Omaha won the toss and took the west goal, which gave Lincoln the ball. Lincoln kicked forty yards and scon got the ball on fumble, when she made three and two yards on mass plays in center, and then Gregg took the ball with good interference for twenty-five yards before he was brought to the earth by Whipple. They try the center for seven yards, when Gregg again circles the right end for fifteen yards and is stopped by one of Gardner's beautiful tackles. Here Lincoln is given half the distance to the Omaha High school goal for a foul, when they try three times—twice in the center and once on right end—without getting the pigskin over, and Omaha gets the ball within one foot of her goal. They plunge the center until it is safely away from the goal, when Gardner tries to kick, but the ball is well blocked by Burr, who falls on the ball and carries it across for the first touchdown, from which goal is kicked in twelve minutes.

The ball is lost to Lincoln on a fumble, but Omaha's hopes rise a few minutes later when they force Lincoln to make safety, making the score 6-2. Ball goes to the twenty-five yard line, is kicked thirty yards and fumbled by Gardner. Tukey advances it eight yards and Clarke here begins to get in his work by running from his end position around the other end for twenty-five yards, which he repeats the next play for twenty yards. Lincoln gets the ball on a fumble and Cook makes ten yards, tackled by Gardner. Lincoln gets five yards for offside play by Clarke, and after three tries the ball goes over on downs. Clarke goes around the end for fifteen, Ayres for five and Tukey for three, when Clarke goes around the end with good laterference by Gardner and Burdick for touchdown, from which Gardner kicks g.al. Seere: Omaha, 8; Lincoln, 6. Omaha kicks the ball forty yards, which out the country. The humor of the play is said to be so bright and the complications so amusing that one can go and see it a dozen times without losing interest. The company is an excellent one and includes: Thomas M. Reynolds, Hugo R. E. F. Ferry, Helen Singer, Adelle Nott, Maud Bartelle and Mamie Johnstone. Sev-eral box parties are being formed, and the LINCOLN'S LAST SCORE. Lincoln's Last score.

Lincoln kicks forty yards and is carried back by Whipple fifteen. Cowgill makes five through tackle, when they work a criss-cross from Gardner to Clarke for fifteen yards. Ayres makes twenty around the other end, when Omaha fails to gain, and the ball goes over to Lincoln on downs. Here begins a series of hard plunges and around the end plays, which end in a touchdown for Lincoln, from which goal was kicked, after which time was called on account of darkness.

The game was won by Omaha by superior team work, as the teams were evenly nue and Seventh street, Rev. Stephen

The game was won by Omaha by superior team work, as the teams were evenly matched as to weight, Lincoln men as a rule being taller, while Omaha men were shorter and stockler. For Lincoln the best game was played by Cook and Gregg, while Gardner, Clarke and Burdick carried off the honors for Omaha.

The Omaha line men did not get in the plays as they should and seemed to think that they were there simply to shove against their opponents. The Omaha boys have a just complaint to make against their treatment, as a crowd of the smaller boys threw stones at the bus as they were leaving the grounds, and a gentlemanly sub named Scott threw a bucket of water on the occupants of the 'bus.

pened its season in Iowa City today, Iowa defeating Kansas by a score of 14 to 12 The teams were very evenly matched, and the contest was exceedingly close and exciting, Iowa kicking her last goal within three minutes of the close of the game. The features of the game were Collins' fine line smashes, each gaining from five to twelve yards for Iowa, and his long run of seventy-five yards. Captain Sawyer, quarter back, was sick in bed, and Manager Bremner successfully acted in his stead. Kansas' tackling was superb, and Shellenbarger's line and end runs were exceptionally fine. For Kansas, Platt missed two easy goals and Hestor one. The excitement at the close of the game was intense.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 3.—The Western Interstate Collegiate Foot Ball association opened its champlonship season here this afternoon before 3,000 enthusiasts. Chronic Diseases Are Now Cured Much More Speedily Than Was Formerly Possible, But the thange From Siexness to Health Cannot Be Wrought in a Day.

So many people of weight and name in Omaha have been coming forward and tes-tifying to their prompt and lasting cure of sacted and distresing chronic maladie through the skill of Drs. Copeland & Shep ard that less thoughtful persons have cor ceived the idea that the cure of chronic disease is merely a matter of a few days' time, like that of repairing a brig that has ost a mast or mending a wagon that has lost a wheel. It is a deplorable absurdity and error. Nature herself requires a little time for all great results.

To produce a red apple requires the nursing of a summer, but you can produce a soap bubble in a second or two that will look like a globe of heavenly hues just floated out of a rainbow. But the apple is something solid and useful, as well as something lovely in color, while a soap bubble isn't a reality at all, but only an evanescent appearance and an illusion. And so in nature and in human life, all things solid and enduring require time for their creation or accomplishment.

Now, of all the realities of human existence, the one perfect and all-colden reality. To produce a red apple requires the nurs

Now, of all the realities of human existence, the one perfect and all-golden reality is that of perfect bodily health. What are houses and lots to a man who has cancer of the liver? What is the wide world and all its fading sweets to one who has catarrh of the stomach? What are pleasures and palaces to the consumptive with the hem-lock cold upon his body and the shroud about his feet?

Drs. Copeland & Shepard have repeatedly insisted, and feel that they cannot too often or too earnestly insist, that human health must be guarded as the most preclous of the blessings of humanity, but that once completely undermined by the slow insidious poisons or slow destructive operations of discompletely undermined by the slow insidious poisons or slow destructive operations of discase, it cannot be restored in a day—that nothing but weeks of patient effort on the part of the physician, and of patient obedience to direction on the part of the invalidacin ever result in so great and wondrous a change as that from the gloom, the sorrow, the suffering and despair of chronic sickness to the happiness of established health.

G. H. BARTHEL, DeWitt, Neb.

'I am sixty years old and for eight years have been suffering from catarrhal polsoning. For a long time the trouble bothered my head with the usual symptoms of obstruction and headache. I found there was no such thing as comfort and cleanliness in the head while this nasty disease was present. Working down, the ai ment iffected my stomach and bowels. To eat like other folks was out of the question. I felt no hunger and if I did eat the distress was terrible, for gas and sourness followed with severe pain and heart disturbance. After the disease got a good hold I became wakeful at night with frightful dreams and nervous worry. It seemed as if my system was reeking with poisons, for the heart, brain and stomach were all going wrong. Then when he grippe came on me all my symptoms became more violent. The expausition and suffering were so great that I knew I could not pull through without a supreme effort of medical skill in my behalf. The Copeland & Shepard treatment just fitted my case, for after a thorough diagnossis by a wenderfully arranged symptom blank I began the medicines, which did me more good than lany I had used before and I have taken many In my time. Dr. Shepard did pull me through and cured me by just that handing which my case needed, and I will do all in my power to give him credit for his splendid work." ad I will do all in my power to give redit for his splendid work."
