ANNUAL CHURCH MEETING.

Society of the First Congregational Plans for the Fu ure.

The annual meeting of the First Congregational church and society was held on Wednezday evening and matters of great importance to the church and others con cerned were adjusted. For almost three months the pastor, Rev

Dr. Joseph T. Duryea, has been suffering from nervous prostration, which has prevented any service on his part in connection with his church and people. This break in leadership came at a time when every ele-ment of strength was being severely drawn upon, but with the fidelity and courage for which this church has always been noted the services and devotional meetings have been fully kept up. The new year has now come, however, when it is customary to lay out work and readjust affairs for the ensu-ing twelve months. At the meeting Wednesday evening it was made clear that Dr. Duryea would not be able to return to me for several months, if at all, and that some definite and semi-permanent arrangements the high esteem in which their pastor is held, not only in Omaha, but elsewhere, as a preacher and teacher, and how valuable his ence in this community has come to be eensidered. They know, too, how difficult a matter it would be to fill his place in their With hope inspired by sympathy and personal interest in the doctor's recovery and return to his people, it was unanimously decided to defer any action looking to a per-manent change in pastors until he shall have had the benefit of long rest and congenial climate, trusting that by midsummer he will begin anew his work among them.

With characteristic generosity it was voted to allow the doctor full salary for the three months already past, and to give him a further leave of absence of six months on half pay. In the meantime a committee will secure a suitable man for temperary supply.

with liberal compensation.

In spite of hard times the very energetic finance committee, Mr. George A. Hoagland and Mr. W. O. Taylor, reported a payment of $5,000 on the church debt January 1. Plans were adopted by which $2,200 more will be raised to meet another emergency.

It was decided to continue the envelope system for revenue, and a general repledging of loyalty during the coming season was indulged in. A full board of trustees, consisting of W. H. Alexander, William Fleming, P. Tukey, Charles E. Sumner and Dr. A. Somers, was elected, with H. A. Snow as

PASSING OF A PIONEER.

Charles F. Goodman, One of Omaha's Prominent Citizens, at Rest.

For a number of years Mr. Goodman had been a sufferer with Bright's disease, which was the immediate cause of his death. He resided at 1895 South Tenth street. His family consisted of a wife and four children, three sons, Oscar, Edward and Albertus, and one daughter, Miss Emma Goodman. Mr. Goodman was born in Germany in 1834, and came to America when 18 years of age. Soon after his arrival he entered the employ of a drug company in Columbus, O., having previous to that taken a three years' rourse in chemistry in a university in Saxony. Before locating in Omaha he conducted a prosperous business in drugs and paints in Pairolis D. Prosperous business in drugs and paints in Petrolla, Pa., and was widely known through-out that region, which was just then coming into prominence on account of its oil wells. In 1868 Mr. Goodman established himself in Omaha, and his progressive ideas and great business fact early placed him in the first rank of the pioneer marchants of the great northwest. His business grew from the start, and at the prezent extends over Nebraska, western Iowa, Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado and Utah.

Mr. Goodman always took an active in Colorado and Utah.

Mr. Goodman always took an active interest in the affairs of his adopted state and represented this district in the legislature for several years. He was an ardent expoporter of the protective tariff. He also held the office of president of the Board of Trade. He took a great interest in the wellfare of the city and was a member of the Board of Education. of which he was president. He was also a member of the city council from the First ward. He was a prominent Mason and was connected with many of the public and private institutions of the city.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 1 o'clock next Monday, with interment at Forest Lawn.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

New Members Take Hold-Officials Mak Their Annual Reports.

The first meeting of the new Board of Health, in which Councilmen Thomas and Gordon succeed Bruner and McAndrews, was held yesterday afternoon, with all members in attendance. The greater part of the time was occupied in hearing the annual reports of the health officers, which were approved and placed on file. Commissioner Saville of the health officers, which were approved and placed on file. Commissioner Saville submitted a rather lengthy report, in which he advocated such measures as would tend to place what are known as "avoidable" diseases under more effective control. To this end he recommended that the inspector of contagious diseases be relieved of all clerical work in the office, that he might give his entire time to his outside work, and that his salary be raised to $1,500 per year.

