In health, wealth, happiness, all in trouble, despair, or doubt, will find positive relief and assurance of incalculable benefit by consulting the most celebrated clair-to-yant the United States ever knew. The professor possesses powers of marvelous character, unsurpassed by any so-called medium or future reader. His success in the past proves his vast ability to help you now. Interview him and you will say he is the greatest wonder of the age. The professor challenges the world to prove his equal in the great powers which he possesses to carry out all he promises. He overcomes your enemies, tennoves family troubles, restores lost affections, causes happy marriage with the one you love, removes evil influence, had habits, gives correct information on law suits, divorces, lost friends, etc. Valuable advice given to ladies and gentlemon on love, courtship, marriage and how to choose a wife or husband for future happiness; what business best adapted to speedy riches; tells if the one you love is true or false; stock speculations a speciality. The professor does not require to return to such methods as Egyptian charms and other frivolities, He is no fortune teller, but a life reader from the laws of science, that is, clair-to-yancy, and those who have been humburged by pretenders the professor wishes them to call before giving up in despair, as he guarantees prompt benefit. Correspondence strictly confidential. Send stamp for renty. Remember the number, 2215 N. 15th street, Flat A. 5 to 8, Sundays included.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

THE SHERMAN LETTERS-Edited by Rachel Sherman Thorndike. Cloth, 398 pages, 13. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York. From Megeath Stationery Company, Omaha.

The letters are the correspondence between General and Senator Sherman during a period sovering more than half a century, from IMPORTANT SUPREME COURT DECISION 1837 to 1891. There is something very unique n the open candor and confidential manner which the brothers unbosom their minds n these letters that gives additional relish to the account. The peculiar value of these epistles is not only in their character as a species of memoir of the writers, but in the relation they bear to history, in which both writers were prominently identified, making history, as they wrote it, and discussing affairs before the event rather than after thems had transport to was handed down overruling the decision the event, rather than after these had transthe event, rather than after these had trans-pired. Particularly interesting are the ante-bellum views of slavery and its danger to the authority of the county treasurer to sell south, and on the question of building a road to the California coast—at first only conidering a wagon road, and later a railroad, the latter being first viewed as too stu-pendous an undertaking and one of too doubt-before Judge Ambrose in the form of an ful a nature as to the outcome. Since Judge Am-brose rendered his decision last February the payment of special taxes into the city treasury has decreased, in eight months, at least $150,000, and there is now due about $200,000 on 14,000 separate descriptions. the district court there had been much dis-cussion of the question as stated above: The exigency was pressing. The city had issued large blocks of bonds to pay for paving, sowera, sidewalks, grading, etc. These bonds had been sold and were falling due. The cost of the improvements had been assess bonds were not paid. Finally Frank Ransom, acting for himself as well as the city of Omaha, applied to City Treasurer Bolin to purchase a piece of property upon which the special assessments were delinquent and unpaid. He tendered the amount of the taxes erty. In order to bring the matter to an issue the city treasurer declined the offer and Mr. Ransom applied to Judge Ambrose for a writ of mandamus compelling the city treas-uer to receive the money and issue the title. Judge Ambrese handed down a lengthy and taining medium of instruction. The style of the book is first class, just as its literary material, and there is no doubt that it will claborate opinion, in which he decided that the city treasurer could not sell the property upon which the sp clai assessments were desupreme court.
