

BEAUTIES OF ARBITRATION

Special Brazilian Envoys Call to Take Their Leave of President Cleveland.

ENLIGHTENED WAY OF SETTLING DISPUTES

President in His Response Dwells Upon the Special Adaptability of Arbitration to Disputes Involving Historical Facts—May Be a Hint at Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Baron Rio Branco and General Cerqueira, the special Brazilian plenipotentiaries, who presented the case of that country in the arbitration of the Missions boundary contention with the Argentine republic, presented their letters of recall to President Cleveland today and said farewell. These plenipotentiaries were accompanied by the attaches of the legation, and were presented by Acting Secretary of State Uhle in the Blue room of the white house. The speeches exchanged were rather out of the usual order, in view of the special character of the mission, and the remarks of the president to Baron Rio Branco, who acted as spokesman for the Brazilians, were significant where they touched on arbitration, having in mind the efforts now being made to induce Great Britain to submit her boundary dispute with Venezuela to this method of settlement. The Brazilians were resplendent in gold lace and embroidery and medals and ribbons, in marked contrast to the plain black attire of the president and Secretary Uhle.

After the formal presentation, Baron Rio Branco said: "Mr. President—The award rendered by your excellency on the boundary question submitted for arbitration between our government and the Argentine republic under the treaty of the 7th of September, 1889, has fulfilled the object of special missions, which during nearly two years I have had the good fortune to discharge in conjunction with Gen. Rio Cerqueira, near the person of your excellency. Thus have the hopes and expectations of the government of the United States of Brazil, in one of which he expresses his appreciation and that of the Brazilian nation for the gracious solicitude with which your excellency, in the midst of the grave duties pertaining to your high office, has examined and determined the question submitted to your decision and in the other in which he gave notice of the recall of the two commissioners on special mission entrusted with the advocacy of the rights of Brazil. The solution of this ancient controversy was certainly a happy and honorable event for the two friendly nations, which had recourse to the enlightened and impartial judgment of your excellency. The arbitration of the dispute between the presidents of the two republics clearly demonstrates that your excellency's decision was received in both with satisfaction, inasmuch as by the removal of a cause of public discord and complication, it acts powerfully toward the conservation of peace and toward strengthening the relations of a mighty and good neighborhood between the two nations."

"It is gratifying to be able to record this new triumph of the principle so reasonable and humane, of international arbitration, the practice of which, always earnestly advocated by the United States of America, has become more frequent every day, and marks one of the greatest advances in the modern law of nations."

HAPPY TO BE OF SERVICE.

The president replied as follows: "Mr. Minister: It is very gratifying to me to receive from your hands the letter whereby the president of the United States of Brazil expresses in his name and that of the people of Brazil the appreciation of my services in securing a peaceful and determining the question of boundaries between that country and the Argentine republic, which was presented to me as arbitrator by the joint choice of the two parties concerned. The United States have long been a strong advocate of international arbitration in settlement of difficulties which may not be amenable to the ordinary methods of diplomatic treatment, and especially for the adjustment of controversies depending largely upon historical facts and under rules akin to those which obtain in judicial procedure. Lending their example, as they have done on many occasions, by themselves resorting to this honorable and humane form of the United States, through their chief magistrate, could do no less than give their assent to the method adopted by the parties in settling a like disposition of controversies arising between them. Hence, it was not alone a gratifying pleasure to me to assume the grave personal responsibility tendered to me by Brazil and Argentina, but there was also in high place the fulfillment of an important duty toward two friendly states which it behoved the president of the United States to perform in the interest of good relationships of the western hemisphere."

The interesting question involved in the Missions boundary dispute it has been my fortune to maintain agreeable personal relations with the envoys of the two countries who had been entrusted by their respective governments with the problem of their causes, and the evidence and arguments in support thereof. Now, that their labors and mine in this regard are ended and the special mission that has called you hither is approximately closed, it becomes my duty to return to our own country, I trust that you and your esteemed colleague, General Cerqueira, will carry with you no less agreeable memories than those you leave here in official and social circles. To the friendly assurances he has given me, I add my hearty thanks and good wishes for your safe return to your government and my countrymen for the sister Republics of South America. I am gratified at the opportunity to add renewed expressions, and I beg that upon your return to your country, you will convey to the president of the United States of Brazil my best wishes that peace and prosperity may long be the portion of that country."

