The committee of the whole struck a snag on a $9,000 allowance on outstanding claims, and debated the same at length. It was contended that all this amount possibly have been covered by claims already allowed by the committee on claims. The 'outstanding' claims portion was stricken sut by amendment, and the $9,000 reduced to $8,000. The bill was recommended to carry $19,350, an increase of $1,200 over 1893.

LINCOLN, March 13 .- (Special Telegram.) It is stated here tonight that negotiations the order is reported as flourishing. are still pending by which the state penitentiary contract is to be assigned from W. H. Dorgan to J. A. Buckstaff. The deal has been on for several days, but there is yet a wide difference between the two parties. The proposition made by Dorgan is to transfer the contract by a simple assignment to Buckstaff, who is on his part to pay for the property at the penitentiary owned by Dorgan, complete the cells as required by the old law, and give a new bond to the state for the faithful performance of his duty. Buckstaff has been maintaining a large narness factory at the penitentiary for number of years, and is supposed to be pretty
