HAS NO CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Democratic Congressional Committee at Washington in Needy Circumstances.

NOT ABLE TO PAY ITS OFFICE RENT

Benator Faulkner Compelled to Use His Private Purse to Keep the Committee Room Open-Office Holders Will Not Contribute.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 1407 F Street. N. W. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.

The democratic congressional committee In this city would have been obliged to close its doors today but for the fact that Senator Faulkner of West Virginia, the chairman of the committee, has been able to raise sufficlimit money to pay rent for one more month, the principal part of the small sum required coming out of his own pocket. Senator Faulkner says that it is almost impossible o secure money from men who have hereofore contributed freely to the democratic Campaign funds, and he announces that fedbral office holders positively decline to give any money for the benefit of their party. Some of the democrats who are employed by the democratic officials of the senate and house at the capitol building have paid their Resemments, but officials in the executive departments decline to contribute. Chairman Wilson of West Virginia, author of the briginal free trade bill, has been expecting considerable financial help from the congres-blonal committee, because Senator Faulkner of his state is chairman of that committee. The failure of the committee to raise funds will be a source of bitter disappointment to Mr. Wilson, who has recently returned from his London banquet and entered upon b campaign for re-election.

livil Service Commissioner Roosevelt says: P'The civil service commission is having con-Biderable trouble over this matter of political assessments. I do not recall any non-presidential election year in which we have had half so much trouble. The attorney general has remiered a decision to the effect that existing law does not prohibit the collection of funds for political purposes from civil Bervice cierks. In my judgment, the law fully covers such cases, and protects the clerks. The attorney general is a democrat, however, and his decision seems to me to be contrary to law. I have tried to get the attorney general to bring a test case before the bourts, but he will not do so. The matter shall be laid before congress, but by that lime the campaign will be over. "During the past month we have had two decisions favorable to our position-one in Ohio and the other in Kentucky-and both of the offenders have been heavily fined. If by the offenders have been heavily mich. If we get at the offenders we will have them bunkshed as rigorously as possible. I want to say that no man in office, whether demo-frat or republican, is under any obligation to contribute to a campaign fund and cannot be molested in any way by his superior offi-cers for refusing. This assessment business is mere blackmail, and we intend to make a war on it in every way possible. We in-tend to conduct a complete investigation of these cases."

There cases." There are a number of offices where new Complaints of assessments have been made and these will be investigated by agents of the commissioners.
