but whether he has completed his examination into the details affecting the property, which is so essentially a part of the Union Pacific, the gentleman refused to say. That gentleman refused to say. That is not alone in his inquiries the is not alone in his inquiries is well known, but the purpose of these inquiries can only be surmised, and his presence here recalled the rumor that Major McNeill of the Origon Raliway and Navigation company has gone so far as to assert that he proposed to unite the Origon Raliway and Navigation company and the Short Line in one independent line, necuring a San Francisco connection if possible, thereby gaining an independence from the Union Pacific, which he could not under existing arrangements enjoy. That there is more in the rumor than the efficials at headquarters care to divulge at this time is certain, but the strength of the "Overland" company, its conservative management, and its strong control of the situation warrants the prediction that Major McNeill will fall in his efformation. the situation warrants the prediction mines. that Major McNeili will fail in his attempt to disintegrate the property.

Mr. Ristine refused to say anything as to the purpose of his visit to headquarters, exthat he represented another party and therefore bound to secrecy. He adwas therefore bound to secrecy. He ad-mitted he came in the interest of the bondholders' committee of the Short Line, but

OVERLAND HAS AN INNING.

Boycott on Coast Business Brought Before the Western Lines. CHICAGO, Dec. 22.-The differences between the Southern Pacific and the Atchison reads, which came up yesterday in the meeting of the western lines, we're today adjust d by a temporary agreement, which will doubtless be made permanent. The only trouble between the lines was over the rates via San Diego, which have been aired at frequent intervals for the last year.

The troubles of the Union Pacific than had an innings and its woes came up for adjust-ment. The principal matter afflicting the Union Pacific at the present time, so far as the other western roads are concern d, is the boycott against it on through business to the Pacific coast, which has been in effect for the last nine months. The meeting declared that if the Union Pacific would raise its rates from Ogden and Denver to the tariff of the other lines there would be no further trouble with the boycott. This t cuble with the Union Pacific came about because that line would not keep its one way rates from Den-ver and Ogden to the tariff of other lines. The troubles with the Union Pacific, however, are not expected to cause much diffi-culty, compared with what the lines have adjusted the last fortnight. Oregon Pacific Sold.

Indignation over his action is running high. The whipping occurred at Harris' home, several miles north of this place, and grew out of a question of the ownership of a dozen turkeys, which was decided in the courts here a week ago. The turkeys were at Harris' house, and as the court decided they belonged to Mrs. Cook, she went after them. She did not get the turkeys, but was given a whipping instead. Harris has been arrested.

Fatal Fight of Farmers.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Dec. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—William Connell and John Telegram.)—William Connell and John Murphy are two farmers living in Johnson county, near Elmira. Murphy recently purchased a farm upon which Connell had been living. Connell claimed his lease was not up until March, while Murphy claims it was up in Nevember. There has been bad blood in consequence, and yesterday, when Connell came onto the farm he was ordered off. As near as can be learned, he picked up a club and threatened to kill Murphy, who seized a shotgun out of a wagon near by and fired at Connell. The charge took effect in the side, causing a fearful wound. He is still alive, but cannot recover. Murphy gave himself up.

Foot Ball on Christmas. In the east it is the custom to close the foot ball season with the Thanksgiving day game, but in California and Portland they are able to play their big games on Christmas and New Years. As we are hav-ing some of the coast weather here this winter, it has been deemed advisable to get winter, it has been deemed advisable to get up a foot ball game for the recreation of the Omaha people. The University of Nebraska foot ball boys consented to go into training again and to come up and try conclusions with the local Y. M. C. A. team. That it will be a much closer game than the one was Thanksgiving is certain, because the Omaha team is compased of several old college players, and the pick of the Omaha High school team, while the Lincoln team will be weaker by the loss of Yont, who has gone to Harvard, but whose place will be well filled by Cameron, and the other men will be the same as those who played here against Iowa. The old Michigan men are shining up their horns for another good time, and they promise to make the welkin ring again. The Y. M. C. A. is to give a banquet to the cellege men of omaha after the game, to which both teams are invited to attend. If the weather is auspicious it is expected that the trowd will equal in point of size and splendor that of Thanksgiving day.

