Charles McKeever, Charles McCarty and Jack Fogarty Made Examples of Before the Law-Was Intended as a Test Case.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.-The jury in the case of Charles McKeever, Charles Me-Carty and Jack Fogarty, charged with engaging in a prize fight at the winter circus building on January 24 and 26 last, came in with a verdict of guilty this morning after being out two days. This will put an end to boxing contests in this city, as this was a test case. Superintendent Linden has said that he will enforce the law. Counsel for the defendants, however, has applied for a new trial. The fights a which caused the trouble were between "Bull" McCarthy of this city and Horace Leeds of Atlantic City on January 24, and McKeever and Leeds on the 26th. Thus I escaped the clutches of the law. Thus far Leeds has Fegarty, McKeever and McCarthy were each

The house was more than filled with the friends who called to pay the last tribute of respect and the services were more than usually impressive. The casket, with its burden of lilles of the valley, occupied the front parlor, and the mixed quartet of the Pirst Congregational church choir was scated on the stairway. The singers blended in perfect harmony with the subduced lights and flowers. The services were prefaced by the anthem, "Lead Kingly Light," by the quartet, after which Rev. Luther M. Kuhns spoke briefly and in sympathy with the bereaved relatives and friends. The pall bearers were: W. V. Morse, Henry Pundt, E. W. Nash, Chris Hartman, Thomas Rogers and Dr. E. W. Lees.

meeting at the Commercial club rooms last evening. It will be a festival or pageant, as far as at present determined upon some what in the nature of the Mardi Gras of New Orleans, but original in execution. A representative body of retaders and nembers of the Commercial club gathered at the club rooms last evening to continue the discussion of the subject of providing suitable attractions during the state fair. Clement Chase reviewed the offer which was made by the promoters of the New Orleans Mardi Gras, proposing to dispose of their complete set of floats and paraphernalia for $3,100. This is lower than the price first stated.

Major Wilcox was called to the chair. He urged the great benefit which would accrue from furnishing such attractions for a week. He knew a single firm in Kansas City which increased its sales $5,000 during the progress of a similar event. W. R. Bennatt said it was time the retailers were getting together. They might mutually assist each other in such an enterprise as this. Let the city authorities throw open the gates for a week and welcome big crowd. It was too late to talk of building suitable floats, but they could be bought advantageously and overhauled. Lorer should be closed about 9 o'clock at night, when the parade could begin. Spec. al nights might be given to the jobbers and retailers, the militia, etc. He would not favor a parale in the afternoon, as it might interfere with the fair, but if the twenty floats were pur-chased a magnificent night spectacle could be made. Each float, said he, takes a block for a proper display. WELCOME TO KING CORN.

Mr. Chase suggested the idea of holding a welcome to King Corn. At any rate, the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the last week of the fair would be the big days. These three days could be easily filled by the reception, the coronation and grand ball in honor of the king. Manager Burgess said he would fit up the new theater for ho'ding a ball. applauded when he spoke. "The western part of the state is standing by Omaha,"

Martin Dunham of the State Board of Agriculture called attention to the nature of the New Orleans Mardi Gras. They had a secret organization in charge of the affair. No one, in fact, knew who filled the important parts. They bartered off the positions at fabulous prices, one Frenchman having of-fered $100,000 for the privilege of being Rex. The State Board of Agriculture could circulate, by means of its various advertising schemes, 350,000 circulars containing notices of the affair. This would all be free adver-

Daniel Farrell thought that the secrecy of the event would be a great attraction. Probably citizens could be found to give good round sums for the purpose of filling the high positions.

On the question of cost a general discussion esulted in an understanding that $1,000 would cover the necessary expenses, and a resolution carried to form a stock company.

A subscription list was at once started.

This committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions: A. J. Penfold, R. S. Wilcox. Walter Jardine.

The committee on plans and scope appointed comprised Clement Chase, H. H. Hardy, A. Hospe.

At the suggestion of Mr. Chase a resolution was carried asking some brainy woman of Nebraska to propose a fitting name for the celebration. It will be the endeavor to secure the name within at least twenty days in order to make available space in the fair premiums. A prize will be given to the woman giving the best suggestion. Walter Jardine and G. A. Renzie offered suggestions on the matter of cost and get-ting up the floats.

Another meeting is called for Monday night to receive reports on the progress made. AMUSEMENTS.

"A Temperance Town," Hoyt's clever satire on the prohibition laws of Vermont, was given a second hearing this season last evening at Boyd's. The same well known people appeared in the cast as formerly and the play emphasized the reputation it won when here several weeks ago. The audience was large and appreciative.

De Wolf Hopper's fifth annual engagement in Omaka as a comic opera star will begin at Boyd's new theater this (Friday) evening. March 29, and will be limited to evening, March 29, and will be limited to two nights and one matinee. The comedian will present his very latest and funniost of all comic operas, entitled "Dr. Syntax." which is said to be his most artistic and successful production since merry, tuneful "Wang." The original scenery which was used during the New York production, and which was especially painted for "Dr. Syntax." by Ernest M. Gros, a famous Parisian artist, will be utilized here, and the always excellent orchestra of Boyd's, which will be increased to give adequate balance to the performances of "Dr. Syntax," will be under the direction of Prof. John S. Hiller, the musical director of the organization, while the production will be under the direct supervision of H. A. Cripps, the well known pervision of H. A. Cripps, the well known stage manager. The sale of seats for this engagement opened yesterday morning and the demand was very large.

Mr. John Griffith will give his masterly interpretation of Mephistopheles in Goethe's great masterplece, "Faust," at the Boyd next Tuesday.
