The case of Huston against the city oc-cupied the entire day. One witness for Huston told in a graphic manner how the water ran out under the fence and froze on the sidewalk on Washington avenue the day in question, but the city proved that there had not been a fence there since several years before the accident to Huston. The denfence is that on the day of the accident there was a great thaw, and then a freeze-up before nightfall, and that consequently, as the ice had not remained there for a period of fifteen hours the city could not be held liable for the accident. An Did Offender. Frank Klein, a well known friend of the police, has been anxiously watched for ever since November 25, but was not located until yesterday, when Officer Murphy dragged him in. On the day in question he stole a coat and vest from B. Duwe, the proprietor of the Revere house, and seems to have been traveling ever since. He has been in the habit of going by the names of Klein, Muller or Campbell, just as suited his convenience best. Not long ago he played a similar trick in South Omaha, entering a bearding house, putting on a suit of clothes belonging to one of the inmates and decamping before any one yesterday, when Officer Murphy dragged him inmates and decamping before any one knew what he was about.

Many are in a starving condition, and unless something is done soon death from cold and hunger will claim more than one victim.

A fact not generally understood is that the condition this year is different from that in ordinary years, when the poor are largely those who have been shiftless and lazy during the summer. Many have been without work all summer, and their little savings are gone. Accustomed to provide for themselves, they are too proud to ask for help from strangers, and their true condition is not found out until same charitably disposed person hunts them up. The loudest calls for help do not always come from those who need help worst, and there are scores of cases of destitution more severe than any, possibly, that have been made known at the usual headquarters for charity.

INTERESTING LITIGATION CONCLUDED Tase_Against Wabash and Lackawanna Officials Given to the Jury. ST. LOUIS, Feb. 6.-Arguments in the ease of the Wabash and Lackawanna tariff officials, who are charged with having violated the interstate commerce law by paying rebates, were heard by Judge Phillips in the United States district court today. Mr. Safford and District Attorney Klopton presented the case for the government and F. W. Lehman for the defendants. Judge Phillips' charge to the jury consumed about two hours and was most exhaustive. He went minutely into the laws of the case and explained the effect of the tariff and agreement placed in evidence and the legal presumption from the conduct of the defendants with reference thereto, as shown by the evidence. He said it was not necessary that the joint tariff should be filed with the Interstate Commerce commission by all the companies composing the through in the United States district court today in making the protestation. Since last advices early that the joint tariff should be filed in with the Interstate Commerce commission by all the companies composing the through lines to the seaboard. If one filed it and the others were found to be working under it that was sufficient. The agreement put in evidence purported to be executed by the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific Rallroad company, while one of the defendants is the Wabash Railroad company, and he ruled that if the latter was found to be working under the agreement, sharing in its profits and responding to its obligations, and the legal presumption is that the latter duly entered into it, and if the offense was committed the indictment would stand, notwithstanding this variance.

The question when Kehlor Bros. received a rebate on the shipment of flour was one of fact, but it must appear to the satisfaction of the jury that Fleld, Knight and Tell, the defendants, knew that the money was paid the Kehlors for that purpose and that the payment was made in this city in In conclusion, the court advised the jury that the evidence did not make a case against Spriggs or Freight Traffic Manager Milton Knight, and instructed that they should be acquitted. The jurors retired at 330 o'clock, and at 5:30 returned and responded the courts for the case further, and a verdict may be responded in the morning. Court-Martial on the Participants in the Rebellion in Ronolely - Ex-Oneen Hoping for Clemency - Her House a Small Arsenal.