When the question of authorities on canon law was under consideration the bishop and his sup-porters testified that the work of Father Smith of Paterson, N. J., was not regarded as an authority on canon law. Father English contradicted this testimony and v.oed a letter from the bishop instructing the him, as judge of the diocesan court, to study The Osage committee, composed of Hon. "Smith on Canon Law," which he regarded James Hock of Atlanta, Hon. John A. Goris the best work on the subject. Within sixty days after giving this testipreceding it, was iong on promise and short on performance. Mgr. Satolli assured Mr. James English, brother of the priest, that a

The meaning conveyed by these words was that as soon as enlarged powers were granted the delegate the whole case against the bishop would be taken up and disposed of. These assurances gave the priests momentary satisfaction. With Father English it was of brief duration. The bishop learned he had emoved his personal effects from Hastings to David City. On October 12 he received an order from the bishop commanding him to return the goods to Hastings by the 26th of that month, imposing as a p enalty for disobedience the revocation of his faculties as priest. An appeal was again taken to the papal delegate, the grounds of which were that a bishop could not canonically revoke a priest's faculties without trial. Father English stated in the appeal that the goods in controversy were not worth the cost of transportation back, that he had no money to pay such cost, and that as a matter of fact the articles in question were his personal property, and were selected, packed and shipped to him by the ladies of the Hastings ongregation without aid or assistance from Another order followed the first requiring Father English to appear for trial at Lincoln November 29, and show cause why his suspension should not be made permanent. This and all other documents bearing on the case were forwarded to the delegate, and a ruling asked on two points:

"First-Can the bishop, as a punishment, lawfully invalidate my faculties as a canonically established priest of his diocese?
"Second—Can the bishop lawfully suspend me on a public count like this without giving

Mgr. Satolli cleverly avoided this iss misquoted the language of the appeal, and reminded Father English of the bishop's right to suspend a priest for cause.

HIS SENTENCE PRONOUNCED. On November 9, twenty days before the date set for the trial at Lincoln, Father English received the following letter:

date set for the trial at Lincoln, Father English received the following letter:

Since you yourself have acquiesced in and caused to be promulgated in a public manner the suspension which you incurred on the 28th uit, nothing remains for me to do but to formally pronounce the sentence of suspension against you, and to make known what shall be required of you before you shall be permitted to resume the exercise of the sacred ministry within this jurisdiction. Because, therefore, of your persistent disobedience to my just and weighty commands, issued to you in my communication of the 12th day of October, 1894. I hereby declare you suspended, and you are suspended from the exercise of all ecclesiastical functions. This suspension shall continue in force until the three conditions mentioned below shall have been fully complied with, and until you shall have been duly absolved from the above mentioned censure (i h r by mys! or by a person delegated by me for the purpose. The three conditions are as follows:

First: You shall return to the Hastings rectory all the household furniture taken by you from the said rectory, and now or until recently in your possession.

Secondly: You shall reture to me in the procathedral in the city of Lincoln and before me or such persons as I may commission to receive the said promises.

Thirdly: You shall retire to the monastery of the Franciscan Fathers at Columbus, Neb., or to the monastery of the Benedictine Fathers at Alchison, Kan., and there for the space of at least six days you shall give yourself up to holy retreat, during which time you shall make a sacramental confession, evidence of having made such retreat and confession to be furnished to me. The necessary faculties to absolve you from the censure hereinbefore mentioned will be sent to the monastery in which and confession to be furnished to me. The necessary faculties to absolve you from the censure hereinbefore mentioned will be sent to the superior of the monastery in which you propose to make the retreat.

If it be your intention not to comply with the conditions mentioned above, I advise you in time to leave the diocese, and thereby to prevent further scandal, because I am determined to maintain ecclesiastical discipline, cost what it may, in case you shall not have compiled with the above conditions on or before the 29th inst. I shall as soon thereafter as convenient take steps to provide another rector for the David City mission.

From beginning to end the bishop showed his determination to rid the discess of the offending priest. If the purpose was to punish him for violating the canons of the church, his suspension would be general. No other bishop could accept him while the suspension was in force. The suspension decreed by Bishop Bonacum was limited to After two years of alternating confidence the diocese, a thing unknown in canon law. Father English realized the purpose of the and confusion, of rosy hope and repudiated attacks, and would have battled for his pledges, of successive promises more honored rights had there been a shadow of a hope cess. AMUSEMENTS.

