

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Some Wonder as to the Whereabouts and Intentions of the Economic League.

REFORMS IT HAS BOUGHT TO PASS

Turned the City Government Over to the Democrats and Let it Go at That—Many Things It Might Have Done.

What has become of the Economic League? That is the question that has been asked more than once during the last few weeks, but no satisfactory answer has as yet appeared.

The Economic league was organized with the avowed intention of healing many of the abuses that are alleged to exist in connection with the city government, and for a time a great deal of agitation was done along that line. In fact, the city election of last year was largely due to the efforts of the league, and the gentlemen who were doing the agitating, coupled with the unwillingness of the republican party to pass a few resolutions, the democrats were a little more courageous and passed the resolutions, and carried the day in consequence. The resolutions never did any harm nor any good. None of the men elected considered themselves bound by them, and the only thing that was really accomplished by the league, which was composed mainly of republicans, was to place the city government in the hands of the democrats.

It has been rumored of late that the league had determined to suspend and make an assignment for the benefit of the people, as it were. But inquiry develops the fact that this is all a mistake. Meetings have been held on the city at certain offices during the past few days, and from the inside it is given out that when the proper time comes the league will be right on hand to organize its deadly work against the corporations. Right under the nose of the league the city council passed the contract with the electric light company for five years. No action has been taken to reduce the fare to Omaha, and citizens still have to pay for their water at the rates that have been fixed by the company's commercial business. The members of the league still think that there is room for their missionary work, and are not disposed to give up their hands so easily.

"We must educate the public," said one of them a few days ago, "and when we get the educated public we shall have no difficulty in bringing about the reforms that we are aiming at."

Just what steps will be taken is as yet concealed under the mantle of secrecy, but the plan is to be sprung upon the public within the next few days, when the league will take its place in the political ring.

In this connection it may be noted that place to state that Cornelius Wesley has announced himself a candidate for alderman-at-large on the democratic ticket, and Joseph Bland on the republican.

Remnants? Remnants! Remnants!

The late clearing sale has left us a big lot of remnants and short lengths, in all kinds of goods, which we must close out quickly. These goods will be placed on sale Monday at prices that will bring you a big profit and look them over, you may find just what you want.

BARGAINS IN

Remnants of silk.
Remnants of dress goods.
Remnants of muslin.
Remnants of sheeting.
Remnants of flannel.
Remnants of gingham.
Remnants of prints.
Remnants of lace and embroideries.
Saddles and ends in hosiery, underwear and gloves at greatly reduced prices.

POWELL, DICK & WALKER,
BOSTON STORE,
Council Bluffs, Ia.

Wanted, competent cook, at 608 First avenue.

Davis sells drugs, paints and glass cheap after Tax shirkers.

The saloon men of Pottawattamie county are not setting a very good example for the millionaires who are soon to be compelled to pay their income tax, for if County Attorney Sanders is right, they are proving themselves the most inveterate tax shirkers to be found anywhere. The mulct law has not proved a very glittering success so far, but, in justice to the law, it may be said that it is possibly owing to the fact that the attempts to enforce its provisions have been much more enthusiastic than were those to enforce the prohibitory law.

Of the taxes due on saloon property between October 1, 1894, and 1895, it is said that $10,000 are still unpaid. This is nearly one-half of the entire amount. About $5,000 is due from saloon keepers outside of Council Bluffs. The class of the saloon element is going to be more troublesome than any other unless the law is strictly enforced. In many cases the property on which the tax is levied is located in a place where the tax is not worth anything like the tax for six months, and the county is left to collect the tax at the end of the term, instead of at the beginning, a great loss to the county will result. But the county attorney has made up his mind to get after the saloon keepers with a forked stick. Every one must come and pay up, or else shut up, and the latter formality will be gone through with very quickly.

Save Your Money.

