UNITY CLUB'S YEAR'S WORK.

Officers for Next Year Elected Friday Even. ing-The Last Discussion The last meeting of the Unity club for the Friday evening. Before beginning the regular program a short business session was held, at which Mr. Thomas Kilpatrick presided, owing to the absence of the president, Prof. H. P. Lewis. The reports of the treasurer and secretary were read and adopted.

season was held in the church lecture room

Dr. Mann, chairman of the committee ap-pointed to prepare the coming year's program. reported the work of the committee, which after amendment, was adopted. It was de-cided to continue the economic section. There will also be a literary section. The leaders and work of the third section will be decided

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Prof. H. P. Lewis, president: Ella B. Perrine, secretary, and Margaret H. Read, treasurer. A vote of thanks was tendered Miss Kate McHugh, Dr. Mann and Mr. C. S. Lobingier, who have so efficiently planned and directed the year's work. At the close of the business meeting Mr. Lobingier announced the subject of the even ing, "Monetary Panics."

Owing to the absence of Mrs. H. P. Lewis the first paper, 'Nature and History of Panics," was omitted. "Causes" was dis-cussed by Mr. William Wallace and Mr. Kilpatrick read a paper on "Provention and After a general discussion of the topics the club adjourned for the year.

One of the neatest little booklets that has appeared for some time is the History of Omaha Guards, which has just been issued from the press of the Pokrok Zapadu Printing company. It is copiously illustrated with cuts of the officers of the company and with several group pictures, printed in a blue tone. The frontispiece represents the guards in Hanscom park on Memorial day, 1894, and there are several pictures taken during the strike at South Omaha last summer, when the guards assisted in preserving order. In every way, the typographical work on the book is of the best, and indicates that it came from the hand of an artist.

NO CAUSE FOR HIS ARREST. John O'Hearn Claims to Be an Innocent Victim of the Police.

John O'Hearn was yesterday arraigned n police court on the charge of being drunk and said that although he had frequently pleaded guilty to the same charge, he would not do so this time, as he was not guilty He said that Friday night he was stopped in the street by Officers Heelan and Fahey and another officer whom he could not name They asked him his occupation and several other questions, all of which O'Hearn says he answered. He also said that he referred he officers to a friend who worked near by and who was also known to them. He claims that the officer whose name he does not know went to see this man, while the others took him to the police box and called up the police patrol. The officer came back with the information that O'Hearn's friend said that he was all right, but the officers who had placed him under arrest said that they would have to send him to the station as the patrol wagon had been called. They preferred the charge of drunkenness agains him. O'llearn says that he was perfectly sober and that he remonstrated with the officers for their action, but that they only reiterated their statement that he would have to go to fail because the wagon has been called and that they would prefer the charge of drunkenness against him on general for It. Anton Martanek, a former terror of Gibson, but who during the last few months has somewhat quieted down, found his way into police court again yesterday. He had been arrested on complaint of his wife. She claimed that on last Saturday Martanek had built a fence for a party and that he received $5 for his labor. He does not do much work and in celebration of the fact that he had a job he invested the $5 in Gibson whisky. He got gloriously drunk and re-turning home attempted to brain his wife with a bottle and then with a chair. A 14-year-old son interfered and later in the day Martanek lay for him with a knife and at ax. The boy was warned in time and con-sequently he still remains uncarved. Judge Berka was roasting the man for not support ng his family when Martanek interrupted him by saying that he obtained supplies from the county. The idea that a man would spend money for drink and then apply to he county for assistance made Judge Berka ngry and therefore Martanek will reside in the county jail for the space of thirty days

Denver Officer Coming After Sharp. Captain Mostyn has received a telegran from the chief of police of Denver, stating that an officer has been sent after George C. Sharp, who was arrested here Friday. It is said that Sharp is wanted for swindling Charles Frick of Denver out of $400 by false pretenses. He denies the charge. It is thought that he is the son of the late Jacob pretenses. Sharp, a millionaire of New York City.

Stock Waives Preliminary Hearing. John Stock, alias John Kleinsmith, who was arrested Friday night for passing a number of forged checks, yesterday waived ex amination and was bound over to the district court in the sum of $800. Stock claims that he was forced to raise money in this way because he was out of work, but people who know him say that he never works if he can get out of it. He is a single man, Did it with a Sling.

Eddie Farley, who lives at 1411 Cass street, was yesterday arraigned on the charge of disorderly conduct. He is a boy 14 years of age. It is claimed that he shot another by named Forbes in the eye with a stone from a sling. Farley claims that it was accidental. The case was continued until OMAHA, April 6 .- To the Editor of The Bee: We have taken advantage of your kindly granted permission and are preparing to publish The Mayday Bee. Our can-vassers are already in the field and are meeting with warm encouragement from idvertisers and the public generally. hope to prepare an issue that will be a credit to Omaha and in all respects worthy of the office from which it shall appear. As the Presbyterian hospital is sectarian As the Presbyterian hospital is sectarian only in name, we hope the general public will take an interest in our endeavor to increase the working power of the hospital. The women who are taking part in the work are by no means confined to our own church. I inclose the list of our staff as far as completed. With very sincere thanks for your generosity, I am cordially yours, IDA V. TILDEN.

