More About Spooney Butler.

James J. Wilson, the wounded Griswold bank robber who is now confined in the county jail here, has a long and varied list of crimes charged up against him. Inspector Shea of the Chicago police, who has identified his photograph as that of "Spooney" Butler, a noted crook of Pittsburg, Pa., states that Butler was born in Pittsburg, Pa., states that Butler was born in Pittsburg and comes from good people. His first crime was robbing the house of Mayor McCallin when he was only 15 years of age. He was sentenced to three and a half years for this. He was an associate of "Ed" Coffey. who killed a policeman during a quarrel: "Paddy" McGraw, who murdered "Tiny" Sloan, and "Jimmy" Kane, who killed John Wright. With Coffey he held up the cashiter of the First National bank of Allegheny and relieved him of $800. To escape from the crowd that pursued them the men plunged into the Allegheny river and swam across to the Pittsburg side. Hibernians Will Celebrate.

Arrangements are being made for celebrating St. Patrick's day next Sunday evening, March 17, with appropriate exercises at Dohaney's opera house, under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. The committee on arrangements has engaged Judge M. J. Wade of Iowa City for an address. Judge Wade delivered an address before the congress of religions at the World's fair on the subject: "The Catholic Church and the Marriage Bond," which attracted wide attention. The subject of his address next Sunday will be: "The Poet, John Boyle O'Reilly." The pupils of St. Francis Xavier's academy will sing a selection and give a pantomime sketch with harp accompaniment. The choir of St. Xavier's church will also sing a number of selections.

School Election Temorrow is Attracting Considerable Local Interest.

FOUR BOND PROPOSITIONS PENDING

High School Onestions that Must Be Settled by the Voters-Women to the Number of Forty Expect to Take Part.

Tomorrow will occur the annual election of two members of the school board. One of the novel features will be the voting of perhaps forty women, that number having registered previous to the recent city election. What has attracted the attention of the ladies is the four propositions relating to the issuance of bonds aggregating $102,000. They are not allowed to vote for candidates, but the law confers upon them the right to vote In cases where appropriations are to be decided for or against. Separate boxes will be kept for the ladies' votes. The propositions are as follows:

First proposition—
Shall the Board of Directors of the independent school district of Council Bluffs, Ia, be authorized and directed to issue bonds of said district in the sum of $90,000, or such part thereof as may be necessary, the proceeds of the sale of which to be used for the purpose of defraying the expanses of location and erection of a school house to be used as a high school in said district?

Second proposition—

when brought to proper grade?

Third proposition—
Shall the new school house to be used as a high school in said district be located within the confines of the following named streets in said district, viz: Broadway street on the north, Sixth avenue on the south, the east side of Third street on the east and Eighth street on the west?

Fourth proposition— Fourth proposition-

Shall there be levied on the taxable property of the independent school district of Council Bluffs, Ia., a tax of $12,000 school house fund for the purpose of paying the interest upon the bonded indebtedness of said district?

The candiates on the republican ticket are Dell G. Morgan and Dr. J. C. Robertson while the democratic candidates are G. A Schoedsack and Robert Rain. The polling places are as follows: First ward, Wheeler & Herald, 134 East Broadway; Second ward, North Main street; Third ward, 229 Main street; Fourth ward, Grand livery stable posite court house; Fifth ward, 1702 Tenth avenue; Sixth ward, James Coyles, Broadway and Twenty-first street.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK. Affairs that Brought People Together During the Last Six Days.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Hazel Hammer celebrated her eleventh birthday by enter taining her little friends. The following are the names of those present: Misses Hazel and Bessie Hamner, Maud Turner, Hattie Dean, Fay and Ethel Kendall, Georgia and Helene Bixby, Mignon Maynard, Edna and Letha Butler, Blanche and Florence Rudio, Lida and Harriet Crittenden, Maud Sprague, Kittle and Bessle Beno, Grace and Mattie Harle, Florence Pippin, Sadie and Mad Besley, Bessie Jones, Dawn Anderson, Helen and Edith Runyan, Fay Hollenbeck; Masters George and John Wheeler, Ernie Smith, Willie Madden, Bert Walters, Clarence Hayfer; Mesdames L. Hammer, J. Madden, C. May-rard, J. Kaine, G. R. Wheeler, K. H. Sprague, M. McMacken, J. Turner. Sprague, M. McMacken, J. Turner. There were many presents received and all had a delightful time.

