explaining the change made this year in the manner of collecting interest on special laxes. Under the system heretofore in vogue the city has been put to much annoyance and expense, inasmuch as the interest on outstanding bonds has to be paid semi-annually by the city, while the property owners have been required to pay interest only on the one assessment as it came due. This kept the city continually in debt. It has been decided to make a change, and compel the payment of interest each year on what-ever installments of special taxes are still ever installments of special taxes are still unpaid. It will not cost the property owner any more in the end, but will make the payment this year a little larger than hereto fore. The request of the finance committee was concurred in, and the city treasurer will send them out to the taxpayers in response to the "kicks" which are pretty sure to fol-low the announcement of a bigger tax levy.

than originality, that inequality in itself would entitle it to the serious consideration of the amusement public. For it must be remembered that "A Green Goods Man" is a farce, a name which has been much abused in the past and used to cover a variety enter-tainment—an entertainment which has given to the stage a sameness, no matter what the title of the play might be called or in what form it was dished up to an expectant public. While "A Green Goods Man" re-tains all of the features of farce comedy, it has presented something new for public ap-proval, and therefore deserves success. It cleverly satirizes the green goods and bunce swindles, the fun is not extracted in pulls cleverly handled, which creates roars and roars of laughter. Mr. Paul Dresser, the well known comedian, essays the leading role, that of a German saloon keeper, and he will be assisted in the fun making by a strong cast of farce comedians. The novelty of the play will be the appearance of the green

Had it not been for his own con-fession in the last case it is highly probable the state would never have been able to convict him. Roberson and his son disap-peared, but no evidence was ever found which would prove that they were dead. Cumberland had been living on the Roberson farm, and when he and his wife moved away shortly after the disappearance, the sheriff of the county suspected them of the murder and went to work hunting up evidence. They were arrested in Missouri and brought to Council Bluffs, where they were kept over night in the county jail, and taken the next morning to the jail in Avoca. Cumberland feared the citizens would mob him, and in order to save his wife wrote a full sion in which he exonerated his wife, and had had the document ready to spring on the crowd the moment that an attempt should be made to do violence to Mrs. Cumberland. TO CARRY OUT THE ORIGINAL PLAN evening. The scheme is, in brief, to carry out the original plan of the construction of the Union Pacific road, which gave to Sioux City a direct and southeasterly junction with the Union Pacific, similar to the north western junction from Kansas City. It was the original plan to have the line from Sloux City, from Omaha, and from Kansas City to join at about the 100th meridian of longitude. On account of the failure to build this road Sloux City enters claim that ing the first fifteen days of the present month the Chicago price averaged $4.1514, while great connecting link between the mid northwest and the western overland trade was lost. They hope to have the govern-ment fulfill its promise originally implied, and ask that the sinking fund of the Union Pacific railroad be invested in first mortgage bonds of the short line which they intend to build.

As is generally known, the bill was passed in 1887, authorizing the investment of the sinking fund in certain railroad securities, and the bill introduced is only to add to these securities mortgage bonds of the short rallroad contemplated, which is to include a bridge across the Missouri river at Sioux City, In the party both eastern capitalists terested in western railroad building and the local interests of Sioux City are repre-sented. They are rapidly pushing their scheme in the hope of having it passed through congress and the short line of road built before any general scheme of reorganization or dismemberment of the Union Pacific takes place. But in spite of the fact that they are bringing every influence to bear, they are unable through their widely scattered membership to influence many congressmen and there seems no possibility of passing the scheme at this time.

Although the matter is a very small one, it is not probable that congress will ever again consent to granting railroad subsidies of any kind, and merely such a proposi-tion to the present thuse is likely to evoke serious parliamentary hysterics. The pres-ent congress may conclude to fund the debt of the railroads already on its hands, but it is not likely to take up any new railroad not likely to take up any new railroad building.

TO SEGREGATE THE MIDLAND.

English Bondholders See More Money in that Road Than in the Santa Fe.

DENVER, Jan. 24 .- J. J. McCook, one of the receivers of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, arrived in Denver and expects to meet here Aldace F, Walker of Chicago and J. C. Wilson of Topeka, Kan., and the other receivers, together with D. B. Robinson. first vice president and general manager of the entire system, J. Frey, general superintendent of the western division, and representatives of the English bondholders of the Colorado Midland. Since the g ld discoveries at Leadville the attention of the English bondholders has been attracted to their Midland holdings, and the noticeable increase in the earnings of the road has caused them in the earnings of the road has caused them to take steps looking to the segregation of the Midland from the rest of the Santa Fe system. They believe that if the road could be run as an independent line, relying en-tirely upon its own carnings, it could be tirely upon its own earnings, it could be made a better paying property than it has ever been. To this end it is more than likely that the initial step will be taken by asking for a separate receiver for the road. Al-though it has no entry into Denver, the Mid-land can easily make such iraffic arrange-ments as will give it a Denver connection. Another matter that will dubless be the subject of discussion will be the exten-sion of the line of the system in southwest-ern Colorado as a feeder of the Midland.
