Mr. Ocok was as-sisted in the process of installation by his fellow justice. Ovide Vien, who had been through the process himself and exhibited a ghoulish gies in seeing Cook go through the mysterious rites that ushered him into office. One of the dampers on the era of good feelng that now exists in the judicial circles of Kane township is the fact that a new law went into effect January 1, by which the justices are required to turn into the county all fees which come into their hands in excess of $1,200 in cities of between 20,000 and 30,000 population. The board of supervisors will probably have to decide whether the jushave to pay their office rent and coal bills out of the $1,200, or shall be allowed a sum for contingent expenses. This question, however, will not come up before the next meeting of the board.

OFFICE, . NO. 12 PEARL STREET. Called Upon to Settle a Number of Important Questions.

MONTHLY GAS BILL UNUSUALLY LARGE

New Meter Causes the Members to Question the Accuracy of the Figures-Omaha Bridge and Terminal Company's Comptaint.

The city council met in regular monthly session last evening, with Mayor Cleaver and Alderman Brewick, Gleason, Grahl, Keller, Nicholson, Rishton and White present. Among the bills presented was that of the Gas and Electric Light company, one of the tems of which was $63, for light at the city building. A new meter had just been put in, and it seemed to be an open question whether some clerk had made a mistake in figuring, or the meter had sat up nights to real off amperes. The till was finally allowed, with the exception of this one item, which was referred to the light committee for investigation.

The committee to which was referred the ectition of the Omaha Bridge and Terminal ompany for a reduction of assessment on its bridge, reported that the assessment was only 64 per cent of that of the motor bridge and 38 per cent of the Union Pacific, which showed that the assessor had taken into consideration the facts stated in the petition The report, adverse to the petition, was con-

The ordinance vacating South Seventh treet was again laid over for one month. An ordinance imposing a penalty of no nore than $5 for any dealer expeaing for sale iny loaves of bread weighing less than twenty-four ounces was read, and Peter Smith taked its passage, saying that that weight had been settled upon by the bakers of Councll Bluffs, Omaha and South Omaha. The rules were suspended, and the ordinance whereupon Mr. Smith agreed to set up the ple.

An ordinance was read, regulating the levying and collection of taxes for the paving of streets and alleys. It was modelled on the new ordinance about to be passed by the Des his sermons, which have so far been aimed Moines city council, and is intended to sepa-only at professed Christians, are causing a order that the unpaid amounts for paving may not be added to the city indebtedness By this ordinance the contractor is required and Gardeners' association have passed a res. to sign an express waiver of any claims olution tendering thanks to the ladies of the against the city, and is enabled to collect Christian church, Mr. J. M. Maithews, the directly from the abutting property owners. It was read once, and then laid over until Saturday night, when another meeting is to be held.

Anna M. Stephenson presented a claim of $2,500 damages for a broken limb, the result of a fall on a piece of defective sidewalk, at the corner of Madison avenue and Stabl street, Ocotber 20, 1894. It was not allowed. T. J. Evans presented a communication stating that the brick used in paving Oakland avenue were not equal to the samples furnished with the bid, and suggesting that me measures be taken to repair any bricks that might prove defective from wear or frost. It was placed on file.

A communication was read from J. R Webster of the Omaha Bridge & Terminal Railway company, which stated that their superintendent had been circulating around among the owners of property abutting on Union avenue and found that they were outspoken in their promises to "hold up" the company and compel it to pay for their property. This, he said, was not the sort of treatment they had expected from the people of Council Bluffs and would undoubtedly delay the company's plans.

Mayor Cleaver suggested that the city might order the street brought to grade in case the property owners refused to allow the work to go on, in which case he thought the property owners would be more willing to acquiesce in the company's desires. Alderman Nicholson thought this would merely precipitate a squabble, out of which no good would come, and several other aldermen conplaced on file. The meeting adjourned till Saturday.

Mrs. F. Clark, Soothsayer and Worker of Mysteries, in the Tolls.

