Committee Appointed to Take Some Action Looking to an Adjustment of the Difficulty Encountered in Connection with Union Avenue.

The city council held a special meeting yesterday afternoon, with President Keller in the chair and Councilmen Brewick, Gleas n, Grahl, Nicholson, Rishton, Spetman and White in their seats. The bread ordinance was put back upon its second reading and then laid over until the next regular meet-

The police commissioner recommended that no action be taken in regard to Poundmaster Edgar Rothschilds Bates' request for a ton of hay a month, and the report was concurred in Union avenue was braught up by the presentation of a resolution by Nicholson to appoint a committee of three to confer with property owners and induce them, if possible, to settle with the Terminal company on reasonable terms. Rishten said he had heard from the company's manager that some of the citizens were asking three prices for their property, and even demanding damages for lots on the opposite side of the street from where the track is to be lawl. Nicholson and Rishton were appointed such mmittee

The new ordinance with regard to paying The new ordinance with regard to paving assessments was amended so as to require street car companies to pay 10° paving between their rails and for one foot outside, on intersections, as well as in front of private property. City Attorney Hazleton states that it was the intention to make the new law apply to the Oakland avenue paving, but did not want the council to hurry their investigations of it unduly on that account investigations of it unduly on that account. The ordinance was then laid over until the next meeting, which will be held Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock. Rishton stated that he had investigated he electric light business and ordered eight lights cut off from the police department and three from the marshal's office. City Att r-ney Hazleton asked how it was that the company changed from a fixed charge per month to a charge by meter in the middle of the month. Rishton replied that he asked Superintendent Wright of the company and found that the police and marshal's depart-ments had been extravagant in their lights, as long as they could get as much seller. as long as they could get as much as they wanted for the same price. He accordingly decided that they needed calling d.wn, and did so by sending in his little bill of $63. This bill was declared all right and was duly allowed. The light committee was instructed to look up the contracts between the city and the company with reference to the lighting of the city buildings and see if some more satisfactory contracts cannot be

PHILLIPS' FAMILY AFFAIRS.

Boarding House Card Party Develops Into a Serious Quarrel.

L. E. Phillips, proprietor of the Central nouse, at the corner of Bryant street and Broadway, has been driven from bome by his wife and her boarders, and there is blood Last Saturday night there was a quiet little card party at the house. Phillips' daughter, Mrs. Real Summit, her husband, another daughter, named Eva Phillips, and one M. J. Miller were playing. When 10 o'clock came Phillips, who had to get up early in the morning and go to work cutting ice for Gilbert Bros., wanted the prizes awarded and the game closed. The players refused to stop whereupon Phillips graphed the refused to stop, whereupon Phillips grabbed the cards and stuck them in the stove. He went to bed, but did not stay long, for he heard low yeless must be stay long. low voices muttering in the adjoining room, family and boarders were discussing his coup. He got up and slyly opened the door, and heard his daughter Eva express a wish for a gun, and George Kissell one of the boarders, told her if she wanted one he would get it for her.

Phillips claims that from their conversation he gleaned the information that they were about to arrange a funeral, with him as the corpse, while all the rest with one accord said that nothing at all was said about it. When he heard the remark he stuck his head out of the door, and told them that if they wanted a gun he would get it for them They did not accept his offer, but, it is claimed, drove him out of the house, Yester day he was busy moving out a part of his furniture. The rest he will have to replevin, for Mrs. Phillips avers that it belongs t her, and she means to keep it.

Phillips had the whole outfit arrested yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Summitt, Mrs. Mary hillips, her daughter Eva, and her admirer, George Kissell. The charge preferred against them is threatening to kill, and it will be investigated in Justice Vien's court today. Mrs. Phillips and her husband have not succeeded in getting along very well together for two years past. They came here from Harlan about a year ago, and Mrs. Phillips claims that her liege lord was compelled by the people of that happy little borough to leave, or take a dose of medicine that would not have proved palatable. Ever since they have lived here their life has been a constant series of domestic broils, and she claims the has repeatedly threatened to kill her. He has also said that he means to have their little 2-year-old child, of whom he is fond, and so great is his affection for he said on one occasion that he would take it away if it had to go an arm at a time.

Stopped Paying Warrants. The general fund of Pottawattamie county is empty, and Treasurer Reed stopped paying warrants on that fund yesterday. A few days ago Reed submitted his report to the Board of Supervisors, by which it appeared that the fund had been overdrawn to the amount of over $3,000. Since then there has been enough money received to make up the deficiency, but from now on those who hold general fund warrants will have the warrants stamped instead of getting their cash. When a warrant is stamped it goes on bearing interest at 6 per cent per annum. Just what is the cause of the deficiency no one seems able to say. The appropriation is as large as usual, the sale of property for taxes was as profitable as last year, and there have been no extra large expenses. And yet the deficiency is there, and the only explanation so far made is that the Board of Supervisors has let the money go in drib-lets, which in the aggregate were large enough to leave the county quite perceptibly in the hole. The new tax lists came to the in the hole. The new tax lists came to the office of the treasurer on the 1st day of January, but the taxes are not delinquent until the 1st day of April. It costs the taxpayer no more to pay his taxes the day before they become delinquent than to pay them they become delinquent than to pay them today, and so the overwhelming majority put off the unpleasant task as long as possible. The present prespect is that no money can be paid out of that fund until after April 1.

