MRS. HERMANN FUT ON THE STAND

ney Goff.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.-Today's sensation in connection with the Lexow investigation was the appearance of Mrs. Hermann on the stand. This was not sensational on account of the testimony, for the witness was excused immediately after saying she appeared of her. her own free will, but because of the intrigue indulged in by the representatives of the committee to secure Mrs. Hermann's preshis charges of perjury against Mrs. Hermann in Jersey City she was discharged, and representatives of the Lexow committee asked her if she desired to return to New York and testify voluntarily. She replied that she did and was taken to the ferry in a carriage. There an officer appeared and joined the party, armed with a warrant, charging Mrs. Hermann with criminal contempt of court, which was only to be served in case she changed her mind. Senator Daly, the witness' counsel, knew nothing of her departure from the jail, and said an hour before she left that she would never appear before the committee. Early in the day Commissioner Sheehan was excused, with the understanding that he should appear before the committee when summoned, but that he would not be called upon this week.

Tammany Leader John W. Boyle, who was placed on the stand yesterday, was the first witness called. Mr. Goff wished to bring out that on his recommendation many had been appointed on the police force. Goff asked him if he had found out who issued the circulars to which his (Boyle's) name was attached asking for the names of people un-How many men have you recommended

Mr. Goff then read off a list of nineteen men whom the witness had recommended. After reading each name Mr. Goff would remark: "Is that the limit?" Mr. Goff said that John C. Sheehan had

John D. Smith, editor of the Wine and

An adjournment for recess was about to be announced when Lawyer Grant grose and said he wished to offer a sworn affidavit from Sergeant Townsend that he had paid $6,000 to Sheehan to get appointed. The chairman would not allow it to go on record.

Detective Dennet was called to the stand when the Lexow committee reconvened after this afternoon. He testified he had tried today to subpoens the notorious Mme. Charles, but was told she was absent from George Mitchell, a former salesman for the Hollywood Whisky company, denied he knew certain police officials had been connected with the company and that he had reminded saloon keepers of the fact when he Then Mr. Goff held a lengthy whispered consultation with the committee and it was decided to excuse Mrs. Hermann for the day. She was placed for the night in custody of the sergeant-at-arms.

Edgar M. Tomlinson, formerly chief in-spector of the excise department, was called to the stand. He was shown the excise rec-ord and asked to read the record for the Maison Tortoni at Lexington avenue and Thirty-first street. The application was re-jected in October, 1877.

"Was there another application made?"
"Yes, sir; by A. L. Lewis."
The witness identified an application made by Joseph Lambert for the same purpose. It was rejected. A bill of sale from Mme. Charles to Joseph Lambert was then pro-

Her husband went into the commissioner's room.
"I stood outside," said the woman, "but through the door I saw Commissioner Andrews. When my husband came out he said the $500 was gone, and he said the license would be granted."

Mr. Tomlinsen again took the stand and caused a sensation by saying he went to Andrews' room and gave him $500.

"Yes;" then the witness straightened up in the chair and looked squarely at Mr. Goff and said: "I have told the truth. I am now in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph company, and have been for thirty years, on and off. I am one of the crew escaped are the very slightest.

The Evening Post today says it has indis putable evidence that during the course of the present investigation Mr. Goff was waited on by a person who offered him $10,-000 as a fee for examination of the title to a piece of real estate which was worth less than $5,000, on condition that he (Goff) would not call as a witness a certain tain of police or mention the name of said captain. Conductor Saw Them at Every Turn and Could Not Get Away from Them, Yet No One Got a Sight of Their Faces.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 1.-Passenger rain No. 3 of the Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham railroad was held up at 1 o'clock this morning a few miles east of New Albany, Miss., by three robbers and the express carlooted of its contents.

Conductor W. B. Leonard, who was in charge of the train, got into Birmingham at 6 o'clock this merning, and from him the facts were learned. He said: "My train wards discovered, three masked men had boarded the tender of the engine at New Albany, and, covering Engineer Campbell and Fireman Alexander with pistols, compelled gage car. I went to the side door and opened it only to be greeted with several pistol shots from one of the robbers. I shoved the door shut, but turning around I saw two of the robbers already in the baggage car with pistols covering me. The engineer and firemar were made to dismount and an unsuccessful attempt was made to uncouple the engine. Express Messenger Jeannette's car was forced open, the robbers covering me with pistols all the time, and we were forced to give up the contents of the safe. Putting the body in a bag, the robbers backed off into the woods with their pistols still pointed at us and disappeared in the darkness.
"We did not see their faces at any time.

