On the printed ballots which have just been bedered printed by the county clerk the ordered printed by the county clerk t name of Judge Holcomb appears like this: Sifas A. Holcomb, Democrat-People's Independent.

In going into court Mr. Shoemaker contends that this is not the correct way in which to designate Judge Holcomb as the candidate of the two parties which nominated him in their respective conventions.

Mr. Shoemaker contends that when the People's Independent. Mr. Shoemaker contends that should the name of the judge appear as being designated as both an independent and democrat there are men in each party who would not cast their votes for him, while if he was their votes for him, while if he was designated as the nominee of both parties and there was a line where party preference could be expressed he would be the favorite with all of the paperles and the reverse the state. with all of the people's party people and also

Mr. Greene urged that the county clerk was without authority to designate the party principles of any candidate for other. without authority to designate the party principles of any candidate for office, as he was compelled to act solely upon the information which he obtained by the certificates of nomination. He insisted that this was a case with which the court had nothing to do as the power of the court was to constitue the law and not act in the capacity of a lawmaker. Two or three days ago Mr. Greene admitted that he had advised with the county clerk and had given him some politics of the candidates should be designated. Charged with Burglary.

Yesterday Detectives Savage and Dempey arrested James Mallory for the larceny of fifteen bales of hay from the stable of Thomas L. Kimball, 1503 Park Wilde avenue. Some two months ago Mallory was caught in the act of stealing hay from Mr. Kimball's barn. He pleaded so hard with Mr. Kimball that he was allowed to go. Tuesday night the same barn was robbed again. The may was found in Mallory's barn and he was arrested for burglary.

Brickiayers Support the Canal. The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Bricklayer's union of Omaha; Resolved. That we, the members of the Bricklayers' union, in meeting assembled, hereby declare ourselves that we will give our utmost support to carry the canal bond proposition at the next election, as we think that the building of the canal will
