Council Bluffs, Ia. Church Stands by Allen. There was a meeting of the Christian church last evening for the purpose of putting the organization on record with reference to the actions of certain persons who have been circulating reports derogatory to Rev. E. W. Allen. Burnett Allen, a brother of the pastor of the church, disappeared last summer while holding a series of meetings at Plattsmouth, Neb., and all efforts to locate him have proved unavailing, in spite of a reward of $100, which Mr. Allen offered as soon as it was certain that his brother was in deed gone. One result of the meeting last evening was the adoption, unanimously, of the following resolutions: resolutions:

Whereas, Our beloved and highly esteemed pastor has been unduly attacked from certain sources; and Whereas, We, the members of the congregation, know such matters to be entirely false and uncalled for and out of harmony with his Christian life, therefore he it solved. That we show the public tha as a body we are in sympathy with him in this trouble, and will defend his character and stand by him through all the troubles that assall him, of whatever nature they may be.

A copy of this resolution was circulated and the signatures of 133 members of the church were obtained. A committee con-sisting of Misses Bessie Rich, Leila Sweeney and May Miller was appointed to circulate the copy among the church members between now and Sunday. During the meeting Rev. H. N. Allen, the father of the pastor and the missing young man, took occasion to offer a reward of $200 to any one who would locate his missing son within a week.

READ WON BY FIVE BIRDS.

Match Shoot on the Bemis Park Club Grounds Closely Contested. CITY AUTHORITIES GIVEN NOTICE Possibly 200 people assembled on the Bemis Park Gun club grounds yesterday afternoon to witness the 100 live bird match between J. C. Read, champion of the state, and John J. Hardin, who is rated as the finest field shot in the west. The match and John J. Hardin, who is rated as the finest field shot in the west. The match was 100 birds to each man, thirty yards rise, fifty boundary, American association rules to govern, Goodley Brucker referee and Sandy Griswold official scorer.

A worse day for trap shooting could not have been made to order. A veritable hurricane blew from the north right across the range, and at no time during the engagement was the mercury above zero. Hardin shot a 10-bore Lefever and Rad a 12 Greener, Hardin being handicapped two yards. Both shot three drams of E. C. powder and an ounce and a quarter of shot. Hardin's gun was an antedliuvian relic that should have been placed in a mussum ten years ago, while Read shot a modern, improved fowling piece, which was at the lowest estimate 59 per cent in his favor. Hardin's old Queen Anne missed fire no less than nineteen times, and he was accredited with one lost bird on account of his piece failing to cock, and it was dollars to doughnuts from the start that Read must prove an inevitable winner. Another thing, Read had the very best and most intelligent handling and coaching, being in the hands of Frank Parmelee, while Hardin was left to defend himself and the meager assistance that could be afforded him by a tyro in the business, Mr. Frank Carmichael. The only wonder is that Hardin wasn't beaten worse than he was.

Depite the fearfully cold and inclement weather, there was a large crowd of spectators present, possibly 200 or more, scavengers and all, and everybody seemed to enjoy the sport, notwithstanding the unanimous disgust at the way Hardin's cannon behaved.

A coin was tossed for choice of shots, and grocery Wednesday. There is no trace of the position which requires the occupant to file a bond to be approved by the council, removal

the sport, notwithstanding the unanimous obstitution which requires the occupant to file a bond to be approved by the council, removal annot be made by the mayor without the consent and co-operation of the council.
