Brothers Gave Each Other Scent Recognition When They Met.

TRIANGULAR FAMILY DUEL IN COURT

Dr. Thuddens T., the Third Brother, is to Break Down Adria's Evidence Against Harry by Proving His Insanity -The Prisoner's Life.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 11 .- Adry Hayward, the brother of the man accused of murdering Catherine Ging, was in court this morning before the trial began. His wife sat beside him with traces of recent tears upon her cheeks, but Adry maintained a mask of amiles and joviality. When Harry was brought in by the deputies the two brothers happen." met, but there was no sign of recognition other than a smile of commiseration on the face of Harry. Dr. Thaddeus T. Hayward, the third brother, was present and was visibly this morning whether he would be a witness he refused to either affirm or deny it, and when further questioned as to whether Adry is insane he replied: "If he is not he's been very near it in the past."

formation had been obtained under duress, but this was overruled. The ex-mayor repeated the now familiar story.

Cross-examination developed nothing but objections from the state, which were sustained and exceptions noted by the defense.

Adry Hayward was then called to the stand and a buzz of subdued interest went around the court room. He stated that he was 33 and Harry was 29 years of age. He had come to Minneapolis twenty-five years ago from Macoupin county, Illinois, where he was born. He was married and had two children. He was employed in his father's office, where he transacted most of the loan and rental business. Harry was not emtogether, the tears streaming down her and rental business. Harry was not em-ployed there, but often came there. Harry had told him that last summer and fall he was engaged in loaning money on diamonds.

Harry had also told him that he gambled some. He had told him of having loaned money for Miss Ging and of having gambled with her money. ERWIN CURTLY SHUT OFF. At this point Mr. Erwin arose and said: "I wish to enter an objection here. This witness has an illusion on this subject and is,

"I don't see," said the court, "that he's any more insane than some of the attorneys in this case." "I take an exception to the court's ruling,"

"I take an exception to the court's ruling," retorted Erwin. With that remark he sat down and the examination proceeded.

"He told me," continued Adry, "that she held some notes secured by a mortgage on a flour mill at Hamel and he asked me to go out with him to Hamel and see about it. We drove out, and though I advised him against the loan he made it. Three weeks later he came in and said he had Been very lucky, as the mill had burned and he would probably get the money to handle. About the middle of September he asked me if I wanted to make good money. I said yes and he said I could get about $2,000 if I was not too particular. He asked me if I was willing to kill a woman for $2,000. I said-I was not willing to kill anybody. He said I was not willing to kill anybody. He said it was easy to do it and nobody would be suspicious of me, as they only looked up a set of criminals who had been convicted of crimes before. After that he said he knew a hackman that would do anything for him. He said it would be easy to kill her in a hack, and if necessary the hack-man could be killed, too. I asked him if the hackman had a family, and he said he did. I then said it would be an awful thing to kill a woman, let alone the hacks suicide and he gave it up. Then ndered how she would fall if he took riding in a buggy and they should strike a boulder, whether she would fall in or out. After that he talked about getting her tangled in the lines and letting the horse run away.

"On the morning of November 6 Harry came to my flat. He took out a package of money and asked me if my vault was open. I said no, as it was election day. I went with him to breakfast and he said to say nothing of the money as he was sup-posed to be busted. He also showed me i awn ticket and three diamond rings. The said he was through with me and that not any nerve. He had found a man had not any nerve. He had found a man, however, who had nerve, an ex-policeman named C. A. Blixt. Then he showed me the bills again and I made a play to grab them. One of them looked like a red $100 bill. All of the rest looked like $1 bills. Later in the day he told Albert Johnson that going into the millinery and dress-business with a little woman who was smart and knew all about it.

Turning to the question of life insurance, the witness said: "He said the dressmaker had been up in the New York Life and had passed the examination all right, but there was some mistake about the papers and they had to be sent back. She made a mistake in getting a $5.000 instead of a $7.000 policy.
"Then Harry said: 'I'll get Jack for one witness then and Blixt for the other. If ou don't want to sign you'd better get out of here.' I then left to do some collecting nd went home to lunchcon. He told me or Morcay street and the notes were signed.

