owners, and there are great doubts that Kremlin will start, as Trainer Bither says that he pulled up lame in his work this week. It will be a holiday event to New England horse fanclers, as Arion is owned by J. Malcolm Forbes of Boston and Nelson by C. H. Nelson of Waterville, Me., and the black stallion king Directum by John Green of Pleasanton, Cal. It will be the east against the west. Not one of the three has been in a race this season, and all are being fitted with care.

Clifford Defeats Henry of Navarre in Good hape at a Mile and a Furlong. NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The attendance on this, the closing day of the season at Gravesend, was large, and the attraction was probably the contest at a mile and a furlong in the second special between Henry of Navarre and Clifford at weight for age. Under the circumstances it was an interesting race, for Domino had beaten Clifford at a mile, and had run a dead heat at an eighth further with Henry of Navarre, so that the 3-year-old was the favorite, as sprinting is held to be Clifford's sirong hold. Navarre led to the turn for home, where Clifford went up, and passing him, won by a head. Sir Walter, in a good finish, won the second race by a neck from Song and Dance. Results:

Broke a Weight Throwing Record.
TRAVERSE ISLAND, N. Y., Sept. 22.—
The New York Athletic club never had a more successful meeting than its fiftymore successful meeting than its fifty-third, which was brought off today. The infield was soggy and the cinder path a trifle slow. This hampered the athletes considerably, and the records for the running races were not broken. J. S. Mitchell of the N. Y. A. C. broke the world's record for throwing the fifty-six-pound weight by throwing thirty-five feet ten inches, three-fourths of an inch better than the previous record. This was the only record broken.

Exciting Cedar Rapids Ball Game. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Sept. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—The most exciting game of Telegram.)—The most exciting game of base ball of the season was played this afternoon, before 2,000 people, between the Farmers Insurance and Sinclairs of the City league. Hofer of the Buffalo team pitched for the Sinclairs and Hutchison and Kittredge of the Chicago team were in the points for the Farmers. The Sinclairs went to pieces in the sixth and the Farmers wen by a score of 8 to 2.

Badly Crippled.

Although the colleges of the country will not open their doors for a week or two yet, the training season of the foot ball teams of many has been in progress for some time. It is hard to crowd into the two months that clapse before the opening of college and Thanksgiving day the hard train ing necessary to prepare the teams for the important games that take place on the latter day, no matter what the grade of the college from which they come. Especially is this the case with the teams of the greater colleges. To get into trim for the hard matches with which they end the season, it is positively necessary, as the case now stands, for them to begin earlier than the opening of college. Consequently, the teams of the big colleges have put in nearly a month of practice already. Most of them began their training in special quarters about September 1, and in several cases the backs had put in a couple of weeks' work

Of the teams of the four big colleges-Princeton, Yale, Harvard and University of Pannaylvania—three will be practically unchanged in their personnel from last year. Harvard is the only one which will have to get new material to any great extent. The others will have to get new men for one or two positions, but suitable candidates are in almost every instance ready to take them. Doubtless there will be changes, Under the new rules much more running will be required than under the old, and it is not at all unlikely that some of the slower men of the teams will have to give place to swifter.

PRINCETON LOSES QUARTERBACK

is not at all unlikely that some of the slower men of the teams will have to give place to swifter.

PRINCETON LOSES QUARTERBACK KING.

Princeton will lose two men. Blake and King, fullback and quarterback respect.v.ly. To fill Blake's position should not be difficult. While he put up a very good and steady game on last Thanksgiving, he cannot be called more than an average fullback. The two most promising candidates for the position are McCormick and Vorbis. The former is only a fair kicker, but he may develop. He is, however, a very good ground gainer when he has the ball. He has been on the scrub for two years and such experience is valuable.