HONOLULU, Jan. 29 .- (Via San Francisco February 6.)-Liliuokalani has abdicated in favor of the Hawaiian republic. This is by far the most important outcome of the late rebellion. The document was drawn up by A. S. Hartwell at the request of the exqueen. It was presented on the 26th inst. to President Dole. The document, according to the wording, was executed freely and voluntarily. It was addressed to the president and goes on to say: "Sir: After full and free consultation with my personal friends and with my legal advisers, both before and since my detention by military order in the executive building and acting in conformity with their advice. and also upon my own free volition, and in pursuance of my unalterable belief and understanding of my duty to the people of terests, and also for the sake of those misguided Hawaiians and others who have recently engaged in rebellion against the re public, and in an attempt to restore me to the position of queen, which I held prior to the 17th day of January, 1893, and without any claim that I shall become entitled, by reason of anything that I may say or do now, to any other different treatment or of treason. consideration at the hands of the govern-ment than I otherwise could and might legally receive, I now desire to express and make known, and do hereby express and make known to yourself, as the only lawful and recognized head of the government, and to all the people of the Hawaiian islands. whether or not they have yet become citizen; of the republic, or are or have been adherents of the late monarchy, and also to all diplo matic and other foreign representatives in the Hawaiian islands, to all of whom I respectfully request you to cause this state ment and action of mine to be made known as soon as may be, as follows, viz: "In order to avoid any possibility of doubt or misunderstanding on the subject, al-though I do not think any doubt or misunderstanding is either proper or possible, I do hereby fully and unequivocally admit and eclare the government of the republic of Hawaii is the only lawful government of the Hawaiian islands, and that the late Hawaiian islands, and that the late Hawaiian cles; $5,000 was appropriated for expenses in monarchy is finally and forever ended and curred during the rebellion. no longer of any legal or actual validity, force or effect whasoever; and I do hereby forever absolve all persons, whomseever whether in the Hawaiian islands or else where, from all and every manner of allegiance or official obligation or duty, to me and my heirs and successors forever, and hereby declare to all such persons in the Hawalian islands that I consider them as bound in duty and henor henceforth to support and sustain the government of Hawaii. RUSE TO SECURE CLEMENCY.

The queen made a plea for the Hawaiians and others who took part in the rebellion. hopes executive elemency will be exercised in their cases. She expresses a desire to live in absolute privacy henceforth. The docu-ment includes a copy of the oath of allegiance taken by her, and closes:

"I have caused the foregoing statement to be prepared and drawn, and have signed my name without having received the slight-est suggestion from the president of Hawaii concerning the same or any other part thereof, or concerning any action or course of my own in the premises."

The queen's abdication was not unexpected.

In many quarters it is looked upon as a ruse to secure clemency when she appears before the military court now sitting. It is not generally considered that she is sincere in making the protestation. Since last ad-vices evidence of a very damaging charac-ter has been piled around her. She was ar-

EVIDENCE AT THE COURT-MARTIAL. Arrests for treason and conspiracy have been numerous. In all there are about 350 men under lock and key. This number includes the prisoners of war. It is thought the government has under arrest nearly who took part in the rebellion. The

the first military court in the history of the Hawaiian islands was convened. It was composed as follows: Colonel William A. Whiting, Lleutenant Colonel J. H. Fisher, Captain S. W. Slegler, J. M. Camarara, jr., H. W. Pratt, W. C. Wilder, jr., Lieutenant ones and Captain William A. Kinney as judge advocate. The court was called and named by President Dole, who is of the opinion that under the present circumstances bet-ter and quicker results will be obtained than f the matter were left to civ I courts. A large crowd was in attendance, among the auditors being United States Minister Willis and Britbeing United States Minister Wills and British Commissioner Hawes. After deliberation the court decided to allow the prisoners counsel. Paul Neuman was named. The following day Robert Wilcox, W. C. Lane, James Lane, Samuel Nowlein, Carl Wildeman, William dreig, Henry Bertellman and Louis Marshall were arraigned on a charge of open rebellion. Wilcox, Bertellman and Wildeman all pleaded guilty. The others refused to plead on advice of counsel and a plea of not guilty was entered against their names. Paul Neuman ob-jected to the jurisdiction of the court, claiming that under the proclamation of law the general authority of the courts of the republic created by the constitution continued and they had sele authority to try persons accused of offenses such as specified in the