HARRY'S OTHER CRIMES. "On Tuesday he wanted me to let him have a large bill for some $1 bills. I gave him a $20 and a $50 bill. The next day he wanted me to take fifty $1 bills to the bank, a draft, and then change my mind and other money in their place. He offered $1 to do it, but I refused. He was quite me $1 to do it, but I refused. He was quite angry, and finally I took the money myself and used it from time to time. The next time Harry came into the office and asked time Harry came into the office and asked but Adry scouted the idea and said he but Adry scouted the idea and said he have the description of the said the gang was a fabrication of me if it was not time to sacrifice the dress-maker. I said: 'Harry, you're not going to kill the dressmaker, are you?' He said: Harry's. Kill the dressmaker, are you?" He said:
'Yes we are! She'll have to be a victim this time!" I said: 'Harry, you mustn't do it, its awful!" He replied: 'She's got to go this time!" I said: 'Harry, you mustn't do this. If you do this I will report you. His hands were clutching as I said that, and he looked wild. I am not naturally afraid of anybody, but I was afraid of him then. I moved slowly to where my coat and hat were hanging, and was just making for the door, when Harry came after me. I told him I was going for a walk until he cooled off. I went out to my rooms and got my revolver, and Denied," said the court promptly. had killed two persons in the east and he had killed a third, but he stopped there and would say nothing more. He also said he had caused a fire where the loss was $450,000. He said he got $2 for doing it. He said there nothing in haunting people. I had told that if he killed her she would haunt

ADRY HAYWARDON THE STAND with him-I don't want to say anything about VOTED DOWN DISSOLUTION , but I went and told Elder Stewart."
"Hold on there," sa'd Erwin, "we object as

The objection was sustained, but Adry was tion to Mr. Stewart.

"On the Saturday following Harry walked along with me as I was making some collections. He said, 'You'd better be a little careful where you are for the next hree or four days. Something may happen."

"I talked to him and told him that he must not think of such a thing. That evening he came to my flat and said I had better take my wife and go to the theater. I told him I would do as I d—d pleased. He said something might happen and that my wife's evidence as to my whereabouts would more cordial to Harry than to Adry. It is understood that he will go on the stand and swear that his brother Adry is mentally incapable and, in fact, insane. *When asked to capable and, in fact, insane. The direct examination of ex-Mayor Fustis was resumed at the opening of the court with the story of his interview in the Oneida building with Harry Hayward about the loans he had made Miss Ging. Mr. Erwin interposed an objection that the information had been obtained under duress, was very little dirt on it. As he was doing twenty was doing the loans he had made with the information had been obtained under duress, together, the tears streaming down her seamed face. But Adry would not thus be reconciled. He tore himself away from the motherly embrace with a gasping sob and went out of the court room when the deputy put the handcuffs on Harry and led him back to the jail.

LOOK HIM IN THE EYE." "Look him in the eye, Harry; look him in the eye." The words came in an excited whis-per from the knot of people around the pris-Harry Hayward during the most exciting moment of the trial today. Never had there been such a crowd. The court room was packed to suffocation and everything was repressed. There was an air almost of terror in the atmosphere. The faces of the vast concourse of people bore an expression as if their minds were laboring under great mental. oner, and were spoken by the mother of Harry Hayward during the most exciting concourse of people bore an expression as it their minds were laboring under great mental gracious reception by their majesties, who disturbance. Gradually from the time W. W. listened with interest to her graphic story disturbance. Gradually from the time W. W. Erwin had taken Adry Hayward for crossexamination this feeling had been growing. It reached its height when Mr. Erwin asked Adry to explain how his brother had acted when he had told him he would hang if around his neck and over his face. In order ness appear more ridiculous before the ex action. The witness stepped easily from his chair to the table at which Mr. Erwin and the prisoner sat. He went over the story and explained his brother's actions. As I bent over his face was only a few feet from that of his brother, and facing him. Harry sat somewhat limp in h's chair, leaning back, the scene about him much like the corner of a ring in which a pugilistic cham pion has received a blow. Every eye in that room was bent upon the scene. Every form was half raised from its seat. There was a rustle of excitement about Harry.

"Look him in the eye; look him in the eye," cried the mother. Harry did not move. His mother shool him and he roused himself, and, leaning far over the table towards his brother, his head on his hands, tried to catch his brother's eye. Adry was talking so rapidly and ex-citedly that he did not see him, and Harry could not catch his glance. He slid back in his chair and looked at his mother, as if to say that he was not equal to it. If that ey ould have controlled the elder brother in the past, it had grown powerless.

STILL LOVED HIS BROTHER. The day was filled with exciting incidents Once when Mr. Erwin asked if he had an affection for his brother, he replied that he had. Then he asked, knowing Mr. Erwin's intention, if Mr. Erwin would have gone and told anybody if he had been in his posi-tion. Mr. Erwin was a trifle excited and asked the court if he might answer, and, to his surprise, the court answered that he might. Then, for a moment, all his pent-up feelings burst forth in a short, scathing sentence, in which he gave Adry to understand that if he thought his brother was crazy or ntending guilt he would have moved heave and earth to prevent it.

