MUST BE PREPARED FOR WAR

Strength of the French Army Compared With That of Germany.

ECONOMY NOW MIGHT BE EXPENSIVE

Minister of War Maintained That the Disparity of Numbers Was Not as Great as Claimed-Socialists Raise a Violent Protest.

PARIS, March 5 .- During the discussion of the army budget in the Chamber of Deputies today M. Roche, representing the committe, said France tried to place her army upon a parity with those of other nations But since 1877 the military expenditures of Germany had exceeded those of France. The German military doctrine was based on numerical strength, and Germany now possessed an army ready to fight at any moment He maintained the superiority of the offensive system, when he was interrupted by an insulting remark from a socialist member A great uproar followed, and some minutes clapsed before M. Roche was able to proceed. He then said 542,000 men ought to be serving in the French army, but as a fact only 404,000 were serving. He demanded that the French army should be as well organized as the German army, claiming the economizing of a few million francs might mean defeat in the event of war. (Ap-

BUILDING UP GURMANY'S NAVY.

Emperor William Lays the Keel of An other War Ship. WILHELMSHAVEN, March 5 .- The em peror went from the officers' club to the dock yard, where the ceremony of laying the keel of a new warship, to replace the Pressuah built in 1873 and now obsolete, took place in the presence of Vice Admiral Holmand and the other German admirals, the director of the dock yard and many other offi-class. His majesty drove the first rivet into the keet plate. In addressing the naval re-cruits, his majesty said:

"My men, you have come here to take the oath of allegiance. It was an old custom of our forefathers, and they held it a sacred duty, to perform their oath loyally. Just as I, your emperor and sovereign, devote my every act and thought to the fatherland, so you are bound to give up your whole life for me; you have taken the oath as Christians and true servants of God have spoken to you in a Christian spirit. On your war flag you behold the eagle, the noblest bird in the universe. Strong in its youth, it soars high in the air, beneath the rays of God's sun, knowing neither fear nor danger. So also must be your thought and act. You are now coming to a time when in the serious business of your service demands will be made upon you which will be irksome; when many hours will come in which you will think yourselves unequal to your task. Then remember you are Christians; think of your parents, and how your mothers taught you the Lord's prayer. When abroad your duty will be to represent the fatherland by your worthiness and good behavior. Our navy is outwardly indeed small, but what makes us stronge than other navies is discipline and unbest tating obedience to superiors. Thus will our pavy prosper and grow great in the work of peace and for the benefit and good of the fatherland, and thus we hope in God shall we destroy the enemy. Be you like the Brandenburgers of old."

REFORMS IN THE ARMY DEMANDED. Socialists Vigorously Denounce the Conduct of Military Courts.

BERLIN, March 5 .- When the debate of the army estimates was resumed in the Reichstag today the question of the alleged abuses in the army arose and Bebel and Vollmar, socialists, vigorously denounced the regulations respecting the lodging of complaints made by soldiers. The speakers also instanced alleged cases of the ill-treatment of soldiers by their officers, and demanded reform in the procedure of trying military The minister of war, General von Schellendorf, said he must protest most em-phatically against the allegation that the emperor was opposed to reform in the pro-cedure of trying military cases in which the military men were involved. There had been a marked decrease in the number of cases of maltreatment, and he was convinced the liking for the army and the zeal for the

of North Carolina. WASHINGTON, March 5 .- The president, eccompanied by Dr. O'Reilly, his physician, Commander George F. Wild of the Lighthouse board, and Commander Lambertson, inhere this morning on the Violet for ten days'

me desired candidate, came to the white house, most of them hastened by the intimation in the papers to the effect that the president would probably leave Washington himelf during the day. All these doomed to disappointment, for the president was comfortably steaming down the muddy Potomac before the first of the visitors had reached the white house. His departure was not unexpected, although Mr. Thurber, his private secretary, said that it was not until ite in the night that the president finally determined to take his outing. It is stated that the movement of the heavy ice, which covered the Potomac and the waters of the ina sounds, had displaced many of the buoys and beacons and other aids to safe navigation, and that it is customary for the light house officers to make a personal inspection of the damage in such cases and estimates

The president was aware of the fact that the inspection trip was about to be made, and determined to go along with the lighthouse officers for an outing, which he felt to be needful, after the strain upon his energies imposed by the heavy work attending the closing of congress, so after an early breakfast the president's carriage was driven around to the rear of the white house and here, with Mr. Thurber and Dr. O'Reilly, his ittending physician, entered. valet, took his place on the box with the coachman, and the party was driven rapidly to the dock, where the Violet lighthouse tender lay with steam up, all ready for a start. GOVERNOR HOLCOMB MAKES IT A LAW

Special Message Sent to the Senate Urging an Amendment to the Measure So that Oleomargarine Can Be Manufactured for Export-

LINCOLN, March 5 .- (Special.) -- Anxiety over the fate of the anti-oleomargarine bill was ended this morning by Governor Helcomb, who attached his official signature to the measure and thus a lifed it to the statutes.

