Exposition Building and First Baptist Church Totally Destroyed by Fire.

DONE IN TWO HOURS YESTERDAY MORNING

Loss Aggregates More Than One Hundred Phousand with Insurance of Twenty Thousand-Firemen Could Make No Headway Against It.

Fire that broke out at 4:45 yesterday morning totally destroyed the Exposition building And there is but little question that better on Capitol avenue, between Fourteenth and quarters can be secured, and that at a very ing totally destroyed the Exposition building down several months ago, and now nothing is left on the block but two old houses and for $2,000, from the bankrupt Exposition company. It's cost was $110,000, and it was opened in 1886. Insurance on this building was carried only to the amount of $8,000; $5,000 on the theater and $3,000 on the hall. It was in the following companies: German-American, Granite State, German of Freeport. Connecticut, Pennsylvania, $1,500 each; Providence National, $500.

On the church was insurance aggregating $10,000; $5,000 in the Germania of New York; $2,500 in the Insurance Company of North America, and $2,500 in the London and Lancashire, with $1,000 on furniture and fixtures in the Spring Garden of Philadel-

WHO SMALLER LOSERS ARE. The "Bunch of Keys" company, which played In the theater Monday night, lost scenery and warbrobe. Katle Emmet's company, which was to open an engagement Sunday night, lost about $600 worth of stage property that the company would not need for a few days, and which had been forwarded. Occupants of stores and offices who are losers are: Stribling Cigar company, John Clark, tallor; Mrs. A. Welburn, Frank Johnson, commission, 1408 Capitol avenue, and J. W. Lally, cigars. They lost nearly everything and carried very little insurance.

J. F. Lally was awakened by the fire and hurriedly made his way to the street. Then, remembering the books of a couple of lodges of which he is treasurer, he rushed back into the store, grabbed the lodge books and got out all right. Lally's next move was to awaken Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, who sleep in the room next to his store, and who take with his family in the northwest corner of the building, lost everything except one trunk. When the alarm was given, McFadden attached the line of hose kept on the stage and attempted to keep the brick wall Eugene Tompkins' splintered by the heat. All of the large windows on the first floor were ruined, and many of the smaller panes in the second and third stories were cracked in spots. The damage will amount to nearly $500. The Manderson block was severely scorched, but the damage is slight. The intense heat scorched the Bennett stables directly across the street, on Capitol avenue. All of the horses and rigs were run out to a place of safety, as it was feared that the flames would leap across the street. Windows in Hart's saloon, on the corner of Fifteenth and Capitol avenue, were cracked by the heat.

HUNDRED THOUSAND LOSS. The total loss is estimated at between $100,- 000 and $125,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. It started in the cigar store of John Lally in the southeast corner of the Exposition building. Officer Harry Flint was patrolling his beat on Capitol avenue about 4:45 o'clock when he discovered the blaze. In five minutes the castern end of the building was on fire and in as many more the flames were rapidly spreading northward along the roof.

Soon after the fire entered the theater a muffled explosion was heard, which seemed to drive the flames clear to the west end of the building. They burst from the roof along the whole length and drove back the firemen who had gone into the theater with the expectation of holding the fire at the fire wall behind the stage.

The wooden interior of the theater caught in a score of places at once, and fifteen minutes after the first alarm had been turned in the whole half block was an unbroken stretch of rolling, tumbling flames. The heat was intense and drove back the crowd of sightseers who had left their beds at that early hour. The firemen had all the available streams scattered along the building, but the territory was so extensive that there was not enough water thrown at any point to have any appar-Then the church caught fire and in less than two hours the destruction of the whole was complete.

Assistant Chief Salter attributes the spread of the fire to insufficient water pressure and apparatus. WHAT BAPTISTS WILL DO.

The trustees of the First Baptist church met in the forenoon to figure up their insurance and decide upon a plan of action for the future. An invitation was received from th Men's Christian association to use their hall for church services until other ar rangements could be made, and the offer was gratefully accepted. The first service will be

The destruction of the church will doubtless revive the old controversy among the members as to a church location.

The pastor, Dr. Hellings, was seen this morning and when asked about the relocation he said that there was no doubt but that the question would be seriously considered. Whether the sentiment of the congregation would favor it or not he was not prepared to say. Some of the members had thought that the church would be a more picient factor for good if it was situated in a more favorable locality, while others were devotedly attached to the old site and would stubbornly resist any effort toward a change.

Eight years were consumed in its building, and when completed in 1869 it cost $65,000.

Will Open Up Old People's Theater Thursday New Building in Prospect.

Even fire cannot keep Billy Burgess out of the theater business in Omaha. On October 2, 1893, while thousands of spectators were watching the destruction by fire of the Farnam Street theater, the old Boyd opera house, Mr. Burgess had commenced negotiations for the lease of the Grand opera house, and was ready in three days for business in the new stand, the name of which was changed to the Fifteenth Street theater.