It was a startling scene for a moment. The cross-examination of Adry was virulent and exhaustive. At times Adry grew vexed and flung retorts at the attorney, at no time, how-ever, showing himself lacking mentally. He did show some animus against Harry, however, at various times, but in all the long examination he did not contradict his original story told in the morning. The attorney put obtuse and complex questions in efforts to obtain results for his experts, but he apparently failed. Adry, however, made hardly as good a witness as Blixt, for the reason that he talked too much. He repeated his story on cross-examination almost word for worlike his morning testimony. In fact, h pleased the state, and as far as could out to my rooms and got my revolver, and finally went back to the office. Harry was small there, but was cooler. I repeated to Harry that he mustn't think of such a thing. He said it was nothing to kill people. He had caused the death of three persons. "We move to have that struck out," put in Erwin. "Panied" said the court promptly. you see you are exciting her?" Adry fell back and Mrs. Hayward stood sobbing for a time in Harry's arms. This time her sister advanced and led her from the room.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Feb. H.-C. 7 Gulick, who is rentenced to be executed He said. People dream of such things. and and R. W. Wilcox, at Honolulu, him. He said. 'People dream of such things, but if you had any acres you would go alleged complicity in the recent royalist resons. A such and kill some one. Kill a cripple; it's better for them to die than to live anyway. Go out and kill some one and I will give you $100.' I asked him how he would know that I had done it and he said he could see it in the papers. I said I would do it. The last conversation I had law, and Culick married the widow.

allowed to state that he made a communica-tion to Mr. Stewart. of Commons.

PARNELLITE MEMBERS MAKE THE MOVE

Redmond Assalls the Liberals for Abandoning Home Rule and Supplanting that

John Morley, replying, denied Lord Rose-

serted home rule menaced the constitution and was dangerous to the empire, to eject a government which had passed the home rule bill in the House of Commons. Mr. Balfour said he would vote for the amendment for dissolution, as that was what he wanted. He was convinced the govern-ment also wanted dissolution. The amend-ment was rejected by a vote of 236 to 256.

rule by an alliance with a party which as-

MISS BOECKER VISITED THE OUEEN. Told Her Story of the Sinking of the Elbe

and of the Rescue. LONDON, Feb. 11 .- Miss Annie Boecker, the only woman saved from the Elbe, had an audience today with Queen Victoria and the queen's eldest daughter. Empress Frederick of Germany, who is visiting her mother at the Osborne house, the royal residence on the Isle of Wight. Her majesty and Empress Frederick were deeply interof the disaster and the rescue of the survivors by the English fishing smack Wildflower. The queen invited Miss Boecker to place her signature in the birthday book and Empress Adry to explain how his brother had acted when he had told him he would hang if he persisted in following his scheme.

Adry explained how his brother had turned black in the face with passion; how he had bent toward him and passed his fingers around his neck and over his face. In order

ONLY THE TOPMASTS SHOWED.

incoming Steamship Passes Two Wrecks

Outside the Delaware Capes. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 11 .- A telegram re eived here today by the Clyde Steamship ompany from the captain of steamship Algonquin, which has just arrived from Jacksonville, reports passing the topmasts of two three-masted schooners sunk just outde the Delaware capes. One of these vessels is supposed to be the James Ives, which foundered off that place two weeks ago, but the identity of the second craft is a mystery. ludging from the fact that both vessels were under sail when they went down, the locality has, no doubt, been the scene of a recent shipwreck and loss of life. There were no igns of life about the vicinity. Neither were there any boats adrift near by.

Miss Boecker Will Visit the Queen. LONDON, Feb. 11.-Messrs. Keller, Wallis Co., agents for the North German Lloyd steamship company, state the body landed at Harwich yesterday is unquestionably at Harwich yesterday is unquestionably that of Herman Gehrls, the doctor of the Elbe. Miss Anna Boecker, the only woman of the Elbe who was saved, today received a command from the queen to visit her at Osborne house, the royal residence on the Isle of Wight. The royal yacht has been placed at her disposal for the purpose of the visit. Empress Frederick of Germany, the queen's eldest daughter, is visiting her mother at Osborne house, and Miss Boecker will be given an audience by both the queen and Empress Frederick.

Documents Stolen from the Cloak Room. BERLIN, Feb. 11.-During the debate of the estimate for the parliamentary building today Baron von Manteuffel declared a letter, which was printed in yesterday's Leipsiger Volks Zeitung, was stolen from the cloak room of the Reichstag building, and demanded that Herr Schoenlank, who is the editor of the Leipsiger Volks Zeitung, furnish an explanation to the house, of which he is a member. Schoenlank replied, saying the "copy" was sent to him anonymously. This caused an uproar, and many cries of incredulity. Manteuffel then demanded that the letter be returned to him, in order that he might criminally prosecute the person who took it from the cloak room.

