Al Rachwitz and the three Droge boys were discharged by Judge McGee yesterday. The court held that the only question involved was as to whether Rachwitz or Sorenson owned the dead horse bones that were at the bottom of all the difficulty, and that a civil suit, and not a criminal, was the way in which that should be settled. The case of the state against Cliff Hough was finished in police court yesterday and a fine of $25 and costs was assessed against him. The costs will amount to almost as much as the fine. Hough gave notice of an appeal to the district court, and the pros-pects are that the costs will run up to twice their present figure before the case is finally

"What Makes Scelety?" is the subject at the Latter Day Saints' church next Sunday evening. This is the second in the series of lectures by Rev. T. W. TWO CAR LOADS OF DRY GOODS.

The Big Consignment Comes to the Boston Store this Week.

Two car loads of goods will arrive at the Boston Store this week, and as quickly as they can be unpacked will be put on sale. Case lots are being received every day, and the car lots are only a part of the regular spring addition received in a bunch. All of these goods are the newest spring fabrics, and they cover a range in prices and quality that will satisfy the tastes and suit the purses of all the ladies. The new goods were so beautiful nor so cheap.

Tendered Ilis Resignation. Rev. J. H. Davis tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church at the close of the prayer meeting Wednesday evening. As before stated, he had been considering this step for some little time, but it had been hoped that he could be induced to re-main. He has been here for two years and a half and succeeded in harmonizing the clashing elements of a church that had been divided for years. Although a young man, he had remarkable success, and the church membership is much larger now than it has ever been before. Mr. Davis has re-ceived a call from the Baptist church at Chadron, Neb., and has accepted it. In four counties surrounding Chadron there are thirteen Bap'ist churches, all of them weak and without pastors. He has found the work here too hard for his physical welfare. The church accepted his resignation and passed a resolution setting forth the deep regret with which his decision was received. He will occupy the pulpit here until after the last Sunday in March, when he will leave for his new home

SIOUX CITY'S HOTEL TRUST. til the Leading Houses in the Control of

One Company. SIOUX CITY, Feb. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Within the next three months the hotel business of this city will be practically in the hands of a trust. A company has been formed, including the managers of the Oxford and Booge hotels, who hav secured new leases of these properties, and are negotiating for the lease of the Fowle. These are all the important hotels in the city, with a single exception, the Garretson, which is controlled by the same interest. The Booge and Oxford are being remodeled, and when the work is done and the new company takes hold it will practically monopolize the business here.

The pontoon bridge across the Missouri was taken out this morning and will not be put in again until after the break up of the river. The last passengers across it came in the quiet hours last night, and included the colony of lude women who have made Covington their headquarters for a year, since the mayor ordered all houses of prostitution closed. They determined that during the two months the bridge will be out they would starve to death in Covington and concluded to come back and take the chances of prosecution. They will open their places here and the battle will be on again between them and the authorities.

RILEY MAY BE GRIFFIN.

Some Interesting Facts Which Can'e the

Officers to Suspect It. It is pretty well established that the Griswold bank robber who escaped from the Council Bluffs officers is not Charley O'Connors, as at first supposed. There are two main reasons why the police have given up this theory. One is that the description of the man does not correspond to O'Connors' description. Persons who saw the escaping man vary much in their descriptions, but the majority of them say that he was a shorter and heavier man than O'Connors. The officials on the train on which the robbers rode to Council Bluffs give a very fair description, and this is such that it is almost beyond dispute that the man was not O'Connors. Another reason that has led the police to give up the idea is their knowledge of the man's character. They say that O'Connors has not nerve enough to shoot a man under any circumstances.

As soon as this was established so far the police cast about for a man that would fill the bill, and there are now two mea, either of whom they think might be the es-caped robber. These are Beck, alias Dykeman, and Griffin, alias King. Both are desperate men and noted criminals. They, together with O'Brien, who is now in the county jail awaiting trial for throwing a spittoon at Sargeant Whalen at the time of his arrest, were charged with robbing Sandow of his valuable gold watch while Sandow of his valuable gold watch while partment during the remaining ten months of he was at the Millard hotel. It can be seen what the dangerous character of the was discovered that after paying the salary. men is by O'Brien's desperate attempt to either kill or knock unconscious Sargeant Whalen even after they were locked behind the iron railing at the station. Sandow re-fused to come to the city to prosecute the men and Beck and Griffin were released, O'Brien being held for his assault on Whalen.

