MART PUNDAY, North 1894 THE COMMENTS

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: SUNDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1894.

The college season opened last Saturday and although games so early in the season can be no criterion of the work further on of the four big teams, Harvard, Yale and Princeton, appear to be more evenly matched even than last year. Of the three appears to have made the best Harvard showing, as the team she faced, Dartmouth, was much stronger than the others had against them. The score was 22 to 0; last year against the same team it was 16 to 0. Only fifteen minute halves were played, but the time was sufficient to show that Harvard's line is almost impregnable. The team, with the exception of Emmons on the end, was entirely new. The center, which was considered somewhat weak, could not be broken. Only five holes were made through the line, twice through the center for five and three yards, and three times igh Gould, the right tackle, for gains of thirty, five and ten yards. In the last case, Dartmouth's interference was and could not be broken down.

spiendid and could not be broken down. Harvard's goal was never threatened and the only weak spot in the line appears to be be-tween right tackle and end. Harvard hus had a big lot of candidates out, but none of them are very promising except Wrenn, the tennis champion, who is trying for quarter. Shaw, '33, is the best man so far for center. The other positions that are to be filled are yet without a choice. Mr. Deland, Dr. Brooks, Mr. Lath-rop, Upton, Lewis, Mackle, Tilton and Wil-lard are coaching. lard are coaching

SHOWING OF THE TIGERS.

rop, Upton, Lewis, Mackle, Tilton and Wil-hard are coaching. SHOWING OF THE TIGERS. Princeton's game with Lafayette showed very creditable interference and showed the backs up well. Captain Trenchard played quarter. His defensive play and in-terference were, of course, strong, and back of the line he braces up the team much as Phil King did. At passing he is a fair suc-cess, and only appeared to lack practice. The line of the visiting team was unable to stand the heady charges of the Princeton backs. The interference of the Tigers was superb, especially that of Trenchard will play quarter. He is altogether too valuable and the beady charges of the Princeton backs. The interference of whom Poe and the defensive work was strong. It is not probable that Trenchard will play quarter. He is altogether too valuable aman at end to lose. There are five candi-dates for the position, of whom Poe and Rosegarten are the strongest. The latter appears to have the best chance, as Pce has not developed as well as was expected. Morse the half back, is talked of consider-ably, if no one can be found to fill the posi-tion satisfactorily, as it would be much easier to fill his position than King's. Voer-hees and Barmett, the substitute halves, are both good and experienced. Balliet, the crotter, has not come back. The two most promising candidates for this position are crowdis and Dudley Riggs, a brother of Jesse, who bucked Heftelfinger in '3, '59 90 and '91. Both weigh over 200 pounds, and both promise to fill the position as well as Balliet, although the latter is considered the best center Princeton ever had. The basher the fill of superfluous flesh, and has a remark-able amount of sand. The same can be salt of furges. But Crowdis is a bit too good natured. However, Hector Cowan, Prince-ton's great tackle, was also good an unred and finally made a very rough player. Riggs is stockier than his brother, and looks as if he could be tricky and as rough. Rhodes is stokier than his brother, and looks as if he could be trickl is a third man, but hardly as good as either of the other two. It is thought that this year's full back will be Tyler. He is much of Butterworth's build, and plays much after his fashion. He would outblek Butterworth, while the latter is probably the stronger running full back. McCormiek is giving him a good race, how-ever, for the position.