Officers of the Southern Express company sive it out that only a lot of cheap jew-iry and vouchers constituted the robbers' booly. It is suspected, however, that the express empany is lying low on this subject for their own reasons. The general belief is that the robbers were amateurs, although they did things up in shape. There is not the slightest claw to their identity.

M. C. A. Evening Classes. George B. Hodges, secretary of the educational department of the Young Men's Christian association of North America, is at the Omaha association rooms this week with an exhibit of the work of the classes in some of the eastern cities. The department within the past two or three years has gradually been developing a course of evening instruction that includes within its scope some-thing more than the studies in the ordinary English branches. It is the aim of the asociation to extend the work so as to in-lude instruction in sociological, industrial and scientific branches

Starting with this idea in view, a few years ago the department organized classes in several associations in free hand, me-chanical and architectural drawing and industrial designing, leading toward such technical lines as machine construction, boiler making, carriage draughting, wood and metal working, civil, mechanical, architectural and electrical engineering, etc. Classes in these branches have been established in Springfield and Dayton, O.; Brooklyn, N. Y.; Hartford, Conn.; New York City and Chicago. The work is all done in evening classes, the ages of the pupils averaging 23 A large percentage of the scienyears. tific classes is made up of clerks, showing that the natural tendency of the young men of the country is to seek an entrance into the more practical as well as more profitable vocations of life. Mr. Hodges is seeking to interest the Omaha association in the work, and it is probable that classes in some of the branches of the scientific course will be formed at once. The work of the classes in other associations is shown in detail. Those who may believe that such form of instruction must necessarily be of a superficial character should go to the Young Men's Christian association rooms and be convinced to the contrary. The associations in other cities employ able instruct-ors, generally selecting them from the fac-tories near at hand. Thus the instructor in machine construction will be the foreman of an establishment where machinery is con-

Mary McKenna was an old lady who died in this city some two years ago, leaving all her property, something like $15,000 in value, to the Benson orphanage and St. Joseph's hospital. Soon after the will was filed for probate, Attorney Baldwin appeared before the probate court, which at that time was presided over by J. W. Eller, and alleged that the document was secured by undue influence and that the woman was not of sound mind when she bequeathed her proppulled out of New Albany about 1 o'clock who resided in reland, all of whom chaimed this morning. The amendment contemplated by th's resolution would operate to again make the board a political organization. It was a strange idea, in his opinion, that the governor of the state should have to consult the city council of Omaha in making his appointments. The regular business was not taken up, the remainder of the evening being devoted to a general discussion of the work already accom-plished, for the information of the visitors. Major Wheeler gave a detailed explanation of the plan of assessment proposed by the committee, and explained at length abuses which it was designed to abolish.

The question of the best method by which o secure legislation which would enable the city to compel the railroads to pay their legitimate proportion of the cost of fire and police protection and other advantages with which the city was compelled to provide them was discussed. It was the unanimous sentiment of the committee that some action in this direction would be advisable, and the matter was referred to Mr. Connell's committee to report at a future meeting.

O'COATS.

More from force of habit than from any other cause, we speak of overcoats on a chilly and drizzling day. However, it might prove interesting to you. There are more buyers this year in search of bargains than ever known from the days of the Pilgrims down.

The Nebraska approves of this. Buy cheaply but be sure it is cheap. To know where to buy is an important item. Scan all newspapers, clip all miraculous incidents of purchasers or other wonderful tales of daring advantages required to secure a dozen or so overcoats, and of some hairbreadth escapes some experienced while making a daring plunge of an offer for a whole manufacturer-some 17 overcoats in all. -Go by all means and investigate-examine prices and quality-a most eloquent salesman-will, no doubt, help you to get the best of the bargain.

When you are through, give us your time for a minute; come in to the ever humble Nebraska. We hav'nt any moquette carpets, plate mirrors, neither eloquent and persuading salesmen, but honest overcoats to be sold honestly, and loads of 'em to select from. We don't handle any socalled half price goods, but we can furnish you an overcoat for TWO SEVENTY-FIVE of good chinchilla, Italian lined, warm and durable, that'll cost you $5.00 anywhere. A long, deep collar Melton Ulster, wool lined in two shades at FOUR DOLLARS for which other stores charge at least $7.00.

Here are other coats and ulsters finer, finer still and the finest to be had. Can't possibly dream of a style or sort you can't get here at a good healthy saving on each one. From $2.00 up to $10,00 is what you save here. If we misrepresent this, come and get your money backyou're welcome.