The report referred to the improvement that had been made in the regulation of the milk business and stated that during the brief time that the Poppleton avenue dump had been in existence the city had been cleaned up in excellent order and was in better saultary condition than at any time during recent years. The commissioner again urged the necessity for a detention hospital and ambulance service, and suggested that four of the unused election booths could be utilized as pest houses. He advised the appropriation of a sufficient sum to provide for analytical inspection of ice, as some of the ice that was being harvested for city use contained the germs of typhiod fever and should not be sold to consumers. He also renewed a former recommendation that the force of sanitary inspectors be limited to four men that their salaries be increased to $75- per month, and that each of them be directed to supply himself with a horse. The cost of running the department during the current year with these changes was estimated at $14,000, of which $19,100 was

The bills for labor in constructing the Poppleton avenue dump, which have been hang ing fire for two months, were allowed. They mount to $71.41.

The report of the register of vital statistics showed that there were 221 births during December and eighty deaths. The death rate for the year was 8.2 per 1,000 inhabitants. The report of the meat inspector showed that he had condemned during the year 17, 481 pounds of beef, 1,685 of pork, 1,875 of mutton and 7,265 of fish. Besides this he had condemned 48 boxes of cheese, 885 sacks of potatoes, 4,167 cans of canned goods, 2,150 bunches of beauty ounches of bananas and considerable quantities of eggs, game and other catables.

Half a dozen applications for positions as nspectors were placed on file.

On motion of Chief Seavey no ice will be allowed to be harvested in the Missouri river allowed to be harvested in the Missouri river below the Nicholas street sewer, and the commissioner of health was authorized to have chemical inspections made of ice and of the water in one well in each ward.

The commissioner stated that he had been informed that Meat Inspector Frank had been very numerous around the members of the city council in lobbying on the ordinance regulating the right of the paddure to do business in the right of the peddiers to do business in the business district, adjacent to Sixteenth and Douglas streets. Mr. Frank was immediately on his feet with an explanation, but the board adjourned and left him still talk-

Within the past twenty years large sums of money have been spent in railway building and other improve ments in Nebraska. There is naturally nothing left to revive the old prosperity except the crop. Nebraska has received a very the crop. Nebraska has received a very black eye by the sensational accounts of starvation and suffering in this state scattrict buy to Hermosa; those for trict buy to Hermosa; those for trict buy to Hermosa; those for the keystone and Hornard broadcast through the east. That has tered broadcast through the east. That has done more to hurt the state than anything else."

"The highly colored and outrageous exaggerations of destitution in counties as published in New York, Boston people of the church understand sandbagged the state of Nebraska," excesteem in which their paster is other eastern papers have just simply club, with evident indignation. "As a mer-chant and a citizen I protest against the methods of injudicious advertising which methods of injudicious advertising which emanated in Omaha and was telegraphed all over the country. It was a good thing for space writers, but bad for Nebraska. We can take care of our own. Eastern capital-ists will certainly be timid about Nebraska credits and investments until there is another good crop to offset the damage that has been done this state by the publication of such stuff as has recently appeared in the eastern press. They don't stop to realize down there that the suffering is in drouth counties, where plenty of rain is always needed, or that the farmers there are many of them new and poor. The general impression formed from these articles in the papers is that all Nebraska is starving and that the state has gone to ruin. It would be a mighty hard job to float any Nebraska bonds in the east nowadays for that reason."

DUNN ESCAPES A SENTENCE. Judge Dundy Took Fity on the Man and Let

Him Down Easy. There was a somewhat dramatic scene in Judge Dundy's court yesterday when John Dunn of Niobrara stood up to be sentenced for supplying a Sloux Indian with liquor. Dunn is an old soldfer and a widower. H is the father of two interesting children, who would have been left unprotected and alone to fight the battles of the world if the father had been placed in prison. Dunn did not plead the baby act nor have his children in lears present in the court room to work upon the sympathies of the federal jurist. There was just a bit of moisture in his eye and his lips quivered, however, when in response to the judge's question he said that he had a

"Two children," was the reply.
"Where is the mother?" Judge Dundy paused for a few moments. "What means have you at your disposal to turn over to your children when you go to jail?" asked the judge.

