NOTES OF LOCAL INTEREST.

The general drift of local sentiment on the streets is favorable to modern buildings on the new state fair site.

The executive committe of the Commercial club has announced its intention of starting what is called an enterprise fever in Omaha by securing a new market house, union depot and several factories.

The conductors on the street railway lines are now familiarizing themselves with a small set of books, in which a record of passes, fares, etc., are kept. The new sys-tem is more complete than the old one.

Scarlet fever prevails extensively through-out many portions of the city. While there are a great many cases of this dread disease, it appears to be of a mild character in every instance, and as yet but one or two deaths have been reported from this source.

time will be experienced. The call simply states that important business will be transacted, but the real purpose of the meeting is understood to be an attempt to raise the appropriation for the expenses of the board during the coming year. At the last meet-ing the estimate was placed at $400,000, al-though there was considerable opposition on the grounds that the amount was too small. An amendment was introduced making the amount $450,000, but it was lost by a vote of 9 to 5. It is said that this matter will be reconsidered at the called meeting and that

There will doubtless be considerable de-bating before the question is decided, al-though the members who are urging the increase say that the board will acquiesce without any great amount of opposition. They state that some of the members who yould against the amendment at the last An attempt was made Tuesday night to rob Fritz Anderson's saloon on Dodge street. They state that some of the members who voted against the amendment at the last meeting are now in favor of the increase and will vote for it. The position is taken that $400,000 will not pay the running expenses of the schools and that at the end of the year the present deficit will be increased. The expenses of last year were in the neighborhood of $415,-000 and the members who are in favor of the increased appropriation declare that the 000 and the members who are in favor of the increased appropriation declare that the expenses of this year will be fully as great. Of the sum spent last year a large part was used in repairs and the board has de-cided to spend a very much smaller amount for that purpose, although some money will have to be expended. It is thought, however, that the difference between last year and this in that item of expense will be fully made up by the cost of caring for an ex-pected increase in the number of scholars. It is estimated that there will be 1.000 more pected increase in the number of scholars. It is estimated that there will be 1,000 more pupils in the schools this year than there were last, and the increased cost for teach-ing them at the present per capita rate will be nearly or quite $25,000. In addition, it is claimed that if the board is enabled to obtain $450,000 it will be able to decrease the deficit by a considerable sum. The sentiment of the board is opposed to a shortening of the school year. Members hold that it would be better to add the in-crease to the appropriation and keep the schools in session for ten months than to leave the appropriation at the present figures and cut down the school year to nine months. They moreover think they would be upheld in this position by the citizens, as they con-bider that the children ars not getting too many months of school attendance now. If only $400,000 is obtained, it is almost certain that a month will be lopped off the school year, as it is not thought that enough retrenchment can be made in other branches of the department to run through the full year without adding to the deficit.

About the City. Last Saturday night C. P. Harding was taking in the town when he made the acquaintance of a rounder, and they took in Wirth's beer garden. There he was introduced to a siren who accompanied him to his room. In the morning Harding awoke his room. In the morning Harding awoke and found that his gold watch and chain, a diamond pin and $14 in cash were missing. The matter was reported to the police. Yes-terady Detective Savage located the man who introduced Harding to the woman, and told him that he had better dig up the stolen property. Last night a messenger boy from South Omaha called at the police station, leaving a package for Captain Mostyn. It was opened, and was found to contain the stolen property, all except the money. It was also learned that a closely veiled woman went into a Twenty-fourth street grocery in the Magic City and called a messenger boy, to whom she gave the package containing the
