age, and members stood around in little knots speculating on its contents and discussing generally the treasury situation. Postmaster General Bassett said that from conferring with some of the democratic leaders.

Mr. Lynch, democrat of Wisconsin, was trying to get unanimous consent to consider a bill to quiet the title to certain lands in Wisconsin. Mr. Prudden, the president's executive clerk, appeared and announced a message in writing from the president.

Mr. Lynch's request was immediately objected to and Speaker Pro Tem Richardson said the message should be read. As the clerk began reading the members took their seats and listened with intense eagerness to every word.

Mr. Bryan, democrat of Nebraska, and Mr. Dland, democrat of Missouri, at this point showed signs of opposition, and raised several points of order, which were overruled and the message was read, without division, to the banking and currency committee.

Mr. Bryan objected, however, when Mr. Springer asked the committee to consider the bill with the message to the same committee and insisted that it be referred by the chair under the rules.

The chair will refer under the rules to the banking and currency committee. Mr. Springer Pro Tem Richardson emphatically.

This ended the first skirmish over the administration's proposed currency bill. The house proceeded with its routine business. After this was disposed of the house proceeded in committee of the whole with the consideration of the tariff bill.

Mr. Hopkins of Illinois, who spoke in opposition to the tariff bill, was overruled and time to proving that Germany's prohibition placed on the importation of our food products was a mere pretext. He protested against an article of commerce, and the amendment that if this bill was to be passed, and urged that he give notice of one on Saturday, requiring Germany to remove her restrictions on the importation of our food.

After some debate in favor of the bill by Messrs. Burns of Georgia, Wheeler of Alabama, a Terry of Arkansas, the committee rose.

Mr. Wilson tried to effect an agreement to close the debate after two hours discussion tomorrow, but Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio objected.

The house at 5 o'clock adjourned.

side was being read, and senators on both sides gave it the closest attention. At the close of the reading, Mr. Sherman, republican of Ohio, suggested that the message be referred to the finance committee. There was some objection on the part of several senators, including Mr. Sherman, republican of Ohio, who desired that the message should be on the table, so that if senators desired they might submit some remarks upon it.

Unanimous consent was given to a suggestion by Mr. Harris, extending the privilege of the floor of the senate to the late secretary of the senate, General A. M. Cook, who is now in the city.

The senate agreed to a resolution offered by Mr. Stewart, democrat of California, calling on the secretary of the treasury for a statement of the estimated deficiency in revenues of the government to pay current expenses before December 31, 1894, and December 31, 1895, and if the $153,337,579 cash balance in the treasury on December 31, 1894, will be sufficient to meet such deficiency; also to a motion by the secretary of the treasury to ascertain the claims of the several states now on file in the Treasury department under the act of July 7, 1861; the amounts thereof, and any amount raised or raised in prospect as provided by order of the secretary of the treasury, February 8, 1863.

The vice president laid before the senate the credentials of Hon. Richard E. Pettigrew of South Dakota, for re-election to the senate for six years from March 4, 1895. The credentials were placed on file.

Mr. Peffer offered a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for a statement of the kinds and amounts of money received in exchange for bonds issued and sold under the refunding act of 1891. Objection was made to it and it went over.

The senate agreed to a resolution offered by Mr. Chandler, calling on the secretary of the navy for a statement of the amounts paid per ton for armor plates for vessels of the navy, comparing the same with the prices paid by other nations, and also especially the prices paid for armor plates paid under recent contracts to American manufacturers for armor plates for other nations.

Mr. Peffer expected to continue his remarks on the Hawaiian matter, but gave way to Mr. Wolcott, who desired to call up the house bill disapproving the treaty heretofore made with the Hawaiian islands and providing for their settlement upon a part of their reservation and relinquishment of the remainder to the government.

When the 2 o'clock adjournment began an effort was made to have the consideration of the bill continued, and Mr. Wolcott sought to obtain Mr. George's consent to a course between the displacement of the bankruptcy bill. The latter, however, refused to yield.

Mr. Wolcott then formally moved that the senate proceed to the consideration of the bill. By a yeas and nays—29 to 25—the bankruptcy bill was displaced and the Ute bill made the unfinished business.

After discussion by Senators Vilas, Walden, Tamm and Jones of Arkansas, the bill was passed as it was reported from the committee, by a vote of 27 to 21.

A bill was passed appropriating $100,000 for the construction of public buildings in Spokane, Cheyenne, Boise City, Idaho, and Helena, Montana.

The bankruptcy bill was then taken up and made the unfinished business.

At 4:45 p. m. took up the consideration of executive business, and later adjourned.

SATOLI'S POSITION DEFINED

Text of Pope Leo's Latest Encyclical Given to the Public.

SENT TO EXECUTE THE PONTIFF'S WISHES

Bishops of This Country Urged to Co-Operate with the Papal Legate for the Good of the Church in America.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Mr. Satoli today made public the long expected encyclical from the pope. The most important features relate to the American delegate and his relation to the hierarchy in this country, and also defining the pope's attitude concerning societies of workmen.

The archbishops and bishops of the United States of North America, Leo XIII., Pope, Venerable Brethren—Health and apostolic benediction. We traverse in spirit and thought the wide expanse of ocean, and although we have at other times addressed you in writing—chiefly when we directed encyclical letters to the bishops of the Catholic world—we have now resolved to address you separately, treating that which shall be of assistance to the Catholic cause among you.

To this we apply ourselves with the utmost zeal and care, because we highly esteem and love exceedingly the young and vigorous American people, and we shall be plainly discern latent forces for the advancement alike of civilization and Christianity."

The encyclical then refers to the interest felt by the pope in the centennial celebration of the discovery of America.