SIOUX CITY, Jan. 14.- (Special Telegram.) Rev. J. W. Mahood and several members of the Ministerial association appeared in police court today, Mr. Mahood to testify against prostitutes who had been arrested. A month ago he began investigating gambiling and prostitution, which the police would not stop. At his request many of his congregation were in court, men and women. He told in detail of what he saw in houses of prostitution, and swore positively that they were places of that character, which policemen refused to do.

He told of a woman starting to stand on her head before a crowd of men and women, but being stopped by another woman, Police Judge Doughty caused indignation by ordering the court room cleared before Mahood was done, at the demand of the defendants, Mahood is backed by the Ministerial association and will push the effort until the town is rid of such places.

on the occasion of its annual installation of officers in their rooms in The Bee building.

A communication from the city electrician and a report of the council committee relative 200 gentlemen, representative of the ative to taking down the poles of the Northwestern Electric Light company ferred to the street commissioner with power to act. It is understood that the obnoxious poles well be removed.

The permanent sidewalk estimate of $4,217. in favor J. E. Riley was approved and the final estimate in favor of Hugh Murphy on the Tenth street repaying was laid over, pending instructions from the council. The ordinance provided for the repaying of the street from the south line of Mason to the north line of Williams streets. At the northern end of the the long tables the Venetian Mandolin club played airs suitable to the occasion, bright district there is something over half a block of stone paving which was not taken up The point was raised that the special tax could not be levied, as the entire district provided for in the ordinance had not been paved The council will be asked for in-

A STORY OF THE CENSUS.

Dr. John S. Billings of the Army Makes Sime Startling Revelations.

GHASTLY REVIEW OF DEATH STATISTICS

A Single Day's Record as Gleaned from Newspapers-How This Awful Death Rate Can Be Prevented.

Dr. John S. Billings, of the army, in a caper read before the Academy of Medicine in New York, gives some statistics of con-sumption taken from the last census which are simply appalling. During that year there was in this country 101,645 deaths from this disease. If we assume that the death rate in districts where the registration is not accurately kept is the same as in the districts where it is correctly reported we must conclude that the number of deaths from this malady during the census year was fully 125,000. If we estimate the average duration of the disease as two years we now have in the United States alone 250,000 cases of consumption. To show the prevalence of the disease and that the terrible mortality still continues we present below the record of a single day's havoc, as reported in a few only of the thousands of newspapers published in this country:

Hoston Spar, N. Y., News-George Mills die yesterday of consumption, aged 30 years. Two facts will present themselves to the reader as he scans the above sad list: the youth of the victims and the agony of their sufferings. When the age is mentioned it will be found to be between twenty and forty years; a time when, after years of study and preparation, they were ready to enter upon life's duties, and make a name for themselves in the various communities in which they lived. This is the saddest feature of consumption; it spares the very young and the very aged; those whose use fulness has not begun or is well nigh ended It mows down those in middle life, at a time when life is worth the living; when the present is fair and the future bright. But the saddest fact in connection with this awful list of deaths is that in many cases the lives of the victims might have beer saved. Consumption is not an incurable disease. No contagious malady is better understood; none for which we have a more certain cure. The germ which causes it has been fond and s'udied. We know exactly how the disease is conveyed from one person to another. Scientists have discovered germicides which will kill these germs and thus cure the disease. These agents are Ozone and Guaiacol. Combined with pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil they form Ozomulsion, a preparation that will cure consumption and all wasting diseases just so sure as it is taken. It acts on scientific disease. No contagious malady is better un sure as it is taken. It acts on principles. It is a food as well as The Ozone and the Gualacol kill the germs; the Cod Liver Oil repairs the waste This is why it not only alleviates, but cures There is only one way to cure consumption and that is to destroy the germs which cause district court before Juiges Keysor, Ambrose and Duffle. The contract provides for the paving of the street with asphalt, from the alley south of Nicholas street, north to Locust street. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $100,000. How foolish people are. They will drive an old knock-kneed horse for years. He eats, and costs as much to keep, as a sound animal. They get along with dilapidated furniture; faded and shabby carpets; bare windows; and quite likely an old stove which eats up more fuel in a year than a new and economical consumer would cost them; broil their wives and servants over a roaring fire in a July day, when a Gasolene Stove not only does better work without heating, but with far more economy; they scrub or paint an old rough floor, when a beautiful covering of Lincolum would not only look better, but actually pay for itself in a short time with labor saved; they eat off of nicked and cracked dishes, when a whole and complete Dinner set could be bought for almost nothing. In a word, they deceive themselves by thinking they are economical, when they are actually extrovagant in their shiftlessness, or perhaps we ought to be more charitable, and call it thoughtlessness, while all the time the children are growing up and getting accustomed to such makeshift habits and proundings; grow untidy in dress, careless in habits and generally thriftless. Largely your fault, friend, because you have not made your children's Home and its surroundings the methodical, systematic and attractive place you ought to make it, AND MAY.

What fools we mortals be! There is hardly an ordinary Home but, at the expenditure of anywhere from $25 to $100, could be made to look like a different habitation; your good wife's hopes and ambitions realized, and your whole home atmosphere radically changed.

We men, in our investments, speculations and toil, forget our Homes too much. "Mark my words," saieth the writer, "you yourself will be a different tellow if you but follow our advice.

Now, you say, "supposing money is not wealth, but only representa tive of same and exchangable for same, and I have not this money; how am I to get Wealth, which you define as Comforts and Conveniencies?' We answer, because Credit is a perfect substitute for money, so long as the party granting same believes it to be good. We do believe that the Credit of our Wage Earners is good-the very best. So much do we believe it, that we most earnestly invite you to test our faith in it by availing yourself of our proposition.
