Iwo Whacking Big Bills Afready Sent in and More Coming Along. LINCOLN, Jan. 9 .- (Special.)-The house will, within a few days, be given an object esson in legislative expenditures. The bills for the "supplies" and "repairs" ordered by Secretary of State Allen on the eve of his exit from office are beginning to be filed with committee on claims. The first two bills were handed to the committee this afternoon, and one of them tells a story of velvet carpets and leather upholstering for cloak and committee rooms that will make the average taxpayer's hair stand up when he reads of the luxuriousness of the Nebraska legislature. A glance at the itemized bills will furnish for comment. Destitution at the Industrial School. LINCOLN, Jan. 9 .- (Special.) -- In his Deember report of the workings of the Stat Industrial School for Boys at Kearney, Superintendent Mallalieu states that during the year 1894 there were received from the courts and returned from parole, furlough, pardoned or discharged, 103 boys. During the same time 111 boys were paroled. There were present at the beginning of the year 226 boys and at the close 218 boys. The capacity of the school is about 200. The highest en-rollment during the year was 235 and the average attendance 220. There was but one death in the institution during the year. The superintendent then goes on to say:

In making my estimates for the ensuing two years, I was obliged to ask for a de-ficiency fund. This was due to the fact that two years, I was obliged to ask for a deficiency fund. This was due to the fact that the farm products, which have entered so largely into our living in the past, amounted to but very little during the past two years. On July 8, 1894, we had a hall storm which destroyed the entire crop on the farm and also that on some rented land (which was under irrigation), entailing a loss of about $12,000. We immediately replanted as much as we could, but the dry weather and the failure to get an adequate supply of water caused our experiment to result with very little good to the school. Had we got the crops this year our institution would have come through the blennial period without deficiency. We would have had ample vegetables for a population of 240, also feed for the stock, and could have disposed of a surplus to make up the shortness of several funds. As it is, we are obliged to purchase everything for the entire school, including feed and hay for stock, and to keep this up until the next yield from the farm.

STATEMENT OF THE STATE FINANCES

Struggle for the Senatorship Becoming Animated Ady Appears to Lead in the Race, Though Ingalls, Hood and Burton Have Friends.

TOPEKA, Jan. 9.-As the Kansas legislaure must meet on the second Tuesday in January and the governor be inaugurated on the second Monday it so happens this year that Governor Lewelling's administration does not end until nearly a week after the legislature convenes, because the second Tuesday of January this year comes before the second Monday. This session will thus have a message from the present governor and one from the governor to be inaugurated next week. Governor Lewelling has taken advantage of 108.50 this fact to present a very long document amounting to about 15,000 words. Governor Lewelling starts out by saying he shall speak as the governor of Kansas to the chosen representatives. "Devotion to the 122.50 whole people of Kansas, not regard for party 20.00 should control us here, however widely we may differ in our allegiance to party, where party allegiance may honorably control." He recalls the financial affairs and states that about $700,000 in bonds, issued mainly 37.50 for construction of public institutions, will mature during the next four years, leaving 19.50 but $100,000 state bonds then outstanding. Of the total amount the state institutions showed a large proportion. In view of the necessity of making preparations for the payment of such an amount of indebtedness within so short a time, and in view of the prevailing business depression, no appropriation should be made at this session for which a great immediate necessity does not exist. Whatever can wait should be made to wait until we shall have paid off our state indebtedness or until times shall have improved. Property should be assessed at its real value, says the governor, who gives in detail his plan for this result. He recommends legislation to restrict fee grabbing and making fixed salaries. He favors excluding foreign insurance companies from the state. Continuing he says: "The people have no longer the isolated saloon to combat, but must grapple with a gigantic Whisky trust. sentiment in our principal cities nullifies the prohibitory law; business men believe the bill, and the furnishings are only for the liquor traffic helps business; taxpayers be-house of representatives and the rooms adja- lieve licenses from saloons would lighten Neither now tenantless rooms; fashionable clubs are established where liquor is dispensed. "It is not whisky but money-business with which the war has now to be waged. Such a war can only be waged by taking all profit out of the liquor traffic; and this can be done only by having the government become the sole dispenser of liquors, selling them at actual cost. Prohibitory methods may be the best methods for the present but recent experience indicates that this law was not intended to operate upon all classes alike Sheriffs and county attorneys within whose jurisdiction are the principal cities of the state seem to have entirely forgotten the existence of a prohibitory law until during the recent political campaign and when they acted at all did so as a rule in hostility to the police instead of acting in harmony them. Instead of having the support and assistance of county officers in the enforcement of the laws, the police of the principal cities "But the prohibitory amendment will re main part of our constitution until superseded by nationalization of the liquor traffic. Event-ually the traffic will be forced to submit to the popular will."

