Two Buildings Wrecked by an Explosion at New Orleans.

INMATES WERE BURIED IN THE DEBRIS

Number of Killed Not Yet Definitely Known—Two Little Children Have a Miraculous Escape—Week-long Took Fire Immediately.

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—A terrible explosion occurred at the corner of Decatur and Franklin streets this morning about 2 o'clock.

The explosion occurred in the ship chandler's store, in which a quantity of powder and shot have always been kept on hand.

The building was near the lower end of the French market and was separated from it by a narrow street.

The explosion was followed by a fire which started in the neighborhood and when the dust had cleared away the fishermen and women who had already put in their appearance at the markets saw before them a heap of debris where there had formerly stood a barroom and the grocery.

The front and side walls of the two buildings were entirely blown down, but the rear portions were left standing, showing that the explosion had occurred in the front part of the building.

POISON AND A REVOLVER

F. Adams Colvin Commits Suicide on Account of Disappointment in Love.

SHOOT HIMSELF ON BEING LAST REJECTED

Leaves a Letter Describing His Affair of the Heart with Miss Kate Early—Gives His Study to Medical College—What Miss Early Says.

F. Adams Colvin, a newspaper man well known in Nebraska and recent editor of the Columbus Telegram, committed suicide at the residence of Mr. McCann, 617 South Twenty-eighth street, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Disappointment in love was the cause. He had been having an interview with Miss Kate Early of Columbus, who had finally decided to become his wife, and at its conclusion he placed the muzzle of a revolver against his right ear and fired.

The bullet went directly through his head and he was dead a few moments later. He was wearing a white shirt and a pair of trousers.

It was his first impulse, when the conversation was over, to leave the house, for he arose and started toward the door. He turned back, however, and was about to address Miss Early when she appeared to be seized with a fainting fit.

The coroner was summoned, and on his arrival the clothes of the dead man were removed. A small amount of money was found and a large number of letters were addressed to the corner of the county, another to the Omaha Medical college, a third to W. T. Colvin, a brother, and a fourth to L. Christoffersen, Columbus, Neb.

Another and a larger letter was discovered addressed to the Bee. These letters, together with a book containing various newspaper clippings, were found inside the coat between the vest and coat, but in no pocket. There was thought to be an arrangement of a back pocket of his trousers. The body was taken to the morgue.

PROBABLY TOOK POISON FIRST. When Colvin was about to leave the house Miss Early said that she had seen him with a fainting fit, but it is thought that this swooning was due to a dose of poison that he had taken.

IN THE DRAIN COUNTIES. Heavy Fall of Snow, Hail and Sleet in the Dryest Section of Nebraska.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., April 5.—(Special Telegram.)—A heavy dust storm prevailed here yesterday, changing this morning to a raging blizzard. The wind blows violently from the northwest, and a heavy fall of snow is being reported.

NEBRASKA CITY, April 5.—(Special Telegram.)—A heavy snow and rain has been falling since 10 o'clock this morning. Five inches of snow covers the ground, with the first moisture of any consequence since this spring.

DUNBAR, Neb., April 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The heaviest rain in two years fell here this morning, with hail and sleet, which did not quit before 10 o'clock.

NEBRASKA CITY, April 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The heaviest rain in two years fell here this morning, with hail and sleet, which did not quit before 10 o'clock.

CALL IN SYMPATHY WITH THE CUBANS. This is a Country that Recognizes Them as a Nation as Possible.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The mass meeting held in Jacksonville last night and the resolutions adopted Senator Call of Florida today said: "I have frequently introduced in the senate resolutions requesting the president of the United States to open negotiations with Spain looking to the independence of Cuba on the basis of an issue of bonds to Spain for a loan of $100,000,000."

COLVIN'S STORY OF THE TROUBLE. Colvin's letter addressed to the Bee recited the successive joys and sorrows of his courtship with Miss Early from the time of their first meeting in Columbus a year ago down to the day of the tragedy.

WILDE WITHDRAWS HIS COMPLAINT. Queensberry Cleared by His Friends as He Left the Court House.

LONDON, April 5.—The libel suit of Oscar Wilde against the marquis of Queensberry came to a sudden termination yesterday by the withdrawal of the complaint, and under instructions from the judge the jury returned a verdict that the statements made by the marquis were true and were made in the public interest.