Deputy Sheriff Fullen of Sloux City has been going through a lively chase for the past few days in the attempt to locate Mrs. F. Clark, a clairvoyant who has been working the boom city for all it is worth for several weeks. Mrs. Clark advertised herself as the possesorr of second sight and as a good person to tie to. She succeeded in gulling about fifteen people in Sloux City whose credibility exceeded their good sense. Among them was a washerwoman, who bought what Mrs. Clark called a "lucky Mrs. Clark representing that if the owner would purchase a ticket in any lot-tery she would draw a capital prize every The washerwoman paid $25 in cash for it, besides pawning her watch with Mrs. Clark for $20, and giving a note for $5 more. The washerwoman found that the lucky belt had no appreciable effect in squeezing money out of the lottery company, and so was ready for revenge, and swore out a warrant for Mrs. Clark's arrest, charging her with ob-taining money under false pretenses.

Mrs. Clark, accompanied by her husband and little child, hove into sight over the Northwestern railway Saturday and would have been met at the Broadway depot by Sheriff Hazen, but they went on to the transfer instead of stopping at the Broadway depot, to which point they had checked their baggage. At the transfer it was learned that they had induced the baggageman to give them checks on their baggage to Chicago this morning for Red Oak, where they will over the Milwaukee road, in exchange for the checks they held, and had then left for Chicago. A telegram was sent the officials at Tama City to arrest the woman and to wire Sheriff Davenport at Sloux City. This was done Sunday, and that night Deputy Sheriff Fullen went to Tama City to get Mrs. Clark is said to be one of the smoothest confidence gamesters that has ever plyed her trade in the state. She was in Council Bluffs for some little time about two years ago, and stopped at the Scott house on North Main street, registering under the name Main street, registering under the name of Mrs. F. Fifty-Three Enrolled.

The night school began operations on the third floor of the Bloomer building last evening under the instruction of Miss Anderson, lately of Hillsdale, Ia. The opening was far better even than was expected, for fifty-three young people were present to begin work. Nine of these were young ladies. The ages of the pupils range apparently from 10 to 22 years. None of them are compelled by their parents to attend, but that they all come because they want to learn was evident last evening. Superintendent Sawyer's face was wreathed in smiles as he said, "I told you so," for he remembered how long he had had to work before the school board would allow the scheme to be tried. He and Colonel Dalley made some brief remarks. The beginning was made under the most auspicious circumstances, and those in charge are confident that another room will be needed before long History, arithmetic, geography, reading, writing and grammar will be taught. Sessions will be held every week-day evening, excepting Saturday, from 7 to 9:30 p. m.

Supervisors in Session. The County Board of Supervisors met yes terday, with Members S. B. Wadsworth. Perry Kearney, John Currie, L. B. Dentler and B. G. Auld present. The board was erfor the coming year by the election of S. B. Wadsworth as president. Quite a bunch of claims were filed by property owners, who paid taxes during the years 1888. 1889 and 1890, for the 2 mill rebate was coming to them on account of the excessive levy during those years, aggregated about $700. The The claims The board having extiled with Shea & Galvin, have established a precedent which will have to be followed out in all other like cases. It is expected that a large number of other claims will be filed between now and the April meeting, and an immense amount of work will have to be done in the line of checking up the claims with the books of the county treasurer. James McCabe, with a committee of memers of the Broadway Methodist church, peared before the board and asked that Claus Thompson's salcon be closed, on the ground that it was within the required distance from the church. The board discussed the mat-ter, and finally came to the conclusion that they had no jurisdiction. They suggested that the petition be taken to the county attorney, and there is not much doubt that he will be called upon to lend his official aid in closing the establishment.

The bonds of a large number of justices of he peace, township clerks and county offieers were approved, among the latter those of County Clerk F. L. Reed, for $20,000; Re-W. M. Shepard, $10,000, and Auditor J. M. Matthews, $10,000.