WALKER PLEADED GUILTY. On the 21st inst. Charles Guilck, W. H. Richard, T. B. Walker and W. T. Seward were arraigned on a charge of treason. Walker was the only one who pleaded guilty. It is generally supposed that Seward chased the arms and ammunition for the rebels during his recent visit to San Francisco It was proved in court that he hired natives to remain on a small island on the west side of Oahu to watch for a vessel that was expected from California. The schooner was a sealer named W. C. Wehlborn, belonging at San Francisco. The vessel was eighted on December 19. The arms and an munition were placed on board the steamer Waimanalo, an island vessel. They were afterward landed on Diamond Head. Captain Davies, master of the steamer, admitted all this, and was approached first by W. H. Rickard, who engaged him to intercept the sealer and cure the arms. He was promised $10,000 for doing so. He received $20 of the amount men-

John Cummings, formerly a cabinet min's ter and now under arrest for conspiracy, stated that he was told by Seward that he had received a letter from the queen telling him to go to San Francisco, where he would be fur-nished with funds by Rudolph Spreckels with which to purchase arms. A friend of Spreckels' named Willis was also implicated in the transaction. Samuel Nowlein told of frequent meetings held at Gulick's resider which plans were discussed by himself, Gulick, Rickard and Seward. The rebellion was planned for five months ago. The new constitution was completed about Christmas. The rebels had a martial law proclamation all Nowlein said that many foreigners ready. Hawaii and to their highest and best in- had agreed to help him, but they failed to appear in the field.

Charles E. Gulick presented a written statement to the court in which he denied every-thing but the drafting of the constitution. On the 24th a number of natives were tried on a charge of treason. They were on the field of battle, A fourth batch of prisoners was tried on the following day. Evidence against them was conclusive. John Bowler, an Irishman, was tried on the 29th on a charge

V. V. Ashford is on trial now on the same charge. In all the above cases no verdict has been brought in by the court, as far as the m'ssion will be in session for at least two weeks yet, as there are large numbers of prisoners to be disposed of. Martial law still continues in order to give validity to the verdicts of the court.

The councils of the republic were called to gether on the 16th to elect four new members and make an appropriation for war expenses. F. A. Hosmer, G. P. Castle, C. B. Wood and REPLY TO THE QUEEN'S LETTER.

The government has furnished the Associted press correspondent with a copy of its answer to the ex-queen. It reads as follows: EXECUTIVE BUILDING, HONOLULU, Jan. 29, 1895.—Madam: The document exe-cuted by you, purporting to contain your abdication and renunciation of all the sovereign rights heretofore claimed by you, has been delivered on your behalf to the president. As you were a prisoner of war at the time this instrument was signed it is desired before accepting and placing the same on file to make clear to you, Mrs. Liliuokalina Dominis in order that no misunderstanding may hereafter arise, the visws of the government in the matter.

1. The execution of this document can not be taken to exempt you in the slightest degree from personal and individual liability for such complicity as due investigation and trial show that you had in the late conspiracy against the government and the consequent loss of life, which position is recognized by you in your letter.

2. It cannot be conceded that such rights and claims as you voluntarily relinquish have had any legal existence since January 14, 1893, when by your public announcement that you no longer considered yourself bound by the fundamental law of the land under which you took office and by which your acts in attempting by the mare exercise of your own will to establish a new system of government contract existing between you and the people was dissolved, and all sovereign rights theretofore vested in you were lost The statement by the members of your then cabinet that they could not control your proposed action, and their appeal to the citizens of Honolulu for assistance, was the next step which led to an assumption by the prople of the right of government.

3. So far as your communication may t taken as a notice to the disaffected that it is your desire that the republic shall be recognized by them as the sole and lawful govern ment of the country, it is fully apprecia In this connection your unselfish appeal for clemency for those who took part in the late insurrection will receive full consideration By order of the executive council, WILLIAM O. SMITH, Attorney General.

Since the arrival of the Philadelphia it is jections, both written and verbal, to the constitutionality of the military committee sit-ting in judgment. He seems to be of the same opinion as Paul Neuman, that the of-fenses committed previous to the day on which martial law was declared should be tried by civil courts and judiciary. The this time, but it is understood to be of a nature to cause the government more uneasiness than anything that has taken place since the beginning of the rebellion.

