Judges Decide that in Cases of This Class Original Suits Can Be Brought in the Supreme Court.

LINCOLN, Nov. 21,-(Special.)-The supreme court today made an order in the case of the state of Nebraska against J. E. Hill et al, setting the case for trial December 11.

In the order the court says: "Ordered that rule 15 be amended to read as follows: Whenever an issue of fact is presented for trial in an original action or proceeding, a commission will be named, composed of two resident electors of the state helping fight the fire, and with his team and of different politicical affiliations, who shall buggy was surrounded. He let his horses under the direction of the court select such number of persons having the qualifications of jurors in the district court as may be hard work on the part of everybody in the designated in the order for their appointment.

A venire for the jurors so selected will be issued by the clerk, directed to the bailiff of this court, or any sheriff or sheriffs of the state, and shall be served in the manner. prescribed for the service of summons. Said commissioners before entering upon the duties of this office shall take and subscribe to the oath prescribed by section 1 of chapter 10, Compiled Statutes."

In the matter of selecting a jury to try the

Whereas there are presented in this cause issues of fact which should be tried by a jury, it is ordered that Hon. William H. Munger of Dodge county and Hon. N. V. Harlon of York county be appointed jury commissioners, and that said commissioners shall on or before the 27th day of November, 1894, select sixty persons from the body of the state having the qualifications of jurors in the district court, and report the names of the persons selected, accompanied by their certificate to the cierk, who shall immediately issue a venire requiring such persons to appear at 12 o'clock noon on the 11th day of December, 1894, and serve as jurors until the Verther, order of the court."

further order of the court."
The issues in this case involved the jurisdiction of the supreme court in the matter of a trial by jury. In the trial of the case in Douglas county is was set up by defendants that suit should have been brought in Lancaster county and in the district court. The supreme court holds that in cases of this class original suits can be brought in the supreme court, and that either side has the right to ask for a jury. The case involves $236,000 state money deposited in the Capital National bank, which sus-pended. Suit was brought against State pended. Suit was brought aga Treasurer Hill and his bondsmen. IN THE COURTS.

The Board of Transportation is now having prepared the papers for an appeal of the Newberry maximum rate bill case to the federal supreme court.

Articles of incorporation were filed today with the secretary of state of the Lillian Precinct Irrigating Ditch and Power com-pany of Custer county. The incorporators are S. H. Jewett, H. P. Gates, James Ash, A. Wallace, David McGugin, Frank Doty. Riley H. Sargent, James Dare, W. H. Russell, George Demey, Plinn Metcalf, A. J. Picketts and Affred Kellogg. The capital stock is $45,000, and the period of incor-poration ninety-nine years.

In a decision handed down today by Judge Strode it was held that the Burlington railway company and the Burlington Volunteer Relief department were two separate or-ganizations, financially and otherwise. Henry H. Moore, a Burlington employe, was killed H. Moore, a Burlington employe, was killed November 11, 1890. He was insured in the Burlington Volunteer Relief department for $500, with his mother, Charity E. Moore, as beneficiary. His mother brought suit against the railway company and recovered $900. Afterwards she sued the relief department for $500. The company put in a defense claiming that the relief department was simply a branch of the railway company. The court, in accordance with a recent decision of the supreme court, found that it was no hold of the enterprise with their accustomed vigor, and are bound to make the convention a success. Circulars will be sent out by the local committee urging all farmers in the surrounding counties to come out, as this is one of the most important questions which they can now carsider. It is hoped and expected the session of the leg slature this winter, and the benefits to be derived by the meeting will extend all over the state. It is espe-cially desired and intended that this convention will be the means of educating the farmers on the subject of irrigation more than anything else, and it is hoped that all an will avail themselves of this opportunity.

Offense Falls to Appear for Trial. OGALALLA, Neb., Nov. 21 .- (Special.)-David Cruikshank was arrested and brought here Saturday charged with an assault on his 15-year-old adopted daughter. His examination was set for Monday and pending examination the amount of bail was placed at $2,000. Crulkshank is a farmer and an old residen and has heretofore born a good reputation. He stated that the charge was trumped up He stated that the charge was trumped up by some of his neighbors on account of some school district row. He succeeded in getting three prominent business men here to sign his bond for his appearance. When the hour set for trial had come Mr. Craikshank did not show up and the bond was declared for-feited. Mrs. Craikshank says her husband left home Sunday morning on ford and circumleft home Sunday morning on foot and cisims to know nothing of his whereabouts, and that he was worrying a good deal, and fears are entertained that he has wandered away in the hills and perhaps killed himself. Without a knowledge of the particulars in the case pre-

He "The Chippewas are composed of nine distinct bands, scattered over 200 miles of territory, and some of these bands have little or no communication or relation with each other. All now wear citizens' dress and live in houses of some character. When free from whisky they are generally peaceable and easily managed, but aside from living in houses and wearing clothes I cannot see wherein the full bloods have made much advancement. They are constitutionally op-posed to work and refuse to do it, and it is simply a question whether the government will furnish them with supplies or allow them and their families to half starve.

