Dawson County's Destitute. LEXINGTON, Neb., Dec. 10.-(Special.) A thorough canvass of Dawson county by a committee in every school district shows over 1,000 people who are either destitute or will become so before the winter is over. Many pathetic cases were found, one being that of husband and wife and four children, with no provisions except a sack of corn meal, and with everything available turned into money. So far the weather has been mild and no great suffering has resulted from insufficient clothing and fuel supplies. Local relief associations and city and county officials are doing all in their power to alleviate actual cases of suffering, but cannot meet the emergency, and great suffering and even death is bound to follow unless prompt measures are

KEARNEY, Neb., Dec. 10 .- (Special Telegram.)-Early yesterday morning the citizens living in the southeastern part of town were surprised to see a gang of about fifty workmen laying a line of track along South Railroad street. The Union Pa-cific folks claim that the B. & M. had no right to lay the track along that street and have had a representative here today investigating the matter. anxiously, with great interest and without prejudice, the experiments that are now being made. It is to be feared that the enthusiasm of some of the experimenters may color their findings. It is well to apply the most crucial tests and to maintain a conservative position until all speculation has been supplanted by demonstration. New York and Chicago have manifested a very commendable spirit in appropriating liberal sums of money for procuring and testing this new candidate for favor. The physicians of Davenport, in a meeting largely attended, expressed themselves as largely interested in the trials now being made. and that if necessary municipal subscriptions for defraying the expense should be made.

"Dr. Bierring, who was present on invitation, stated that he was working as he had time and opportunity on the preparation of the new remedy.

"Mayor Volimer offered the following resolution, addressed to the regents of the State university, which was also adopted:

"Resolved, That we, the physicians of Davenport, petition your honorable body to give favorable consideration to the efforts of Dr. W. Bierring of the medical department of the State university to prepare anti-toxine, and that you give him all the sid in your power in the way of funds and in relieving him of some of his labors, so that he may have more time to devote to it." "We heartily commend this progressive action on the part of Davenport, and wish that more of the cities of Iowa were equally efficient in their health department.

"We cannot speak officially for the State Board of Health, and unless the board should be convened in extra session no efficial expression can be had before the first week in February.

"We can anticipate their action so far as to say that the board is abreast fully with any and all measures that will restrict the spread and lessen the fatalities of dipherial. While the board has no means at command to provide or test anti-toxine, yet it will, we are sure, use its influence and personal help in extending the knowledge and favoring the use of anti-toxine if the experiments now being conducted warrant them in doing so."
