MINOR MENTION.

Grand hotel, Council Bluffs, responded Oct. 1. Mayra Real Estate Agency, 539 Broadway.

Dr. F. S. Thomas has filed in the district court his application to be reappointed commissioner of insanity.

A case of scarlet fever was reported yesterday, the patient being Sigmond Shaback, 222 Stutsman street, aged 4 years.

August Krieger, James town farmer, was arrested yesterday on a charge of insanity and will have an examination by the commissioners this morning.

Thieves broke a window at the residence of George Langdon, 1512 Tenth avenue, Sunday night, and stole a dress hanging near the window. The pocket contained a ladies gold chain.

The pupils of the piano and violin departments of the Conservatory of Music will be entertained by the faculty next Wednesday evening. An informal program will be given by the teachers and several pupils.

Mollie, wife of W. S. Beem, died Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, at 209 South Avenue, aged 33 years. The remains were taken to Pleasantville, Marion county, last evening for interment.

There was a small fire yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Rasmus Jensen, 111 Nineteen avenue, caused by the smoking of lighting the ceiling. The flames were extinguished before the department arrived and the loss was not exceed $10.

The American National bank of Omaha commenced attachment proceedings yesterday in the district court against R. C. Edwards for $428, alleging that the defendant is a president of Iowa and has disposed of his property with intent to defraud the creditors.

A horse belonging to George J. Crane ran down Glen avenue last evening at 7 o'clock, driven by two boys. Upon reaching Broadway it forced its way through the passing throng, a white undertaker's room. The window was entirely wrecked, but no one was hurt, the horse escaping with a few cuts about the fore legs. Upon releasing itself it went dashing down Broadway.

Colonel E. D. Dahlberg lecture Friday evening under the auspices of St. Paul's English Lutheran church, at their room in James' hall, 17 Pearl street, on the subject of "The First Battle of Bull Run." The audience appreciated the talk, as well as the manner in which it was delivered. The subject of war such a study, that with his well known ability as a speaker, he will be most interesting and entertaining address.

In the district court yesterday the case of Claus Ivers against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway company was on trial. Ivers construed a track in the case of the company at Chicago a year ago last June, but it never was seen more. He claims it was worth $95, and that is the amount he is suing for. The company claims it was worth $100, and that it is liable to pay him $100, and disclaims responsibility on the ground that the loss occurred while the company was acting as warehouseman, not as common carrier, and that the exercised all diligence that was required from a warehouseman.

Elder T. W. Williams was greeted with a packed house at the Latter Day Saints' church Sunday evening. The interest in the meetings have exceeded the expectations of both pastor and people. The meetings will continue until the winter comes and continues. The following subjects will be considered this week: Tonight, "Where Do We Go When We Die, or Where Is Heaven?" Wednesday evening, "Why Did Jesus Teach Baptism, or What Is Christian Baptism?" Thursday evening, "What Makes a Preacher?" Friday evening, "Does God Hear the Sick?" Saturday evening, "Beware of False Prophets."

We have over $300,000 to loan upon improved Iowa farms. Farmers desiring loans can save money by dealing direct with us, thereby saving agent's commission. We do not loan on wild lands, nor in Nebraska, Louisa & Towle, 235 Pearl street.

John Schickertz, sr., has moved back from Omaha, and has opened a fine barber shop at 308 Broadway, opposite Keller's furniture store.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Judge Thorrell Decides Adversely to the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

M STAKE MADE BY ONE OF THE TRUSTEES

She Signed a Note in Such Way that the Court Holds Her for the Society's Debt—Members Will Pay It.

Judge Thorrell has rendered a decision in a case in which the members of the now defunct P. E. O. society of this city are somewhat interested. This society was organized for charitable purposes, and contained among its members some of the most prominent ladies of the city. It was disbanded several years ago. At the time of the Chautauqua assembly's height of prosperity the society bought a lot and made all the payments but $40, giving a note for the balance. This note was signed by one of the trustees, who put her name down as trustee, instead of signing the name of the society, as she was trustee. The note was sold to eastern parties and a suit was brought in a justice court against the lady individually. A judgment was obtained against her, and she appealed to the district court. Judge Thorrell now affirms the decision of the lower court and gives a judgment in its favor.

The probability is that the members of the society will get together and make arrangements for payment of the judgment.

Bootlegger Gets Crashed.

About a month ago John Wiemeyer of Griswold, Cass county, was brought in by United States officers and deposited in the county jail, charged with bootlegging. Since that time he has impressed himself on his fellow prisoners as a man whose upper story was little weak, and yet, with one accord, christened him "Bughouse." Sunday morning he was found in his cell, having bashed the walls of the county jail with his hands.

Mrs. John Bonner's Sudden Death.

BEATRICE, Jan. 28.—(Special Telegram.)

Mrs. John Bonner, a highly respected lady of this city, was found dead in her bed this morning. The deceased was 69 years old, and had been in delicate health for some time, and had been under the care of Dr. Thomas, after an examination, stated that she had a slight attack of rheumatism or quickening of the pulse, as was always noticed in cases of that sort, and gave it as his opinion that Wiemeyer pre-ferred the insane asylum to the county jail, and was taking that way to get there. The commissioners ordered that he be kept in the jail over night, and if necessary, that a hypodermic injection be given to keep him strong.

He also tore his clothing in shreds. When morning came he was bound with straps, and the commissioners of insanity were called in. Enjoys a Saloon.

The first saloon injunction case instituted since the model law went into effect was started by Col. C. Reed, czar of Manawa, will join with the Ministerial association of Council Bluffs in the effort to give the public an opportunity to witness the workings of the assembly. For some time past negotiations have been pending between them, and the ministers assert that they now have the matter fixed so that all that is needed is Colonel Reed's agreement to certain conditions to insure an amicable settlement.

A committee was appointed to investigate the matter and to have the bill introduced in the legislature.

The bill was introduced in the legislature.