<sup>16</sup> trobably the stronger running full back, McCormick is siving him a good race, how-ever, for the position. YALE AND PENNSY'S PROSPECTS. Yale had, the weakest team against her of the trio, and her play was the least sat-isfactory. Although the play was quick, there was a great deal of fumbling, and twice a misunderstanding arose as to sig-mais. Yet Yale ugually starts in the season apparently the weakest of the big teams, but always picks up. The kicking was also poor, but Butterworth did not play. Thorne and Dewitt both played well, and made some brilliant runs. Cross has been against Stillman at center, but so tar the latter has had decidedly the better of it, and it looks new as though there will be no change in the position. Adee, at quarter, has not been playing uny too well, and has always had to give way to Morris on account of his "Charley horse." Morris has been putting up a very strong game for so early in the season. He pusses the bail quickly and ac-curately is like a miniature hurrienne in in-terference, and when he can get at the man with the hall be downa bim 'b his tracks'. season. He passes the ball quickly and accurately, is like a miniature hurrieane in interference, and when he can get at the man with the ball he downs him in his tracks. Dewitt and Thorne have been showing up for the halves, although Marks is a clever little man and can run well with the ball. Pennsylvania has not had a regular game yet, and all her work has been ugainst the scrub. Captain Knipe will probably play quarter in Vall's place this season. Carl Williams is another strong man for quarter and can play half back. Pennsylvania is very well supplied with material hack of the line. Knipe, Brooke, Osgood, Gilbert and Williams, as substitutes, would make the strongest combination of the season. A. E. Bull, stroke of hast year's crew, is trying for center, and is likely to get it. He is light for the position and coeched in the weight if he will make a good man. He weight if he will make a good man. He weight if he will make a good man. He weight if he will make a good man. He will bace at end. For the other, Rosegarten and Untan are fighting. Both are strong we, Wagoahurst is captain of the crew, of a law year's substitute tackle. Minds, a new man and Stuart are prominent candidates for tackle, with the chances at present in favor of the former two. Wharton and Woodruft, brother. Mosegarten and Woodruft, brother, a schedule of the candidates for tackle.

A. C., at Washington. NQ HARVARD-PRINCETON GAME. It has been about decided that Harvard and Princeton will not meet this year. Both teams are unwilling to let a match be-tween them interfere with their chances of success against Yale, and speak of ten days or two weeks as beling a necessary period by which the game should precede their Yale match. By the old arrangements the Harvard-Princeton same came off on the second Saturday before Thanksgiving, the Harvard-Yale match on the Saturday before and the Princeton-Yale match on Thanks-giving. But all the teams have improved since those days, and Pennsylvania is be-coming a decided factor. Princeton reserved the date of November 19 for the propesd match, which is a week after the Princeton-Pennsylvania game. Neither team, how-ever, wished to play later in the season on account of the important Thanksgiving sames. Yale is begining to feel the same and next year will probably change the date of the Yale-Harvard game. This is the last year of the contract. Yale has been trying to get Harvard to make the vard is unwilling and it is highly probable, therefore, that the Harvard-Yale game will be played on the Saturday before Thanks-ving. As to the Thanksgiving day game, many NO HARVARD-PRINCETON GAME.

As to the Thanksgiving day game, many As to the Thanksgiving day game, many objections have been made to the faculty and corporation of both Yale and Princeton by graduates who do not wish the game to occur on that day. The pressure brought to bear last year was very strong, and there are undoubtedly many who like to see the game played upon some day other that the holiday for that reason alone. Many urge, also, that the attendance would be more satisfactory, in quality if not in numbers, if another date were selected.

Played Match Yesterday. The Omaha High school boys won a cred-

Tone down in a Minute areat acai of fumbring. From the specta-tors' point of view the exhibition was tire-some, as there was more wrangling than playing. The captains have a right, of course, to seize every advantage for their teams, but when the officials have been chosen as satisfactory to both, their de-cisions must be final. In yesterday's game not only the captains kicked continually, but every player on both teams "cussed" the officials and each other, and sometimes in no very choice words. Such conduct will not popularize the game, to say the least. To be sure, one of two of the offi-cials were not fit, and frequently didn't ap-pear to know what foot ball was. But that was the captains' fault, as competent men-ought to have been chosen. The High school boys showed that they had a nucleus for a good team. Their line was a little shaky, but they had against them men that averaged twenty-five pounds more in weight than themselves. Their in-terference was not yet developed, but one could see traces of it. The men back of the line did extremely well. Purvis and Whip-ple made some fine end runs of twenty and thirty yards, while Gardner went througn the line well. All the backs tackled fairty well. The line of the Y. M. C. A. was decidedly CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 6 .- The foot ball game between University of Illinois and Wabash college today resulted 36 to 6 in favor of the University of Elinois. A feature of the game was the carrying of the ball to the goal in less than a minute by Allan for Wabash.

