WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 .- Tomorrow at His total active service amounts to fortyeight years and five months, and twentyfive years and eight months of that service were spent at sea. Even during the seven years he has held the rank of rear admiral, in a time when few admirals make more Admiral Gherardi was born in Louisiana the Mohican, commanded the Chocura on the west gulf blockade, the Port Royal in the of unusual interest. They will contain a story complete in two parts, called same service in the battle of Mobile, and finally commanded the Pequot on the north Atlantic blockade at the close of hostilities. He was commissioned as commander in 1866 and captain in 1874, meanwhile seeing service in commands on the Pacific and North At-lantic. One particularly gallant action recorded of him is pursuing in a small tug and securing the destruction of a confederate ram which had succeeded in running a blockade on the Mississippi. Admiral Gher-ardi became a commodore in 1884 and an admiral in 1887. Two years later he took command of the north Atlantic station. In 1892 he cruised from San Francisco around to Hampton Roads to take part in the naval review in 1893, which was conducted under his command. This was his last sea service. for in May, 1893, he was placed in command at the New York navy yard, where he re-tires. As a result of his retirement, Admiral Greer, at present president of the lighthouse board, becomes senior admiral of the navy; Commodore Sicard becomes commandant at New York and the following promotions will follow: Commodore C. C. Carpenter, to be admiral; Captain Rush R. Wallace, to be commodore; Commander W.
C. Wise to be captain; Lieutenant Commander R. M. Berry, to be commander;
Lieutenant W. H. Everett, to be lieutenant commander; Lieutenant (junior grade) J. E. Craven, to be lieutenant, and Ensign John M. Elliott, to be lieutenant, junior grade.
