It is now certain that the police caught at least one of the highwaymen who turned themselves loose in South Omaha Saturday night. The name the prisoner gives is John Constantius. It is supposed this is a fic-titious cognomen. Jailor Mulcahy took the three suspects up to the hospital where Mc-Cune, the victim of Saturday night's asmen, but said he was not positive enough to swear. A number of ladies interested in the welfare of the Convent of the Good Shepherds, South Omaha, solicited donations from friends last week, and on Sunday afternoon visited the convent and presented the sisters with a wagon load of provisions, donated by generous people. The donation included all the necessaries for an abundant Christmas feast, and considerable to spare. It was a com-plete surprise to the sisters, and a most agreeable one, and their gratitude and happiness was delightful to hear and behold. The donors were amply compensated for their efforts, and realized the higher significance

Commissioner Jenkins Says the County Poor Bave Always Had Short Measure

No appointment will be made by the Board of County Commissioners until the beginning of the new year to fill the vacancy time caused by the removal of C. E. Currier, county agent.

The charges of shortage, which have recently been made, were fully investigated by the board and the weight found to be short of what it should have been. This resulted in a resolution being passed last Saturday removing Mr. Currier.

Commissioner Jenkins, in speaking of the matter, said: "In relation to the matter of the removal of Mr. C. E. Currier, county agent, I have this to say: While there may be some suspicion cast upon Mr. Currier for sending these packages out short weight, yet it is a grave question, in my mind, whether the blame should fall on him or not. That office and its workings can be traced back to its beginning, and to prove that this system must have been in vogue under past management it is only necessary to refer back to the various inventories which were through Omaha with some cattle from a ployed for a number of years and learned of his father's death. He proceeded to find out, if he could, where the body had been buried, intending to take it to Shenandoah, Ia. for interment. On looking up the records and the disbursements with the debtor side of this department. In the comparisons it has always been found that the stock over-run, and this, I presume, has been on ac-trooting of the short weights sent out. It the prices paid by retail merchants, is also a fact that the goods are furnished to the poor at wholesale prices, thereby savwhich there was no way to identify. The son was shown all the records pertain-ing to the case and was convinced that the body how here the termed, is more of a sensation than body had been disposed of according to the laws of the state. A little of the history of the father was the poor of the county, it nevertheless comes with very bad grace from those who are being helped to try to have the public be-lieve they are being robbed. The labor text is going to be applied in a more vigorous manner in the future than ever before. We are here to protect the interests of the pub-lic, and not our own. Personally, I do not resent criticiam, but I do resent injustice."