ARE SLOW TO JOIN THE NEGROES.

Cuban Whites Not Yet Very Active in the Revolution.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—An intelligent and comprehensive view of the Cuban revolution is given by a gentleman now in Washington who has been long identified with Cuban affairs and is personally acquainted with the conspicuous figures of the contest.

"At the outset," said he, "the presence of negro leaders has tended to limit the rise of the rebellion, as the white element of Cuba will not submit to negro rule or independence wrought through negro influence. But the photographs of these negro leaders, and the news item is in the papers, that they are all able men, however, the same order as Frederick Douglass in his best days. In the last rebellion, which lasted for ten years—1858 to 1878—there was never a gathering of more than 5,000. These forces can beat army on their work by being widely scattered and in small bodies. They have been sent to raise a large Spanish army to be sent out against them, as there is nothing for a large army to be sent against."

"But the most serious uprising arises from internal conditions in Cuba, which are little known to the United States. Spain has placed on Cuba the entire debt of $12,574,485 each year. Besides this Spain compels Cuba to pay all the expenses of the army sustained in Cuba. This army is composed of 20,404 men, costing $5,904,084 per year. Added to this will be the cost of the present uprising, all of which Spain will place on Cuba."

"These conditions are such that the small beginning made by the insurgents will gain force and sympathy from all classes."

The gentleman was asked if efforts would be made to secure the recognition of the insurgents as belligerents in that section of Turkey?

ENGLISH WOMEN MUCH INTERESTED.

CHICAGO, April 6.—A London letter received here today says preparations are well advanced for the third biennial meeting of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union in London. It will be held, beginning June 19, in Queen's Hall, Langham Place, under the presidency of Miss Frances Willard. The convention, it is stated, will be one of widespread importance in the work that women are accomplishing for the betterment of the world along the lines of the "Do every thing policy."

British women are displaying the greatest interest in the convention, which will be held at the time of the national council of the British Women's Temperance association, under the presidency of Lady Henry Somerset, when some hundreds of delegates are expected to be in London.

Delegates are coming from many lands, and with the exception of a few from the United States, it is anticipated that the occasion of the world's meeting will be the most important which has yet taken place in London relating to the temperance cause and temperance reforms.

The arrival of General Campos in Cuba will be the most important event of the uprising, he continued. "He is the one man of Spain who can stop the rebellion if it is possible to stop it. The impression in the United States is that Campos is a bloody man, but he is just the reverse. He is most pacific and conciliatory."

"Campos declared after the last rebellion that the bones of 200,000 Spanish soldiers had been left in Cuba. About half of these lost their lives in the incident of service. He knows, therefore, the horrors of war in Cuba, and will use his best efforts to persuade rather than to crush, and in these tactics he is a master."

The movements of General Maceo, the Cuban revolutionary leader, who has led an army from west to east, and being welcomed with interest. It is known that the Costa Rica government has given no aid or countenance to Maceo's expedition, as the republic is an old dependency of Spain, most of her citizens cherishing their loyalty to the mother country.

OPPOSED TO CHANGE IN UNIFORM.

Army Men Dislike the Notion of Having to Buy New Regulation Garments.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(Special Telegram)—Army officers in Washington are very much displeased with the prospect of having another change in the army uniform in the near future. It is now proposed to adopt a different pattern for the blouse and cap, and the officers, who are affected by any change in the dress, are very much opposed to any further alterations. They argue that any alteration at all will necessitate a large expenditure on their part in the purchase of a new uniform, and they oppose a change principally for the sake of economy. They do not, therefore, interest themselves as to what the nature of the alterations of the change will be, but a number have expressed themselves as uncompromisingly against it. The board of officers, which was appointed to investigate the matter, have been considering patterns for quite a long time, and it is stated that the report will be ready in the next two weeks.

The cut and general style and appearance of the blouse and cap. The principal point of discussion is the matter of braid. It is probable that the recommendations of the board on this subject will be to abandon the braid ornamentation on the front and sleeves and to retain it on the collar. The members of the board of officers are divided on this subject. Some of the officers have not yet recovered from the inconvenience and trouble which they were compelled to undergo when the present blouse was adopted several years ago, and are set against the proposed change. The officers of the lower grades are joined by a number of high officials on duty here, and they all seem to think that from the officers' point of view any alterations will be exceedingly injurious.