The senatorial contest becomes more complicated each day and will not shape itself for some time yet. According to the adherents of the different candidates each makes daily pains of votes. From figures o implied by the friends of various candidates appears that J. W. Ady leads the Ex-Senator Ingalls, Calvin Hood and J. R. Burton have strong followings. The election will not occur for fifteen days, the repubicans going into caucus some time

The republican caucus assembled in the senate chamber this evening and organized by electing Representative W. B. Tucker chairman. The vote on state printer was taken without any speeches being made and resulted in a decided majority for Major J. K. Hudson, editor of the Topeka Capital. The numination was later made unanimous. overnor Richards Delivers His Message to the Legislature-Interesting Information. CHEYENNE, Jan. 9 .- (Special Telegram.) -The Wyoming legislature met at noon. The nominations of officers made by the espective caucuses were ratified. Judge Jay L. Torrey was elected speaker of the house and George W. Hoyt president of the senate The senate and house met in joint session this afternoon to listen to the reading of Governor Richards' message. The message is prefaced with a statement of the financial condition of the state. The revenues for the two years were stated to have been $544,492.01, including the balance of $114,089.02 on hand at that time. expenditures have been $396,156.85, leaving a balance in the treasury of $148,335.16. The bonded indebtedness of the state is $320,000. The financial interests of the state, he declares, have been well managed, but the pressing times demand a re-duction in the rate of taxation. In 1893 the total assessed valuation of all kinds of subject to taxation was $32,356,801 and in 1894 $29,198,841, showing a decrease in value in one year of over $3,000,000.

The governor disposes of the subject of extravagance among state officers thus: 'There is no greater check upon extravagance than to make public all accounts re-lating to the administration of state affairs Our constitution provides for the appoint-ment of a state examiner, whose duty it is 'to enforce a correct, and so far as practicable, uniform system of bookkeeping by state and county officers, so as to afford a suitable check on their mutual actions, and insure a thorough supervision and safety of state and county funds.' It is earnestly recommended that the law governing the state examiner be amended by conferring upon this officer such additional powers as will render the office more useful and effective in its administration."

The escape of "Kinch" McKinney, the notorious Nebraska rustler, from the Wyo-ming penitenthiry, is made the subject of discussion by the governor, concluding with the recommendation that a stone wall erected around the institution.

On the subject of caring for Wyoming game, the message says:
"The appropriation of $7,400 made by the last legislature has enabled the fish comlast legislature has enabled the fish com-missioner during the past two years to suc-cessfully conduct the operations of the hatchery, besides enlarging the buildings and doubling its capacity for usefulness. Over 1,000,000 fish have been distributed during this period throughout the streams and lakes of the state. The commissioner recommends that pur fish and game laws should be made to conform with those of adjoining states, as by this means the de-tection and prevention of all violations of tection and prevention of all violations of law would be materially aided. It is also recommended that a branch hatchery be established at or near Sheridan, furnishing northern Wyoming the same advantages that are now given to the gouthern portion of the state."

The report of the insurance commissioner hows that $6,000,000 of life insurance is carried by Wyoming citizens, on which annual premiums of $123.000 are paid, while $3.000,000 is carried in assessment comparties. The creating of a state board of pardons

In closing, the governor trusts that the deliberations of the legislature may be harmonious, and expressed a belief that its action will be of great and lasting benefit to the state.

Commission Admit There Has Been Fraud. SALT LAKE, Jan. 9,-Counsel for the Utah commission in the argument of the election cases today practically admitted that there had been fraud committed in connection with the San Pete county re-turns, that they had been tampered with without the knowledge of the commission or any of its employes, and that the revela-tions in court were a supersistant the revelations in court were a surprise to the com-mission. The commission having been con-vinced of fraud now expresses the intention of issuing certificates to the persons shown to be elected on the face of the returns. No decision has been rendered by the court.

Governor Nelson's Message. ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.-Governor Nelson's message was read to the legislature at 10 o'clock. He refers to the terrible forest o'clock. He refers to the terrible forest fires of last September, recites the measures of relief and calls on the legislature to reimburse the state commission for extra expenses incurred. The state grain inspection law of two years ago is approved, a fund for the protection of the farmers from the ravages of the chinch bugs and other insects advised, and amendments are recommended to the state game laws providing protection for fish in international waters.