The editorial staff of the Mayday woman's edition of The Bee has not yet been entirely filled, but Mrs. Harford, Mrs. John Gordon and Mrs. F. B. Tracy are busily engaging talent to conduct the various departments of the paper. When the staff is complete it is expected that it will be one of the most brilliant that has ever been engaged in the west. Among the department editors already selected are the following: Philanthropy, Mrs. F. M. Ford; household, Mrs. F. M. Pugh; education, Mrs. Dr. Charles Rosewater; children, Mrs. Henderson; religion, Mrs. J. M. Wilson; music, Mrs. Percy Ford; art, Miss Ethel Evans; correspondence, Miss E. Kennedy, literature, Mrs. W. W. Keysor; clubs and societies, Mrs. W. W. Ferguson; medicine and surgery, Dr. Freda Lankton; men's page, Mrs. Dr. Towne; advertising manager, Mrs. C. H. Townsend; committee of arrangements, Mrs. George Tilden, Mrs. John Gordon, Dr. Freda Lankton. The women have secured headquarters in rooms 417 and 419. Bee building, where they will conduct the preliminary arrangements previous to taking charge of the regular working rooms of The Bee. The editorial staff of the Mayday woman's charge of The Bec.

MODES FOR MEN. The hat to wear with a business suit should be a brown derby, with a low crown. Whatever the color of the suit, the hat must opy a tone of it, so that a man will be a symphony in color. Men's coats are to be made shorter. Ever and ever so much shorter. A man isn' to have a train bearer any longer, nor run the risk of stepping on the skirts of his

Prince Albert as he goes up steps. All coats are to be curtailed. The new ties are largely dark, and have polka dots forming various geometrical ng ures. Blue seems to be the favorite, with white dots. The white cheviot Ascot tle will be the popular tie for afternoon wear. For business suits cheviots hold their place in popularity. They are soft and beautiful in texture, and come in mixed browns and mixed grays, but browns are nost favored. The sack coat is rather preferred for the business suit-one with four outtons and no seam in the back. Men are going to wear plaids, too, just ike women, only not quite so pronounced The pretty gray and brown cheviots have a great big "over plaid" in baby blue, and old plaid is almost imperceptible, it isn't likely that the style will last long after Easter. In gloves there is something new for men The gray suede with two clasps comes lined with silk. An old fancy, which men seem to like very well. Next season men's even-

The whole shirt will be of a color, and not just colored bosoms, collars and cuffs. They are made

If a man doesn't hold his head up this spring it will be because he doesn't wear the very newest collar. As they say in the wild and woolly west, "it is a holy terror!" It is closed entirely in front, the ends lap-ping, and has no band. It stands two and even-eighths inches in front and two and three-eighths inches in the back, with no perceptible flare. With it will be worn a ong tie, with flowing ends, but it won't hide the misery of the man who wears it. There is a decided change in trousers The "peg top" of the early part of the century has the call just now, with modifications, of course. Easter trousers are being made sixteen and a half inches at the foot and eighteen at the knee. During the winter they were made twenty and twenty and a half. Stripes will prevail, the effect generally being dark, but with dark blue and black freek coats and waistcoats, lighter rousers will be worn.

DAKOTA FOSSILS.

Splendld Assortment to Be Found in the Bad hands.

"The Bad Lands," said Horatio Garrett, described by the Philadelphia Press as one of the most carnest rock delvers of the party from Princeton college that recently visited the Bad Lands of North Dakota and Mon-tana to collect fossils, "are a strange com-bination of desolation, horror and incomprehensible freaks of the primeval world. There are lofty peaks, bare and brown—baked into gires of burning rock by the hot sun of a million years. The valleys between are white deserts, covered with the bitter, dusty, blinding alkali that has made all that coun try a desert worse than Sahara ever was said to be.

"The rivers run white or turbid with this alkaline concretion in winter and are dry and dusty channels in the summer. The peaks, the valleys and every feature of the whole region, in fact, seems to be thrown down upon the earth in nature's angriest mood—a hideous conglomeration in which even the geological strata are displaced and entangled. This strange region was once the entangled. This strange region was once the sait washed bottom of a sea, and the traces of the receding waves are visible on every hand. The fossils, which were now our main pursuit, are mostly aquatic animals. Few birds, and those mostly of the semi-In buying peanuts for the children or to use salted, buy them raw and bake them in the ven. This is but little trouble, and is much of bear, antelope and buffalo and relics of an intermediate age, the bones of the mastodons and elephants—not mammoths—and of a three-toed equine, one of the ancestors of the horse. Some of the saurians of the eccene and miscene periods were indescribably hideous. Looking upon the remains of these when crumbing coqueites or anything else that requires egging and crumbling, a table spoonful of milk may be added to each egg used. This is more economical when eggs are 2 or 3 cents each, and quite as effectual.