"During the long years of residence of this tribe in this section of the country a great many whites have settled among them and married Indian women, and their offspring now comprise a large portion of the population, and especially is this true of the White Earth reservation. They were received by Private Secretary Thurber. Mr. Lawler presented to Secretary Thurber the resolutions of the last encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, accompanied by a statement of the cases of old soldiers who had been reduced and those who, it is claimed, have been discriminated against in other ways. General received at the Department of Agriculture Lawler declined to make the statement public, but said it was a conservative presenta-tion of the case, based upon facts, and don announced that the English officials thought they had discovered a case of pleuro-pneumonia in one of the cattle re-cently shipped on the Maryland. It was ascertained that the animal came from couched in moderate and respectful terms. The organization had no political ends to ascertained that the animal came from Kentucky and an inspector was ordered to Kentucky to examine the herd. Speaking of the matter, Mr. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, said: "We will be greatly surprised if this is proven to be a case of pleuro-pneumonia. There has been no pleuro-pneumonia in this country for eighteen years. All cattle shipped, particularly at this time of the year, are subject to exposure at sea, and they frequently contract pneumonia during the voyage. Pneumonia is not at all dangerous. Doubtless this will turn out to be a case of that sort. serve and no desire to do injustice to the administration, he said, but felt the facts bearing upon the treatment of old soldiers in the government service should be known to President Cleveland, so any action he see fit to take should be taken with full knowledge of the matter. The forenoon session was of a somewhat informal character, but at the afternoon meeting the club room at the Mercer was filled with those who had gathered to assist n the formation of the new organization and to listen to the discussion of the papers. The most notable discussion of oon came upon the papers presented by Drs. A. H. Dorris and B. F. Bailey of Lin coln. Dr. Dorris read an exceedingly well prepared paper on "Antitoxine Treatment of Diphtheria," and Dr. Bailey followed him with one upon "Homeopathy and Bacteriol-WIDE DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

The two papers were naturally discussed egether. In his paper Dr. Dorris related the occases of the antitoxine treatment for liphtheria as practiced in the leading hosles. Dr. Dorris left the unmistakable impression upon the minds of his hearers that he was earnestly investigating the effects of the new treatment with a view to adopting it in his own practice in the event of his ing satisfied that it was all that the enthusiasts in the medical world claim for His position was warmly combatted by or. Menninger of Topeka, who briefly referred to the former enthusiasm of the medical world over the so-called discoveries of listerism, the Burchard inflation method, the Brown-Sequard elixir of life, Pasteurism, and Koch's lymph for the cure of consumption. He called them all medical fade and medical failures, and he predicted that the anti-toxine treatment would but emulate the his-tory of of the other failures. He would refuse to countenance any treatment or cure that did not come within the scope of the Hahnnemann school, that did not come under the laws of "similia similibus curantur. was all right to investigate these subjects from a purely scientific standpoint, but in the treatment of disease homeopathic physicans must rely upon the laws of similia, which, he asserted, were as eternal as the skies. Dr. Holmes expressed himself unfavorably to the antitoxine treatment. He claimed that by their haste in adopting the new treatment the physicians of the old school confessed that they had learned nothing in 2,500 years. Dr. Montgomery asserted that in the treat-ment of diphtheria the physicians of the old achool had never been able to reduce their

MISSOURI VALLEY HOMEOPS percentage of mortality down to a level with the physicians of the homeopathic faith. He looked upon antitoxine as a fad that would in due time prove a failure. BAILEY IS ITS FRIEND.

Dr. Bailey came to the rescue friend. Dr. Dorris, and, while not entirely endorsing antitoxine, gave his reasons why he looked upon it with some favor. He appealed to the members of the association to be honest with each other. He asserted that it was humiliating, but nevertheless true, that some of the claims made for homeo-pathy by its enthusiastic followers were not founded on truth on truth. For instance, he claimed that the frequent boast that homeopathy had an immense advantage over the old school in the treatment of typhoid fever and diphtheria was not founded upon the facts. According the report of the statistician of the American Homeopathic institute, the ho pathic school was very little in advance of the association was organized at the Mercer old schools. Homeopaths, he declared, were hotel yesterday, some twenty-six physicians figures presented by men of their own faith. of that school being present from cities up He admitted that he endeavored to procure use, but had failed because the supply had become exhausted in this country and several months must elapse before another supply could be secured.

Two papers on vaccination were read, the first by Freda M. Lankton on "Shall We Vac-cinate? If Not. Why Not?" Dr. Lankton spoke strongly against vaccination, espe cially compulsory vaccination. She quoted many statistics to prove that vaccination was not a preventive of the disease of smallpox. The well known statistics from the French army records were brought out, showing tha in the Franco-Prussian war 23,469 cases of smallpox were developed in the French army every one of which had been vaccinated, and many of them revaccinated. She cited in-stances in which the most loathsome diseases had been transmitted by arm to arm vac consumption could be traced directly to vacination. There is today, she asserted, a wide spread doubt as to the efficacy of cination.

JUST THE OPPOSITE VIEW. The other paper on vaccination was read by Dr. Quinby of this city, and he took jus as strong grounds in favor of vaccinatio as strong grounds in layer of the Mrs. Lankton did in opposition. Dr. Quinby strongly favored compulsory vaccination. quoted from medical records to prove that while under voluntary vaccination the aver age number of deaths from smallpox was nineteen out of every 1,000 cases, under com-pulsory vaccination the number of deaths had been reduced to six. Only by thorough vaccination, he contended, could an epidemic of smallpox be mitigated. Dr. Hanchett of Omaha discussed both years ago, he said, he had no doubts in his own mind as to the efficacy of vaccination. Now he hesitates before the uses the land pitals of Europe. While he did not endorse for the purpose of vaccination. With him the newly discovered treatment which has created so much comment in medical cirof the virus, and unless he could satisfy him-self as to the absolute purity of the virus he declined to resort to vaccination. At the evening session the organization of the new society was perfected by the election of the following officers: President, Foote of Omaha; vice president, F. H. Hud-son of Kansasa City; secretary, W. H. Humphrey of Plattsmouth; treasurer, C. F. Menninger of Topeka; censors, O. H. Dorrh of Lincoln, H. P. Holmes of Omaha, and P J.
