Claim of the State to Indemnity Lands in the Yankton Reservation.

DECISION HINGES ON ONE POINT

Secretary Smith Says if No Other Cases Are Affected by the Special Law, He Will Decide in Favor of the State.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25 .- (Special Telegram.)-Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith today gave a hearing in the South Dakota-Yankton reservation claim case, the arguments beginning at noon and lasting until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The main argument for the state was presented by School Land Commissioner Lockhart, and he was assisted by Attorney H. King. The skill, are not subject to it. Indians were represented by Stockslager & Heard. The point made by the state agents was that a special act of congress, contained in the Indian appropriation act, allowing any state which was entitled to Indian indemnity school lands to select such lands in any part of the state prior to the opening of the reservation, repealed and nullified the article in the agreement between the Indians and the government representative providing that the land should be opened to sattlement by actual bona fide settlers. This being the main point of the defendants, it was the principa? object at which the representatives of the Indians almed their regly. Numerous supreme court decisions were presented and cited to show that an act of congress order to be repealed must be so repealed by a law having only the same subject matter and this same object in view. This act allowing the state to select lands, the plaintiffs contended, was a general provision and not intended to repeal or make void the agreement with the Indians. This point was argued at length by counsel on both sides.

WILL DETERMINE THE DECISION. Secretary Smith made a very decisive point when he asked the representatives of the Indians if they could cite any general case where this law could apply other than the Yankton case. No similar case or conditions were named, and the secretary said: "It seems very clear that if there are no cases existing to which this special act should apply, the provision in the Indian appropriation act was certainly intended to apply to the case at issue and that this was the intention of congress in passing the law."

This statement of the secretary gave Messrs. Lockhart and King considerable enent, and they are inclined to be Heve that the case is favorable to them, ourse of the hearing Secretary Smith said that although it was reasonable to assume that the special act applied to the Yankton case, he nid not believe for a moment that if the insjority of the members of congress knew that in passing this act they were setting aside and nullifying a solemn with the Indians this measure would have become a law. In closing the case the secretary said that if upon careful investigation he found no outside cases to which this special provision in the Indian bill alluded, he would assume that the provision was intended to repeal the article in the agreement and give the state of South Dakots the right to file on the lands in ques-tion, and he would so decide the case.

The decision of the department will probably be prepared in the office of Assistant Attorney General Hall, who is familiar with the arguments at the hearing. Instructions will be given, however, by Secretary Smith who has taken a personal interest in the case. It cannot be told when the decision will be announced. Commissioner Lockhart will leave for the west tomorrow morning. Attorney King will start Saturday morning to be present at Chamberlain during the term of court at that place.

THERE WILL BE A REHEARING Another Chance to Settle the Constitution-ality of a Disputed Law. HINGTON, April 25.-When United States supreme court on May 6 again takes up the income tax case it will once more go into the merits of all the points involved and will not, as its order made Tuesday apparently stated, confine the arguments to the question whether or not a rehearing of the cases shall be granted. This unexpected explanation of the court's orders shows that what it intended to state in its ambiguous announcement was that it had granted the petition for a rehearing and if the bench was full on that date named would reopen the cases on May 6. This or-der of the court, it is stated, was drawn hastily and it was not noticed at the time that it was ambiguous and apparently justified the conclusion that the court had decided simply to hear arguments on the question of granting a rehearing. The attorney general was at some loss to understand just the extent to which the court desired him to go in his argument. In reopening the cases the court, it is stated, will not vacate the order it has made already, but it will let its decision stand for present and will only modify the original entry in the event that as a result of the argument a majority of the court de-cides to overrule the conclusions beretofore reached. The complete reopening of the cases will necessitate continuous and hard work on the part of the counsel so as to be prepared for the court. The attorney gen-eral, the counsel for the government on this occasion, will go most fully and elabor. ately into all the points involved and es-pecially into the question of direct taxa-The government will represent that importance of the cases make it desirable that a week should be allowed for argument on each side. If allowed, the argument, in the matter of length, may bear some comparison to the exhaustive hearing before the Paris arbitration tribunal on the Bering sea question. The explanation now given unofficially by the court of the mean-ing of its order indicates a probability that before final adjournment of the court for the present term a final determination of the present term a final determination of the full court on the mooted income tax question may be expected.

