The ordinance allowing the police and fire departments to give one ball apiece each year was given its second reading and then laid on the table.

Electrician Bradley of the fire department said that the city could save $150 to $200 by buying 2,000 pounds of wire and allowing the Postal Telegraph company to string it, as it had agreed to do this matter was referred to the fire committee, with power to act.

The question of whether the city or county should pay for the policemen who were especially appointed for election was brought up and referred to the city attorney for legal advice. His report will be called for next Monday night.

The committee of the whole recommended that on account of lack of funds the petitions for the opening of Third, First and Twentieth streets should not be done.

The next "assembly" took place last evening at the Grand hotel and most of the prominent social lights were in full glow. As the initial one of several social events of great importance to be given this winter, the affair outshone all predecessors in magnificence of costumes and decorations. The dining room was used for dancing and supper was served in the ladies' ordinary.

The board of supervisors has decided to clean up the judge's room adjoining the district court room in the court house in honor of the recent landfall. Supervisor Wadsworth states that in ordinary years, when the majorities are comparatively slight, such a thing would never be thought of, but when the republicans arise and literally wipe their opponents from the face of the earth, it seems that some official action should be taken to show the democratic appreciation of the true situation. A man with a kalsomine brush will accordingly be put to work at once.

Dr. I. U. Parsons, Archer block. Tel. 213. School Exercises.

A large crowd gathered at the assembly room of the High school building yesterday afternoon to hear the exercises in which the pupils of the school were to take part. The program was a most attractive one, one of the best, it is said, ever presented at any High school in Iowa. The names of the performers were given in yesterday's Bee. Not to particularize, every performer did admirably, and was interpreted with only on himself, but on the teachers, whose assistance in the preparation of the program plays such an important part. It was the first time this year that the High School Literary society had charge of affairs, and President Berne Sawyer's opening address referred to that declaration was well interpreted with most of an excellent variety. The High school is fortunate in having musicians in plenty, and the program contained selections on the violin and piano, vocal numbers, and quartets by Messrs. Tom Askin, Grahl, Thaddeus Edwards and Charles Haverstock. Similar exercises were held in all the other schools of the city, and each building was filled with the friends of the pupils.