But the thing that will effect the team most is the loss of King. He was an invaluable player behind the line, and will be exceedingly hard to replace. His tackling was low and hard always, and for interference he has never been surpassed. He was undoubtedly the strongest man of the team. Who will take his place is a question impossible to answer as yet. There has been talk of putting Mcrse in as quarter, but this move is very doubtful. He has been talk of putting Mcrse in as quarter, but this move is very doubtful. He has been talk of putting Mcrse in as quarter, but this move is very doubtful. He has been talk of putting Mcrse in as quarter, but this move is very doubtful. He has been talk of putting Mcrse in as quarter, but this move is very doubtful. He has been tried there before and made only a partial success. Besides, he is too valuable a halfback to lose. Young Poe, a brother of Johnny, will probably be given a trial. He is very light, but hardly more so than his brother, Edgar Allen, or rather "Peter." as he is familiarly known, who has the reputation of being the best quarter that ever received the ball.

In the rest of the team there will probably be no change. The line last year was considered the strongest that ever stepped on the gradion in the history of the game, and could hardly be bettered. They are all good runners, and as individuals will probably last year, his first year on the team.

BEARERS OF THE BLUE.

Yale is even better off than Princeton, as all her old men are back. Whatever changes occur will be made only because stronger men are found. The team lines up as follows: Center, Stillman; guards, Hickok and McCrea; tackles, Murphy and Beard; ends. Hinkey and Greenway; quarter, Adec; halfbacks, Thorne and Armstrong; fullback, Butterworth. It is practically certain that Armstrong will not play this year. He was elected captain of the crew and wishes to devote his whole time to it. If he had played foot ball it is doubtful whether he would have made the team. His work against both Princeton and Harvard last year was poor, hardly gaining a yard in either case, although his defense was very strong. De Witt, who pushed him hard last year, can more than take his place, and will probably do so.

Yale also has a multitude of substitutes, who may crowd out the old men in several cases. Sanford, who has tried for center against Stillman for two years, will be given another trial this year. Stillman obtained the place on account of his weight and strength. Sanford is a much faster runner, and fast running will be especially indispensable in a center this year. He is also a much livelier man. Rogers, an Andover man, will give Murphy a hard rub for tackle, and may crowd him out. Letton, the heavy fullback of Andover, will try for a position behind the line. He is a remarkably fine punter and drop kicker, but will not oust Butterworth. Another promising candidate is William Lander, who is known through New England as a strong plunging back.

CRIMSON'S CRIPPLED CONDITION.

Harvard is worse off than any of the teams. She will lose several of her best who is known through New England as a strong plunging back.

CRIMSON'S CRIPPLED CONDITION.

Harvard is worse off than any of the teams. She will lose several of her best men. Lewis, probably the best center that ever played, will be gone, as will Newell, who has gained aimost an equal reputation as tackle. The latter remains at the university, but he has played four years. The two guards, Mackle and Acton, will not be candidates, but will remain at the university, and may be called upon. They are only mediocre players, and it appears likely that their positions can be filled. Waters, last year's halfback and captain, will not fill his old position. He may not play at all on account of the difficulty he had last year with the athletic association. If he does, he will probably play guard. Several years ago he was considered one of the best, while the same cannot be said of his work as full. Emmons and Stevenson, ends, and Manahan, tackle, are the only ones remaining in the line. Behind the line are: Beal, quarter. Wrightington, half, and Brewer, full.

In the way of promising candidates Harvard is not very well fixed. Pierce, who was on the freshman team, will be worked at center. He weighs 200 pounds and is clumsy and slow. His play is much like Stillman's of Yale. Holt of Andover and a subfreshman named Pierce are the best of the guards. The latter is new to the game. Hallowell, a cousin of Harvard's old end rush, is the most promising candidate for tackle and is very good. Gould and Connor are two other men trying for the position. For the vacant half Gouterman, Dunlop and Gray are trying. The last named is a veteran, but both the others are good and will push him hard.