While it is the purpose of the supreme court to have the whole case reargued and the merits gone into at full length in order that a final disposition of the question may be speedily reached, yet there is good reason to believe the vagueness of its recent order was due to some doubts still remaining as to was due to some doubts still remaining as to the condition of Justice Jackson's health. The action of the court in fixing upon May 6 for the beginning of the reargument was something of a surprise to the officers of the Department of Justice. While, as a matter of course, the government will be as ready on that day as possible in the limited time for preparation, yet it is realized it will be extremely difficult to do in eight days the work which rightfully calls for a month's close application.

BULLETINS ON FOREIGN MARKETS.

Agricultural Department Has Soms Interesting Information for Producers. WASHINGTON, April 25.-The secretary of agriculture will, in about ten days, begin the publication and distribution of a series ulletins relative to the foreign markets for the agricultural products of the United States. Letters were sent to the American consuls the world over last fall asking for replies to certain questions relative to the consumption in the localities to which they are accredited of meats, cereals, dairy products, cotton, tobacco fruits, liquors, seeds where they are produced, prices, all other statistical information. bulletins, it is believed, will be of great value to all persons seeking foreign mar-kets for their products, as they will enable them to select the most advantageous markets and give them in advance all the infor-mation desired relative to the prices asked and received by their competitors.

> EXTENDED CIVIL SERVICE BULES. Steam and Electrical Engineers Make an Effort to Be Included in the System.

WASHINGTON, April 25 .- An effort is being made by the Civil Service commission to extend the operations of the classified servce over the steam and electrical engineers employed in the departments.

The civil service law provides that laborers and workmen shall not be included in the classified service, but in a parenthesis ex-plains that this is not to be taken to refer to skilled laborers or workmen. Although all classes of mechanics, including carpenters, ngineers, electricians and the like, may thus be included in the operation of the law. A distinction has always been made between the appointments to classes of workmen whose neglect of duty might cause danger or leath, and those on whim no such responsibility can fall. AMUSEMENTS.

Effic Ellsler opened a three nights' engagement at Boyd's last evening with "Hazel Kirke." The play to theater goers is as familiar as a chapter in the New Testament is to bible readers, and in the case of many of them familiarity does not appear to lessen interest. Miss Elisler's performance as star is, to carry further the comparison, as well remembered by theater goers as are the acts of the apostles by bible readers, and in each instance the high standard stands. Most prominent in the support last evening were Frank Weston, the husband of the star, and Robert Drouet, the author of 'Doris,' which is in the repertory of the present engagement. Weston, who took the to increase the popularity of this easily pop-ular role. Drouet, as Lord Travers, lacked little of presenting the part at its best. Miss Elisier has long sustained the reputation of carrying an evenly balanced company, and in her present support is no one who seems much out of his place.

On Wednesday evening, May 1, and for our nights following, the Lilliputians will inaugurate their engagement at Boyd's opera house, with the new spectacular play, "Humpty Dumpty Up to Date." This play is the most pretentious play ever attempted by this clever company, and there is no doubt that it will meet with great success. The brilliant scenery, consisting of fourteen ntirely new sets, as well as the gorgeous costumes, were made by the foremost artists of Europe. There will be four grand ballets, beautiful in design and of original conception. In the first, the "Ballet of Drinks," the dresses and accessories represent coffee, tea, milk, chocolate, wine, beer, seltzer, whisky, cocktalls, champagne and even Croton water. The tableaux finish-ing this ballet consists of an immense punch bowl, with all the Lilliputians as spirits of et of Flies," which, it is safe to say, is the most original ever seen on a stage. Metals," in the third act, is of unequal beauty, the dancers representing the different stones. In the last dance, the "Ballet of Humpty Dumpties," handkerchiefs of various colors are used so as to produce wonderful effects. Among the brilliant fea-tures of "Humpty Dumpty Up to Date" are, in the first line, the hunting party, in which all the Lilliputians take part on horseback. All the furniture is provided with a movable moves to the other side of the stage when he approaches it; doors through which he wants to walk disappear, leaving the bare wall; in order to reach a certain window he gets upon a table, and suddenly the table changes into a flight of stairs, enabling him to climb up comfortably; however, when he reaches the window it is gone, and he has nothing left to do but to get down again. The principal parts are in Messrs, Ebert, Zink, Ring and Merkel, and Goerner, Lau, Jaeger, Mahr and

Meister. Matinees will be given on Thursday and Saturday. Gideon is Looking for Johnson. J. L. Gideon of the Omaha Rubber Stamp company, 214 South Thirteenth street, which omprises Gideon and Nils Johnson, is mourning the loss of a partner. He is also mourning the loss of $250 worth of goods mourning the loss of $250 worth of goods and money.