Austria Buying Gold. VIENNA, Feb. 11.-Continuing the plan establish a gold standard, the minister of finance today issued 4 per cent gold rentes to the amount of 50,000,000 florins. Half of this amount was taken by one firm, and the balance will be taken at the option of a syndicate, composed of the Kreeditanstalt the Boden-Creditanstalt and the Rothschilds. The price was 10-125.

William Honors Fismarck. BERLIN, Feb. 11.-The National Zeitung says the emperor has ordered a memorial tablet to be placed on the Bismarck tower, now building at Goettingen, to bear the in-scription: "To the Great Chancellor, Wil-liam II, 1894."

Johnson Killed " ock Robin." LONDON, Feb. II .- At Central hall, Hol LONDON, Feb. II.—At Central hall, Flor-burn, tonight, C. Johnson, an American, knecked out Robinson, alias "Cock Robin." in seven rounds. The fight was for f500, and the ten-stone six-pound championship in seven rour and the ten-s of the world.

Armenian Leader Condemned to Death.

LONDON, Feb. 11 .- A special from Moosh says it is rumored the popular Armenian

Hadji Vallost, has been condemned death and will shortly be executed. Greek Chamber to l'e Disso ved ATHENS, Feb. 11 .- A decree dissolving the Chamber will be published in two weeks. The election for members of the new Chamber will be held on April 28. Earthquakes in Italy. ROME, Feb. 11.-Earthquake shocks we:

felt yesterday evening at Reggio and Mil-lazzion and Messina, Sicily. Killed His ! rother and Himself. SALT LAKE, Feb. H .- John Burke, hying near Minersville, Utah stabled his brother-in-law. Charles Grossman, fatally today, then betrowed a gun from a neigh-bor and blew out his own brains. The tras-edy was the result of a family quarrel.

Secred Only Note; and Morrgages.

morning, the safe blown open and $15,000 in notes and mortgages stolen, There was no money in the safe. The work bore evidence of being done by professionals.

NIGHT SESSIONS IN PROSPECT.

Wyoming Legislature Will Not He Able to Finish the Work in Hand.* CHEYENNE, Feb. 11—(Special.)—The ses-sion of third state legislature of Wyoming expires by constitutional limitation next Satorday night, but there is more work nov on hand than can possibly be disposed of in two weeks. Two hundered and sixty bills have been introduced, 177 in the house, and bery had given up home rule, and said that price mischievous blow was ever struck against home rule than Mr. Redmond's amendment. Mr. Redmond had committed himself to the most absurd political paradox. He was trying in the name of home himself to the most absurd political para-dox. He was trying in the name of home points deputies. The senate passed Olson's authorizing a state surveyor, who also appoints deputies. The senate passed Olson's bill prohibiting hauling on highways bodies of domestic animals which have died from contagious diseases, and a bill granting druggist's license to students of pharmacy in the State Agricultural college. The senate also passed the following house bills: Repealing the law allowing extra compensation to commissioners of certain counties; providing eight years free education for the blind; to extend until October next the time for payment of taxes for 1894; for granting to incorporated towns the right to levy and collect a road tax.

In the house, after a warm debate, the bill establishing an asylum for the bill at Sary passed. Gary donates the old court house building and square, but does not ask an appropriation. Considerable feeling was caused by the vote, which stood 49 to 22.

Both houses had quite a discussion over the Russian thistle problem. The discussion strew out of a bill allowing townships to bond for building barb wire fences along bollic highways for the purpose of stopping public highways for the purpose of stopping the movement of the thistles. The bill passed, also the bill allowing the townships boards to aid in building court houses, and the law of the Clenfuegos are on the short route of the Ward line, going from here to Nassau and thence to Santiago de Cuba and Clenfuegos, The steamer's passengers and baggage were transferred to the Goodwill and astelle land, and sarly landed. At 10 a. m. the company's steamer Santiago hove in sight and stood as close as possible to her disabled the Clenfuegos. When the Clenfuegos went on the research the time personal effects.

When the Clenfuegos went on the road tax.

In the hou

CAUGHT ON ALL RIGHT.

