Sioux City, Council Bluffs and the Iowa Railways Join Against Omaha.

TO RESIST REMOVAL OF BRIDGE APBITRARY Lively Fight Looked for When the Matter is Brought Before the Interstate Commerce Commission-Some Details of the Opposition.

> The Iowa railroads have pooled their is sues with Council Bluffs and Sloux City in an attempt to give Omaha the worst of the deal in her efforts to secure fair and equal bridge differentials. As a result there is considerable excitement among the business men and shippers of Omaha, due to the timely discovery of the three-cornered combination that has just been formed to de- parsing the dividend. feat Omaha and the Commercial club in the bridge arbitrary case that will come up for hearing before the Interstate Commerce Great Falling Off in Revenue-Directors ommission in this city on April 29. The bridge arbitrary of 5 cents for every undred weight of freight upon eastbound SHORTHAND AND TYPEWRITING. hipments from Omaha and Nebraska points, VAN SANT'S SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND, N Y. Life, Omaha. Ask for circular. 176 with invariable regularity. On the other hand, or rather on the other side of the river, when freight is shipped from Council Bluffs to Nebraska points, the urbitrary is not applied, thus clearly discriminating against Omaha to the extent of 5 cents per 100 pounds and giving Council ELLA DAY, R.S. COM'L NT'L BK . 16 & FARNAM Bluffs an advantage in rate notwithstanding the fact that both distributing centers are F. GELLENBECK, BANJOIST AND GUITAR dissouri river points and entitled to the same in-and-out rate.

NOTICE.

Scaled proposals will be received by the State Printing Board at the office of the Secretary of State at any time before Wednesday, May I, 1825, at 2 o'clock p. m., for printing and binding two thousand (2,000) copies of the senate Journals, one thousand (1,000) copies of the house journals and five thousand (6,000) copies of the session laws of 1835.

Senate and house journals to be printed on book paper, two pounds per quire, super royal octave form, standard brevier type, leaded with six to pica leads between the lines, and the pages shall be twenty-six pica ems in width and forty-two pica ems in length of printed matter, without unnecessary blanks, broken pages, or paragraphs, blanks between proceedings of each day, between different session of the same day, and between heads and subheads, not to exceed one brevier line.

The binding shall be in the same style and quality as the house journals of 1891. Session laws to be printed on book paper, two pounds per quire, small pica type, pages to be same size and form as the laws of 1885, with marginal notes and index, bound in full sheep.

Troposais will also be received at the same time and place for printing the supereme court reports, and court calendars, and for furnishing all blanks, blank books and circulars, including revenue blanks required by the officers of the executive department of the state for a period of two years from date of contract.

Samples and estimates of kinds and qualtity of supplies to be surnished can be seen at the office of the secretary of state.

Proposals must state for what price the bidder will furnish all books in this class per page, and for all blanks and circulars per hundred.

For the printing of one hundred thousand (100,000) vouchers for the use of all of the departments of the state in the disbursement of itunds, to be divided into twenty (20) or more forms, samples of which, together with the amount required of each form, are on file in the office of the secretary of state. Said vouchers are all to be printed a THEORY OF THE ARBITRARY. It is the general method in preparing tariffs elsewhere to equalize rates fro on the Missouri river, Mississippi river and localities where various cities compete for the business of the transmissouri and transmississippi territory. The usual theory of rate making, according to the argument of local shippers, is that rates are not computed strictly on a mileage basis and that the distributing points should have rates equalized. It is claimed by business men that in no other similar instance does there exist such a rank discrimination as the "bridge hold-up," as they term it, at Omaha. It has resulted in considerable transfer service by wagons to save time and possible delay in loading and unloading from cars. These teams, however, are compelled to pay toll to the wagon bridge and thus the shippers find that teaming does not give the desired relief. It is the same old complaint, a story often told with an empty reward of promises and no relief.

