MUST BIDE THEIR TIME.

Election of Senators to Fill Vacancies Cannot Be Harried.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.-Some question has arisen as to whether the senators to be chosen to fill vacancies in the states of Montana, Washington and Wyoming can be selected upon the first day the legislatures meet, or if the election will be postponed until after the prescribed time. The senators are to fill terms soon to begin, while the sitting members' terms are about to expire. Senator Dubois of Idaho has been looking up the matter for some friends in the west and has found that senators selected to fill vacancies must be elected in precisely the same manner as chose to fill terms to expire in the near future. This will prevent the election of senators to fill the vacancies until the time when the regular senatorial elections would occur. Another matter which he ascertained in looking up the case was that when these senators are elected they will not draw salaries until they qualify, which is not the case in the election of senators elected for qualify on the 4th of March or not, their pay begins. Idaho was admitted on July 2. pay begins. Idaho was admitted on July 2, and the senators elected began drawing their pay from that date. Since then a provision has been inserted in an appropriation bill prescribing when senators elected to fill the vacancies shall begin drawing pay.

Omaha Sportsmen Discussing Means to Most Desirab e End.

While the attendance was not nearly so large as it ought to have been or as was anticipated, there was quite a convocation to comof prominent sportsmen at Parmalee's gun store last evening, who had gathered together in the interests of Nebraska's game Among the familiar faces were those of George A. Hoasland, that veteran of the hammerless, W. H. S. Hughes, Wil-liam Preston, W. P. McFarlane, A. C. Claffin, J. B. Melkle, Louis F. Leeder, J. P. Smeed, M. C. Peters, Fred Montmor-ency, Frank S. w.P. McFarlane was called to the chair, while S. G. V. Griswold was chosen secretary. Mr. McFarlane in a few well chosen words stated the object of the meeting, the preservation, propagation and protection of Nebraska's game and fish, and the devising of ways and means to bring about this desirable end.

The proposition was intelligently and exhaustively discussed, Mr. Montmorency holding that the most important matter was the devising of means to enforce the present law or any new one that might be passed by the incoming legislature. Mr. Preston apprehended that an agitation of the matter might, through unwise and prejudiced legislation, bring about a more unfavorable condition, and advised caution and cheumspection in anything that might be done. He realized the necessity of stringent measures to prevent the extinction of out game, but urged careful consideration of every step to be taken. Mr. Claffin coincided with the vebran sperisman, but geemed immediate and vigorous action imperative. He favored the well paid game warden system, the only tangible solution to the question.

Mr. Meikle expressed the belief that under and snipe, were even more entitled to legitimate protection than, the chicken and the quail.

Mr. Hougland thought there was no call for the changing of the seasons, but that an enforcement of the law was highly desirable.

Mr. McFariane was of the opinion that the prohibition of the sale and shipment of game were phantasies, the interests of certain corporative bodies were too numerous and too great to render such measures efficacious. He thought, however, that the railreads would cordially co-operate with the sportsmen on any reasonable and practicable basis.

Mr. Hughes and Mr. Leeder were earnest in their advocacy of new and stringent laws, while Mr. Peters and Mr. Parmalee were aggressive in their demands for better regulations—for provisions that will assure a continuance of the royal sport Nebraska's great preserves supplies sportsmen. Mr. Peters thought that anything that was done should only be after the most mature analyzation and consideration, and nothing offered that would mitigate against the rights or prerogatives of any class or condition.

Still it is in nowise as interesting as just after the withdrawal of Mr. Jackson. Several new candidates have been mentioned, but the fact of the matter is that no one is in the field to win yet. It is too early. Besides that, this is no time to talk of politics in the state. At least three aspirants have admitted to your correspondent that they are sure to be nominated if they determine to become candidates. In fact, they have shown letters that prove it. The way in which public men and politicians can offer their services the minute an aspirant sticks up his head for honors is amaging. And not the least interesting thing about these three collections of assurances of support and success, is the presence in each of the three lots of letters of one from a certain individual of state reputation who assures the candidate to whom he is writing that he will support the aspirant, and therefore nomination and election are assured.

"The imposition of the berretta will be made in Baltimore by Cardinal Gibbons. Usually, when a nuncio is elevated to the cardinalitial dignity, this ceremony of imposition is performed by the president or sovereign of the country where he is exercising his jurisdiction. But in the case of Mons. Rev. Father Papi, secretary of the apostolic delegation in the United States, has resigned his position in order to enter the Jesuit order. His place will be conferred to Rev. Dr. Rooker, vice rector of the American college in Rome, who will probably be the bearer of the cardinalitial berretta to Mons. Satolii. He will in this occasion be created a monsignore."

The Times says the consistory will be held about the middle of December. Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore is named as one of the cardinals who will attend. Six new cardinals will be created. Two of them will be French, three Italian, and one an eastern patriarch. No mention is made of an American for the dignity, and all reports coupling the prelates of New York and St. Paul with the red hat are evidently unfounded.