Tied up with it was the pen knife with which Hall made an ineffectual attempt to end his own existence, after he had committed the bloody crime. The revolver, with which William Boartz killed John Denahay in a saloon on Lower Broadway was there with the one that Thomas Brooks used in killing Frank DeGoode in the "Bucket of Blood" saloon, and the one with which Rev. D. M. Helmick of Neola slew Charles Palmer. The razor which William Madison flourished at a Danish dance on South Main street would come, and several other aldermen con-curred in his view. Paul Pickering, the well known engineer in the Northwestern, had an exciting run in from Boone Sunday afternoon. A special car was attached to the fast mail at Chicago for the accommodation of a theatrical troupe that showed there Saturday night and was booked for an appearance in Omaha Sunday night. This overloaded the train, and when it ar-rived at Boone it was forty minutes behind ime. The special car was accordingly left it Boone for No. 7, which was following close behind, to bring to Omaha, and Pickering was given instructions to bring the fast mal in on time if such a thing was among the possibilities. His famous engine, 627, was rought out and the race against time was ommenced. Seven stops were made on the way by delays in handling the mail, that a Missouri Valley being nine minutes in length and another at Carroll of almost the same duration. The rest of the time was spent in hustling by telegraph poles at a faster gair than has ever been covered, probably, by any train running between here and Chicago. Mile after mile was reeled off in fifty-five seconds. The distance from Dunlap to Missouri Valley twenty-seven miles, was covered at a rate thirty seconds better than a mile a minute The train and its prec'ous load was brough into the transfer just five minutes behind time, the entire distance between Boone and Council Bluffs, 150 miles, having been tra versed in two hours and fifty-five minutes. John Nelson, the fireman, had been transferred two days before from an engineer's run, and when the train pulled in at the transfer he was about as near a tuckered out specimen of humanity as is not often seen. Mrs. Paul Skipped Quarantine. The city authorities were busy yesterday afternoon looking for some way in which the strong arm of the law could be brought down upon Mrs. Richard Paul, who lives at 2123 Sixth avenue. She was taken sick last Thurs-day, and a physician whom she called in procounced the case diphtheria. She called doctor from Omaha with whom she was acquainted, and he said the case was not diptheria. Nevertheless, the house had already been quarantined. Saturday night Mrs. Paul decided that she wanted to see her little girl, who had been sent to the house of friends in Omaha, and so she went across the river. Marshal Ed Canning, who lives next door to her, found out she had gone and straight-way notified her not to return, and also notified the Omaha authorities to see that she was quarantined there. Notwithstanding all this, Mrs. Paul bobbed up serenely Sunday and said she had come home to stay. City Attor-ney Hazelton was asked to draw up an infor-mation charging her with an infraction of the rules of the Board of Health, but after he had waded through several tons of law books he announced that he could find no statute that just met the case. The mayor, marshal and city clerk tried their hand at it, but with little better success. When they separated the opinion seemed to be that the city had a law which provided for quarantining conta-

There seems to be a general desire on the part of the members of the legislature to dispose of the senatorial question as quickly as possible. Friends of some of the candidates predict that the question will be decided by Thursday night at the latest. The first joint caucus of the forty-eight republican members of the legislature will be held Wednesday or Thursday evening. At this meeting the claims of the several candidates will be thoroughly discussed, and the question whether the long or the short term senator shall be chosen first finally determined. An informal ballot may also be taken. The prediction is made that the first ballot will show the election of Francis E. Warren for the six-year term and that Clarence D. Clark will be an easy winner for the four-year position. Mr. Clark has the assurance of twenty votes, which will stay with him from first to last. Neither Laramic, Albany nor first to last. Neither Laramic and the candidate for governor to the candidate for governor to condition and men filed a motion to quash further proceedings. The balance of the day was consumed in arguments on the motion.

In the city council this morning an amendment to the mulcit saloo i ordinance of the whole. It stipulates that no saloon nor place where intoxicating I quors are sold or kept for sale shall be permitted to keep in connection therewith in the same room or in any adjoining room or rooms a restaurant, eating house or free lunch counter or to furnish to any person in said place such kind of refreshments. The matter will come up next Thursday evening. The saloons have been in the abit of late of setting out elaborate lunches, which have not only been expensive to themselves, but a detriment to the restaurants. It is probable the practice will be stopped.

Harlan Man's Neal Crushed men filed a motion to quash further pro-ceedings. The balance of the day was coninto consideration in this estimate. Laramie county, with her ten solid republican votes, and that the oath of office must gation will probably not, however, vote as a lon unit for any candidate for the second place, the political code, which provides the session. The senator will no diget three votes from Converse county, The senator will no doubt so far as is definitely known this is the extent of his following. Judge Jay L. Torrey of Fremont and John Davis of Carbon county have withdrawn om the senatorial race. They announced from the senatorial race. They announced this morning that they believed that it would greatly complicate matters if they permitted their names to go before the caucus, and in order to facilitate the business of the legislaure they would withdraw. Judge Brown of Albany county and Clarence D. Clark the only candidates for the second place. It is probable that Judge Brown will withdraw before the caucus convenes. action of Davis and Torrey makes the The

tion of Warren and Clark absolutely certain. MINNESOTA WILL BEGIN TODAY.