In addition to these there are several other obberies that occurred during the past few days, accounts of which have already been published in The Bee. Of these the most important was the taking of a set of harness valued at $25 from the barn of Dexter L. Thomas at 956 North Twenty-seventh avenue. and the stealing of a quantity of jewelry from Josie Tilliard of 1713 St. Mary's avenue. Yesterday's Bee contained an account of the operations of two men who make a practic of visiting the back porches of residences and stealing whatever they can lay their hands

The robbery of the residence of Mrs. Stokes, who lives near Nineteenth and Emmett treets, several days ago, occurred in a rather peculiar manner. Mrs. Stokes had gone out driving with a friend. The two women went to the Women's club at Sixteenth and Douglas streets, and went into the club rooms. Mrs. Stokes accidentally left her card case which, in addition to her cards, contained the key to her residence, in the buggy. When she entered the buggy again she found that the case was gone. When she returned home she found that the house had entered, the front door being unlocked, and The burgler had undoubtedly picked up th card case from the buggy, discovered Mrs. Stokes address from the cards, and had then immediately gone to the house and entered it with the key that was in the case. The man who committed the burglary is suspected be Petry, who is now under arrest in Chicago. Detective Dunn has gone after him. Petry is also suspected of having en-tered the house of H. N. Jewett, and of stealing clothing and jewelry worth $190. Some of the articles are said to have been found on him.

Do Not Want Gardner Here. James H. Gardner, who poses as a peddler of spectacles, was yesterday ordered out of town by Judge Berka, with a suspended sentence of thirty days in the county jail hanging over his head. He is suspected of being a worker of the spectacle racket. The scheme is worked as follows: The peddler invests in a small number of spectacles. puts all but one pair in a satchel and the other he places in one of his pockets. Walking along the street he offers to sell the pair of spectacles to some passer-by, saying that he has just found them and that as he has no use for them he is willing to sell them for anything. The sucker often bites, and as the spectacles are of the cheapest kind and practically worthless almost any sum received for them is profit.

If Delinquent Claims Are Paid the City May Run Short. There is considerable speculation around be infesting this city are making their usual the federal building and city hall as to the nocturnal and daylight visits to the resi- probable outcome of the controversy between dences of citizens with uninterrupted regu- the city and the receivers of the American larity, to judge from the reports of thefts Water Works company. It has been rumored that are made at the police station. None for several days that a compromise has been of the jobs are of any great magnitude, but precipitated by the recent filing in the city there is a large amount of petty stealing. clerk's office of an opinion by City Attorney Connell, which in substance states that the city did not have sufficient evidence to win property taken in each case is usually $100 its fight. It is said that enough councilmanic votes are assured to pass the appropriation ordinance to pay the water works company $42,462.04, due on last year's bill, even if the mayor vetoes the last measure submitted t iim for his approval, The payment of this amount would apply on the indebtedness of 1894 and would leave balance of $53,097.40 in the water fund to apply on hydrant rentals for the current This presents a new chapter in the famous fight between the municipality and the water works company, inasmuch as the total amount of available cash in the hydrant fund at present is $105,559.44, and the hydrant rental this year will be $79,707.12. In making up the tax levy for 1895 the hydrant fund was only given $58,964.92, notwithstanding the fact that there was no reduction in the cost of water service. The tax levy for last year provided $79,707.12 for the hydrant fund and hence the appropriaion for water service this year is $20,742.20 ess than it was last year. The payment of he ballance due the company on the bill of lother some months ago in the same man-ler, but these were recovered.

Other persons who reported thefts during the city council are confronted with a com-plicated question. The fire and police departments, and in fact every advocate of ther funds, express doubt that the appropriaions for their respective interests are enough o carry them through the year, even with he utmost economy and retrenchment in excenses. The total amount of the tax > his year for expenses of the city is $864,-94.52, including the general fund. Some councilmen believe that the new chase in the water works dilemma can be traightened out by diverting the unexpended balance in other funds, but it is said that enemies of the water works company will rigorously combat this idea.

> The fact, briefly stated, is that the ap propriation for hydrant rentals this year $20,742.20 short of the amount required t neet the bills of the water works compa and the latter insists that the city must pay for its water service, past, present and future, as the company is in the hands of the federal court and proper accounting must be made by its receivers.

The case to come up in federal court scon with relation to the indebtedness of 1894 will not remedy the shortage of 1895, so some o he councilmanic prophets say. Receiver Bier, over when sein vesterday was reticent on the subject beyond the fact that he above condition of affairs existed and