An interesting explanation is given by the Times for the sudden and surprising resignation of Bishop Matz of Denver. The resignation was tendered about two months ago, and the reason given for it in Denver was that the bishop was weary of the responsibility of the office. The Times says: "Mons. Matz, bishop of Denver, Colo., has been obliged by the propaganda to send in his resignation. For a long time he has had trouble with several priests of his diocese, but the suspension he lately inflicted on Father Malone, who was afterward reinstated by Archibishop Chappelie, has been the principal cause of the propaganda's proceedings. He was lately offered the bishop-ric of St. Cloud, Minn, but he refused point blank to change his diocese. For this disobedience he will now only be bishop in title and dignity, without any jurisdiction, and will have to retire in Germany, his native country."

Are Divided.
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Dec. 19.—(Special.) There are eight offices in each county which pay good money. There are fifty-two counties, and of the 416 offices the following distribution was made of them among the three parties at the recent election: The offices are treasurers, auditors, registers, sheriffs, judges, clerks, attorneys and superintendents. The republicans captured 33-of them, the populists 75, and the democrati of them, the populists 75, and the democrats 7. The populists won 20 per cent of the legislature, but got only 18 per cent of the county offices. Eleven women were elected superintendents of schools as follows: Kate M. Smith (rep.), Roberts county; Cornelia Beach (pop.), Bennigton county; Nellie Hough (pop.), Meade county; Kate M. Kemper (pop.), Lawrence county; Dora E. Kemper (pop.), Lawrence county; Lizzie D. A meeting of the Omaha branch of the National League of Commission Merchants was held Tuesday evening. Every firm in the league was represented, and that includes a majority of the commission firms doing bust ness in the city.

A member called the attention of the commission men to the fact that there were not less than four saide commission firms operating in Omaha at the present time. It was stated that these firms made no pretention of doing a fair business, but were in business simply for the purpose of swindling country merchants and shippers of produce. The parties connected with these firms have been parties connected with these firms have been operating in Omaha for some time, and when it gets too warm for them they simply change names and go on the same as before. Another member stated that complaints were being sent in from shippers that they could not get their money for produce shipped, and that such complaints had been shown to lawyers and to the police, but that nothing could be done with the offenders. A circular sent into the country by one of the fraudulent firms was read, showing that the method of operating is to quote prices that are way above the market and in prices that are way above the market and in that way induce shippers to send their pro-duce. When the produce is sold they return duce. When the produce is sold they return what they see fit or keep the whole proceeds. The circular in question was dated December 15, and the following are some of the quotations as compared with those published for the same day in The Bee and the Omaha commission men, and its quotations give their idea of the market, while the report in The Bee is made up by a special reporter, de-tailed for that work, who bases his quotations on the sales made by the commission The reading of the circular brought on a long discussion of ways and means for pre-venting such imposture, but no conclusion was reached. One firm remarked that it had been buying eggs of the commission firm that sent out the above quotations, and was paying 15 cents per dozen cash, and still the firm asserts that it is receiving 23 cents and 24 cents for its eggs. The subject was finally cut short by the presentation of the order of business, and the subjects to be considered at the annual meeting of the league in New York. A dis-cussion of this matter took up the balance of the time at the disposal of the meeting. It was resolved that Omaha should have a full representation at the national meeting to be held in New York City, in January, and the following were elected delegates: Alex Riddell, O. W. Butts, E. J. H. Wohlers, H. G. Streight and E. B. Branch; alternates, B. H. Whitney and J. A. Clark. Several com-mission men have announced that they will attend the meeting as spectators. A BOLD ASSERTION.

Reger since Prof. Koch startled the world by promising to cure consumption with the Koch lymph and his complete failure to do so, the people have been looking for some discovery which would prove an absolute, certain cure for that dread disease. Over a quarter of a century ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, put in a claim for a medicine, which he had discovered and used, in his extensive practice, that would eureninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption when taken in all its early stages. Time has proved that his assertion was based on facts gained from experience. His "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured many thousand people in all parts of the world, and Dr. Pierce invites all interested to send to him for a free book which gives the names, addresses and photographs of many prominent people who have willingly testified to the marvelous curative properties of his "Golden Medical Discovery," He has also written a Book of 160 pages on "Diseases of the Respiratory Organs," which treats of all Throat, Bronchial and Lung diseases, also Asthma and Catarrh, that will be mailed by the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N.Y., on receipt of six cents in stamps, to pay postage.

Consumption, as most everybody knows, is first manifested by feeble vitality, loss of strength, emaciation; then local symptoms soon develop, as cough, difficult breathing, or bleeding from lungs, when investigation proves that tubercular deposits have formed in the lungs. It is earnestly advised that the "Discovery" be taken early and the latter stages of the disease can thereby be easily avoided.
