NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

South Seventh Street Property Owners Object to the City Council's Action.

OVER ROCK ISLAND ENCROACHMENTS

Giving Away the Street Causes an Angry Protest from the Residents—Councilmen Justify Their Action by a Course of Special Reasoning.

Almost without exception the property owners on South Seventh street are up in arms against the action of the city council in deciding to give up Seventh street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets to the Rock Island company. As there is little prospect at present of their cooling off, the chances are that injunction proceedings will be resorted to for the purpose of preventing what they claim is an unwarranted infringement of their rights and a detriment to their property.

The councilmen, on their part, have democratic councilmen, justify their action by saying that there is some doubt as to whether the city has a right, not only to that portion of Seventh street, but to the corresponding portions of Sixth, Eighth and Ninth streets.

Another Property Show. The citizens of Council Bluffs will have another chance to spend a week with chickens, commencing today. The annual exhibit of the Western Iowa poultry association will be held in the Beebe building, 209 Broadway.

THE RAILROAD DETECTIVE.

A Smart Fellow Who Has Many Interesting Experiences. It was in the waiting room of a Jersey City railroad station, says the New York Sun. People were flying to and fro for trains and the scene was quite as animated as the rush of people around a circus ticket wagon.

It seemed strange that a man attending to his business should be ordered out, and a man who had just been reported missing prompted him to make an inquiry. "What sort of a play was that?" he asked of the man who had been reported missing.

Druggist Was Rather Sudden. W. Frank Sawyer, a young man living on Martin Hughes' farm, near Manawa, was caught in a rather embarrassing situation yesterday afternoon. He had just returned from a trip to Omaha, and when he reached this side of the river he entered Seller's drug store and asked for change for a silver dollar.

The fact—and all facts are popular—the day is the razor-tooth show for ladies. They will be still more popular when the ladies know that Byers is giving away the finest $6.00 shoe for $3.50.

DIPHTHERETIC SERUM.

Discovery, Operation and Results of the New Curative Agent.

The ravages of the dreaded disease diphtheria are only too well known. In the census year 1889 it caused 28,143 deaths in the United States, and doubtless a much larger number in 1894.

Naturally, there is a good deal of interest felt by the Louisville Courier-Journal, not merely by medical circles, but among the people generally, in the new remedy for diphtheria discovered by Prof. Hehring, of the University of Berlin.

The experiments made in Berlin, however, were equally or even more encouraging. In a hospital there under the old treatment the six months mortality was 90 per cent.

WHAT A NUISANCE HE IS

The Man Who is Forever Bragging About His Health and Strength.

Most of us have met the man who is forever bragging about his good health—as if that were any merit of his. He invites us to feel his muscles, and to pump him on his life, etc., etc. He may be virtuous and he may be well as well as robust, but he is a great nuisance.

And I never took a drop of stimulants, he says. Very well, friend. If you don't need stimulants, let them alone. The same advice applies to pills and plasters. But, please recollect that most people do not keep themselves up to the highest standard of health all the time. They simply coast. They are depressed by long hours in the cold air. Their feet get wet, and they drop in ill-ventilated rooms.

These are the people that tell how great they have been benefited by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. They tell how it toned nerves and stomach; how it stopped the highest mark, it would not be so much in demand in homes and hospitals.