John Cranstoun Accomplished His Purpos in Going to Hawall. SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 11.—John Cranstoun, the man who threatens to enter a claim for damages against the Hawaijan government for banishment from the coun well known in this city, having worked for about five years for the Scattle Transfer company as foreman of the dray teams, and has also been in the draying business for himself, in which he falled. He was discharged from the employ of the transfer company on April 1, 1894. After being discharged he remained in the city until the latter part of May. He was in hard straits financially when he left and barely had enough money to take him to Honolulu. He informed several friends shortly before leaving that he was going to the islands to "catch on to something." His friends were not at all surprised when they heard that he had taken part in the rebellion, and say he is just the kind of a man to get into such affairs. Many predicted that he would get into some kind of trouble when he went to the islands.

Cranstoun is an Englishman, having been born and raised near London, and is believed only to have declared his intentions and not to have been fully naturalized as an American. He is described as being intensely English in all his thoughts and actions. worked for about five years for the Scattle

FIVE FIREMEN INJURED.

Three of the Number Likely to Die as a

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 41.-Five firemen vere seriously, three of them perhaps bottoms this afternoon. They are: Fred Ricketts, member of hook and ladder company, who was internally injured by being struck by a revolving crank; James being struck by a revolving crank; James Hauren and Sam Cox, who were precipitated fifty feet by falling floors; F. K. Gaffney, who had his arm broken, and Con O Hearn, who was frozen almost stiff. Houren, Cox and O Hearn are in a serious condition tonight, and the chances are against their recovery. The fire started in the building occupied by the Creamery Supply company. Its stock was entirely consumed, and the building, owned by George P. Messervy of Boston, valued at about $15,000, was guited, Reves & Co. manufacturers of straw picking, the Campbell Paint company and two or three other firms in adjoining buildings had their stock stightly damaged by water. The fire started at 1 o'clock and for a time threatened to wipe out the entire block, being beyond control for four hours. The total loss aggregates $100,000 insurance, about half.

STEAMER VICTORIA DISA LEO.

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. II.-The Northern Pacific Steamship company has received a cablegram from Nagasaki announcing that the steamer Victoria, due here February 21, was damaged by a collision on January 28 at Shimonistki, Japan, and proceeded to 28 at Shimonisiki, Japan, and proceeded to Kobe for repairs. Further details are not given, except that the stammer will be delayed three weeks. This will bring her here March it. The forwarding of United States mail will be somewhat interfered with, as the Postoffice department on Saturday ordered all Oriental mails arriving at San Francisco after the saiding of the Oceanic to be sent here for dispatch on the Victoria, scheduled to sail February 28. It is possible the company will send back the steamer Tacoma, which arrived at Yokohama from Tacoma a few days ago. A good share of the Victoria cargo has arrived, including seven carloads of cotton from Cairo, Ill. No one was injured by the collision.

Movements of Seago ng Vessels, Feb. 11. New York—Arrived—La Gascogne, n Havre; Maasdam, from Rotterdam; Normandie, from Havre; Wittekind, n Bremen; Francisco, from Huli Glasgow—Arrived—Grecian, from New York.
At Bremen-Arrived-Stuttgart, from Bal-At Liverpool-Arrived-Columbia, from Boston; Nomadic, from New York.

Exites Will sue the Steamship Company. VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. H .- The trie Secored Only Note: and Mortgages.

PITTSBURG, Kan. Feb. II.—The office of the Long-Bell Lumber company in this city was entered by burglars early this them off against their well.

Ward Line Steamer Added to the Ocean Graveyard Off the Bahamas.

CIENFUEGOS WENT DOWN OU CKLY

Her Officers and Crew Escaped in Boats and Were Picked by a Sister Vessel most not think of such a thing.

That even implements to my hard and said I and so the I and said I and so the I and said I and so the coffee for the passengers was made and served. During this time not the slightest confusion prevailed, the crew being under perfect control. At 7 a. m. the little fishing schooner Goodwill bore down to the steamer, launched her boat and her captain boarded the Clenfuegos. The steamer's passengers

Sleet is now falling and sleighs are showing his section.

Ed Lynn, colored, was frozen to death while on his way to Augusta from his home in the ountry this morning. All trains arriving here are delayed by the snow. The southern fast mail came is it 10 o'clock with two car loads of New York mail, the first to come through in two days. The train had to plow through a thirty-foot

Had Not Coal Enough to Tow Her. LONDON, Feb. 11.-The British steamer Maryland, from Philadelphia on January 22 for this port, arrived at Valencia. Ireland, ast evening, having damaged her bows in towing a disabled steamer, which she was obliged to abandon owing to the fact that her supply of coal was exhausted.

The steamer which the Maryland was obliged to abandon was the British steamer Lochmaree, Captain Allison, from Charleston January 15, for Bremen. The British steamer Glenochiel, Captain Harrison, from New Or leans January 7, via Newport News January 15, for London, arrived at Queenstown on February 8 and reported that on February 6 when 138 miles southwest of Kinsale head, she spoke to the Lochmaree. The latter had run out of coal and had been obliged to burn ing under sail.

