FOR A TERRIBLE CRIME. Young Dr. Hyatt, Formerly of Mulford, In-

d'cted by the Grand Jury. ATLANTIC, Ia., Sept. 28.-(Special.)-The grand jury has returned an indictment against young Dr. John Hyatt, formerly of Milford, but now of Red Oak, Ia., charging him with the crime of infanticide. He is alleged to have smothered the newly born babe of a young girl of Milford. The young man has been arrested and his bond fixed at $10,000. In company with an officer he is now making an effort to secure this amount. Young Hyatt has been a member of the medical profession but a few years He was forced to surrender his location in Milford recently because of failing practice. The crime for which he is indicted is re volting in the extreme. Steps have been taken to apprehend the father of the mur dered child, who was a party to the crime and he will doubtless suffer as fully as his accomplice, young Hyatt. The mother of the infant is of a most reputable family and has always been regarded as a - 第0 woman up to the time she was led astray y her lover.

The excitement over the affair in Re-Oak is great, where all the parties are well mown, and where Dr. Hyatt's father en joys a considerable practice among the bes f Montgomery county families.

norning a young man named John Henry, at Grafton, O., was awakened by burglars in his room. Henry gave chase and was shot and killed by one of the thieves. The burgiars have been tracked to this place.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 28.-Evan Kavan, the proprietor of a boarding house near Miners Mills, a small village in the northern part of this county, was murdered late last night by burglars who broke into the house. Kavan was known to have a large sum of money in the house, and it is be-lieved the murder was committed by parties