Twelve years ago the arbitrary applied to both Omaha and Council Bluffs, but it was subsequently revised, and while the traffic tax was lifted from Council Bluffs, the rail-ways declined to grant similar relief to Omaha. This grievance was really the nucleus for the organization of the Commercial club of this city, and that organiza tion, through its commissioner, John E. Utt, has made repeated efforts to get the "differential" removed, but all to no avail. A few weeks ago the executive committee of the club held a protracted session. The usual quiet "weekly sociable" of that organization was transformed into a war dance ganization was transformed into a war dance.
Euclid Martin, chairman of the executive committee and a heavy shipper, who for years has paid tribute to the "bridge of sight," declared with emphasis that patience, as a virtue, had become a back number and that something should be done. President Weller, with a full spread of war paint, an Commissioner Utt, calm but determined, all spoke upon the subject, and the substance of their remarks was a suggestion for an apreal to the Interstate Commerce commission Within a short space of time a formal complaint was prepared, and in the name of the Commercial club of Omaha was forwarded ways and the business men of Council Bluffs that the Omaha Commercial club had secured the desired date for hearing, and that Commissioner Utt and President Weller were commissioner Utt and President Weller were armed with statistics, undeniable facts and information obtained on a still hunt, there were numerous consultations on the other side of the river and around the traffic deside of the river and around the riv interested. It was decided to use the Council Bluffs shippers as the breastworks, behind which the railway guns were to be concealed, and thus be doubly prepared to repel the attack of the Commercial club. Presumably it was to be a battle between Council Bluffs and Omaha, whereas the railways were, in fact, back of the Council Bluffs contingent. The Council Bluffs shippers, assured of railway support, accordingly formed a secret organization for the movement, according to official advices from that community, and then they looked around for a leader. ### HERE ON AN IMPORTANT MISSION Burlington Official Confers with the Secretary of the Commercial Club. Second Vice President George B. Harris, a power on the Burlington system, and Commissioner Utt of the Commercial club held a conference with General Manager Holdrege yesterday. While it was impossible to learn of the nature of the conference, it is thought it had much to do with the case of the Commercial club against the several railroads crossing the Missouri river from Iowa into Nebraska and the arbitrary bridge rate charged. It is also stated that the Burling-ton does not desire to be a party to the com-plaint filed by the Commercial club with the Interstate Commerce commission Vice President Harris has been in Omaha for several days past, the longest time he has ever spent in the city on one visit, and there is considerable speculation heard as to just what this prolonged visit portends. Rallway Note 5 General Passenger Agent Frank Semple of

First-I never stated that I had done mission work with Dr. Parkhurst nor that I had outgrown the field I had just left. I did not yearn for great opportunities in Omaha, but for rest and respite for a little while after years of work and sorrow.

Second-I never appeared before the public as "Rev." I have preached for twenty-five years, and if I was placarded as "Rev those who requested me to lecture 1 am hardly to blame,

Third The Congregational Extension so-lety never engaged me to work at the Chapel of the Carpenter. I began the work there myself and without any revenue from any source. The society engaged me to do other work, but not there. I worked for saveral months in Omaha without any in-

Scores in both countries can testify to this. Seventh-Matters relating to the divorce case can only be answered before a properly constituted court and not in newspapers and previous to the trial. I came here for rest, hoping to remain two months and return to New York. My divorce case was postponed from time to from time to time until my means were ex-hausted and my work hindered by the noto-ricty of the immorality of my wife. My Dear Mr. Irvine: The executive committee of city missions granted your resignation, as paid, and also accepted your resignation, as you asked them to do. In so doing they instructed me, as chairman of the committee on sea and land, to express to you their deep sympathy with you in this hour of sore trial. They are men who, when they express sympathy, mean it. To them the infidelity of a wife is a deep wound. May I be permitted to add a word of my own? Times of great trials are times of great opportunity, when they are heroically met. Fire purifies gold and sliver. By faith in Christ and true Christian forbearance and patience you can show that much which has been said against you is not rue. Your trust vindication will be found along these lines. If my counsel can at any time be of service call on me. My heart aches for a man so sorely wounded as you have been in your domestic relations. I am very truly yours,

NEW YORK St. 11, 1894-132 East Thirty-faith street—My Dear Mr. Irvine: I take this opportunity of communicating with you. I did not know to what quarter you had removed until I received a line of inquiry from Rev. E. L. Ely, I am gratified at the opportunity of speaking a kind and earnest word to him in your behalf. I want to say that we miss you here in New York. We had our regular monthly meeting of the city vigilance league in my house last evening, and your absence was keenly feit.

I appreciated the earnestness and fearlesshess of your co-operation, and only wish we had a thousand more here like you.

METROPOLITAN TRUST COMPANY,
NEW YORK, Aug. 23, 1891.—Rev Edward L.
Ely. Superintendent Congregational Church
Extension Society of Omaha.—My Dear Mr.
Ely: I have just received your letter of the 25th inst. and am exceedingly glad to be given an opportunity to endorse Mr. Alexander F. Irvine, formerly the lodging house missionary of the New York City Mission and Tract society, of which I am a director, I have known Mr. Irvine for years and never have I had any cause or reason to lose the confidence which I placed in him at first, My regard, I may say affection, for him has steadily increased, and knowing him better than any of my associates on the board I can say freely that no better worker, more untiring or zealous, ever was engaged in the work of upifiting the failen and degraded and helping them to a purer and selfrespecting life.
I believe him a pure, honest and devoted Christian, whose life is given without reserve to that Master he so dearly loves and faithfully serves. Can more be said?
As to his domestic trials and sorrow, he is blameless. He has been a true and devoted husband and father. I know how patiently he has berne the cross which has oppressed him for years. If employed by your society give him your personal friendship, counsal and confidence, for he is worthy. Yours cordially, CHARLES M. JESSUP.