Governor's Message to Be Followed by Senatorial Election.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 7 .- The various state officers filed their bonds and were sworn in before the secretary of state several days ago, and there were no ceremonies of any sort today when they took charge of their respective offices. The governor's message will probably be sent to the legislature tomorrow as soon as the two bodies are organized. Both houses will hold caucuses of the majority party tonight to decide on their officers, so that there will be little de-lay tomorrow in getting to work and hearing the governor's message. The contest for the senatorial successor to Senator Washburn is slightly in abeyance until the legislature is organized, but the friends of the various candidates are not re-laxing their vigilance, and each member is approached as soon as he reaches the city No accurate poll of the legislature has yet been possible, many refusing to comm! themselves until the officers of the legislature have been selected. Senator Washburn is confident of re-election, Governoor Nelson is sure he will be chosen, and Congressman McCleary and ex-Congressman Comstock are equally positive that the contest will end in their favor. "Dark horse" predictions are freely indulged in.

LOBDELL WINS THE RACE. Outgeneraled All Opposition for the Kansas

Speakership.
TOPEKA, Jan. 7.—When the Kansas legislature convenes at noon tomorrow the house will be promptly organized by the election of C. E. Lobdell of Lane county as speaker. Lobdell has outgeneraled all opposition. The field against him had narrowed down to J. K Cubbison of Kansas City. This morning Mr. Cubbison said: "Unless Mr. Lobdell has agreed upon some one else to present his name in the republican caucus this afternoon at 4 o'clock I will do it myself." Cubbison was as good as his word, and Lobdell was decided on for speaker. Mr. Cubbison will be the speaker pro tem. Lobdell has made a remarkable race for the speakership. He is the youngest man ever elected in Kansas for the position.

Caucuses' on state printer may be held as early as Wednesday of this week, and for United States senator later. The great topic today is on the question of an open or secret caucus, and the overwhelming sentiment seems to be for a secret caucus. This has been the custom in recent

REV. D. K. TINDALL, D. D.

The session of the Third general assembly will convene in this city at noon on Tuesday. The question which temporarily overrides in interest the senatorial contest is who will get the minor positions in the gift of the senator and house. There are many candidates for the various clerkships.

David H. Craig of Carbon county and George W. Hoyt of Laramie county are the leading candidates for president of the senate. Clarence C. Hamlin of Sweetwater is also spoken of, but he says he is not a candidate. Mr. Craig will probably be the president, and Mr. Hoyt vice president.

J. C. Argesheimer of Cheyenne is the only candidate for chief clerk of the senate. He will no doubt be unanimously elected. For assistant clerk Mr. Blair, an attorney of Sheridan, and George W. Perry have been mentioned.

Judge Jay L. Torrey of Fremont county is the leading candidate for speaker of the house. He will no doubt be chosen, J. A. Van Orsdel and A. D. Kelley, both of Laramie county, are candidates, but the fact that the Tuesday. No Formality in lowa. DES MOINES, Jan. 7.-(Special Tele gram.)-All the recently elected state officers assumed their duties today without form or ceremony, Secretary McFarland and Auditor McCarthy succeeded themselves, continuing their force of assistants for another term. Treasurer Beeson turned for another term. Treasurer Beeson turned his office over to Hon. John Herriott of Stuart, the books balancing to a penny, and everything being entirely satisfactory. Mr. Herriott has continued ex-Senator D. B. Davidson as deputy, and appointed Mr. Merris and J. H. Wilson to positions in his department. Major C. F. Jones succeeded Hon. G. B. Pray as supreme court clerk, and appointed J. E. Whelan deputy, continuing H. M. Jones in the position of clerk. Attorney General Milton Remley of Iowa City arrived to take charge of affairs in that office, succeeding General John M. Stone, but it is not yet known what his appointments will be. Hon. B. R. Salinger succeeds N. B. Raymond as supreme court reporter.

"The mucus lining of my nose and throat were first affected. I had a watery, nasal discharge for a while, then it became offensive, and the left nostril swelled shut. The left eye ran water and gave me stinging pains. Soon my stomach was attacked. For five years I was a dyspeptic and couldn't digest enough food to furnish any strength or flesh. As the disease spread the bladder suffered also, giving me unspeakable distress. My sufferings kept rest and sleep away until my nervous system was about exhausted.

"Shall I tell how Dr. Shepard's work has acted on me?