MINISTER WILLIS INTERVIEWED. It is understood that Willis has interested himself in the cases of Louis Marshall and Thomas Walker, both of whom have claimed the protection of the United States. Marshall is charged with open rebellion. Walker pleaded guilty to treason. Admiral Beardsles is a stranger here. But is known of his stand in regard the government here. It is said that in close government circles it is feared that he might co-operate with Willis and land forces to prevent the finding of the court where it refers to the American prisoners from being carried out. Minister Willis was seen this morning, but he declined to make any statement for publication. He would not deny or affirm the fact that he has objected to the jurisdiction of the court. President Dole was seen previous to the departure of the steamer. He stated that he was not aware that any written objection had been received from the American minis-ter. He admitted that in the course of conversation Willis implied that he would ob-ject. British Commissioner Hawes has not given the government any trouble. He pursued a policy of moderation since the trouble began, chiefly, it is stated, because as though the supreme court will pass on the constitutionality of the military court. This cannot be done until martial law is rescinded, as writs of habeas corpus cannot be sworn out while it is in force.

RESULT OF A GREAT RELIGIOUS REV. VAL

Awakening in the Church Followed by a Sensational Case in Police Court and Diversified Discussion Among the Citizens,

FORT DODGE, Feb. 6 .- (Special.) - This city has been the scene this winter of the greatest religious awakening that has occurred here in many years. Union evangelistic services have been held almost constantly and religious workers have been wrought into a great state of enthusiasm. As a result of this Dr. Greene of the Presbyterian church on Sunday preached a sermon severely censuring the city officials for not more rigidly enforcing the laws and preventing crime known to exist here. On Monday he filed information against a house of Ill-fame which had recently opened and appeared in court to had recently opened and appeared in court to of this is that Hayden Bros. sold more prosecute the case, succeeding in having a pianos, organs and musical instruments in heavy fine imposed and the guilty parties or- one week than any five music stores west of dered to vacate the city. The town is divided on the case, many taking the side of the pastor, and believe such action was necessary to have the work done, while others believe he overstepped his duties and placed an unnecessary stigma on the city authorities.

GOOD FORTUNE OF A MURDERER.

dayer of John Frankhauser at Jefferson, Is., Found Guilty of Manslaughter. JEFFERSON, Ia., Feb. 6 .- (Special Telegram.)-The jury in the Shields murder case. after having been out but about six hours came in late last night with a verdict of manslaughter. The crime was one of the most brutal and cold-blooded in the history of the state. About a year ago John Frankhauser and Al Shields and two brothers, and William Bunell purchased a keg of beer, and, gathering at the home of one of their num-ber, held high carnival until a late hour at

The Shields brothers and Dunell became angry at Frankhauser, threw him to the ground, and beat and kicked him in a shameful manner. He was finally permitted to get up, whereupon he started for home. He had proceeded but a few yards, when Al Shields started after Frankhauser alone. Before reaching his victim he passed the wood pile and picked up an axe, with which he struck him on the head. Frankhauser managed to drag himself to his home, where he lived but a short time. Shields bears a bad reputation. This was not his first offense, and at one time he barely escaped lynching at the hands of the enraged citizens of Scranton The jury was largely in favor of a verdic of murder in the second degree, but finally compromised on manslaughter. Al Shields was tried alone. His brother's trial will fol

When he wa arrested he declared he was a brother o the son-in-law of justice Fuller. the police received an anonymous letter from Chicago which told his real identity. he was questioned after this he admitted the truth to the officers, but denies it to others. The letter from Chicago was as follows:

Do not be fooled by this vagabond. He is the son-in-law of Chief Justice Fuller. He is a double-dyed villain, and ran away from Chicago and left his ball to bear the brunt. He is under bonds for forgery, forged many names, and got money on the forged paper. Father has done everything possible to reform him, but it is useless. possible to reform him, but it is useless. He has only escaped the penitentiary because of the Fuller family. The police of Chicago can give you his full history if you want it. His father is a respectable man, and has been ruined by the vagabond. Iowa Council of the l'ovs' Brigade.