Rourke Family Settles the State Champion-ship in Favor of Omaha.

WHIT HILL'S FINE WORK ON THE SLAB

Alexander the Good's Last Appearance a Remarkably Fine Exhibition of Fitching Skill-End of the Season is Now at Hand,

Omaha won the "championship" of the state yesterday afternoon by larruping Bucktrino's farmers for the third time. Today's game winds up the season, and this evening the club discands. The Chicagos were to have been here for three games this week, but they have concluded to guit for the season like a sensible club. There is but little glory or lucre in post-season exhibition games, as the late games here have abundwere of twenty-five and twenty minutes the magn ficently. The Lincolns were veritable ration. Cornell won with a score of 33 to 0 pigmies in his skillful hands, and they had about as much chance of beating him as there have beating him as they have of beating the New Yorks. Whitehill has pitched gilt-edged ball during the past month, and it is a lumber yard to a wooden toothpick that his handsome face will be seen in the National League ranks next season. No ball player in the land is more deserving, more exemplary in habit and conduct both in and off the field than this aelf-same Alexander Whitehill. Holly's poor work yestarday was attrib-

A store association and is on the high road to eminence in the game. As for the balance of the team, they all did well. McVey had on his batting duds and Baracs trembled like a reed in the wind surger time bic bicks. wird every time big George appeared fore him. Moran caught superbly. Ul-was impregnable at third, Old Hutch Ulrich was impregnable at third. Old Hutch as reliable as ever, McCann swift and sure, and Routke a surprise to even himself. As for Lincoln, they all played brilliantly, but were unable to solve Wh tehil's conun-drums at the proper time. Back Ebright is a favorite here, and it is to be hoped will be seen again in this baliiwick next season. But then all the Lincoln boys are favorites, so far as that is concerned, as they are all splendid fellows, hard players and gentlemen, very one of them.

Remember the curtain will be rung down on old '94 this afternoon. Everybody go out and give a last shout for the "Champions" of the state and their sturdy foes. Score: OMAHA.

to b) third. Time: 1:23. Went to the Outsider. NEW YORK, Ozt. 6.—Henry of Navarre won the great race at Morris Park against Clifford and Domino. Just before the race the betting stock Domino. 4 to 5; Clifford, 9 to 5, while Henry of Navarre was quite unsupported at 3 to 1. As the bugie sounded to post at 4:25, the betting had changed to; Domino, 11 to 10; Clifford, 8 to 5; Henry of Navarre, 3 to 1. Domino had the rail, Clif-ford had the cutside, Henry of Navarre being in the middle, They were sent on their journey at precisely 4:30. The start was perfect. Domino poked his head in front when they were well in stride, and led Navarre by that distance going past the quarter post. Clifford being third, at Na-varce's heels. There was practically no change until three-quarters of a mile had been Cvered. Then Henry of Navarre mats-his effort, as did also Clifford and Domino. The pride of the east was seen to failer and then drop out of it. The crowt took up the cry "Domino is beaten." Down the nome stretch Henry of Navarre showed the way to Clifford, first being a neck and then a length ahead. Clifford was spurred merci-lessiy, but Navarre had the best of him and won eleverly by a length. Domino was beater of statem 2-year-olds to run for the stretch Henry of Navarre had the bast of a second behind Tristan's great record. The Matron stakes brought out the large field of sisteen 2-year-olds to run for the store of the betting there was liftator, hough at the end the former had a shade the better in the books. In the last fairong Agitator came cut with a rush and won well in hand. Then came the Mauhatan handi-cap, in which Sir Excess got away first and stayed in the position to the end. Cash Day Saves His Backeg, and threen of the Massachusetts men was concluded at 4:30 p. m. The magnificent bowling of the Englishmen enabled them to easily overcome the home team. The visitors had little pretense of covering the outfield. On the other hand, the fielding of the Massachusetts was sharp and clean and run-setting from heavy batting was kept down. The score at the end of the first in-ming was 176 to 53 in favor of the English-men.
