OMAHA GENERAL MARKET. Condition of Trade and Quotations or

A cold spell of a week or ten days would have something of the effect upon the market which it had in January and February of 1883. It will be remembered that two years ago eggs were closely cleaned up by speculators about the time a sharp spell of cold weather came, and the market was shoved up to 40c at various points of the country. COWS AND HEIFERS QUITE NUMEROUS Jan'll Stockers and Feeders Were in Very Fair Demand-Quality of the Offerings of Hogs Not Particularly Improved.

> 18 7 TUESDAY, Jan. 22.

The receipts today were 2,800 cattle, 4,284 hogs and 423 sheep, as against 1,684 cattle, 2,940 hogs and 896 sheep yesterday, and 2,358 cattle, 8,288 hogs and 1,362 sheep on Tuesday of last week, CATTLE-Among the ninety-nine loads of cattle reported received today there were a few very good cornfed steers, better than anything that has been seen here for some time. There was also quite a sprinkling of cattle of fair to medium quality. There was a better feeling and the market was stronger, especially on the better grades. The buyers, however, were a little indifferent, except on such cattle as happened especially to strike their fancy, and the general trade on beef steers could hardly be quoted other than a little slow. Cows and helfers were in liberal supply and at the same time there was a good active demand. The offerings changed hands freely at prices that were steady to a little stronger.

Stockers and feeders were also in pretty sentative sales:

It was not much higher. Prices showed more than the usual irregularity, but the dullness was as bad as before. Dressed beef and shopping steers were salable at from $2.25 to $5.80, with most of the trading at from $3.75 to $4.75. Cows and bulls sold principally at from $2 to $3. fair demand for stockers and feeders at from $2.25 to $3.75.

There was much nervousness in hog values. Although receipts were several thousand less than expected, buyers held off, and with many sellers it was a question whether the market was better to rworse. Good hogs sold as well as the day before, while light and light mixed were weaker. Sales were principally at from $3.80 to $4.05 for light, and from $4.15 to $4.40 for averages over 200 lbs. The close was rather firm.

The sheep market was fairly active and the receipts again turned out light, and there was a gain in strength. Both sheep and lambs sold 10915c higher.