One Dead Sailor Washed Ashore. EASTPORT, L. I., Feb. 11.-The body of an unknown man was found in the surf near the crew of the Forge river life saving station. It is supposed to be that of one of the sailors lost from the schooner Lewis V. Place. The scho ner is going to pieces. A sharp lookout is being kept for the bodies of Captain Squires and the members of his crew who perished with him. The two survivors, William Ste-vens and William J. Nelson, who were rescued by the members of the life saving crew after being in the rigging forty-eight hours, are at the life saving station and doing as well as can be expected. They were badly frozen from their long exp sure.

LOWESTOFT, Feb. 11 .- A man who atended the inquest on the body of one of the passengers of the Elbe, supposed to be that of Edward Mushkowitz, declared himself to be the real Edward Mushkowitz and said that the body was that of a man named Guttmann, his brother-in-law, who had absconded from Buda-Pesth, taking the witness' passports, cards, etc., securing a second cabin passage New York. Guttmann lost 300,000 guilders in bourse speculation and made go d his es-cape. Guttmann's sister had booked as Estelle Golder and she had 16,000 guilders when drowned. The coroner's jury expressed them-selves as satisfied with the Mushkowitz evi-

GALVESTON, Feb. 11 .- A messenger from Rollover, a hamlet on the gulf shore, reports the arrival there of David and Almond Berwick, who constituted the crew of the Scandinavian, before reported enroute from Orange to Galvestor Drew Pender, a passenger, was frozen to death. The survivors drifted fifty miles in an open skiff and landed at Rollover with hands and feet frozen. They state that the sloop capsized last Wednesday, sixty miles OSWEGO, N. Y., Feb. 11.-The big storm which has been raging for a week past shows no signs of abatement. For prolonged severity it is the worst experienced here in twenty The thermometer has averaged 10 de grees bel w zero, with the wind blowing thirty or forty miles an hour, for several days. Railway traffic has been abandoned zince Thursday. The rotary plows are unable to force their way through the drifts, all breaking down in the attempt.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 11.-The steamer St. Pierre has arrived from Newfoundland. She encountered cold weather and had a rough trip. The steamer did not pass near Sable island. Captain Angroye had seen nothing of any steamer that would answer the description of La Gascogne.

Instructed to Visit Sable Island. ST. JOHNSVILLE, N. F., Feb. 11.—The regular mail steamer Grand Lake will leave here tomorrow for Hallfax. She has been instructed to go as far south as Sable Island to ascertain if the missing French steamer La Gascogne is or has been in that vicinity.

Walting at Querustown for the Mails. OURENSTOWN, Feb. 11.-The Cunard line steamer Servia, Captain Ferguson, which salled from Liverpool on Saturday last and which arrived here yesterday on her way to New York, is still waiting here for the mails which have been snowed up.

Coldest Day of the Season in Colorado from Palmer Lake, Colo., says: Today has been the coldest day of the season, the thermometer registering at 6:30 a. m. degrees below zero, and at noon zero. I night promises to be exceedingly cold, being 17 degrees below at 19 p. m. School Teacher Frozen to Death.

LYONS, N. Y., Feb. 11 .- Mrs. Davis, the eacher of the district school three miles north of this village, was found this morn ing frozen to death in a snow bank, where she had lain since Friday. She left school when the blizzard was well under way, and was overcome on her way home. Saw a Large Steamer Going West,

ST. PIERRE, Miquelin, Feb. 11 .- An American schooner has arrived here and reports that on Saturday last, about forty-five miles from this place, a large steamer was sighted going west very slowly. Thirty Inches of Snow in Colorado never saw anything like it before. It is deck, some of them singing and most of them feared there will be great loss of cattle on the cheering, as persons are wont to do when Servia Delayed Twenty-Six Hours. QUEENSTOWN, Feb. 11.-The Servia atled from here at 3 p. m. today, twenty-six hours behind her usual time, having been delayed while waiting for the malls which were blocked by the snow drifts.

MOSAIC LAW NOT GOOD IN DAKOTA. Divorce Practice Prevalent in Ancient Judea Does Not Go in Sioux Falls.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Feb. II.—(Special.)

—A South Dakota judge has reversed Moses, to whom was first given the law. Franziska Mittler came to South Dakota two years ago, and while living in the best hotel in the city, has also been trying thon for the blind; to extend until colored taxes for next the time for payment of taxes for rect the time for payment of taxes for right to levy and collect a road tax.