Pennsylvania will be as strong as last year and can have almost the same team of she wants it. Thornton, however, has played four years and cannot play quarter. Wagenhurst will probably be tried. He is a heavier man and is fully as good as line breaker to change from half. The other positions behind the line will probably remain as last year, HOW THEY MAY WIN.

HOW THEY MAY WIN.

It is hardly wise to predict so early in the season how the teams will wind up, especially under the new conditions, yet there is no good reason why Princeton should not remain the champion. She will have as good a line as last year, even better, because of another season's play together. Behind the line the runners will be as good, if not better. Of course, King is gone, and the loss of his strong defens! and offensive work will be keenly fell, yet not to such a degree as to weaken the team. Even with his loss, the team promises to be stronger. Tale will also be stronger. She loses no good man, and another season's work together will greatly strengthen her. The final contest between the two will see both stronger individually, but not very much so comparatively, although Yale may have gained a little more.

Pennsylvania will defeat neither. She ittle more. Pennsylvania will defeat neither. Sh appears to lack to a considerable degree the spirit which animates them, although her team is often as good and has even been composed of better players in the past. The lack of college spirit accounts for her defeats more than anything else. Harvard appears at present the weak-est of the quartet. Her work in the past does not guarantee the hope that she will pick up in time to defeat the others. However, she may defeat Pennsylvania, as the latter never exerts herself as much against Harvard as she does against the other two, especially Princeton.

It is a matter of regret that a match between Harvard and Princeton could not be arranged. Princeton has made overtures time and again, but the unsportsmanlike conduct of Harvard stands in the way. A match, however, will probably take place next year.

INTEREST IN THE WEST.

Of the Western Interstate league very

way. A match, however, will probably take place next year.

INTEREST IN THE WEST.

Of the Western Interstate league very little can as yet be said. None of the teams have begun practice yet, and lowa is the only one that has shown any signs of life. The members of this team were furnished with foot balls the latter part of the summer and instructed to spend as much time as they could in kicking. It is impossible to tell yet how many members of the teams of the universities of Iowa, Missouri and Kansas will be back. Iowathinks that almost all of her men will return. In the other two there will be several vacancies.

Of the Nebraska team five men will return. They are bern, half back and captain; Wilson, center; Wiggins and Shoe, ends, and Oury, tackie. Candidates for the other positions are scarce and not very promising. In all probability there will be several changes in the men that return. Dern may change to guard. Oury is talked of as half back. He is a heavy man and gives the impression that he would make a very good plunging back. Flippin will not return, and, as things now look, a heavy half will be indispensable to take his place. The prospects of the team are not very promising, as there is very little money in the treasury. A coach will be hired for only three weeks, but a good deal can be done in that length of time.

The high schools of the state have opened and their teams are getting into shape. At the meeting of the High School Foot Ball league at Lincoln on September 15, eight schools were represented. The league was divided into two circuits: Lincoln, Ashland, Nebraska City and Omaha composing the northern, and Pawnee City, Wymore, Falls City and Deatrice the southern. Plattsmouth, the old enemy of the Omaha High school, unfortunately dropped out on account of financial difficuities. The schedule for the northern and southern circuit is as follows:

October 5, Ashland at Nebraska City; October 13, Nebraska City and Beatrice the southern circuits as solows:

Local High School team will have seven

The Omaha High school team will have seven men back: Gardner, full back; Purvis, right half back; Burdick, left half back; Cowgill, right guard; Whipple, left tackle; Cross, center; Clark, quarter back and captain. There are a large number of candidates, some of whom are promising.

of candidates, some of whom are promising.

The Y. M. C. A. team has been practicing since the first of the month. It was earlier thought that a large number of old college players would form the team. Most of them, however, will not have the time, or will coach other teams. Therefore the team will be without them. The present candidates are light and know very little about the game. They have been instructed by Charley Thomas of Ann Arbor and Henry Lyman of Yale. The prospects are not for a strong team, chiefly on account of the lightness of the men.

