Opening Week of the Institution Ore of Unusual Activity.

Over 450 Names Make Their First Appearance on the Books-Every Department of the School Moving with Wonted Activity.

NUMBER OF NEW STUDENTS INCREASED

LINCOLN, Sept. 20 .- (Special.) - The opening week at the university was one of unusual activity. The number of new students registering see about 25 per cent larger than last year. Over 450 new names are now on the books. These, together with the registration of students in the law college by the closing of next week will bring the number up to the 1,000 mark.

The instructors and popils of the curservatory moved from their temporary quarters in the Halter block and Grand hotel into the new building the latter part of last week. The faculty has been enlarged by additions to eleven members. Floor work in the gymnasium will commence this week. Examinations for entrance in the Glee club

The University foot ball team has been practicing every day this week. There is an abundance of good majorial this year, but the boys are a little slow in getting together and unless they do better work there is little prospect of holding the state championship this year in the face of the strong teams in A formidable competitor is expected in the Omaha Young Men's Christian association team. The personnel of the team has not been definitely decided upon as yet, the captain not having arrived.

A party of tourists in charge of Prof. Lees arrived home last week, after an absence of about 108 days. The trip extended through England and the continent. The average expense was $320, which included everything from Lincoln and return. A large number of students availed then

The theatergoing public of Hartington may now be accommodated, so far as a suitable opera house is concerned. Mr. John Krause, one of the substantial business men here, hus just completed a building containing an opera house 50x80 feet. It is furnished with a modern set of scenery and is up to date in all respects. The house was formally opened Thursday evening, and its 600 seats were not enough to accommodate the crowd which paid for admission. In the construc-tion of this theater Mr. Krause has supplied a much-needed institution, and it will andoubtedly prove a paying investment. S. J. Young is the manager.

UP WITH THE TIMES.

Newsboys Enjoying the Luxury of a Strike Their Grievances.

Another strike was inaugurated in this city last night, the result of which cannot be foretold. It was not thought advisable at a late hour last night to call out the militia, but they will undoubtedly be held in readiness for any emergency that may arise. Red, rich gore has already flowed. Precautions have been taken by the police to prevent any more spilling, and it is thought that they will suffice. If not, the governor will be notified and the state will be given another opportunity to bestow a few more thousand dollars upon tin soldiers. The first incident that called the public's attention to the fact that something was disturbing the usual Sabbath peace of the community, occurred at the Paxion hotel. A striker, only a little under four feet in height, committed an assault upon another individual, somewhat stronger and taller. The result was blood and tears. The assulted personage begged some one in the large crowd that had gathered to give him a pistol. None could be found, however, and the striker, in the confusion of the moment, made his escape. The police appeared on the scene at the opportune moment, and no other disturbance followed. The assaulted party threatened to bring the matter into court, and the as-sailant may be found today and arrested. The injuries received are not fatal, consisting of a lacerated nose and a forget-me-not

A gang of the strikers was gathered about the corner of Sixteenth and Farnam, and was timidly approached. Some emphatic tanguage that floated upon the evening air suggested caution. They finally consented to tell their grievances, however. While they said they deprecated violence of any kind, they would have no "scabs" take their places. "Death to Scabs" is their watchword. They are ready to submit their question to arbitration and hope in this nanner to avert any trouble. Whether the monopolies for whom they work will admit that they have any question to arbitrate they do not know. But any "scab" who attempts to oust them will meet death face to face and need expect no strikers are about seventy in number. In common nomenclature they are newsbys. At their head stand such personages as 'Rats,' 'Grimsey' and 'Mogey.' The parties upon whom the strike has been declared are the Chicago papers. Trouble has been for some time brewing. Their agent in the city, the person who was so cruelly as aulted. has been in the habit of delivering papers the hotels before giving them to the news The hotel papers have also been while the newsboys had to "stuff" their own. This was too much to stand Hence the strike was declared, and not a Chi-cago paper was sold on the street last night. But that was not the extent of the strike The strikers carried the r grievances to the keepers of the hotel stands and persuaded hem to join the boycott.

A representative of the Chicago papers is a the city, and it is hoped that arbitration will carry the day.

GERMAN THEATRICAL SEASON

It Will Open at Turacr Hall Next Sunday Night-Local German Gossip. Under the efficient direction of Mr. William Alstadt, who has had considerable experience in conducting theatricals, the German season at Turner hall will open next Sunday. The play to be presented is a comedy in two acts, entitled "The Englishman in Germany." It represents a comely native widow persecuted by a mad-passioned English lover of yet tender years. Unceasingly he haunt the subject of his adoration until the occurrence of an event which gives to the play the most humorous turn. The characters in the comedy will be ren eseated by local amateur talent. The participants are some of the more prominent people in German circles. They will have the active support of a once well known German actress here, Mrs. Selma Lindeman. who has returned to Omaha. After this first performance these theatricals will be continued regularly twice a month.