In the house, after a warm debate, the bill establishing an asylum for the blind at Gary passed, Gary donates the old cour household the court house, after a warm debate, the bill establishing an asylum for the blind at Gary passed, Gary donates the old court household the court house and the court household the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court household the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court household the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court household the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court household the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court house the court houses and the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court house and the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court house and the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court house and the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court house and the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court house and the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court house and the court houses, and the larged edges of the cord cut was a court house and the court house and the court houses, and the larged edges of the court houses, and the larged edges of the court houses, and the larged edges of the court houses, and the court houses, and the larged edges of the court hous

Juge Jones decided that masmuch as a Jewish woman cannot secure a divorce in Austria unless her busband is willing, the case brought there by Mrs. Mittler was a mere nullity, and consequently no bar to the present action. The cu tody of the child jurisdiction in that matter.

MORE TROUBLE FOR RAY.

Acting Indian Agent for the Shoshone Charged with Fraud. LANDER, Wyo., Feb. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain Patrick Henry Ray, act-

ng Indian agent for the Shoshone agency, who has been indicted for stealing cattle, is igain in trouble. He is charged with again in trouble. He is charged with fraudulently proving up a ranch on Big Wind fiver. A year ago, on January 5, he made proof in the local land office on one of the finest pieces of land in central Wyoming and parties here believing there was fraud in the transaction reported it to the department a year later. The land commissioner acted promptly and has ordered the land held for cancellation.

Chandler's Companions Arrested. CHEYENNE, Feb. 11.-(Special.)-Private: James L. Ewing, Crocket Hounchell, John Grambrel and Walter D. Walker of the Eighth infantry at Fort Russell, have been arrested on warrants charging them with arrested on warrants charging them with being accessories after the fact to the as-sault to murder Policeman Ingalis of this city by Private Ike Chandler It is claimed that these soldiers assisted Chandler to escape from the garrison after the crime had been committed. Chandler's companions have contributed about $400 to employ counsel to defend him when his trial is held in the district court. Book Agent in Deep Water.

CHEYENNE, Feb. 11 .- (Special.)-A boo agent named O'Callahan, who claimed to represent the Cassell publishing house, represent the Cassell publishing house, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses at Greeley. It is alleged that O'Callahan secured a large number of orders from Greeley ladies, each purchaser signing a note for $35, payable in monthly installments. The notes were afterward sold to a local broker. It is said that the books delivered are of a very inferior quality and could be duplicated for $1.50 a set. O'Callahan was taken back to Greeley.

MAY CALL A NEW JURY. Sickness of a Jaror Temporarily Suspend

the Debs Trial. CHICAGO, Feb. 11.-The Debs conspiracy ease was again delayed today by the illess of Juror Coe. Judge Grosscup and physician visited the juror at his hotel, and at the opening of court the judge announced that Coe could not be in court for at least two weeks. After a lengthy consultation with the attorneys the court said that at 2 o'clock he would announce a decision as to what action would be taken. The attorneys for the defense this afternoon deciared if the judge decided to call another jury they would accept the eleven jurors now serving, and would read the evidence to the new man. This suggestion struck Judge Grosscup favorably, and he asked all the defendants if they were willing to accept this course. All agreed, with the exception of Hannahan, who was not in court. If his consent is obtained this plan will be followed. physician visited the juror at his hotel, and INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Fob. 11 -- At clock this afternoon fire originated in th wholesale grocery establishment of George Wholesale grocery establishment of George W. Stout, in South Meridan street, and for a time the entire wholesale district was threatened, and a repetition of the great fire of seven years ago in the same district was feared. The flames were confined to the Stout establishment, which was entirely destroyed. The loss will reach about $15,000, on which there is $5,000 insurance. The drug house of A. Kiefer & Co. suffered considerably by smoke and water. The loss is also covered by insurance.

G ad to Get Back Home CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 11.-County Co. missioner John Vevera, one of the survivors of the Elbe disaster, arrived hom today. The meeting with his family was most pathetic. "America is the gleatest country on earth," said Vevera, "and I don't want to leave it again. I would not take another trip across the Atlantic for all the money in the world."

Eigin Butter Narket. III., Feb. II.-BUTTER-Firm; sales, 9,000 lbs., at 23c; 13,000 lbs., at 23kgc; 4,500 lbs., at 23kgc.

GASCOGNE IN PORT

Sighted from Fire Island Lookout Late in the Afternoon.

PROCEEDING UNDER HER OWN STEAM

Had Feen in No Danger at Any Time During the Passage.

DENVER, Feb. 11.-A special to the News DELAYED BY A BRCK N P.STON RCD

Accident Happened on the Taird Day After Sailing.