Budd Will Be Inaugurated. SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 9.-Unless all signs shall fail, James H. Budd will be inaugurated governor of California at noon on augurated governor of California at noon on Friday. The surrender of the republicans seems to be complete. Without a dissenting vote the two houses of the legislature agreed today that the vote for governor and lleutenant governor should be canvassed before the legislature in joint assembly at 2 o'clock tomorrow. Subsequently a joint committee was appointed to wait on Governor-elect Budd and inform him that the legislature was ready to arrange for his inauguration and that they waited his pleasure.

Refuse to Enter a Caucus. BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 9.—The senatorial situation remains unchanged. Sweet's supporters today sought to call a caucus at once by petition. They secured nineteen names, nimeteen refusing to sign. This seems to defeat an early caucus, and it is possible none will be held until after several ballots in the inine generation. one will be held until after several ballots a the joint convention.

In the senate today Robertson introduced resolution for the submission of a constitutional amendment granting suffrage to younge. It is thought it will pass, The ningteen republicans who signed the call will go into caucus tomorrow night.

Not Ready to Let Evans In. NASHVALLE, Jan. 2.—Three measures bearing on the gubernatorial contest were introduced in the legislature today. A res Introduced in the legislature today. A resolution by Mr. Butler, republican, provides for a joint session tomorrow to witness the opening and publishing of the vote by the speaker of the house. Mr. Stoville and Mr. Caldwell, both democrats, offered bills providing methods of determining the contest, having in view the postponement of the publication of the certified returns of the vote for governor by the speaker of the senate until an investigation can be had.

Regulating Telephone Rentals. JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.-In the house oday bills were introduced fixing a maxischedule of telephone rental ranging from $10 to $25 a year; making eight hours a legal day's work; requiring condemned criminals to be executed within the walls of the pentientiary; prohibiting alien ownership of lands, and for seizing such land after three years unless the owner becomes a citizen of the state. Elkins Has a Sure Thing on the Senatorship.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 9.-Both houses of the legislature met today, heard the governor's message and adjourned. William G. Worley was elected president of the senate, the populists voting with the repub-licans. W. Edwards was elected speaker of the house. Elkins' election as United States senator is unquestioned, as his man-agers named all the officers of both houses. Mantle Gets One of Them.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 9.- The republicar caucus tonight nominated Lee Mantle of Butte for the unfilled term in the senate The caucus is still working on the nominee to succeed Senator Powers. Mantle was appointed two years ago, but was not seated by the senate.

Oklahoma anxious for Statebood GUTHRIE, Okl., Jan. 9 .- Governor Renfrow submitted his semi-annual message to legislature in joint session at noon today. He comes out directly for statehood and such part of Indian territory as can be secured and asks that congress be strongly memorialized to grant the same.

BRAND THE CLAIM AS FALSE.

World's Fair Officials Expose a Pretender to an Award. CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 8 .- One of the odd re sults of the World's fair is the claims now made to awards by some who were not even exhibitors. Officials of the exposition have not as yet taken final action in the matter, believing the quick wit of the people will detect the spurious claims. But to the case of a New York baking powder, that has bee widely advertising an award, the attention of the chief of awards for agriculture, has been directed. He brands the claim of this pre-tender as false, declaring "Neither the records of this department, nor the official catalogue of the World's Columbian exposi-tion, show that this New York company was an exhibitor; consequently it could not re

The Price Baking Powder company of Chicago, having received the highest award, say they are convinced their claims and those of all other olders of rightful honors, will be fully vin

HUSTLING FOR A JOB. Remarkable Rivalry of Undertakers in New Jersey Town.

"One day last week," said a Camden, N. J. physician to the New York Tribune, "I was called to attend a baby who had some infantile complaint. The young parents were naturally alarmed about it and insisted upon me seeing it twice a day. The child was in no danger, and when I received a sum-mons to come a third time I was busy and postponed my visit for about an hour. When I arrived at the house I found an under-taker there, and the thought flashed over me that perhaps the child had grown worse and died during my absence. My fears proved groundless, however, and I found the little one doing nicely. The undertaker lingers about for a while and then left. While bending over the child's crib I noticed a piece The undertaker lingere of pasteboard stuck in the bed clothing. pulling it out, I found it was the undertaker's card. I exclaimed, 'where are you going" 'Just up to Mr. Soandso's,' he replied; 'I hear his baby isn't expected to live.'"

OBJECT TO REORGANIZATION

Colorado Legislature Passes Resolutions Concerning the Pacific Roads.