Other Nebraska and Iowa schools and colleges are getting their teams ready and have secured coaches. Some of them will undoubtedly have good teams. ARTHUR IRWIN'S LEAGUE.

ARTHUR IRWIN'S LEAGUE.

Professional foot ball will be given a trial this year. A league has been formed between Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Brooklyn, A code of rules and a constitution have been prepared on the lines of those which govern the National Base Ball league. A schedule has been prepared which provides that six games shall be played in each city by each team. It is proposed that an English team be invited to make a tour of the citys. The season woll begin October 1 and last for six months. In every case the uniforms of the home teams will be black, with white stockings, while the visitors will have white uniforms and black stockings. The teams have already been secured and are in training.

It will be a matter of interest to lovers of foot ball to watch the results of this scheme. It has always been said that foot ball could not become professional, because professionals would never be willing to undergo the necessary hard training, nor would play the game hard unless something beyond their salary urged them. Foot ball in itself does not appeal to the general mass of the people. That the teams belonged to such and such colleges was what first made it popular. Much the same feeling exists yet. Those who go to see a game because it is a Much the same feeling exists vet. Much the same feeling exists yet. Those who go to see a game because it is a game of foot ball want good, hotiy contested matches, where there is self-evident and intense rivalry. It does not seem probable that professional foot ball will have such inducements for the spectators, and if it does not it will never become professional. This is the hope of foot ball players. It is practically the only purely amateur game played now in this country and it should remain such.

and E. Hart were the first to sample the bowling furnished by Messrs. Taylor and Doyle. Lawrie, after making twelve in his usual careful manner, placed a ball in Cookson's hands. Robb and Shepherd, each with seven runs to his credit, made the next highest scores. A. Brown, with six, and Hart and New with four each, came next on the list. The entire side was out for sixty-four.

When Messrs. Taylor and Ford opened the inning for Cookson's side it looked as if they intended business. Taylor, however, after making two, was bowled by W. Yaughan, while Ford was not dismissed until he had made thirteen. Among the other scorers were: R. Young, five; C. S. Cuillingham, six; A. T. McPherson, four, and Stribling and Doyle, four and lifteen respectively. The innings, with twelve extras, closed for sixty-one.

The batting of P. Ford for the losing side, and the bowling of A. D. Robb for the winning, were features of the game. Scores in detail:

-Score in Detail.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.-Whea the seeond day's play in the international cricket match between Lord Hawke's English eleven and the Gentlemen of Philadelphia ended this afternoon the visitors had the best of it by long odds. The first inning was finished with the Philadelphias with a score of 159 against 187 made by the Englishmen yesterday, and at the end of the day's play the latter had added 179 to their score in the second inning, with eight wickets down.

All conditions were favorable when, at a few minutes past 11 o'clock, play was resumed. When the stumps were drawn yesterday the Englishmen had finished their first inning for 187 runs, and the Americans had scored seventy-four runs, for a loss of three wickets. Bohlen and Wood were the batters when stumps were drawn, having thirty and twenty-nine respectively. Lord Hawke did not come down to the grounds today, being sick with fever, his physician ordering him to remain in his hotel at least until after lunch. Kenneth McAlsphine took his after lunch. Kenneth McAlsphine took his place on the eleven. Hillyard opened to Wood when play was begun. Hillyard was relieved by Hill. Wood was bowled after running his score up to forty-one runs. He was succeeded by Mur. The feature of the morning's play was Bohlen's batting. Boundaries from his wicket were plentiful and at 12 20 p. p. b. bad made search. and at 12:30 p. m. he had made seventynine runs, which tops Lord Hawke's record of seventy-eight, made yesterday. Muir, his companion at the wickets, also did good work, but after a half hour's stand he was bowled by Whitewell. Bohlen's fine stand was finally broken by Robinson, when he was stumped from behind the wicket on a