HOVE TO DURING A VIOLENT HURR CANE

All on Board Reported Well but Very Happy to Arrive in Port-Tugs with Reporters Sent Out to Meet the Ship.

QUARANTINE, Feb. 11.-La Gascogne, the long overdue French steamship, limped into port last night with three red lights hanging RIFLE, Colc., Feb. 11.—Thirty inches of from her mizzenmast as a signal that she snow has fallen here. The oldest inhabitants was disabled. Her passengers were all on their minds are suddenly relieved of a heavy strain. For thirteen days of a voyage lasting sixteen days the ship had been disabled, one of her main piston rods having been broken on her third day out from Havre, For sixteen hours on that fateful third day the vessel lay to while the break was being repaired. It was comparatively good weather when the break occurred, but the steamer was doomed to run into some of the nastlest of her voyage. When the break had been repaired the steamer proceeded on her way, but under greatly reduced speed. When near the banks of Newfoundland the Gascogne ran into a gale that increased to a hurricane force. While off Sable Island on February 5, the machinery broke down again and the steamer was again hove to, this time for forty-one hours. During all this period the engine did not make a single revolution. When the second repairs had been made the steamer started ahead once more under still further reduced power and headed toward the Long Island coast. It is a remarkable fact that during the entire voyage across the Atlantic La Gascogne did not sight a steamer until she passed one bound for Philadelphia on Sunday. Late this evening the French steamer signaled Fire Island and then proceeded to the Sandy Hook lightship, While the passengers were considerably worried on account of the delay there was never a panic among them. They knew their ship was a staunch one and they had confidence in their captain. And besides, they knew that the ship was not totally disabled. But they were nervous and apprehensive at times and they halled the conclusion of their voyage with joy. They cheered the captain and they cheered the crew and they cheered the World tug. The following is a copy of the official log of La Gascogne, copied by one of the passengers day to day and the number of miles reelect off every twenty-four hours: January 27-Long. 13.47, lat. 49.47, 449 January 28-Long. 24.10, lat. 49.44, 407 miles. January 29-Long. 33.48, lat. 48.34, 380

January 30-Long. 35.21, lat. 48.25, 66 January 31-Long. 40.24, lat. 41.17, 215 miles.

February 1-Long. 46.06, lat. 45.40, 255 miles. February 2-Long. 52.16, lat. 43.59, 280 February 3-Long. 57.02, lat. 32.09, 213

February 4-Long. 61.41, lat. 42.11, 40 February 5-Long. -, lat. -.

February 6-Long. -, lat. -. February 7-Long. 63.07, lat. 41.34, 103 February 8-Long. 66.56, lat. 40.55, 169

February 9-Long. 69.35, lat. 39.45, 11 February 10-Long. 70.79, lat. 40.14, 79 February 11-Long. 74.15, lat. 40.27, 15

NEWS IN THE CITY.

miles.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 .- Not since the Umria was reported, two years ago, after a perilous voyage across the Atlantic, with a broken shaft, has there been such excitement in this city as this evening. When the news was flashed across the wires that a steamer resembling the long-missing La Gascogne had been sighted off Fire Island, the inference that the French line steamer was safe did not for some time reassure the generally incredulous public. It was too good to be true, and it was only when the bulletin announced that La Gascogne was slowly making her way to her port of destination that the long pent-up feelings of those who had anxiously waited day by day for tidings of the missing craft broke out. In every hotel, in every club, in almost every home in the city the sole topic of conversation was the arrival of the ship, the hope of whose rescue from the terrific storms which have caused such terrible disasters in the maratime world had almost deserted the hearts of the most sanguine. In the offices of the French line the scene when the telegram was received announcing the safety of the big liner was a striking one. The news spread quickly through the city. Hundreds of persons besciged the pier of the company as though they expected that La Gascogne would in an hour or two be moored at her dock. This crowd was reinforced every noment. Friends of French passengers fired puery after query at Mr. West, the superinendent of the line. The only information youchsafed by them was that the ship was safe. They shook hands with each other and laughed and wept with joy. Over 1,000 people decided upon staying on the dock until La Gascogne arrived, and it was only when a conspicuous announcement was posted on the outside of the company's pier that she would not leave quarantine until tomorrow morning that the anxious watchers slowly went to their homes. The rejoicing was naturally greatest in the French quarter. LAUDED THE CAPTAIN. The heroism of La Gascogne's captain was lauded, the sufferings of her passengers, the probabilities of numerous accidents were all enumerated over and over again, but the one great feeling was that of joy at what was considered by all as nothing less than a miracle. At the Hotel Martin, the well-