EDMONTON, S. D., April 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The metallurgical department of the School of Mines at Rapid City, and Dr. McGillicuddy, president of the institution, today gave a lecture in the interest of a smaller class of students. The professor very thoroughly reviewed the entire subject of lead smelting and showing the various combinations of going out to get supper, after the school of mines at Rapid City.

ADAMS COLVIN. After the letter that had been addressed to the Bee was read Miss Early was asked concerning the contents, and said: "I never thought that Mr. Colvin would say anything of the kind about me or my relations with him."

NOON LASTS A LONG TIME

Clock in the State House Stopped While Lawmaking Goes Swiftly Along.

MANY BILLS PASSED IN THE LAST HOURS

House Begins Continuous Session Early in the Morning and Proceeds Merely to After Measure to a Final Vote Despite the Minority.

LINCOLN, April 5.—(Special.)—In the house this morning the following senate bills on third reading were passed: No. 34 providing for the division of counties into three districts for election of commissioners, 69 to 8.

No. 371, providing for the apportionment of educational lands now under lease, 68 to 8. No. 121, authorizing cities of the second class to contract and levy taxes for the maintenance of street lighting plants, 54 to 17, without the emergency clause.

Long after the hour at which was made the special order for consideration of the question of electing six trustees of the Institute for the Blind at Nebraska City the senate entered the representative hall in a body.

Lieutenant Governor Moore reached the speaker's desk, and assisted by Speaker Richards, presided over the deliberations. First Assistant Clerk of the House Harrison called the roll of the house. Secretary of the Senate Sedgwick performed the same office for the senate.

At this juncture Barry rose and moved a call of the house. Harrison tried to get a ruling on a point of order against Barry. The speaker ruled in favor of Barry, and a call of the house was always in order prior to a joint convention of the senate and house.

Secretary Sedgwick then read the following list of trustees, which had been selected by the house and senate conference committee: W. S. Wilson, Otoe county, until March 4, 1901; O. Horze, Otoe, until March 4, 1901; L. P. Pike, Otoe, until March 4, 1901; D. W. Crane, Keith, until March 4, 1901; W. E. Eaton, Lancaster, until March 4, 1901; Fred E. McKeely, Webster, until March 4, 1901.

CONSTITUTION CUT NO FIGURE. Then Barry demanded to know why the president of the Nebraska National Guard had been expelled in the manner in which the extraordinary proceeding was being conducted.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE CALLED FOR. The secretary of the senate announced that the senate had called for a conference committee on house bills 122 and 123, and requested that the house do likewise.

ITS TALE IS TOLD

Twenty-Fourth Session of the Nebraska Legislature Passes Into History.

LONG DAY OF RIOT AND DISORDER

Session Rules, Parliamentary and Statute Law and Decency Alike Ignored.

ITS LAST HOURS JAMMED WITH JCBS

All Sorts of Trickery Resorted to in Passing All Manner of Measures.

NOON WAS MADE TO LAST ALL NIGHT

Clocks Stopped When the Hour for Final Adjournment Arrived, While the Rush of Lawmaking Indecorously but Energetically Proceeded.

STATE HOUSE, LINCOLN, April 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The Twenty-fourth session of the Nebraska legislature is making a desperate effort to finish its work tonight. It is popularly believed that the session ended at noon today, and to carry out that impression the clocks in the house and senate halls were stopped before the hands had had an opportunity to get together in front of the figure 12.

Remember when scenes of such utter disregard of deliberation have been witnessed on the closing day of the session. Both houses have accomplished an immense amount of work; but the work has been accomplished in a manner that is more than discredit to the party controlling the majority in both houses. Bills of greatest importance have been hurried through without the slightest opportunity for considered rules have been honored more in the breach than in the observance.

OUTPOST OF LAWS IMMENSE. At 11 o'clock tonight Governor Holcomb had received from the joint committee an enrolled engrossed bill twenty-three bills that had been passed and engrossed in many more were in the hands of the conference committee or in the enrolling rooms. None of the appropriation bills had reached the governor's office.

REMARKABLE. An immense crowd of visitors packed the gallery. The lobby is full to overflowing. Men, women, boys, college yells, singing, the pattering of paper bags, the cries and yells of the boys, the confusion and wrangle of a legislative assembly were thrown across the hall, and the dignity of the speaker severely ruffled by the antics of the members who begin to realize that their legislative career is drawing to a close.
