PROGRESS TOWARD BETTER SOCIAL ORDER

Dr. Butler Suggests that the People Have No Reason to Be Lacking in Thanksgiving Spirit-Life Shown to Be More Than Food.

Before the week is over Dr. Butler of the St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church will have preached at least two Thanksgiving sermons, for he will deliver the discourse at the union service of his own church, Westminster Presbyterian, the Beth Eden Baptist and the Hanscom Park Methodist churches on Thanksgiving day, and his sermon yesterday morning was on the theme that

Taking as his text the words, "Is not the life more than food?" he declared that while the year had been one of business depression and of crop failure, yet it had witnessed a marked advance in moral sentiment of the people. Two clouds that for ten years had hung threateningly over the country had been scattered, leaving the nation safe-the cloud of erganized capital and the cloud of organized labor. One had been bullying legislatures with buillon and the other had put law and order in jeopardy through strikes. The peo-ple had shown their disgust for both Have-meyerism and Debsism, and Mr. Debs had learned by the terrible experiment at Chicago that strikes were impracticable and had vowed that he never would advise another. Neither the silver hairs nor the silver tongue nor the brilliant record of a certain congressman availed to save him from dein New York had shown that the American masses will rebuke corruption when once its existence is made palpable.

Dr. Butler interprets the result of the recent elections as a decisration by the American people that bargainings and bribings will not be tolerated in those placed in positions of responsibility to the people, and from the immense changes in majorities predicated that the class of independent voters was increasing every year. "Public opinion," said he, "is the Almighty's buzz saw, and it has been shown that it will not do to monkey with it."

Y. M. C. A. The regular Sunday afternoon services of the Young Men's Christian association were conducted yesterday afternoon by the city union of Epworth leagues. Every seat in the auditorium was occupied.

Services opened by all singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Secretary Ober read the scripture lesson, and then Rev. W.

K. Beans offered prayer. Short addresses on the topic, "Does it Pay to Be a Christian?" were next in order. Mr. E. G. Wilmuth was down on the program to talk on, "Does it Pay to Be a Christian in Business?" Other engagements prevented Mr. Wilmuth from being present and that question was handled by Mr. Clam-

The speaker said that as the close of the year was drawing near all business men went over their accounts and involced their stock. By doing this they find out what things have paid and what have not. Those that have not paid will be cast aside. If the dealer is a Christian man his business has surely paid, perhaps not so much in dollars and cents as he might wish, but if Christ is with him and the teachings of the Great Leader have been followed the business has paid. Christ stands for all that is good. The sepaker said that he once worked for amassed quite a fortune. When this rich man died not enough people attended his funera to give him a decent burial. Every business man should take Christ into full partner ship, and then he will surely prosper, Dr. C. F. Clarke answered the question "Does it Pay to Be a Christian in Society?"

As it pays in business, it also pays to take Christ with you into society, said the doctor. Years ago Christians thought it necessary to keep aloof from society in order to be good and pure. Now that is all changed, and today some of the noblest and best Christians in the world are well known in society. If there is any place, remarked the doctor, where souls are lost it is in society. The groundwork is going on, and today Christ is represented by thousands of loving followers who are in the swim in society. "Take Christ as your example," said the doctor, "take Him everywhere you go, and surely you cannot go

Speaking in the same line, Miss Miller asked: "Does It Pay to Be a Christian in the Home?" The mother in her home, she said, needs Christ's help to be patient with her children, and in teaching them to grow up in the way they should go she needs to continually call upon Christ for assistance. At the conclusion of Miss Miller's remarks Mrs. H. Hopkins sang a solo, and the bene-diction was pronounced by Rev. J. E. Moore.

AMUSEMENTS.

Fully 2,000 people were caught in "A Summer Blizzard" at the Fifteenth Street theater yesterday afternoon and had to confess that they liked it. They liked it so well, in fact, that the storm, which usually lasts something over two hours, was continued at the request of the spectators for nearly three hours and a half.

He is a nimble dancer, fairly good singer and has no trouble in keeping up his end of a very busy and pleasing performance. W. H. Murphy, as Howland Rant, a Shakespearean crank, has an unique part and makes the most of it. Clayton White, in a skirt dance, Barney Reyoids in songs and impersonations, are clever.
Miss Nelly Rosebud, in the role of Helen Blazes, the soubrette, contributed more, per-haps, than any one other artist to the success of "A Summer Blizzard. She has a style peculiarly her own, and it pleased. She has a very sweet voice and was at her best in "Come Kiss Your Mamy," "The Floor-walker" and in her clever work in the bowery song and dance with Mr. Carroll, Miss Blanche Nichols and Mr. Somers. She was mpelled to respond to enthusiastic encores at her every appearance.

The Nichols sisters have no superiors in novelty dances and their performance took the house by storm. Mis. Beatrice Goldie's efforts as soprano soloist were very acceptable.

Other features contribute to a high class vaudeville entertainment, that goes with a rush from start to finish and never lacks in interest.

ASKED FOR BY THE BANKERS

Comptroller Eckels Wants Some Suggestions Upon the Subject.

CHANGES TO BE MADE IN THE BANKING LAW

maha Bankers Discuss the Propositio Advocating the Baltimore Plan and Say that it Will He Called to the Attention of Congress.