Up to 2 o'clock this morning many opponents of the law as it was passed by both branches of the legislature affected to believe that the executive would veto the bill. The opponents of the law put in the greater part of the night in a hopeless effort to secure the pledges of a majority of the republican senators that a veto would be susteined in the event that the governor could be induced to interpose his official objection. The effort failed, either because of the conviction that the chief executive was not to be swerved in his determination to sign the bill or because the pledges of enough republican senntors to sustain a possible veto could not be obtained. Upon what foundation the opponents of the law built up their hopes of a possible veto cannot be ascertained. No one seems to have had the authority for even suggesting the probability a veto. Governor Holcomb, in his message to the legislature, pointed out what he denominated the manifest unjustness of that part of the law which practically drives the manufacturers of oleomargarine out of the state. While he acknowledged that, in his judgment, some features of the law were wise, he said that the provision which prevents on credentials appointed by the constitu- the manufacture of eleomargarine within tional convention yesterday, reported to the the state under the laws of the United States for shipment into other states was an injustice without any corresponding advantages o the dairy interests of the state. He authorized and recommended an amendment permitting the manufacture of oleomargarine for export purposes.

This afternoon Senator McKeeby offered a bill embodying the governor's suggestions. After a sharp parliamentary struggle the effort to refer it to the committee of the whole for consideration tomorrow afternoor failed

GOVERNOR HOLCOMB'S MESSAGE.

GOVERNOR HOLCOMB'S MESSAGE.

Governor Holcomb's message follows:

To the Honcrable, the Legislature of the State of Nebraska: In notifying your honorable body of the approval of senate file No. '8, entitled 'An Act Concerning Imitation Butter and Imitation Cheese, Defining the Same, Prohibiting Their Being Colored in Semblance of Butter and Cheese, Regulating Their Manufacture, Shipping and Sale, and Protecting the Consumers at the Table and Prescribing Penalties for the Violation Thereof,' I desire to say that I thoroughly appreciate the justice of so branding elemangarine that consumers may know they are using imitation butter and not the genuine article, and I heartily approve of wise legislation having for its object such reasonable protection as may be given to the manufacturer, dealer and consumer of unadulterated butter and cleese, the product of the dairy. I believe that elemants of the dairy of the bill referred to is the first legislation had in this state on this important subject. The bill referred to is the first legislation had in this state on this important subject, and, as it seems to me, in order to remedy the evils mentioned, the act in question works an unnecessary hardship upon the manufacturers of oleomargarine in this the evils mentioned, the act in question works an unnecessary hardship upon the manufacturers of oleomargarine in this state. The provisions, as now contained in the bill, practically prevent the manufacture of eleomargarine within the state under the laws of the United States for shipment into other states than Nebraska without any corresponding advantage to the manufacturer of the dairy product, who has to compete in the open markets of the world with the electrical system as a wholesome food product.

While a law of the kind enacted is needed, I am of the opinion the law should not be so constructed as to deprive the state of the benefits accruing from the manufacture of eleomargarine within its limits, with no corresponding advantage to those who are sought to be benefited thereby.

The manufacture of eleomargarine is an industry which has been located in the state, giving employment to a large number of workingmen and enhancing the value of live stock on the market.

As senate file No. 78 received almost unanimous approval of the representatives of the people in the legislative bodies. I did not deem the objections to be of such character as to necessitate the vetoing of the bill, which, in the main. I considered to be for the best interests of the whole poeple.

But I hereby authorize and recommend the introduction and passage of an amendment to senate file No. 78, providing that nothing in that not shall be so construed as to prevent the manufacture within the state of eleomargarine, under the restrictions and provisions of the United States and preventing confusion in complying with the law by the manufacturer.

SILAS A. HOLCOMB, Governor.

DISCUSSING THE MESSAGE.

Immediately after the message had been

DISCUSSING THE MESSAGE. Immediately after the message had been read in the senate Steufer, who had been one of the most active supporters of the bill, moved that Governor Holcomb's recom-agriculture. Smith was immediately on his feet with an amendment to refer the message to the ommittee of the whole. McKeeby made the matter still more of importance by adding an amendment to the amendment, making the subject a special order for 2 o'clock this afternoon. He supported his amendment by saying that he had read in the newspapers this morning-althis city, today celebrated his 65th birth-day. He was the recipient of many hand-papers obtained the information—that the senate had in executive session voted unanimously in favor of a recommendation that was doubtful in policy as well as doubtful in legality. In doing so the senate had put itself on record as endorsing what might prove to be an illegal appointment. If the senate could go to that extreme he failed to see why it could not exercise the same courtesy to the chief executive in this mat-ter. He trusted his amendment would be unanimously agreed to.

Tefft smilingly remarked that as one of the senators referred to he cheerfully bowed beneath the castigation so gracefully ad-ministered by the senator from Webster county.

Sprecher said that aside from any question of courtesy he was in favor of discussing the governor's recommendations in open session, and he believed the matter should be considered at once. Sloan, the author of the original anti-sleomargarine bill, was the leader of the oppo-sition to the adoption of the amendment. With all due respect to the governor of the state he desired to say that as he had onded the original motion offered by senator from Cuming, he was moved by no consideration of discourtesy in wishing the matter referred to the committee on agricul-ture. It was due to that committee that it be granted the privilege of embodying the governor's suggestions into a bill. Ho wanted the matter to take the usual course of legislation. If the senate was organized for the sole purpose of standing on certain ines of courtesy toward the governor, in-stead of transacting the regular business in the regular way, he wanted to know it.

Tefft said that if all the motions and amendments were voted down he would hen offer a motion directing the committee on agriculture to report a bill, embodying the suggestions of the governor within three
