CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Quarrelsome Discussion Relating to the Sherman Avenue Paving Matter.

MOTIVES PRCM SCUOUSLY IMPUGNED

Resolution Passed Ordering Board of Public Works to Award Contract to Hugh Murphy-Opinions of City Attorney and Engineer.

The city council adjourned just as the incandescent lights were beginning to grow dim last night, and after one of the most stormy and exciting meetings of the year. The Sherman avenue paving controversy was The Sherman avenue paving controversy was only way to do this was not to insist upor the star event on the card, and after over any particular kind of asphalt, but to be two hours of rancorous debate a resolution

It will be remembered that when the bids Mr. Murphy's bid was found to be surprisingly lower than had ever been submitted on asphalt paving. A majority of the board rejected all bids on the ground that the sort of asphalt was not designated.

At the next meeting of the council a resolution was passed directing the board to submit the bids, with its reasons for the rejec-tion, and also calling on the city engineer and the city attorney to submit their written opinions on the matter in question.

The contract amounts to something like $80,000, and since the action of the board there has been a general hustle on the part of the contractors interested. The council chamber was filled with spectators last evening, most of whom were attracted by the prospect of a display of oratorical pyrotechnics on the subject. And they were not disappointed. After the mayor's appointments of election boards had been acted on the communications on the Sherman avenue deal bers were impugned with a liberality unusual of in the council. It was freely stated that certeresting.

for the rejection of the bids was reiterated.

It was that all the bids save one were informal and deficient in complying with the debate Burkley called for the previous quesforms of proposal, which were described in tion. The motion to refer was lost and the detail, Mr. Winspear underscoring the line resolution was adopted by the following vote "the board reserving the right to reject any or all bids," which appears in many of the clauses. He cited the charter provision making it the duty of the board to make contracts on behalf of the city and insisted that power to make contracts, the jurisdiction of the mayor and city council being limited to the approval of or the nonconcurrence in an

But, he said, the board did not wish to stand alone on the ground, saying that there were other and more potent reasons why the bids were rejected. Experience taught that could not be too zealous in protecting the taxpayers, who were "too frequently the sufferers by reason of the shrewdness of a contractor." He then discussed all the bids and said the board rejected Hugh Murphy's bid because it was clearly conditional and totally nullified the right of the property owners by reserving to himself the right to use asphaltum from any of three sources.

with any contractor or any other person for the purpose of aiding a contractor to perpetrate a fraud on the taxpayers. There is no reason for haste in this matter. No paving can be done in this district until next spring. hence there is plenty of time in which to let the contract, and so soon as the mayor and city council pass the final ordinance bids by Wheeler amending the existing ordinance will be called for, when each aspiring con-tractor will have an equal opportunity to be the inspector of weights and measures a salthe lowest bidder on the material designated and have the contract awarded." CITY ENGINEER'S CRITICISMS.

City Engineer Resewater, in his opinion, stood for the validity of the Murphy bid, showing that though under it the work could be done at an expense $7,287.78 below what it would be under the highest bid, the Board of Public Works failed to take action for four days under the pretense of giving prop-erty owners time to designate material, "a delay," said the engineer, "clearly in con-formity with the expressed wish of the higher bidder and in violation of good faith and the spirit of the advertisement as outlined and sustained by a supreme court decision." Referring to the reason assigned by the board, Mr. Rosewater further said: "The exclusive and frequent meetings of the board in a private chamber to consider the features of the bid and course to be pursued. In place of the former practice of discussing such matters in open meetings, is alone calculated to arouse public suspicion upon its action in a caso of this kind." He complained that the board had not asked for his opinion on any doubtful features in the volved, calling attention to the clause in the his opinion on any doubtful features in-volved, calling attention to the clause in the board's notice to bidders which reads: "If after proposals are delivered to the Board of Public Works any difference of opinion shall arise as to the intent or meaning of any part of the specifications the decisics of the star of the specifications the decision of the city engineer shall be final and conclusive and binding on all parties."

In spite of this he says that summary action was taken on a mere pretense. Mr. Rosewater declared that the bid was in all respects good. He concluded by saying: "I cannot therefore but deplore the extraordi-nary action of the board, even if the higher bidders should hereafter help it out of the dilemma by lowering their prices, as it tends to discourage and subvert honest competition and destroy confidence in the good faith of public officials in this city,"

CITY ATTORNEY'S OPINION. City Attorney Connell, in his opinion in writing, said that the bid of Hugh Murphy was the lowest and should have been ac-cepted. Referring to the fact that the bidder named three different sources, from any one of which he reserved the right to get the material, the city attorney stated that the Board of Public Works had not claimed that any of the three kinds of asphaltum mentioned by Murphy did not come up to the standard required by the specifications, and that as this was so there could be no objection to the contractor's reserving the right to use any of the three. Mr. Connell did not believe that the fact that the bids were received prior to the designation of material by property owners was sufficient reason for rejection, having, as he said, always that it would be in accordance both with law and business principles to pass upon bids before such designation in order to give property owners desired information as to cost of different materials before they determined upon the kind to be used. sted a supreme court ruling in support of

COMPULSION PROPOSED.