By investing in the stock of the Savings Loan and Building association of Council Bluffs, Incorporated in 1877. Monthly payments of $1.00 per share, netting the investor about 10 per cent interest. Full information ready paid out, fully demonstrating the ability of the association to mature its investments in about twenty years. No payments. No loans made outside of Council Bluffs, and all applications examined and approved by a majority of the board of directors. Good loans wanted. Full information can be obtained at the office of D. W. Otis, secretary, 110 Main street, or any of the following directors: J. W. Hazzard, Frank Grubb, John Brown, A. S. Hazleton, H. C. Beebe, A. B. Walker, E. E. Hart, F. C. Lougee, S. S. Leonard.

Just received, a new line of stamped linens and Honiton braids. Art linens by the yard; linens in embroidery. Full line of work and Honiton lace. Order work done. Misses Clark & Wetzel, 337 Broadway.

Yes, the Eagle laundry is "that good laundry," and is located at 724 Broadway. Send for a list of prices. Don't forget name and number. Tel. 157.

Gas cooking stoves for rent and for sale at Gas Co.'s office.

For coughs and colds get Ballard's honey-bond cough syrup at DeHaven's drug store.

Neatest drug store—Taylor's, Grand hotel.

Minor Mention.

Grand hotel, Council Bluffs, reopened Oct. 1. Mayor Real Estate agency, 63 Broadway.

The traveling man of the city went to the Congregational church last evening to hear a sermon from Dr. Askin.

Another session of the Union avenue appraisal jury will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock for the purpose of hearing the opinions of the property owners.

Stephen Phelps is suffering severely from a difficulty of the throat. His place in the First Presbyterian church was filled by Rev. Henry Coker.

A marriage license has been issued to Ira Shilladay and Abbie Butler, aged 40 and 31. They will be remembered as the parties who were arrested several times by neighbors not long ago on the charge of improper conduct.

A meeting of the council will be held this evening. The matter of opening Seventh street was postponed until this meeting, but it is said that it will be passed over in silence, as none of the aldermen are anxious to repeat the dose of grief they took some weeks ago.

The funeral of Robert Jones took place yesterday afternoon, and the services of the Knights of the Macabees, who escorted the remains from the house to the Latter Day Saints' church, and from there to the cemetery, where services were held and burial to their ritual. The deceased, it is said, had

TALE OF TWO TRAGEDIES

Suggested by the Bowed Head and Gray Hairs of Mr. Justice Field.

SENSATIONAL CHAPTER FROM REAL LIFE

Judge Terry's Death in the California Trial House Set Over Against the Duel in Which He Killed Senator Broderick.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 1407 F Street, N. W., WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.

Every day at noon the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court of the United States march in single file from the robing room to the supreme court room and take their places upon the elevated platform. One of their number is bowed with the weight of years, and leans heavily upon his cane. His once coarse, dark brown hair is now almost entirely gray. His steps are very unsteady, and his movements very slow. He is a broad-shouldered man, however, and at one time, judging from his appearance, must have been a man of powerful physique. It is Associate Justice Stephen J. Field of California, now 77 years of age, who was appointed associate justice by President Abraham Lincoln, in 1863. He has been a member of the supreme court of the United States for thirty-two years; a full generation.

Fifty years ago Stephen J. Field was one of the greatest lawyers in the country, and was regarded as a man absolutely devoid of fear. His personal courage was such that he could face a man armed with a revolver and ruler of an entire section of the law, and all of the people in the vicinity bowing before him as an oracle of law, and a magnificent embodiment of the law itself. It was in the year 1875 that he administered justice in the case of a man named John D. Broderick, who was charged with the murder of a man named James H. Smith. Broderick was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States. He was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States. He was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States.

