HERE'S CLOTHING BARGAINS.

Nothing can stop us from doing the biggest business in Omaha Saturday, with such bargains as these at the back of us. We are at 13th and Farnam—a block east of the Paxton hotel and we sell Clothing Bargains.

Men's Clothing

The fashions—the fabrics—the first quality—the finest lookers—are the suits we call your attention to tomorrow. The most unheard of prices on them you've seen yet.

- Black or blue clay worsted suits in cutaways and sacks; all wool, well trimmed and well gotten up, that formerly sold for $12 $8.00
Black or blue clay worsted suits in sacks and cutaways, regent cut, all wool, neatly trimmed and lined, bound or unbound, at $10.00
Black or blue clay worsted suits in sacks or cutaways, cut extra long—the best imported goods made up in the height of fashion $12.50
Black clay Prince Albert suits, guaranteed to fit and wear as well as any tailor-made Prince Albert ever made $15.00

Men's Overcoats

We must furnish you with that overcoat or ulster that you've put off buying till now. We know we've got to make prices to do it and here they are:

- Long cut, black and blue and tan kersey overcoats, with velvet collars, 48 inches long, for $5.00
Black diagonal worsted overcoat with velvet collar, medium length, 44 inches, worth at least $12, all wool, at $6.50

AFFAIRS OF MOSHER'S BANK

Grand Jury Inquiring Into the Failure of the Capital National.

HUMPHREY'S SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY

Depositors and Stockholders Summoned to Tell What They Know—Surprise that Certain Others Have Not Been Served with Subpoenas.

Shortly before noon yesterday the federal grand jury took up anew the investigation of the now celebrated Capital National bank failure at Lincoln.

Mr. Humphrey was on the witness stand nearly the entire afternoon and it is believed that his testimony was of a most sensational character.

Shortly after 4 o'clock Kent Hayden, receiver of the defunct institution, was called into the jury room.

Among the other witnesses in the city are Henry Gerner, a stockholder who was induced by the misrepresentations of C. W. Mosher to purchase $15,000 worth of Capital National bank stock.

Considerable surprise has been manifested over the fact that the United States attorney has not summoned as witnesses a number of gentlemen whose intimate association with the defunct bank should enable them to know much of its operations.

It was not the plumbing. Plumbing Inspector Duncan had a call yesterday from a well known Omaha society lady, who agreed that the plumbing in her residence was in a defective condition and none of the plumbers were able to work any improvement.

An hour was spent in going over the plumbing, which all seemed to be in good condition. But the odor was still unobscured and finally the inspector turned over a pile of gunny sacks in a corner of the basement and discovered a heap of cobwebs which had been forgotten and left to rot.

These disposed of and the windows left open for a few minutes and the trouble disappeared.

The inspector was dismissed after a strict pledge of secrecy had been extracted.

FROM SOUTH OMAHA.

Coroner's Jury Find that—Antone Lucas Died from Natural Causes.

Coroner Maul being taking evidence in the inquest over the remains of Antone Lucas shortly before noon yesterday.

So far there has been nothing developed which would indicate anything but death from natural causes.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was that Lucas came to his death from inflammation of the brain and heart trouble.

Enjoyable Thanksgiving Party.

One of the most enjoyable social gatherings held in the Magic City on Thanksgiving was the dancing party given by the Rathbuns sisters and the Knights of Pythias members.

A society of ladies known as the Grand Army Circle will be organized in South Omaha next Monday night in Knights of Pythias hall.

The Kings-Daughters will hold their next afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. W. B. Check on Thursday, December 13.

The Ashland Mill and Electric Light Company yesterday filed in the United States circuit court a motion asking that the temporary injunction recently granted against it and in favor of Swift & Co. of South Omaha, be set aside on the grounds that the court had no jurisdiction in the premises and that the whole matter has been carried to the state court in Saunders county.

Board Takes Action on the Suggestion of Major Furay—Evils of the Old Plan—Discussion by the Members.

The Board of Public Works met yesterday afternoon and approved the monthly pay roll, together with the usual list of bills.

Major Furay was read and freely discussed. The following communication from ex-Member Furay was read and freely discussed:

I have for some years noted that an amendment was necessary to procure an honest and proper result, to-wit: In the matter of the payment of inspectors employed by the city for public work done under contract.

At the meeting of the commissioners yesterday afternoon the committee on charity was furnished the various districts in the city, the salaries of the agents to be paid by the county.

The services of George Morrison, night fireman at the poor farm, were dispensed with and Ed Stout appointed in his stead.

Orders were received from the War department at Washington authorizing General Brooks to discharge thirty-four Indians in company I, Twenty-first Infantry, now on duty at Fort Omaha.

General Booth first conceived the plan of the Salvation army in Brunswick, Eng., in 1854. He was at that time a Wesleyan Methodist reformer, a preacher or an exhorter, as they were sometimes called. He saw the

GENERAL BOOTH OF THE SALVATION ARMY

He Will Arrive Today and for Two Days Will Conduct Campaign Against Sin—How He Will Be Entertained During His Stay.

General William Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation army, will arrive in Omaha for a two days' campaign this evening.

The exact hour of his arrival is not yet known to local officers of the army, but owing to the fact that the commander-in-chief is undergoing a heavy strain by reason of his numerous public addresses his arrival will probably be quiet and without any ostentatious reception by the Salvation army enthusiasts of the city.

After all the talk about co-operation in the work of outdoor relief this winter, the county commissioners have decided that they will not spend the money necessary to carry out the plan proposed by the Associated Charities for the investigation into the applications for help made to the county or the association.

ORGANIZED OPPOSITION TO THE W. C. T. U.

Interviews with Some of the Most Famous Poets of the Kilany Group—Reasons Why They Resent Miss Willard's Attitude.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The fight against living pictures being waged by some of the members of the Women's Christian Temperance union has developed into a war between women. It is not at all unlikely that the living pictures will organize and prosecute a fight on the Women's Christian Temperance union.

Such is General Booth's defense of the Salvation army. I know that it wasn't in a man to look at hell and not try to get away from the broad road that leads to it.

General Booth's mission in this country at this time is to secure a favorable location for a colony of London refugees who have been taken from the slums and started in life on a new basis.

The Nebraska chiefs of police and city marshals will hold their first annual meeting at Lincoln next Thursday, December 6.

The Windsor hotel will be police headquarters during the meeting. The meeting will be held in the city hall and will be called to order at 2 o'clock p. m.

Judge Duffie is hearing a salacious divorce case. The action was brought against Albert Leigh by his wife Flora.

Mr. Leigh has something to say in the case, however. He is opposing his wife's claims for alimony and the custody of the two children by asking for a decree of divorce himself on the grounds of cruelty, adultery and several charges of less severity.

Alma Eggert and Ella Gaab do not speak English. They are Germans and have appeared with Kilany in Europe. Through an interpreter they said that in Europe no word of condemnation was uttered or heard against the living pictures in which they had appeared, and they were surprised to learn of the contemplated crusade.

"Don't care," May Hamilton said, "but I think it is real mean to start an agitation against us. If marble statues were used instead of human figures there would be no criticism."

"Yes," interposed Nellie Burdwin, "if the realism was not produced there would be no talk. Still we take many precautions to guard against indecency or anything that smacks of it."

Joie A. Frost said: "We are only models in a picture, made to represent some historic event or to reproduce as accurately as possible the great paintings of some of the great masters."