When the American Bankers association had two representatives present, Henry W. Yates of the Nebraska National and Alfred Millard of the Commercial National. One of the results of that convention of the financiers of the United States was the formula-Yates of the Nebraska National and Alfred tion of a system of banking which it is proposed to substitute for the present plan in this country, provided congress can be in-duced to grant measures so thoroughly radi-step-daughter is to marry an old lever of cal. Comptroller Eckels has now called upon a number of leading bankers throughout the country for suggestions for currency reform Taylor's brilliant comedy drama, "Still legislation and their views on the Baltimore Waters Run Deep." The proverb, "Still lolan, Omaha bankers have not as yet been waters run deep," not only furnishes the legislation and their views on the Baltimore plan. Omaha bankers have not as yet been requested to submit anything on this line, bu they expect to be consulted before the matter is closed. The replies of the bankers are to be used by the president in shaping his message to congress, in which he proposes to recommend an advanced plan for cur rency legislation. Most of the leading bankers of Omaha favor the plan advanced by the Baltimore conven tion in general, but are prepared to submi suggestions with a view of securing minor changes in the draft of the new system proposed. The measure proposed is supposed to embody and combine the results obtained at two different periods of the history of banking in the United States, with the results of banking methods tried with success in Canada and Germany. The two periods of banking in the United States referred to are, first, the period of New York safety fund banking, from 1829 to 1860, and the period of national banking, from 1863 to the present time.

The cardinal principle of the system pro-posed as a substitute for present methods is to establish an elastic currency, which, in time of great financial distress, resulting from a scarcity of money, will enable banking houses in the country to enlarge their cir-culation to such an extent as well informed financiers claim will be sufficient to tide the country over a crisis similar to that ex-perienced in the summer of 1893. An Omaba banker, in conversation last week on this subject, declared that the absence of flexibility in the present currency sytem was a constant menace to the whole fabric. It was this fact that had compelled the New York Clearing House association to issue its millions of certificates and in his estimation. ions of certificates, and in his estimation was the only thing that saved the country from a most disastrous panic, however irreg-ular the idea may have been. Therefore the ular the idea may have been. Therefore the National Association of Bankers has taken an early opportunity to shape a measure which they believe will at least do away with this feature of the country's banking laws.

The plan provides first for the repeal of that section of the national banking act which requires a deposit of bonds to secure the circulation of notes issued. Then it destroyed the section of the national banking act which requires a deposit of bonds to secure the circulation of notes issued. Then it destroyed the section of th which requires a deposit of bonds to secure the circulation of notes issued. Then it declares for the right to issue circulating notes to the value of 50 per cent of the bank's paid up and unimpaired capital, subject to a tax of one-half of 1 per cent per annum upon the average amount of circulation outstanding for the year, and an additional circulation of 25 per cent per annum upon the average amount of its paid up and unimpaired capital, subject both to the tax of one-half of 1 per cent per annum upon the average amount of such circulation outstanding for the year, and an additional heavy tax per annum upon the average amount of such circulation outstanding for the year, said additional 25 per cent to be known as an "emergency circulation." The tax of one-half of 1 per cent the bankers would have paid to the treasurer of the United States as a means of revenue, out of which the expenses in connection with issuing the note shall be paid. The excess of one-half of 1 per cent tax of the context o paid. The excess of one-half of 1 per cent tax imposed upon the "emergency circula-tion" the framers of the plan desire to have paid into a fund to be known as a "guaran-tee fund," which is to be created by the de-posit by each bank of 2 per cent upon the average amount of circulation received during the first year. From the fund thus created the notes of insolvent banks will be redeemed under the Baltimore plan.

WHAT PRESIDENT LYMAN SAYS. President Lyman of the Commercial Naional bank is taking considerable interest this season. The Sentinel of Milwaukee says the discussion of the subject among local Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys" opened the door ional bank is taking considerable interest bankers. He takes the position that in of the Bijou opera house to two large audisome respects the Baltimore plan may be to a more or less degree improved upon.

The following he presents as his view of the situation: "I believe the principle underlying the 'Baltimore currency plan' to be eminently sound, in that it tends to give Charles W. Bowser is still seen in the charelasticity to our currency. It is now admitted that, had the law in 1893 possessed such a provision, its benefit would have been in-estimable. A full discussion of the matter will doubtless discover additions to the proposed plan and the following suggestions may be pertinent:

"First, should not the 'guarantee fund' provided in section 6 be invested in government bonds, thus adding to itself contin-nously? 'Second, should not section 2 provide a minimum as well as maximum circulation. with the way they behave. Her best piece of work is a burlesque upon the conventional "Third, in the event of a bank's desiring to take out circulation in excess of 50 per cent of its capital, should not an examination be had before such request is complied with? "Fourth, I would eliminate the phrase 'emergency fund,' no bank caring to admit that an emergency has arisen in its affairs. Song by Bell Travers, a very pretty little "That the government would be amply secured by the proposed plan seems beyond question, and whatever secures it, equally and additionally secures the individual holder of the currency. "That a change in the present law must soon be made is obvious, and that the committee having in charge the drafting of a bill will be able, with the assistance and suggestions they will receive from all classes of business from all parts of our country to present a bill that will be just rad advantageous to the people, as well as the banks, I firmly believe.

QUEER PEOPLE is better than the best novel. It will bring the young folks nearer to nature, and along with the humor will tell them many a truth.

Every illustration has been made by Mr. Cox himslf, expressly to convey most vividly to the youthful mind the forceful lessons of the charming story. Here is a specimen:

" NY Y darlings," said the mother bear. "You should have passed the hive with care, And not have tried to bring it home,

-INIMITABLE, ISN'T IT?-

These volumes charm, yes, captivate the young mind, and while they pleas they are rich in instruction of the purest and best sort.

Queer People is beyond all question The Brightest, The Richest. Palmer Cox