"The bark of Columbus carried not only the germs of mighty states, but the principles of religion, into remote regions beyond the seas. The first solicitude of Columbus was to plant the sacred emblems of the cross wherever he discovered a continent, and to give to American towns and rivers and mountains and lakes teach how the beginnings were marked with the footprints of the Catholic church."

The pope refers to the fact that the first bishop set by apostolic authority for the American continent began his labors when the great Washington was at the helm of the young republic. The well known familiar intercourse between the pope and the American hierarchy is mentioned, and an evidence that the United States ought to be consoled in concord and amity with the Catholic church, and not without cause.

"The encyclical, which is not without morality the state can never endure a truth which that illustrious citizen of yours whom we have just mentioned, learned and statesmanly worthy of his genius and statesmanly, perceived and proclaimed."

PROGRESS OF THE REPUBLIC. The giant strides by which the republic is progressing is set forth in glowing terms, and expressed that Catholicism keeps pace with this progress. The extension of the clergy and the establishment of pious societies, parochial schools and religious institutions is particularly commended.

"But, while it is true that the church has progressed under the republic, yet it would be erroneous to suppose that satisfaction is expressed that Catholicism keeps pace with this progress. The extension of the clergy and the establishment of pious societies, parochial schools and religious institutions is particularly commended.

"The pope then sets forth the efforts he has made to leave nothing undone to preserve and solidly establish the Catholic religion in America. To that end two special subjects have received attention: First, the advancement of learning; second, the perfection of church affairs.

matel it above that America seems destined for greater things. Now, it is our wish that the Catholic church should not only share in but help to bring about this progress.

To Catholic entering societies of workmen, the encyclical says: "Now, with regard to entering societies, extreme care is to be taken not to be ensnared by error. And we wish to be understood as referring in a special manner to the societies of the kind known as 'Lodge' societies, which are organized for the purpose of uniting in associations for the promotion of their interests; and are acknowledged by the church and unopposed by nature. But they are to be distinguished from those which are organized for the purpose of uniting in associations for the promotion of their interests; and are acknowledged by the church and unopposed by nature.

HAIDEN BROTHERS. BOATNER HAS A SUBSTITUTE. Compromise Between the Reilly Bill and Government Ownership. NUMEROUS THINGS TO BE INVESTIGATED.

HAIDEN BROTHERS. When Default of Interest Occurs a Government Commission is to Operate the Roads Pending a Final Settlement.

HAIDEN BROTHERS. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A substitute for the Reilly bill is being made to induce the members of the committee on Pacific railroads who made the minority report against the Reilly bill. The bill will provide for a Pacific railroad commission to take charge of the government-aided roads when they default in the payment of their debts and to control them as representatives of the government until a comprehensive plan can be adopted by congress for settling the relations of the company with the government. The commission is to consist of members who will receive salaries of $10,000 and to be given the powers of management usually exercised by railroad directors.

HAIDEN BROTHERS. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—There is some doubt whether the house committee on banking and currency will agree to report the bond bill to the house tomorrow. The democrats of the committee are divided in their views on all financial legislation and some of them are vociferously opposed to bond issues. One member of the committee, a republican, says that he does not believe more than four of the five democrats on the committee will vote for it. The balance of power, accordingly, rests with the republicans. Chairman Springer believes that the republicans will vote for the bill and aid the democrats to pass it. Representative Hitt, republican of Missouri, says that his party is for the bill by a majority of sixteen to one. Four members of the banking and currency committee are absent from the house. If the committee should refuse to report the bill, its action would prove but a slight obstacle to consideration. A rule could be reported and passed in the district where its consideration and bring the bill back before the house.

HAIDEN BROTHERS. Changes in Banking Credits. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—The comptroller of the currency has approved the selection of the following reserve agencies: Nebraska—Hanover National Bank, New York, for First National Bank, Humboldt; First National Bank, Lincoln, for City National Bank, Kearney; Lincoln National Bank, Chicago, for American National Bank, Omaha; Iowa—American Exchange National Bank, Chicago, for First National Bank, Spirit Lake; South Dakota—First National Bank, Pierre, for First National Bank, Pierre. The comptroller has been notified of the following national banks: F. B. Langworthy, assistant cashier of First National Bank of Sioux Falls; W. H. Langworthy, vice president of Merchants National Bank, Omaha; A. W. Trumbull, vice president in place of C. M. Hunt of Packers National Bank, South Omaha.

HAIDEN BROTHERS. Requirements of the Act Set Forth by Commissioner Miller. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Commissioner Miller of the internal revenue bureau has prepared a notice, copies of which will be posted in all the cities and towns throughout the country, notifying those who come within the provisions of the income tax law of their duty in the premises. The law makes an appropriation of $245,000 for carrying the act into effect, and provides for the appointment of 200 additional deputy revenue collectors and ten additional revenue agents. The deputies will be appointed by the district collectors, and the agents of the Commissioner Miller, who will be in charge of the collection of the tax. The law will issue regulations prescribed on this point.

HAIDEN BROTHERS. War Ships Going to Colombia. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The first official news of the revolutionary outbreak in Colombia has reached the Navy department in a cablegram from Captain Cromwell of the Atlanta, stationed at Colon. He says he has learned that a revolution has broken out at Buenaventura, on the Pacific coast of Colombia. Secretary Herbert, who had intended to send a warship to those waters, thereupon communicated by telegraph with the commandant of the Maine Island Navy yard, to learn how long it will take to put the Maine Island in shape for duty. It is necessary to insure the safety of the vessel, and it is believed that the Maine Island will be ordered to Colombia.

HAIDEN BROTHERS. Ladies' Wrappers. We have just opened 150 cases of Wrappers—in idigo, mourning and gray calicos and percales, dark and light shades of flannelette, cashmere delaine and cashmere. The prices to commence the season will be about one-half last seasons' prices.
