Cleveland Plain Dealer, Judge Buchwalter of Cincinnati in re-fusing to permit the extradiition of the Ken-tucky negro. Hampton, on the ground that he feared the people of that state would take the law into their own hands, seems to have had no hesitation whatever in tak-ing it into his. In disregarding the law which he is sworn to administer he has failed in his duty as a judge, and in violat-ing the comity between Ohio and a neigh-boring commonwealth he has been derelled in his duty as a citizen. The negro, Hamp-ton, is wanted in Green county, Kentucky, for shooting and wounding. That he should be tried for his act there can be no doubt. Certainly there is neither law nor com-mon sense to justify his being turned loose upon the people of Ohio. Yet this is Judge Buchwalter's decision, and the negro is free in Cincinnati. be regarded as assured. Recognizing the Monroe Doctrine. Springfield (Mass.) Repu

Springfield (Mass.) Republican. Forty years ago we had got so far toward a settlement of this dispute as the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which really set-tied very little, for Great Britain still claimed the right of protectorate over the Mosquitoes. Never until now has that na-tion formally abbandoned the claim and given the Clayton-Bulwer treaty the inter-pretation we have always put upon it. Now Great Britain abandons the Mosquito pro-tectorate absolutely, and acknowledges the authority of Nicaragua over it, and this naction settles that old dispute forever. Now also the United States and Great Britain stand in exactly the same relation of recog-nized neutrality to all Central American territory. Neither claims the right to occupy, or fortify, or claim any sovereignty over any part of it, and so far as this pledge goes Great Britain recognizes the Monroe doctrine. cause he is in full sympathy with them on all questions except the coinage of
