three nights, commencing tonight. Miss Fox in conversation said that "it is true that I have gone into the cigar business. At least I have given permission to Krohn, Feiss & Co., the noted cigar manufacturers of Cincinnati, to place my name and picture on their box labels, and, by the way the men talk about them in the east. I am very glad I did it. O yes," continued Miss Fox, "I know all about them. There's the Della Fox Victorias, the Della Fox Con-chas Especials, the Della Fox Regalia Elegantes, Delia Fox Perfecto Extras and the Delia Fox Invincibles, and I am positive there hasn't been a better cigar made since smoking came in style. I understand that the Steele-Smith Grocery company of Omaha have be'n appointed general western dis-tributing agents and I know they have a snap, for it's no trouble to sell a cigar like the Della Fox. The makers furnish the most attractive advertising in the way of pictures, cigar cutters, lighters, etc., that have ever been put on a cigar, which go with every purchase." Treasurer in a New Role. Friends of H. B. Irey are enjoying a few smiles at his expense. Those who have held converse with him for only a few minutes learned that he springs from the purest Keystone stock, as he never fails to recount the glories of the land of black dia recount the glories of the land of black diamonds. This pride, furthermore, is distinctly localized from the fact that he first opened his eyes to the world within the sacred precincts of Chester county, where flowers are more fragrant and beautiful, where the grass is greener, where fruits grow larger and more luscious, where both brain and brawn are more in evidence, than on any other spot within the boundaries of this fair land.

on any other spot within the boundaries of this fair land.

Some time ago Mr. Irey received a very excellent volume which proved to be the history of Chester county.

In compliance with a request previously made, he stopped a few mornings ago on his way to the office, at the house of a triend who is a member of one of our largest wholesale firms and who also hais from Chester county to leave this interesting book for the merchant's perusal.

The door was opened by the good wife, who did not recognize Douglas county's fiscal agent, but did recognize the fact that he carried a book under his arm.

That settled it!

It must be one of those impudent book agents, and she would act with decision: "Well-er-why, yes, Mr. Wholesaler is in, but is at breakfast and cannot be disturbed now. You might-well-you'll have to call some other time. He can't be bothered now."

now."
Suddenly the truth burst upon the man with the book. Explanations followed and apologies, the most profound and profuse, were tendered and accepted.

Y. W. C. A. Notes. Last Monday was held the reception to new members, the threatening weather prevented a crowd from coming, but those who vented a crowd from coming, but those who were present enjoyed the evening very much. The dainty refreshments were provided by the ladies of St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, and were served by their committee. The new gowns were there in all their glory of gold skirts and butterfly bows.

The spirit of the glad Easter time was felt in the rooms which, through the kindness of friends, were decorated with a variety of potted plants that gave them a festive air. The meeting was led by Mrs. Harford. The theme of her remarks was "Christ's Appearance to the Women at the Sepulcher." The services were much helped by the singing of a solo by Miss Pennock, and a trio by the Misses Fairchild and Mrs. Lumbeck, Miss Lyda Wilson was accompanist.

Pleasing Features of Sherman & McCon-The Sherman-McConnell Drug company en ertained the ladies of Omaha yesterday with a tulip opening. The handsome drug store at 1513 Dodge street was darkened with yelow shades. The interior lighted with hunireds of gas jets beneath yellow shades presented a scene of no ordinary ttractiveness. Thinks Lucy is Hiding.

Lucy Russell has run amay from the home of her guardian near Pender, and is supposed to be hiding in Omaha. She is an orphan, 18 years old, and quite prepossessing in appearance. She has been living with an uncle named Richard Russell, eight miles west of Pender, but two weeks ago she went into Pender to have a dress waist fitted. Her guardian gave her $5 and this was all the money she had. She did not return home and Mr. Russell discovered after making inquiries that she had spent $1.20 in Pender for several trinkets and then went to the depot, where she purchased a ticket for Fremont. She has not been found in Fremont and her uncle believes she is hiding in Omaha. He is in the city and has placed the case in the hands of the police. He fears that she is in some trouble, and that she has not the courage to make it known to any of her friends.

IS CHADRON GETTING A SQUARE DEAL?

CHADRON, Neb., April 18 .- To the Editor of The Bee: The matter which I would wish to particularly speak of is one which has been extensively advertised all over the country for about a year, namely, the beet sugar factory. With a zeal that is most ommendable, our people, both in the city and the surrounding country, have raised s conus for the man or company willing t oulid such an institution here, which I doubt could be raised anywhere in the union, considering that the lands and moneys sub-scribed represent in many cases a larger part of the earthly possession of the giver They have done this in good faith, on the representation of a man in Chicago, who obligated himself to build and equip a numicious soda was served at the fountain and ber of factories here by the 1st of October herbert and Roman punch were ladled out next. Now, from reports and various other straws, that are supposed to point the way here, are led to conclude that, while Chadron has been doing more even than agreed on, the other end of the rope is not very safely anchored. Letters from different sources must force consideration on thinking isiness men that there is something wrong with the wood pile. To do my share of an honest endeavor to dispel the unprofitable expectations, I have tried to get our papers here to publish extracts of letters bearing on the case, in proof of my assertions. No doubt they are afraid of their bread and butter, because the tide has not yet turned the other way. A letter from Chicago is in possession of one of our citizens here, in which the writer states that he is informed by the man who promises to build the factories here, that he owns 25,000 acres of good farm land here, and has $40,000 in the banks of Chadron, when not an acre of land does he own here at this writing, nor has he a single dollar in our banks now. Some representations which he made to me have not been delivered of expected results, and for such reasons as these I for one have lost faith in the ability of the gentleman to fulfill his contract here, and I believe that he sooner the strain under which the majority of our people are now laboring is removed the better in the end. For this reason I ask you to publish the above. 1,000 good puffs in a Della Fox Bouquet.

"The truth is that Mr. Darling killed him-self, though, mind you, I would never have said anything about this had not my former husband's mother begun it. During our entire married life he was addicted to the use of stimulants and their excessive use finally brought on consumption and a gen-eral breakdown, from which nothing could have saved him. Dr. Spranger was called in as any other physician might have been, and did what he could for my husband, but we all knew that he could not be saved. "The cry about the poisoned milk at the Ebitt house in Washington is all nonsense.

The milk served us there was not good and made us all sick. "Mrs. Adams Darling herself ordered her son's body cremated. I had nothing to do with it. She had also done all she could to make my life miserable, once even trying to have my husband send me to an asylum and she also tooks my 6-year-old girl, the one I have with me, away and put the child