Local German Gessip. At the German club a renewal of the card parties of last winter, which served to entertain both ladies and gentlemen every Thursday evening, is promised October 4.

With the change of season the Saenger bund is arranging to give its first lightful evening entertainment October 21. A new stage has been built for the hall on

GAME IN WILL STREET ONE OF WALFING

October Promises Little for Activity but Much for Strengthening in Prices-Banks Bothered with Too Much Money on Hand.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 .- Henry Clews, head of the banking house of Henry Clews & Co., writes of the situation in Wall street;

"Wall street is still waiting for 'the moving of the waters.' With no special weariness or anxiety, however. The bulls are conservative and in no hurry to precipitate an improvement which they are confident must come at no very distant date, and which they think may come in better shape and with more intrinsic force if allowed to wait until conditions are more fully ripe for it. They therefore extend full length of rope to the bears; for one reason, because they have no objection to an opportunity for increasing and, for another, because an over-sold mar-ket may give them a chance for making t profitable turn at the expense of the

"Moreover, there are, at the moment, speial reasons for this walting and tentative attitude. Business, especially the distributive department of it, is just now entering a new transient phase. After a very active commercial movement, during which the depicted stacks of retailers have been pretty well replenished, there is a disposition to see what is the response from consumers. This feeling prevalls alike among retailers and jobbers, and there is consequently a partial reaction from the late marked activity—perhaps beyond what is usual at this stage of the season. This is only sound business prudence and nothing more than might be expected under existing circumstances. The first-hand deplers and the jobbers can well afford this relaxation of demand, for the last six weeks of distribution has left them with light stocks, and many articles have become scarce, while prices have correspondingly strengthened. Of course, the trade croakers and the pessimist speculators seek to make the worst of this temporary phase of the merchandise markets, but it would be a mistake to construe these symptoms as implying any abatement of the late recovery of confidence. Prudent operators have foresent this mood, and that has been one cause of the recent comparative inactivity of the built element of the stock market.

"Politics, too, is beginning to have some retarding influence on speculation. The earnpaign in this state is likely to be unusually exciting. As the elections involve the possibility of a return of ascendancy to the present minority party, the congressional elections throughout the union will be attended with unusual interest, for the result will determine the policy of the nation upon many questions of the most vital importance to the future of industry, foreign commerce and the stability of our currency. The coming month, therefore, will be occupied in watching symptoms, and that is a position favorable rather to caution and to short turns then to large and well sustained operations.

"But whilst influences such as those above moutloned are calculated to produce a hesitating market for the next few weeks, there are mountaged factors." It tive department of it, is just now entering new transient phase. After a very active thined operations.

"But whilst influences such as those above monitioned are calculated to produce a hesitating market for the next few wacks, there are important factors all the time preparing the way for an ultimate development of conditions favorable to greater activity and higher prices. The superabundance of money continues. The banks find it impossible to employ their loanshie funds at anything approaching satisfactory rates. The Interior banks hold unprecedentedly large cash reserves, and the city banks consequently fear that the drain of currency to the crop-moving sections may soon cease, so that they see little prospect of call loans bringing more than the now current rate of interest. Herein lies a strong inducement for large operators to undertake speculative movements upon a broad scale so soon as the railroads fully reflect the improvement in trade and when the export movement in grain has developed to larger dimensions. Within the next few months, therefore, the carnings of the railroads may be expected to reach about their normal volume; the industries will have adapted themselves to the new tarriff cenditions, labor will be more generally employed, and the consumptive demand from the working population will have returned to its average volume. And it is not to be overlooked that the restoration of confidence in trade and manufactures is laying the basis for the employment of capital in new industrial and commercial tion of confidence in trade and manufactures is laying the basis for the employment of capital in new industrial and commercial undertakings, which will show its effects in a general stimulus to demand and in a fuller employment of labor. With this restoration to normal conditions there will be no lack of employment for the now idle floating balances; long deferred enterprises will be launched; postponed railroad extensions, replenishments and repairs will be undertaken, and the business of the country at large will enter on a new period of expansion. This is the natural drift of things under existing circumstances, and it is not hope of this revival should be long post-poned; the realization is probably much closer at hand than is now supposed; so hear that it would be unwise to realize now

"Under all condition "Under all conditions of the market the best practical policy is to avoid short sales, to buy on sharp depressions and to be satis-fled with moderate profits."