Griffin is a noted criminal. Six years ago he was captured in this city for a burglary here, but before the officer succeeded in arresting him he drew a revolver and at-tempted to kill him. He was sent to the penitentiary for a short term. Immediately after his release he engaged in another robbery in Iowa, was captured, and served a term at Fort Madison. He had been released only eight of ten days before the

Both Beck and Griffin answer well the de scriptions given of the escaped robber. This is especially true in the case of Griffin, who is a heavy and a short man. In addition to that, although both men are dangerous Griffin is more desperate than the other, and from the knowledge the police have of his character they think he would take any chances in preference to going again to the penitentiary. Beck, however, is not much behind him in this respect, and also answers to some extent the descriptions of the robber. It is a question, therefore, if either is the man, which one it is.

There is still another strong circumstance which connects these men with robbery. When Beck, Griffin and O'Brien were arrested for the Sandow robbery they told a lawyer whom they engaged that they had stolen the watch and intended to send i to a fence that they had in Chicago. This fence was a saloon, and there were two men who ran it, the saloon keeper and the bartender. Further than this, they offered to send to this saleon keeper and bartender for mency to defray the lawyer's expenses to Chicago to see these two men. A telegram to that effect was sent and the money arrived, but after thinking the matter over the lawyer decided that he did not care to go. He disclosed the information that he received to the police, but as Sandow to prosecute no use was made of it. But this information now throws a good deal of light on the identity of the escaped robber. It will be remembered that on the morning after the Griswold robbery the robbers sent a value to Chicago, which contained $499 worth of postage stamps taken from the bank. The express receipt for the vallse was found on the person of one of the robbers who was arrested and the Chi-cago police were notified to look for the man or men who would call for the valise. They did so and captured two men. One of these men was a saloon keeper named D. Miller and the other was his bartender. They are now under arrest.

Board of Health Suspends the Milk and Sanitary Inspectors.

At the meeting of the Board of Health held resterday afternoon five of the members got together and waved the retrenchment knife until it was quite gory. There was a prolonged discussion, and then some figures were produced by Mayor Bemis showing that there was only the sum of $2,287 left to run the deof Dr. Towne out of the amount on hand but about $1,100 would remain, which Health Commissioner Saville opined should be kept to use in the event that an emergency grose.

The crippled condition of the health fund induced Superintendent Duncan of the plumb ing department to act, and he at once moved that the milk and sanitary inspectors be suspended. The motion passed.

The men who are cut from the city pay roll are: Milk Inspector James Bruner, at a salary of $70 per month; Chief Inspector Harry, Adams, at $90, and four assistants, Albrecht, Taylor, Smith and Vanderford, at $60 per onth each. Following this action of the board, by resolution the chief of police was instructed to cause the arrest of any party found hauling garbage or night soil without first having secured a permit from the health department New rules for the government of the board were presented and their consideration postponed until the next meeting.

Buildings in Sight.

The springlike atmosphere of the past few. days has caused a noticeable boom in the building permit business. This was practically stagnant all through February, but a number of permits are now being called for for residences and small business buildings. The prospects for a lively business during March are much improved. J. H. Mc-Tague was granted a permit yesterday, for the contemplated alterations to the building at 1509 Farnan, street, which is to be turned into a hotel. The estimated cost of the changes in the building is $1,500. C. D. Bibbins has taken out a permit for the erection of a brick store at 1506 Webster street at a cost of $2,200. J. W. Long will build a dwelling at 2712 Ohlo street, and A. C. Foster has been given the necessary permission to build a barn on his premises at 1624 South Thirty-third street. 1624 South Thirty-third street.

Don't Die

in the house. How often you hear that old saying! Where else would you expect a person to die? You wouldn't expect a sick person to get up and go out of doors to die, when there was a nice house, with all the modern conveniences right at hand to die in, would you? And still there are lots of folks that do die in the house, before there is any reason for them to die at all. Haven't you seen friends of yours just waste right away, almost under your own eyes, when it did seem as if there could have been something done to stay the dread disease? The doctor called it Consumption, probably. May be it was a hard cold at first, and a gradual decline. A good doctor says in such a case. Ozomulsion won't bring a man back from the cemetery, but it has prevented many a man and many a woman from going there. Are you on your way? Are you beginning to get tired out? Getting so that good things don't taste good any more? Getting worried? Getting so you cough every day, and lots of nights? Want to get hungry? Want to have things taste good? Want to eat and enjoy it? Try Ozomulsion. It costs a dollar to try a bottle. May be it won't help you. More likely it will. You'd give a dollar to be better, wouldn't you? And you'd give more than a dollar to get well, probably.