According to Gideon's story he has been sick for two months, and in that time the business of the firm was managed by Johnson. When Gideon got out of bed a few days ago he discovered that the firm was considerably in debt, as few of the bilish had been paid during his lilness. After consultation with his partner it was decided that the best thing that could be done was to raise money to pay off the debts by mortsaging the stock of goods on hand. Yesterday at noon Gideon went out and successful in placing the mortgage, but when he got back to the store he discovered that his partner had carried off a good part of the stock.

Fire in a Mission Church.

At 9 o'clock last night the fire department was called out to the mission of the Beth Eden Baptist church at Twenty-second and Pierce streets. A lamp had exploded and set fire to the contents of the building, but was easily put out, the loss being less than $15. At the time the church was filled with children, but although they were somewhat frightened none were injured.

Spanish Minister Has Great Faith in Martinez de Campos' Generalship-Says the Allianca Affair Seems to Have Been Satisfactorily Settled.

NEW YORK, April 25.-The Spanish steamer Panama arrived at Quarantine from Among the passengers is M. Havana. Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister to Washington. He said: "The excitement caused by the troubles in Cuba is dying out. I am confident they will soon be settled. Captain General Martinez de Campos will arrive in Havana in a few days after his return from the affected districts, where he is visiting to suppress any disorder that may arise. The alleged insurrection is confined chiefly to negroes, the whites not taking an active part." In an interview with an Associated press eporter on board the revenue cutter which brought him up from quarantine Senor de Lome spoke of the exaggerated reports sent out from the island concerning the progress of the insurrection, and added: "The news-paper correspondents have made me say and do all manner of things from the time of my arrival at Cuba of which I am not aware of

In answer to a question concerning the Allianca isoldent the minister said: "My mission to America is to talk politics to the authorities at Washington. As for the matter of the firing upon the steamer Al-lianca I have nothing to say. It is a mater that seems to have been already satisfactorily settled. I must say, however, that I think it would have been wiser for the captain of the Allianca to have stopped when requested and then sought for in-lemnity afterwards. cerning General Campes and his plans, ie is, how little has been said about him since his arrival. The general is a most patriotic man, who has nothing to gain by the present campaign. It is his policy to be as lenient as possible with the insurrectionists except in the case of leaders. They will be most severely dealt with. The government proposes to send to Cuba 24,000 men in all before the 1st day of May. With this force there can be no doubt as to the fate of the insurrectionists. General Campos has with him two part of Pittacus Green, was so excellent as of his sons, Miguel, the marquis of Bazdan, who holds the rank of first lieutenant, and Josef, who is a second lieutenant. The former is a young man who has given up a life of leisure to endure the hardships of a Cuban campaign in the hot season.

"Statements have been made that the money General Campos brought with him was to be used to buy off the leaders of the revolution. It is well known that this policy was pursued during the last insurrection in Cuba, but the government has no intention of repeating the listake in the present instance. The revoluion is to be stamped out by force of arms. "Estimates by conservative men who have een among the revolutionary forces place the number of men at about 3,000, not more than one-half of whom are armed and equipped We estimate their number at about 4,000 with the same armed proportion. It is a difficult matter to get a correct idea of their numbers, for one day many of them will be at work on the crops and the next they are off on a skirmishing expedition. Four thousand, however, is certainly a most liberal estimate and hey are of a class that would scarcely be taken seriously in America.

"At present there are eight modern Spanish war vessels in Cuban waters. Seven of these second class cruisers and one is of the first class. The ship I came over on with General Campos was the Reina Marie Crising, the vessel in which the Princess Eulalie came to this country. It is not intended, I think, to send any more ships to Cuba than are at present on the way there."

The rebels left on the field four killed and ten wounded. In an engagement at Valenzella, Cirilo Dom inguez, an insurgent officer, was killed and three men wounded. At Adelaida the government troops had a skirmish with an in surgent band and five of the soldiers were wounded. The insurgents in the Manzanillo district appear to be in a state of great confusion. They are being closely pursued by Colonel Santocildo. Antonio Maceo, the insurgent chief whose reported suicide proved erroneous, will move his camp to another district. Merchants have offered Marshal Martinez de Campos $150,000, to be expended for pa-

Fire in a Mission Church.

