Rain at Present, a Wet Moon and the Delayed Flight of Migratory Water Fowl Indications that the Drouth is Over.

ASHLAND, April 7.-(Special.)-Never in the history of Ashland and Saunders county was there a spring rain that come with as much welcome as the one which fell Friday, Saturday and today. A Bee representative interviewed several of the leading farmers of this county yesterday afternoon on the prospect for a crop this coming season. Their views are all most hopeful. Their reasons for believing there will be an abundant crop this year being that past history proves that in eastern Nebraska we have seldom, if ever, had two crop failures two was a wet one this month. One observing tiller of the soil said: "For the past twenty years I have carefully observed the immigration of the wild birds from the south to the north in the spring as one of the best means of teiling the prospect of a season. I have always noticed that when the wild geese and ducks were late in coming from the south and were strung out for a month or two that we almost always have a profitable season. Water fowls do not like to travel through a dry country, and stay south till nature informs them of the broken drouth, When the birds are kept south till late the season is sure to be a wet one. The ground is in as fine shape for another large crop as it has ever been, because there was no raised last year and the weeds were out. Last winter allowed every ounce of prelied snow to be absorbed by the ground. now this gentle rain comes in such a way that all went to the good of the land The good effect of this rain on the small grain lately sown is inestimable, while its assistance toward the preparation of the ground for the planting of corn is incal-

CHOLERA IN AUSTRIA-HUNGARY. Said to Be Decreasing in that Territory and Brazil.

WASHINGTON, April 7.- The report of Surgeon General Wyman for this week shows and that it has entirely disappeared from Janeiro, reports a general decrease of cholera in Brazil except in the state of Espirato Lanto, where there has been a marked increase, ninety cases occurring in one week in two villages alone. It appears, he says, to be following the course of the Paralhyba river and to be slowly moving northward from that stream. Dr. Cleary thinks it safe to say that there will be no epidemic of yel-low fever in Rio this year, as the cool season is very near, and he says that whenever in previous years there has been no great number of cases of this disease up to this time it never appears to any great extent.

CONSUMPTION OF AMERICAN WINE. French Manufacturers Complain that Their

Products Are Losing Cast. WASHINGTON, April 7 .- The French wine nanufacturers are becoming alarmed at the American competition. An extract from the Commercial Journal, published in Paris, after describing the year's vintage in California as inferior in quality and indifferent in yield, says that since the Neal tariff lowering the entry duties on wine imported into the United States from abroad, great efforts have been made in California to organize powerful syndicates whose aim it is to struggle by every means against foreign competition, and especially against the competition of French wines. It is not that the quantity of discosable wines or pecuniary motives are wanting, but owing to the antagonism arising from the producers on one side and the agents on the other this enormous engine of industrial war will not be ready to operate for a good while yet.

In looking over the last annual report of the State Agricultural Board of California for the years 1893-94, the conclusion is arlved at that the wine growing in lustry California has been for several years in a stagnation; that there has been an excess of production; that the price of wine has never been lower, although the improvement with a view to increasing the consumption and open ing new markets for it have been constant

Mr. Patterson has been all over the world, and nowhere else any relief. I could give numbers of similar cases, and that so few people have come here is due to the fact that the Orange Prec State is so little known, and in most parts of the world believed to be a desert ited with brutal natives and wild beasts. Living is rather expensive, and persons ing here should command from $50 to $60 per month. Recent Advance in the Price of Beef Appreclated by the Grazers. CHEYENNE, April 7.-(Special.)-Stockmen have reason to congratulate themselves upon the outlook for the future. Prices are higher than for several years, and the market is still advancing. A prominent cattleman said today that he anticipated a further increase.