MANCHESTER BUSINESS IMPROVING China, Corea, India and South America

MANCHESTER, Sept. 30.—There was less business done than in the previous week, but the aggregate was fairly large and at improved prices. Lines of China and Corea scaples were placed early, while India took a fair assortment daily. South America a fair assortment daily. South America was a good buyer. Sales in Turkey and Persia showed signs of improvement. Home buyers were still reserved, but the good harvest is expected to tell soon. Declining castern exchanges were an unfavorable feature. In yarna business was still of a hand to mouth character, mainly because spinners hold out for a fairer margin of prefit, which is gradually improving, the spinners having been able to retain nearly all the market. The prospects are distinctly more encouraging. Business on the continent has been active. Both the French and German mills will be fully occupied for some time ahead, the prices not being very remunerative. Out of twenty-four Lancashire mills only six made a profit in September, and the profit was small.

OMAUA GENERAL MARKETS.

condition of Trade and Quotations on Steple and Fancy Produce.

There has been very little change in the but there has been very little change in the but-ter situation during the past week. To re-celpts, however, have been a little heavier, but the proportion of choice butter continues small, so that the market has been firm all the week on the best grades. The starting small, so that the market has been firm all the week on the best gralles. The starting up of the grass by the lare fair rains has caused some improvement in the quality.

The egg market has been quat and without noteworthy feature. The demand has not been overly brisk, while the receipts hags been fully up to or a little in excess of the previous week. This has caused a rather weak feeling to prevail among holders, but not sufficient to break the market.

Poulity has been arriving more freely during the past week, but there has been no material increase in the demand, with the matural result that prices eased off somewhat. This was especially the case with spring chickens which are quoted lower. The season has now arrived when old fewls and spring chickens will sell at about the same prices.

Venson and ound will be in season commencing with Menday, and that will have a content of the same that the same that the same that the same time the demand has not been overly active for the same reason. Cool weather would have a tendency to cause a decided improvement in the game market, so demand is concerned, even if it did not help it cest.

Meetings of Odd Fellows Grand Podies to Be Held the Coming Month.

ACTIVITY AMONG THE OMAHA LODGES

Tangler Temple's Invitation from Rawlins -Names of Those Who Will Respond -Red Men Making Gratifying Progress-Woodmen of the World.

The Nebraska grand encampment of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows convenes in Representative hall at Lincoln on Tuesday. October 16, at 10 a. m. The grand lodge will meet in the same hall on Wednesday, October 17, at the same hour. As usual, the ra troads have given a rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip. A large attendance is anticipated. An effort will be made to get the session of 1895 for Omaha. Among local lodges a little stir is becoming visible after the lethargy of the summer. In a few weeks all will settle down to the fall and winter work. Omaha lodge No. 2 will meet for drill in the staff work of the initiatory degree next Saturday evening in its new temple, 108 North Fourteenth street. Hesperian encampment No. 2 has opened its fall and winter campaign and has twelve ap-

The great council Improved Order of Red Men of the United States held its annual session at Binghamton, N. Y., during the week commencing September 11. The session was very largely attended, representatives being present from thirty-five states and territories. The reports of the great Incohonee and great chief of records showed the order to be in a prosperous condition in every reservation where a great council has been established. Tribes have been estab-lished in some states where there are no great councils.

The greatest increase was in Maine, where nearly 5,600 members were adopted. The growth in Nebraska has been retarded by financial disturbances, drouth and other causes, but shows a slight increase.

In Omaha the tribes have done remark-ably well and continue taking in members ably well and continue taking in members nearly every meeting. Omaha tribe No, 18 has received an invitation to visit Ogalalla tribe No, 4 on the sleep of October 1, at which time Great Sachem J. H. Flanagan and other great chiefs will pay an official Yah Nun Dah Sis tribe No. 2 will its fourth annual ball at the new Odd Fellows hall on October 18, the proceeds to be devoted to charity during the winter. They are receiving liberal support in disposing of iickete.

Compliment to Taugler.

Tangler temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, has received a great compliment in a request to initiate into the mysteries a newly organized temple at Rawlins, Wyo. The oasis of Salt Lake has a emple and is a couple of hundred miles nearer, but the fame of the casis of Omaha and Tangler tomple has penetrated to the four quarters of the earth. The invitation has been accepted and the caravan will start next Sunday at 2:15 p. m. On Monday night the unregonerate will be led over the hot sands of the desert to the fountain of nilk and honey. After their arduous toil he caravan will then proceed to Laramie. and with James Marsh, warden of the state penitentiary, will wander into the jungles at the head of the Laramie river. A week's fishing will be had and all necessary balt will be carefully provided.

The party will comprise H. A. Akla, Edgar Aller, R. French of Kearney, L. M. Anderson, L. M. Rheem, C. S. Potter, Charles Huntington, F. E. Winning, Henry Newell, Robert Carlton, Gustave Anderson, James Woodman, M. L. Parrotte, E. R. Perfect and