Daniel Sully closed his engagement at Boyd's last evening with a small audience that withheld the greater part of the appreciation due him for his very creditable performance. Mr. Sully's work has ever been characterized by a blunt, but nevertheless warm, sympathetic humor. His new play, "O'Nell, Washington, D. C.," gives this individual trait ample scope. The play itself, however, lacks the dramatic force necessary to make it a great success. With Mr. Sully's present company, "O'Nell, Washington, D. C.," is essentially a one-part play, and that part, of course, belongs to himself. The interest in the plot centers around the efforts of a designing rival to frustrate the inventor's certainty of success. Mr. Frank Allen plays the part of the schemer in a most perfunctory manner, W. play, "O'Nell, Washington, D. C.." cess. Mr. Frank Allen plays the part of the schemer in a most perfunctory manner, W. F. Rudolph essays the comedy role and might have succeeded better with an audience less critical. Miss Maud Sheridan's work was much above the average of those with whom she was surrounded. Miss Louise Sully had a somewhat difficult role, which she carried very successfully, being especially strong in the closing act, where she sacrifices her own pride in order to circumvent the plans of the man upon whom she had previously bestowed her heart.

Intimation that the Inspector Will Tell Something Which Will Hart the Hend of New York's Police Force-Byrnes Will Not Talk.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.-Police Inspector Alexander S. Williams was plainly upset today in consequence of yesterday's testimony before the Lexow committee. A reporter who asked him for a statement regarding Captain Schmittberger's sworn statement that money collected from law breakers had been regularly divided with Williams and other police officials, was the recipient of a volley of vile epithets hurled at him by the inspector, who also advanced upon the reporter with elenched and upraised hand.

"Get out of here!" roared Williams, von't talk to anybody."

A suggestion that he was the one favored n being given an opportunity to clear himself in the estimation of the public merely angered the inspector the more.

"You're a d---d fool!" he shouted. "You don't know enough to take no for an answer. Go out of here or I'll have you put out!" Inspector McAvoy, who is also implicated n bribe-taking by Captain Schmittberger's testimony, asserts that he never received oney from Schmittberger.

Superintendent Byrnes would not talk of the incidents of yesterday and took refuge behind the locked door of his private office. Among people who generally have foreknowledge regarding police exposes there is a well defined expectation that Inspector Will-lams will be called before the Lexow committee before it concludes the taking of testimony, which will be on Thursday afternoon. It is represented that Williams re-gards himself as having been attacked by Schmittberger with the purpose of shielding himself and Superintendent Byrnes. Friends of Williams are represented as noting in this connection the long standing enmity between the superintendent and the inspector, and the fact that Schmittberger, once a bosom friend and the con-fidential wardman for Williams, has of late been on terms of Intimacy with Byrnes. These people see throughout Schmittberger's testimony of yesterday evidence that Byrnes was always in the captain's mind and that care was taken from first to last to shield superintendent. The feeling Williams and Byrnes is one of bitter resentment and upon this and the theories above recited are based the expectations of a counter confession by the inspector. Mayor Gilroy was asked if he intended to ake any steps to bring about the removal of Commissioners Martin and Sheehan in consequence of the Schmittberger statements of yesterday. He said: "Before taking any action charges would have to be preferred against these commissioners to me, being the judge in the c being the judge in the case could not take the initiative. As yet the matter has not been brought to my attention officially. If the charges were made and proven I could only recommend to the governor their dismissal." governor their dismissal." Commissioner Sheehan was emphatic in his denial of the statements affecting him, which were embodied in Captain Schmittberger's testimony. A special meeting of the police board will be held on Monday to consider the Schmittberger testimony. Lawyer Lewis Grant, who is acting for Commissioner Sheehan, said today that Cap-tain Schmittberger dare not produce the let-ler which he yesterday asserted had been sent him by the commissioner with relation to the man Proctor in the gambling matter. of Police Commissioners, complains that Schmittberger put him in a false light regarding alleged disorderly houses on Fifty-first street.