The prisoner drew from his pocket a piece of paper and laid it on the judge's desk. It was an honorable discharge as a soldier from the Fourth New York regiment after three years of active service for his country. "I have nothing, sir, but my pension," and Dunn struggled manfully to keep back the

This is the season when the license inspec-tor is in a peck of trouble. This year the posters have not applied for license and the chances are that they will not be interfered with. The ordinance provides that they shall take out a $100 license each, but Judge Scott decided that the ordinance was unconstitutional, and this source of revenue will be lost. The ordinance was directed at nonresident firms, which were in the habit of flooding the city with hand bills on frequent occasions to the alleged detriment of local dealers, but the court held that it applied to all men alike.

W. N. NASON, President. Mrs. Thleman's Death.

Coroner Maul held an inquest yesterday ver the remains of Mrs. Charles A. Thie man, who was burned to death early Phursday morning. The members of the lary carefully inquired into the matter, probing the many rumors to the effect that the place was robbed and set on fire to conceal the crime. There was no evidence to substantiate these reports, and the jury found that the woman came to her death by being burned in her residence, the origin of the fire being unknown. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this morning from Maul's undertaking rooms. Mr. Thleman was resting easy last night, and seemed to Thursday morning. Luxuriant Hair

With a clean, wholesome scalp, free from irritating and scaly eruptions, is produced by CUTICURA SOAP, the most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and nursery. It clears the scalp and hair of crusts, scales, and dandruff, destroys microscopic insects which feed on the hair, soothes irritated and itching surfaces, stimulates the hair follicles, and supplies the roots with energy and nourishment. For the pre-vention of facial blemishes, for giving a brilliancy and freshness to the complexion, as well as for cleansing the scalp and invigorating the hair, it is without a peer.

For had complexions, oily, mothy skin, red, rough hands and shapeless mails, dry, thin, and falling har, and simple baby blemishes it is wonderful.

STILL HE GOT THE DUCKS.

Young Nimrod Shoots Wild Fowl and Goes to Jail. Yesterday Judge Scott discharged from the county jail a boy named Howard Litt. who had been ordered to confinement in the bastile for the space of one day, and until a fine of $16.50 was either paid or boarded

A couple of days ago Howard was animated with the idea of pursuing the wild game of the prairies. The fact that at this time of the year such pursuit is strictly prohibited by the laws of the commonwealth did not enter at all in his calculations. He only knew that he wanted to go hunting, and with the usual decision of a soy, he acted im-mediately. He took down the shot gun from the wall, and wandered forth with the spirit of Nimrod in his soul. His first place of opera-tions was southwest of South Omaha, where he struck the trail of a flock of ducks. With indemitable courage and skill be tracked them up, and arrived within shooting distance. He put his trusty weapon to his shoulder and brought several of the wild and free fowl to the earth with a thud. The family of Litt had every expectation of having roast duck for dinner that day. But the hunting operations of Howard had been witnessed, and before he had fully got over his exhilaration at having brought the wild denizens of the skies to mother car he was rudely awakened to the fact that had been violating the laws. Justice of the Peace Montgomery rules at South Omaha, and before him the youthful offender was brought. After due and deliberate consid-eration the magistrate of the law decided that for the aforesaid violation of the lathat for the atoresald violation of the law the culprit should be incarcerated in the county jail for the period of one day and should further pay a fine of 50 cents and costs. This was not much for a number of costs. This was not much for a number of big, fat ducks, one would say, and Heward would would not have thought so either if he had had to pay only 50 cents. But the costs figured up $16, and that put a different aspect on the case. Never-theless Howard was transported to the county

At this stage of the play the parents of Howard took part in the proceeding and com-menced habeas corpus proceedings. The mat-ter came up before Judge Scott, who did not take the same view of the heiniousness Howard's offense, and discharged him.