A novel entertainment was given at the Christian tabernacle Thursday evening, the occasion being the presentation of the prizes offered some time ago by Rev. E. W. Allen for the best story written in competition for the Church Mirror, prizes of $10 and $5 respectively. Prof. H. W. Sawyer presented the prizes, and this ceremony was followed C. G. Saunders and daughter are spending by a milkmaid's convention. A bevy of young ladies each dressed in such costumes as milkmaids invariably wear in picture books, and each armed with a stool and pail, impersonated the delegates to the convention, the business of which was supposed to be the discussion of matters pertaining to the dairy business. But the milkmaid were purely ideal, and instead of devoting themselves to their usual business, they went through with a very pretty drill, which formed a very pleasing feature of the program. The young ladies taking part were Misses Lila Sweeny, Mary Ferguson, Florence Carley, Carrie Grosvenor, Maud Grout, Min-nie Wallace, Elfie Miles, Marcle Miller, Minnie Sanders, Birdie Brown, May Miller, Minne Sanders, Bride Brown, May America, Ida Dempster, Cecil Crocker, Cora Berer, Ella Darnill, Christie Dingle, Jennie Bull, Lizzie Worley, Mamie Ott, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Jones. Miss Eifie Miles sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and there was a dialogue by Miss Lucille Norman and Chester Brown. Miss Harriett Brown acted as chairman, Miss May Grosvenor, secretary, Miss Bessie Rich, page, and Tom Hall, Mr. Olney, Clarence Allen and W. M. Van Arnam as

Since the announcement has been mad through the papers of the names of those who won the prizes in the Mirror story writing contest it has been discovered that there was a mistake. As heretofore stated, the first prize belongs to Miss Jessie Wallace, but yesterday Mr. Allen received a note from Miss Helen Aylesworth, who received the second, stating that she was not entitled to it, and enclosing the $5. The story which took first prize had no title, and the judges gave it the title "Awakened." It was not accompanied by the name of the author, and as the slip bearing Miss Aylesworth's name was also bearing Miss Aylesworth's name was also unaccompanied by the name of her story, the natural inference was that they belonged together. If Miss "Awakened" will send her addresse to Mr. Allen and prove her identity she can claim her $5 reward.

she can claim her $5 reward.

Last Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock Mr. Frank Drury, son of Peter Drury, and Miss Alpha Rishton, daughter of Alderman Henry Rishton, were united in the bonds of wedlock at the home of the bride's parents, 212 Harmony street, Rev. H. P. Dudley officiating. About seventy-five friends of the families ahd been invited to witness the ceremony, and surrounded the happy couple. The pleasant parlors were tastefully decorated with roses, carnations and smilax. At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedded pair were the recipients of the warmest congratulations from their iriends present, after which an elegant The groom is the son of one of the most successful and substantial farmers in the county, while the bride is one of the fairest of Council Bluffs' daughters and a successful teacher. On Tuesday last William J. M. Leavitt, after an illness lacting during the greater part of six years, passed peacefully away at his residence, 614 South Twenty-eighth street, this city. His affliction, at first apparently of a curable nature, steadily grew in proportions from its inception, defying the most constant care and the highest medical skill obtainable, some of the most prominent and experienced eastern and western physicians having used their utmost efforts to arrest the progress of his subtle malady, spinal paralysis, to which he finally suc-engianders of Puritan ancestry. His father was a prosperous lumberman and operated in the woods of Maine, his principal place of business being Bangor, where he lived with his family until 1865, when his death occurred.