THINK ONE RECEIVER IS ENOUGH

Claim the Present Receivers Are but the Continuation of the Old Company in Control-Favor Foreclosure by the Government.

DENVER, Jan. 9 .- The house of representatives today adopted the following reso-

Union Pacific railroad by five receivers designated by the corporation is a continuation in authority of the same management which has wrecked it and is not in the general interest: be it

"Resolved. That our senators be instructed. and our representatives in congress be requested to resist every effort which may be made in congress to reorganize the Pacific railroad companies so as to reinstate or perpetuate their management or to extend to them the government credit, and that they be further instructed and requested to urge upon congress such action as will direct the proper authorities to secure the appointment, without delay, of a competent and impartial sole receiver to take possession of and manage the Union Pacific and Central Pacific in the interest of the government and all parties concerned until it can be determined what foreclosure or final adjustment should be made

FORECLOSURE ON THE U. P. Senate Wants to Take Action but is Walt-

ing for the House, WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 .- E. Ellery Anderson, one of the government receivers of the Union Pacific railroad, made a statement before the senate committee on Pacific railroads with special reference to the possible foreclosure of the first mortgage and its effect upon the government's interest. After hearing Mr. Anderson it was decided to take no action until after the house shall act, but it is understood that the committee will then be prepared to deal with the question. The members of the committee are generally of the opinion that the question is of sufficient urgency to justify its immediate consideration, and there is little room for doubt that it would be taken up at once but for the feeling that any action of the senate com mittee or the senate itself would be futile unless the house had already acted. It was stated that bills were already in course of preparation for the foreclosure of the first mortgage on the Union Pacific road because of default in the payment of interest, and the opinion was freely expressed that unless some action should be taken at this session the United States would fail to secure any return for its investment in the road. Efforts will now be directed toward securing action

President of the Nickel Plate Resigns to Devote His Time to the Lake Shore. CLEVELAND, Jan. 9 .- It is announced here that General D. W. Caldwell has tendered his resignation as the president of the Nickel Plate railroad and will hereafter devote his entire attention to his duties as president of the Lake Shore, a position which he has held in conjunction with that of president of the Nickel Plate for the past two president of the Nickel Plate for the past two months. General Caldwell has been president of the Nickel Plate about ten years and it is to his excellent management that the road owes much of its success. It is understood that President S. R. Callaway of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City road will, in the course of a few days, be appointed president of the Nickel Plate

o succeed General Caldwell.

Goes to Other Fields. It will be quite a surprise in express circles to learn that Mr. R. B. Reeves, agent of the Adams Express company at this point, will leave about January 20 for Springfield, where he will take the position of joint agent for the Adams and Wells Fargo companies. Mr. Reeves will be succeeded by Mr. Charles H. Howard, who is quite well known to railroad men hereabouts, at present occupying the position of city passenger agent of the Burlington at Denver. Mr. Howard was for merly advertising man of the B. & M., and previous to that was interested with Fred Nye in the publication of "Town Topics," some five years ago. Mr. Howard is a trained express man, and he will be welcomed back to Omaha by his old time friends. Simply Waiting for Lomax. CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The western lines met today to consider the Union Pacific position and adjourned after a short session as no epresentative of that line was present. A elegram was received from General Passenger Agent Lomax saying that he be here tomorrow and would take up the boycott question. The more sanguine of the western lines are now confident that an ad-justment will be reached and the passenger association finally launched. Considering Car Mileage. CHICAGO, Jan. 9 .- The joint conference between the mileage committee of the Western, Central Traffic and Trunk roads was held today, mainly to consider the question of mileage to be paid by the roads to each other on their various classes of interchange cars. The matter will be further considered

Do Bostonians Chew Gam Like This? Aesthetic persons in Boston, U. S. A., says the London News, are groaning over the habit indulged in by literary ladies of chewing gum while reading their papers to the various societies. On the other hand, lec-turers complain that the view from the platform of a whole audience diligently chewing gum, with all the varied facial distortions attendant upon the practice, is as disagreeable as it is distracting to the thoughts. One peculiarly sensitive man, a reciter, declares that he often feels in danger of break-ing down through disappointment. Whether he gives them tragedy, comedy or farce, the assembly goes on chewing gum all the same, Minneapolis Times: Lives of men oft remind us, honest men stand no chance; the we work, there grow behind us bigger patches on our pants. On our pants, once patches on our pants. On our pants, once new and glossy, there are stripes of different hue, because our readers do not pay us what is honestly our due. So, good friends, be up and doing; send your dues, however small; or, when the snow of winter strikes us, we shall have no pants at all.