HAS FAILED TO IDENTIFY DURRANT Wonk Point in the Case So Far Made by the State. SAN FRANCISCO, April 25 .- About the only tangible evidence against Durrant, the medical student accused of having killed Minnie Williams, that has been adduced in the preliminary examination so far is that the prisoner was better acquainted with the dead girl than he at first would acknowledge. It has been shown that he lied in regard to that particular point. Durrant has not been positively identified as having been seen about the church where the murders occurred during the evening when the deeds were committed. There are, however, many witnesses to come.

Rev. John George Gibson, the preacher of the church against whom some suspicions have been publicly expressed as being the guilty man, possibly because of the prejudice among many people against preachers in general, had a long stege in the witness box yesterday and he is slated for the rack again this morning. The district attorney's questions to the minister did not detain him ong, but the cross-examination seemed in-terminable. Dr. Gibson did not enjoy himself. The lawyers were austere with him and the judge was sarcastic. General Dickinson, attorney for the de-denseral prekinson, attorney for the de-fense, took the preacher over the whole course of his life, from his birth in Edin-burgh to the day of the discovery of Minnie Williams' bloody body in his church, and every question seemed to veil an insinuation. The minister answered promptly, but was disposed to be excrusiatingly exact in his disposed to be excruciatingly examswers. He fidgeted a good deal. Everybody enjoyed the parson's discom-fiture. The district attorney, to be sure, did put in one objection to save him from au-noyance, but Judge Conlan swept it aside did some prodding of the pastor him-The length of the cross-examination and the manner of it, indicate that Durrant's lawyers propose to throw the preacher forward as the center of their theory of the murders—for, of course, when they contend that Durrant did not commit the crimes they must supply a possible substitute, and Rev. John George Gibson understands just what they are about.

It is hard to perceive just how the defense will connect the preacher with this murder, for he was at the party of Emanuel church "Concerning General Campos and his plans, young people at Dr. Vogel's house that night I think it is worthy of note, as a characteristic of the excellent soldier and tactician that rant, who should have been there to act as secretary, did not appear until 9:30. Still, the undercurrent of opinion among those who doubt Durrant's guilt is that the preacher should be the man under police surveillance Albert O. McElroy, aged 18, testified tha on Friday evening, the 12th, be observed a man resembling Durrant waiting on a corner near the church. Soon a young woman came along. The man approached her and shielded her with his shoulder from witness' observation. Soon afterward witness, who had passed on, noticed a light moving in the church. This testimony was corroborated by Bert Miner, McElroy's companion. The other evidence adduced was the same as that given at the inquest. The examination was continued until tomorrow at the quest of the district attorney

James A. Kirk, of James S. Kirk & Co, the Most Eminent Anthority in the Country, Gives The Fee Readers Some Very Valuable Informati n

To a reporter Mr. Kirk said, in answer to a question: "You ask me whether or not our house has given much attention to Soap Powders? Well, I should think we had; there is not a brand on the market today of any prominence that has not been tested and analyzed in our laboratory, and do you know we have yet to find one that does not contain to a great extent dangerous chemicals, such as ammonia, lye, borax, lime or soap."

The reporter further questioned Mr Kirk, he having become greatly inter-ested in what he had just heard on the effect these dangerous chemicals had on clothes washed in water in which they had been used under the name of Soap Powders. "Well," said Mr. Kirk "why the different state legislatures do not pass a law prohibiting the manufac ture and sale of dangerous Washing Powders, I do not see. It certainly should be looked into by the state authorities." "But," said the reporter. your new preparation that is causing such a stir, Rain Water Maker, is a powder, is it not?" This inquiry brought a prompt and vigorous reply, "That's the very question I thought you would ask me, and I am glad you did. In the tirst place, Kirk's new discovery is not a 'Soap Powder' at all. It contains no soap whatever, nor does it contain one single one of the deleterious ingredients in all the brands of soap powder we have examined, so you can see it cannot be classed in any sense of the word as a Soan Powder. Kirk's Rain Water Maker is for softening water and making it pliable and velvety, both for hundry and tollet purposes. It was also designed to prevent printed colors from running, bluing from cardling in the water, woolen and flannels from shrinking, in fact, to prepare the water properly for all washing purposes

The reporter left Mr. Kirk thoroughly convinced that he was a well informed and most genial gentleman; a man of broad ideas and liberal in his veiws.

Is the water you wash with bard? Would you like it made soft, pliable and velvety? Does your bluing ever curdle in the water? Do your woolens and flaunels shrink when washed? Are you willing to spend 25c in an entirely harmless preparation that is absolutely guaranteed to overcome all these objectionable features? If so, step into your nearest dealer's and ask for a 2-pound package of Jas. S. Kirk's Rain Water