After the communications had been disposed of President Howell offered a resolution which, in substance, instructed the Board of Public Works to award the contract to Hugh Murphy as the lowest bidder. He took the ground that the council had a legal right to direct the board to award the contract and said that he was tired of having the tail was the dog. He moved the adoption of the resolution and Saunders effered the amendment that it be referred, together with the communications on the subject.

Wheeler declared that it was useless to try and buildoze the council into doing what it had no right to de. They were proposing to his b'd the cost would have to be paid out of the general fund, as the city could not levy a cent of tax against the abutting property. Some of the contractors had evidently inserted their spurs in certain members of the council and were forcing them to comman act that had no warrant in law.

SAUNDERS DEPRECATES HASTE.

Saunders expressed surprise that the immediate passage of such a resolution should be insisted on when all of the communications on the subject had been referred. There was no justice in trying to force the matter through the council before the mem-bers had time to examine the communications submitted and inform themselves as to the facts. He also doubted whether the council had the power to command the Board of Public Works to enter into a contract of that

As long as fications. there could be no competition and all the were opened by the Board of Public Works chicanery that has characterized the asphalt paving in Cmaha would be continued. He considered the action of the board as an out rage on the public and he had so informed the mayor and the chairman of the board. This was the first time in the history of the city that a contractor had tried to hide his petition from the city engineer and had filed t in the office of the city clerk sealed so that its contents could not be known until it came before the council. But some members

It was freely stated that certain members were owned by the contractors action of the board would be sustained in and personalities were flung about to an ex-tent that rendered the discussion highly in-made every effort to induce the secretary teresting.

WINSPEAR TELLS WHY.

Chairman Winspear responded to Mr.
Bechel's resolution for the Board of Public Works in a lengthy communication. He declared it was the aim of the members to act at all times fearlessly and impartially and in the interests of the taxpayers. The reason for the rejection of the bids was referred.

Mr. Morrissey came to Omaha in 1885 from St. Paul and took editorial charge of the Herald for Dr. George L. Miller, who then owned the paper. When John A. McShane bought the Herald, Mr. Morrissey was given he position of managing editor. He took a prominent part in democratic politics. When James E. Boyd was elected governor in 1890 Mr. Morrissey was appointed as his private secretary, and had much to do with the political appointments of the governor. He was a prominent member of the Samoset club, and when Omaha had a press club he was one of the active members and worked for the advancement of the newspaper men in general. Some time ago Mr. Morrissey became afflicted with consumption and he sought to improve his condition by traveling in the west. His condition did not improve and he went to the eastern seaside resorts, but he finsfly gave up and returned to Omaha with the knowledge that his death was only a question of time. He again filled his position he had formerly been employed, but he labored under the greatest difficulties. He wasted away to a mere skeleton and the friends who knew him when he was a vigorous man had difficulty in recognizing him as they passed him on the streets. TO FORECAST AN ELECT

Is an easy task. The man with a character as pure as the "lily of the valley," who is ready to sacrifice his individual interests for that of his state, who loves and respects his fellow-men better than himself, and who's ideas are ever in consistency with all cranky notions, will always be some votes short after the election. The other fellow, with less angelic qualifications, is usually the choice of common sense. So it is in society, so in business. The clothier who slashes and smashes and gives goods away in order to be a good fellow, is to be fought shy like a Jersey mosquito. The Nebraska gives nothing away, neither do we take anything for nothing. We'll try our utmost to protect your dollar and give you all we can for it. This season we can give you more for your money than ever before, and we do it cheerfully, without much ado, and superfluous newspaper display. A suit you formerly paid us $7.50 for was always worth $10.00 in any store. This season we'll take but FIVE DOLLARS and give you choice of two respectable, all wool cheviot suits, well made, good linings and honestly finished -- one of dark blue, the other of dark gray effect -- both of a neat

A true black cheviot all wool suit is worth $15 00, so is an all wool cassimere, but we'll furnish either this year at EIGHT SEVENTY-FIVE, although they were cheap last year at $11,50, common sense buyers bought it for that price at a bargain. Our black cheviots are double breasted serge lined, elegantly trimmed, and the cassimere ones are single breasted, pin checked, or brown and gray mixtures, Italian lined.