Three years afterward the family removed to Illinois, though they remained there but a short time, going to Union county, Iowa, in 1870. Localing on a farm near Creston, Mr. Leavitt, in company with his brother, engaged in the business of farming and stock raising until, in 1872, he was deprived of the aid of his brother by death.

Possessed by nature of an indomitable will and an energy far in excess of his physical vigor, he entered into the arduous task of personally attending to every detail of his business, amid great hardships and in the face of adverse circumstances, and was well advanced toward success when, in 1889, his body overcome by the severe strain imposed by his exacting will, he was forced to lay aside the working tools of active service, but retained the supervision of his affairs. During the early part of 1891, by the death of an uncle, Dr. W. P. Hazelton of Tarrytown, N. Y., he inherited an estate of $175,000, to the management of which he turned his attention, and, after disposing of his Iowa interests, he, finally yielding to the solicitations of his family, sought by travel and the employment of every art known to medical and surgical science to recuperate his failing heaith. Though every locality which gave promise of relief was visited and every precaution which the devotion of his sister, Miss Leavitt, who was constantly at his side during his entire illness, and his mother and sister, Mrs. Hayward, who were with him during the past two years, could surgest was taken, he steadily failed day by day, and came to Omaha in the spring of 1894, where, three months ago, he was forced to take to his bed for the last time.

Mr. Leavitt possessed all the qualities of a sturdva and useful citizen shat he erceted the first house on the hill in the northern part—the locality now kn

Wanders Far from Her Home While in a somnambulistic State.

CHEYENNE, March 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Rose Rossman, a young lady of this city, wandered from her home last night while in a semanmbulistic state and walked fifteen miles gcross prairies, clad in her night robes, before she awakened. Her friends, who had searched since dawn, found her at noon today in a helpless condition, benumbed with cold, her clothing torn and her feet lacerated by stones and gravel. She had evidently climbed through a barbed wire fence during her wandering.

CHEYENNE, March 9.-(Special Tele gram.)-Legal proceedings were commenced today by Attorney General Fowler against the bondsmen of Otto Gramm, ex-state treasurer, to recover $5,000 of state funds which Gramm had on deposit in the Kent bank when it failed in July, 1893, and which he has failed to refund to the state.

ommittee. They Caught the Boys. Yesterday afternoon Detectives Vizzard and Miller arrested five Omaha boys for umping on and off trains while in motion When brought to the police court Judge Christmann gave the lads an immediate tria and sentenced each one to pay a fine of $2 The fact developed in the testinony that these boys were in the habit of umping a train at the Omaha yards and riding down here, and they would hans round here until an Omaha bound train came along and ride back. For the last week the railroad detectives have been trying to break up this practice, and the arres these lade was the result. At the station the boys gave their names as George Sheppard, 511 Pierce street; George Twentieth and Farnam streets; John Jansen Fifth street and Poppleton avenue; Sternsdorf, Sixth and Pierce, and George

Some little time ago Thompson had trouble with his wife and she took their only child and went to a small town in Iowa to live. The husband broke up his home and sold his furniture. After a few weeks of separation the couple united again and Thompson bought a lot of new furniture on the installment plan. Monday evening he returned home and gave his wife the entire week's wages and told her to go and pay that amount on the furniture. Mrs. Thompson left the house and has not been seen since.