The board of officers is appointed to meet at Leavenworth for examination of First Lieutenants Thomas U. Raymond, Assistant Surgeon; Henry D. Snyder, assistant surgeon; Allen M. Smith, assistant surgeon, and Joseph T. Clarke, assistant surgeon, as their headquarters. The board for the board: Major Calvin Dewitt, surgeon; Major Henry S. Turrell, surgeon; Captain John M. Banister, assistant surgeon.

Fits Lieutenant Robert N. Getting is transferred from company E to company C, and Captain Henry C. Hodges, Jr., from company C to company E, Twenty-second Infantry.

Captain Thaddeus W. Jones, Tenth cavalry, is granted leave one month; Captain Reuben F. Robertson, assistant surgeon, leave until April 3, 1896; Second Lieutenant Robert Alexander, Twenty-eighth Infantry, eighteen days' extended leave.

The president has accepted the resignation of Captain Robertson.

Captain William G. Balister, assistant surgeon, has been promoted to the rank of Captain and assigned to the 1st Cavalry. Justices Harlan, Brown, Shiras and White voted to sustain the law.

"The expectation among the members of the court is that the decision will be rendered Monday in open court, but there is a bare possibility that the court may again split up into irreconcileable sections and hold up the decision.

"If the next congress does not repeat the law with the sanction of the president, there will be a sudden rise in the price of all local produce, as it will be as of all real estate, as they will be exempt from taxation.

"They should get the benefit of the 2 per cent which other income producers are obliged to account for."

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The attention of several members of the cabinet was called to the publication concerning the supreme court decision on the income tax case, but they declined to express any opinion thereon, on the ground that it would be manifestly improper to discuss any of the cases of individual litigants before the court.

From another but entirely authentic source it is learned that the decision of the court may be the best thing for the city.

Claim They Are Still Prisoners.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 6.—The case of the three Americans, Joseph C. Carter, William Carney and D. A. Moore, who were arrested in the latter part of January Mexican officials are still holding in confinement horses over the border, and were imprisoned at Ensenada, seems all action to be taken by the court to inquire as to the meaning of the act of 1874 to which they were given to be held.

In connection with the whole article, the speaker indicated that that act was not fully promulgated.

From another but entirely authentic source it is learned that the decision of the court may be the best thing for the city.

All efforts to secure from members of the supreme court either authoritative confirmation of details or a copy of the original paper containing the statement which passed Congress directing the State department to intercede between Great Britain and Venezuela for a settlement of their troubles. He also made a speech on the subject, sounding the Monroe doctrine. The speech, it seems, has struck a popular chord in Venezuela, and has attracted a great deal of attention, and is printed in full as a remarkable coincidence. A Venezuelan poet has written a poem sounding Mr. Livingston's praises, and his picture, adored received here say, appears in all the newspapers.

INCOME TAX LAW MUTILATED

Lets Out the Very Class Its Projector Aimed to Catch.

RUMOR ON THE SUPREME COURT'S FINDING

Alleged Decision Printed in a Chicago Newspaper—Landlords and Bondholders Exempted—Burden to Fall on Merchant and Manufacturer.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The Tribune this morning publishes, as a special from Washington, what purports to be an abstract of the decision of the supreme court, soon to be handed down, on the validity of the income tax law. According to the dispatch referred to: "The United States supreme court in the income tax has reversed the decision of the lower court. The income tax law as a whole, however, is upheld, but only by a divided court.

"Two important provisions of the law, however, have been decided to be unconstitutional, and they are so serious as to affect materially not only the revenues of the government, but the estimation in which the income tax will be held by people.

"Under the decision to be handed down by the court it is said all incomes derived from rents are exempted from taxation by the federal government and all incomes derived from state and municipal bonds are similarly exempted. In other respects the income tax stands as it was last August, but the result of the consultations in the supreme court shows very conclusively that the law can easily be picked to pieces, provided suits are brought to contest each particular point as it comes up.

"Lively Fight Over the Presidency.

There will be a lively fight for president of the city council when the new council or ganizes on Tuesday evening next. The race now seems to be between Jack Walters and Jim Bullock. Both are working hard, but they have not counted upon the appearance of a dark horse. Henry Mies is the man who is being picked to run for the position of president of the city council. Walters and Bullock are joined by a number of high officials on duty here, and they all seem to think that from the officers' point of view any alterations will be exceedingly injurious.