Before the fire was out in the Fifteenth Street theater yesterday, Mr. Burgess had secured a lease of the old Douglas Street theater, and had a force of men at work preparing it for the opening on Thursday night with Ezra Kendail 'n "The Substitute."

The old Douglas Street theater was repaired and repainted last spring, and rented by two ambitious young men, Phillips and Palmer, who attempted to open a second popular price theater in Omaha. The venture was not a success, and the place passed into the hands of Duncan Clark, who has been running it as a variety show resort for several months. The building is in very good condition, and will be put in the best shape possible to serve Mr. Burgess' bookings until better quarters can be secured.

Fifteenth streets, and the First Baptist early date. No more popular theatrical man church, just north of the west end of the than Mr. Burgess ever lived in Omaha, and church, just north of the west end of the building, at Fifteenth and Davenport streets. The Exposition building contained Exposition hall on the east, the Fifteenth Street theater, morning brought matters to a focus, and it is or the old Grand opera house, on the west, now pretty well understood that Omaha will and a number of small stores and offices soon have another theater especially built fronting on Capitol avenue. The Exposition Mr. Burgess has proved his ability as a man for the purpose to which it will be adapted annex, which was the old city hall, council ager, and any theatrical venture under his chamber and police headquarters, burned management is assured of popular favor and

Notes on the Fire.

The church walls are so cracked that they annot be used in the construction of a new building. Max Meyer lost two fine Steinway planes in the Fifteenth Street theater. Another fine plane was destroyed in the Baptist church. Jack Lally says that he saw a man standing in front of Miller's commission house within a few minutes after the fire was dis-covered. He had to go and awaken Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, but is preity sure that he recog-nized the man. The police are investigating

A number of workingmen have begun circu-lating petitions to the city council that the whole block laid waste by fire yesterday be purchased and a market house be erected thereon without delay. The idea seems to meet with general favor, and it is thought that the owners of the land can be induced to part with it for reasonable figures.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

There will be a special matinee at Boyd's this afternoon at 2:30, and popular prices will be the rule. So the people of Omaha will care of the building. When awakened Jordan and his wife jumped to the sidewalk just as the roof was falling. Mrs. Jordan fainted as soon as she struck the sidewalk. This family lost everything. The new ballet of popular airs includes "The New Bowery," "The Musical Dolls," "The Cigarette," and "The Bold Soldier Boy," and an entirely new idea in living pictures. The march of the Silver Army down the illuminated terrace, under the glare of nearly 1,000 electric lights, is grand beyond description. Not a single chestnut is the announcement of Cosgrove & Grant's "Dazzler," which opens an engagement at Boyd's Sunday after-noon. The company is entirely new, and the play as well-the latter having been entirely rewritten the last summer. Elaborate scenic effects and handsome dresses, with pretty girls inside of them, are promised, and the entire production this season is considered the best the piece has ever had.

Manager W. J. Burgess upon realizing that it would be impossible to save the Fifteenth Street theater, immediately secured the only other available place in the city, the Douglas Street theater. Mr. Burgess will endeavor to rescue this old place of amusement from the shadow into which it has fallen of late and will do all in his power to render it as popular with Omaha play-goers as his other theaters have justly been. The first attraction appearing under Mr. Burgess' management at the "Douglas" will be Ezra Kendall, the well known eccentric comedian, who will produce his latest comedy success. "The Substitute." Mr. Kendall has become thoroughly identified with the peculiar style of characters which he has portrayed during seasons past, that of the "old countryman" type, and as an interpreter of such is deservingly popular. The supporting company is said to be a competent one, including such artists as Miss Jennie Dunn, J. D. Williams, Leo Hardman and others. The management desire to hold their large family patronage in their new home of amusement, and with that object in view will present a reserved seat to every lady attending the advance sale Thursday morning. Looks for No Abrogation of Agreements Between Union Pacific and Northwestern.

Conclusions Reached by the Milwanke People Not on Good Ground-Plan Has Reference Only to Business for Billings and Sheridan-

Railroad circles were all agog yesterday morning over the announcement, made exclusively in The Bee that the Burlington and Elkhorn were about to execute an agreement for the interchange of business at Crawford. The Milwaukee people saw in this new move on the railroad checker board the abrogation of the contract between the Union Pacific and Northwestern, a consummation which they have earnestly prayed for ever since the Union Pacific and Northwestern made their close traffic agreement

It is a well known fact that the Milwaukee was given an opportunity to hold the same position with the Union Pacific that the Northwestern now holds, but for some unknown reason the alliance was negatived on the part of Mr. Roswell Miller, the president of the Milwaukee company, and the Northwestern became the second party to the contract. Now the Milwaukee would be only too glad to enter into the same relations as enjoyed by the Northwestern, but the chances are that it will have to wait some time yet before the "Overland" system and the Northwestern decide to part company.