It was on the afternoon of August 14, 1889, that Justice Field and Deputy United States Marshal David Nagle went into the railroad building at Lafayette, Cal., and sat down together to dinner. Judge Terry and his wife, Sarah Althea Hill, entered the room immediately afterward, and when Mrs. Terry noticed Justice Field and Nagle, she immediately left the dining room and went to her dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

Justice Field and Marshal Nagle immediately left the dining room and went to the dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

Justice Field and Marshal Nagle immediately left the dining room and went to the dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

Justice Field and Marshal Nagle immediately left the dining room and went to the dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

Justice Field and Marshal Nagle immediately left the dining room and went to the dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

TRAGEDY AT AN EATING HOUSE

A few years ago, when Justice Field was in the 72d year of his age, and almost as feeble as he is today, David S. Terry, a man who had been a member of the supreme court of the United States, and was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States. He was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States.

REMARKS BY CHINESE OFFICIALS.

Officers from the American Ship Concord in Shanghai.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Shanghai says a telegram has been received there from Chankin stating that a party of officers from the American ship Concord landed at Chankin for the purpose of shooting game. They by accident shot a Chinaman. The populace became infuriated, and a riot broke out. The officers were killed, and the ship was set on fire. The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

THE OMAHA DAILY PRESS: MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1895.

Suggested by the Bowed Head and Gray Hairs of Mr. Justice Field.

SENSATIONAL CHAPTER FROM REAL LIFE

Judge Terry's Death in the California Trial House Set Over Against the Duel in Which He Killed Senator Broderick.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 1407 F Street, N. W., WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.

Every day at noon the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court of the United States march in single file from the robing room to the supreme court room and take their places upon the elevated platform. One of their number is bowed with the weight of years, and leans heavily upon his cane. His once coarse, dark brown hair is now almost entirely gray. His steps are very unsteady, and his movements very slow. He is a broad-shouldered man, however, and at one time, judging from his appearance, must have been a man of powerful physique. It is Associate Justice Stephen J. Field of California, now 77 years of age, who was appointed associate justice by President Abraham Lincoln, in 1863. He has been a member of the supreme court of the United States for thirty-two years; a full generation.

Fifty years ago Stephen J. Field was one of the greatest lawyers in the country, and was regarded as a man absolutely devoid of fear. His personal courage was such that he could face a man armed with a revolver and ruler of an entire section of the law, and all of the people in the vicinity bowing before him as an oracle of law, and a magnificent embodiment of the law itself. It was in the year 1875 that he administered justice in the case of a man named John D. Broderick, who was charged with the murder of a man named James H. Smith. Broderick was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States. He was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States. He was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States.

It was on the afternoon of August 14, 1889, that Justice Field and Deputy United States Marshal David Nagle went into the railroad building at Lafayette, Cal., and sat down together to dinner. Judge Terry and his wife, Sarah Althea Hill, entered the room immediately afterward, and when Mrs. Terry noticed Justice Field and Nagle, she immediately left the dining room and went to her dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

Justice Field and Marshal Nagle immediately left the dining room and went to the dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

Justice Field and Marshal Nagle immediately left the dining room and went to the dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

Justice Field and Marshal Nagle immediately left the dining room and went to the dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

Justice Field and Marshal Nagle immediately left the dining room and went to the dressing room, where they were locked in, and the train departed. Judge Terry walked across the room and slipped the door of the dressing room, and when he saw Nagle, he immediately drew a revolver and fired at him. Nagle was killed. Justice Field was seated at the table, and that action resulted in his immediate death.

TRAGEDY AT AN EATING HOUSE

A few years ago, when Justice Field was in the 72d year of his age, and almost as feeble as he is today, David S. Terry, a man who had been a member of the supreme court of the United States, and was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States. He was a man of great power and influence, and was a member of the supreme court of the United States.

REMARKS BY CHINESE OFFICIALS.

Officers from the American Ship Concord in Shanghai.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Shanghai says a telegram has been received there from Chankin stating that a party of officers from the American ship Concord landed at Chankin for the purpose of shooting game. They by accident shot a Chinaman. The populace became infuriated, and a riot broke out. The officers were killed, and the ship was set on fire. The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.

The Concord is a twin screw steel gunboat, and was built for the United States navy. It was commanded by Joseph E. Craig and has a complement of thirteen officers and 180 men. She arrived at Chankin last Friday.