Lewis of Sunday Sun fame, who has been on trial here for the past three days for extortion, on a change of venue from Woodbury county, was acquitted today. He was immediately arrested on another indictment and jailed. Lewis was convicted and served one year in the penitentiary for a similar offense some time ago. There are still several more indictments hanging over him.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 9.-A remarkable story is published here of a girl who served on the United States coast defense vessel Monterey for seven weeks, disguised as a boy. According to the girl's story, she was born in St. Cloud, Minn., fifteen years ago, and was named May Townsend. Last May the girl married a brick mason named Love, but she pined for the sea, and donning boy's attree enlisted as a plumber's apprentice on the Monterey. According to her story three of the officers knew her sex, also the plumber. She says she sailed to Fortland and then to San Francisco on the Monterey. The plumber finally put her ashore, because he thought her secret would be discovered. The girl also claims to have been on the Mohican and the Independence, but this is not believed. served on the United States coast defense

Medical testimony that is genuine implies responsibility. people of this community who are today urging and encouraging the sick and afflicted to place themselves under the care of Drs. Copeland and Shepard are either committing a sin or are doing a duty. Of these people there has not been one who has testified, not one hundred, but five thousand who have proclaimed in print and in public their personal experience. This has been no ordinary testimony. Let us consider for a moment who these people are.

Who are some of the witnesses who have appeared regularly in recent weeks? Last Sunday there was the testimony in these columns of Superintendent Hill of the Donglas County Schools. Prof. Hill described bis cure of catarrh of the stomach and bowels and advised people to consult Drs. Copeland and Shepard.

Along with Superintendent Bill's case was printed that of County Clerk Mitchell of Clay County, Neb., who told what had been for his severe case of Catarrh, and facial Eczema. Also that of C. F. Bayba. County Surveyor, Neligh, Neb., who told of his recovery from Catarrb, heart and kidney troubles. Both of these county officers advised the people to consult Drs. Copcland and Shepard.

Before them there were Presiding Eider Tindail of Grand Island, and Professor Shelby, Iowa, both of whom praised Drs, Copeland and Shepard's treatment of catarrh and pervous troubles and commended these physicians to the public. Arndt and Ed Wiener. The convention will

COMMISSIONS CAUSING TROUBLE. Fight Raised in the Insurance Union that is Not Yet Settled. ST. LOUIS, March 9.-The Western Union of Insurance Underwriters held its final session today and adjourned to meet at Niagara Falls in September next, While nothing of a positive character can be learned, owing to the secretiveness of the members, it is stated that there had been a bitter fight at every session of the union, a fight which has not seen its end. The trouble grew out of the question of commissioners. The mode of procedure prior to pacity of individual agents. About that pacity of individual agents. About that time the Western union passed a rule that traffic commissions should not be paid in excess of 15 per cent. St. Louisans have failed to live up to it. Several local agents represent both union and nonunion companies, and the Western union, it is said, is now trying to force local agents either to conform to the rules of practice in regard to the 15 per cent commission or to give up their nonunion companies, the real object of the resolution being to force the outside companies into the union. One feature of the fight has been the discovery that several of the companies in the union have not themselves lived up to the commission rule.

Any person who would lead a sick man to | people with lung troubles to consuit Dry

Before this was the evidence of Mrs. Mary Holland, postmistress at Friend, Neb.; of C. W. Foster, sexton of Fairview Cemetery, Council Bluffs, of F. L. Mitchell, Papillion, Neb. These people had been treated with success for lung and asthma aliments. We will go back no further.

What shall be said of the testimony of such people? Are they speaking carclessly, inadvisedly? Are they people who would de-celve the sick? No, this is authority enough. It has the weight of a Bible. On such authority none can sin or err in commending the Copeland and Shepard treatment to the sick and afflicted.

A Lady of Montana Writes of the Matt Treatment.

Mrs. Philip Dodson, of Bozeman, Montana wife of the leading merchant of that district of country, writes:

"I am one of quite a number of people of this far western city who have tried the Copeland and Shepard system of mail treatment, and who, as a result, have been made happy by a complete restoration to health at a merely nominal expense. My aliment was a distressing chronic affection of the throat, with threatened total deafness and an almost constant stoppage of the nostrils caused by chronic catarrh. The remedies sent me brought a complete cure, and both my husband and myself are thoroughly delighted with the treatment." Mrs. Philip Dodson, of Bozeman, Montana