General Passenger Agent Lomax of the Union Pacific said that the contemplated agreement between the Burlington and Elkhorn was news to him. He declined to express an opinion as to the advantages that would accrue to either party to the agree-ment, but when asked if the proposed con-tract would abrogate the Union Pacific-Northwestern alliance, he was pron his opinion that it would not affect the pres ent amicable association of the two systems "The Northwestern has spent entirely to much money in developing its transconti-nental line through the medium of the Union Pacific to abrogate a contract in which it has much the stronger advantage. Under our contract all business originating on the line of the Northwestern for North Pacific coast and Pacific coast points is given to the Union Pacific at the river. In fact, the Northwestern runs its cars through to the Pacific coast,

AFIER 25 YEARS

Of suffering from Chronic Dyspepsia and Stomach Troulles.

In Iowa Lady Relates the Remarkable Manner in Which She Became Cured,

For some time past we have published reorts of the wonderful cures made in cases of dyspepsia and chronic indigestion by the new and remarkable discovery in medical science, known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tab-lets. But of all the hundreds of cures made in the past month none compare with the last received. For the benefit of the great army of dyspeptics we herewith present the letter from the lady herself, as follows: Stuart Chem. Co.

Dear Sirs-After using only one package of your Dyspepsia Tablets I have received such great and unexpected benefit that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact it has been six months since I took the Gage county and Float Representative Frank
W. Miles of Gage and Saline counties were at the Dellone last evening. They had been package and I have not had one particle of consulted told me my case was chronic dyspepsia and absolutely incurable as I had suffered twenty-five years. I want half a dozen packages to distribute among my friends here who are very anxious to try this remedy. Very truly yours,

Mrs. Sarah A. Skeels, Lynnville, Jasper Co., Mo. The above letter was received wholly un-expected and we have no reason to doubt the lady's statement. We firmly tell we that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only remidy so far discovered that will positively cure chronic dyspepsia, and for mild cases of atomach trouble, such as acidity, water brash, wind on stomach, bleating or fullness after meals, heartburn, etc., it gives almost instant and lasting relief. And the beauty of it all is you do not have to diet yourself, take baths or go to a high toned sanitarium. You stay at home, eat all the wholesome, well cooked food you can get and take thes tablets before and after each meal. People often write asking if they can eat this or that kind of pic, etc. To all such we say eat all the pie you want (if you can get it these hard times) and right in this connec-tion we would state that another point not to be overlooked is the fact that Stuari's Dysneyle Tablets cost but 50cts her neck-Dyspepsia Tablets cost but 50cts, per package at all druggists. Business must originate on the Elkhorn to be given to the Burlington at Crawford, in stead of being given to the Chicago, S

Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, as is now the case. However, I have not made any sludy case. However, I have not made any study of the new situation, but do not think the proposed agreement calls for any worry on the part of the Union Pacific. No road could give better facilities for the handling of transcontinental business than the Union Pacific and the Northwestern are giving, and That's a mystery. Take (Payne) and work out the two missing words. Cut it out and bring it to the Nebraska, stating your height, weight and appetite, whether married or willing to be, and in return the first successful answer will receive first prize, "a guess on how soon the canal will be built." Each answer must be accompanied by eleventeen cents worth of Columbian stamps.

Little folks' clothes are-nearly everywhere-sold on the same ridiculous guessing plan. Guess it is worth so much more, because the patterns are desirable, or perhaps Mrs. So and So's boy wears one of 'em, and the demand might in-

What could be finer for a guest room than this pair of bedsteads, executed in enameled white iron, with polished brass trimmings? The entire top of both head and foot is in brass-brass posts, tops, rall and ornaments. The frames are light, but very strong; easily moved or taken apart, clean and neat as wax and they harmonize with any surroundings. We have them in all brass at slightly increased cost. One important point must not be overlooked. These bedsteads have the new swell foot, allowing the clothing of the bed to fall straight to the floor without being "tucked in," as in the ordinary patterns. Separate beds are recommended by all Catalogue of these goods sent upon appli-

Perhaps He Might See

Better if he hold that paper a little closer; he certainly could see, not only much better, but perfectly, if spectacles. Near-sightedness, uncorrected by glasses, imposes a severe tax on the eyes, which are needlessly weakened by the strain involved in trying to misuse them. Defects in vision grow, like weeds, without cultivation, and its dangerous to overlook them. Whatever may be thought of a tax on income, a tax on the sight will never do, as it is apt to leave the taxers out of sight. We fit every eye perfectly. No charge for testing the eyes. ing the eyes.
